

Today's anacrostic puzzle solution

Title: Ain't that the truth

Quote: People who pride themselves on their 'complexity' and deride others for being 'simplistic' should realize that the truth is often not very complicated. What gets complex is evading the truth.

- A. PIGEON ... City bird for whom a walking style is named
- B. HATH ... First Morse Code message: "What ____ God wrought"
- C. ICELAND ... One of five countries that enjoyed a total eclipse of the sun this week, the other four being Russia, Spain, Portugal, and Greenland. (Okay, Greenland is not actually a country but close enough.)
- D. LETTERMAN ... Late-night host David from Indy who began as a local weatherman
- E. OFF THE DEEP END ... Place a person goes when he really starts believing his own crackpot ideas
- F. STORMS ... The local weather in a word this past week
- G. TEST DRIVE ... Car buyer's maiden voyage
- H. HIGHTOPS ... Sneakers with ankle support
- I. OPTIMIZE ... Set up the experiment to assure the best results
- J. MEET THE PARENTS ... Ben Stiller movie where a water volleyball scene gets a little testy
- K. ACTIVIST ... Professional protestor
- L. SULPHUR ... Match-head chemical, in England
- M. SCRUNCHIE ... Colorful ponytail holder
- N. ORTHODOX ... The "right" set of beliefs
- O. WHIRLYBIRD ... Slang