Welcome back, Jess: 'New Girl' kicks off its final season

By Kyla Brewer
TV Media

As prime-time romances go, few are as compelling as the friends-first budding relationships that take years to develop. One of television's sweetest couples is about to return to the airwaves, and fans couldn't be happier.

After years of will-they-won't-they angst, it looks as if Jess (Zooey Deschanel, "Elf," 2003) and Nick (Jake Johnson, "Paper Heart," 2009) might finally live happily ever after in a new season of "New Girl," premiering Tuesday, April 10, on Fox. The season 7 opener will be a bittersweet beginning for fans, as it marks the debut of the show's final season. What's worse is that there are just eight episodes to look forward to, as opposed to the usual 22 to 25.

Nevertheless, loyal "New Girl" viewers will likely cherish these last moments with Jess and the gang. At the end of season 6, Jess confessed her feelings for Nick, and season 7 makes a big time jump to three years into the future. Jess and Nick are just returning from a European book tour, while friends Cece (Hannah Simone, "Kicking & Screaming") and Schmidt (Max Greenfield, "Modern Men") are busy raising their young daughter, Ruth. Also, Winston (Lamorne Morris, "The Assistants") and Aly (Nasim Pedrad, "Saturday Night Live") are now married with a baby on the way.

In typical Jess Day fashion, series star Deschanel has a positive outlook on "New Girl's" last hurrah. In an exclusive interview at the 2018 Winter Television Critics Association Press Tour, she told "ET's" Leanne Aguilera that she was very happy with the show's final season.

"I feel like we covered a lot of our classic sort of scenarios in the last season," she said. "The writers did a good job. There are a lot of Easter eggs."

Fans should be on the lookout for so-called Easter eggs, which are special hidden messages or jokes referring to previous seasons of the show. It's been a long haul for the cast and crew of the comedy, and a lot has happened since it premiered in 2011. It all started when young schoolteacher Jess came home to find her boyfriend in bed with another woman and left to find a new home. She ended up moving into a loft with three strangers — Nick, Schmidt and Coach (Damon Wayans Jr., "Happy Endings"), the latter of whom left the loft to move in with his girlfriend in the second episode, making room for Winston to move in. Jess's childhood bestie, Cece, is a frequent visitor to the loft and a core member of the cast of characters.

Throughout the first six seasons, the relationships between the friends evolved as the initial physical attraction between Cece and Schmidt became much deeper and Nick and Jess realized they were meant to be together. Meanwhile, Winston worked a variety of jobs before becoming an LAPD officer and falling in love with his colleague, Aly.

In addition to Pedrad, the final season features a number of memorable returning guest stars, including Wayans Jr., Dermot Mulroney ("My Best Friend's Wedding," 1997), Nelson Franklin ("The Millers"), Sam Richardson ("Veep"), David Walton ("Perfect Couples"), Jamie Lee Curtis ("True Lies," 1994) and Rob Reiner ("All in the Family"). Tig Notaro ("One Mississippi") also makes a special guest appearance, and J.B. Smoove ("Curb Your Enthusiasm") portrays Winston's father, whom Winston meets for the very first time.

The wrap-up season promises plenty of laughs as the award-winning cast and crew bid adieu to characters that have captured the hearts of TV viewers for years. A breakout hit of its debut fall season, "New Girl" drew more than 10 million viewers to the premiere. The show was particularly popular with critics, who've praised the performances of Deschanel, Schmidt and Johnson in particular. Entertainment industry pundits have taken notice over the years, honoring the show with numerous nominations, including five Golden Globe nods and five Emmy nominations. The program won the 2011 Critics' Choice Television Award for Most Exciting New Series, Deschanel won the 2012 Critics' Choice Television Award for Best Actress in a Comedy Series and Simone won the 2012 Teen Choice Award for Choice TV Breakout Star — Female.

Unfortunately, the ratings have waned over the years, clocking in around two million for the season 6 finale, which led to the show almost being canceled at the end of last season. Luckily for fans, "New Girl" has been granted a short reprieve to say farewell.

Fans of Deschanel may be interested to know that the actress has been cast as Belle in a live concert version of Disney's "Beauty and the Beast," alongside Kelsey Grammer ("Frasier") as Lumiere, Rebel Wilson ("Pitch Perfect," 2012) as LeFou and Anthony Evans ("The Voice") as The Beast. The concert will take place over two nights at the legendary Hollywood Bowl, but no plans for a television broadcast have yet been announced.

Saying goodbye to this beloved cast of characters won't be easy, but fans should take heart in the knowledge that there are eight whole episodes of "New Girl" left to enjoy. Catch the show's final season premiere when it airs Tuesday, April 10, on Fox.

Sweet, sweet desserts

Cakes are edible art in 'Vegas Cakes'

By Andrew Warren
TV Media

Viva Las Vegas, baby! Everything is bigger, brighter and bolder in Sin City, and the food is no exception. World-renowned chefs such as Gordon Ramsay, Tom Colicchio and Wolfgang Puck all have restaurants there, and the desserts can be some of the most elaborate culinary creations to be found anywhere on the planet.

When it comes to sweets for special occasions, cakes will always be a favorite, and in Vegas there's only one place to go for the biggest and most awe-inducing cakes around: Freed's Bakery. In business since 1959, the dessert hot spot is the focus of Food Network's "Vegas Cakes," which premiered a new season last week and currently airs Monday evenings.

From the front, Freed's looks like a typical neighborhood bakery, albeit one with desserts that really stand out. The cameras, though, get to go where walk-in customers never do: into the back room where the artists make some of the city's most elaborate cakes.

Previous episodes have seen the crew make some of the most jaw-dropping and beautiful cakes imaginable. We've seen them build and decorate a three-foot-long classic car, come up with a unique beer unicorn and even a cake made of giant tacos.

A bakery as established and well-known as Freed's is guaranteed to attract celebrities, and Las Vegas certainly has those in spades. Whether it's magicians Penn and Teller looking for a custom cake to celebrate their Vegas show's 25th anniversary, Mr. and

Mrs. Wayne Newton ordering a complicated dress cake for a bridal shower, or even Cirque du Soleil celebrating a performance milestone, big names are often attached to the desserts being prepared.

The real fun here, though, is watching the cakes come to life. These aren't just desserts — they really are works of art, and the planning and execution that has to go into each and every one of them can be mind-boggling. From conception to the baking to actual decorating, the team of bakers and decorators works like a well-oiled machine to create breathtaking wonders time after time.

Everything is bigger and brighter in Vegas, and the cakes are no exception. New episodes of "Vegas Cakes" currently air Monday evenings on Food Network.

Hollywood Q&A

By Adam Thomlison
TV Media

Q: I just heard that Abby is leaving "NCIS." Why is she leaving? What is she doing next? What will "NCIS" do without her?

A: Unfortunately, all we really have so far is a growing list of things that are not making her leave. No. 1 on that list is a skin-care line.

Last year, Pauley Perrette's likeness was used in ads for a skincare product. It was later revealed the ads were frauds — the product's producers had used a number of celebrity names without their permission. Unfortunately, the timing of the ads, which were making the rounds shortly before Perrette announced her departure from the show, fed rumors that she was leaving to pursue a career as a skincare shill.

Apparently the rumors have persisted. The scam was exposed in November, but Perrette was still denying it in January, when she posted on Twitter, "Just for the BILLIONTH TIME! I do NOT HAVE A SKIN CARE LINE! ... And that's not why I'm leaving the show."

Another thing that's not a factor is her relationship with the show's producers and CBS. When she first announced her departure (again on Twitter), she made a point of saying (again in all-caps), "NO MY NETWORK AND MY SHOW ARE NOT MAD AT ME!"

Indeed, the producers said they've known since 2016 and are planning a "special send-off" for her at the end of this season, the show's 15th.

Q: Who voiced Bambi's father in "Bambi II"?

A: Disney didn't splurge on "Bambi II" (2006), opting to release it straight to video instead of going for a theatrical run. But it did go big when casting the biggest addition to the Bambi universe.

The sequel, which was released 64 years after the original, is about Bambi finding his father, a mighty stag known as the Great Prince of the Forest. When you're putting a voice to a mighty stag, you go with Patrick Stewart.

The great British thespian established his authoritative voice by playing Prof. Charles Xavier in the recent X-Men films, and of course Capt. Jean-Luc Picard in "Star Trek: The Next Generation."

He's since had some fun with his most famous asset, taking on a series of voice-acting roles that generally lean more toward humor than gravitas. Most notably, perhaps, he voiced the Poop emoji in 2017's "The Emoji Movie." But he also narrated the delightfully juvenile comedies

"Ted" (2012) and "Ted 2" (2015), and had a bit of self-referential fun by voicing great British playwright Bill Shakespeare in 2011's "Gnomeo & Juliet."

Another voice you might have recognized in "Bambi II" was that of Bambi himself. The voice actor from the 1942 original is, of course, long gone, so Disney went with someone from its more recent catalog: Alexander Gould, who voiced Nemo in 2003's "Finding Nemo."

job, just "misunderstood."
The actual word she used
was "misunderstoodinated."

The Tonight Show With Jimmy Fallon
In a new interview, Elon Musk was asked who inspires him and he said "Kanye West." Kanye was like, "What a coincidence, the guy who inspires me is also Kanye West."

Yesterday was Selection Sunday, so March Madness has officially arrived! Twelve hours a day of college basketball — or, as sports fans call it, "Payback for 'The Bachelor.'"

I read about a student in New York who just won $250,000 for his research on the Irish Potato Famine. He was also voted the least fun person at a St. Patrick's Day party.

I saw that Cancun, Mexico, was just named the best spring break destination, and thousands of Americans are expected to visit. Then the people of Mexico were like, "Never thought we'd say this, but what's the ETA on Trump's wall?"
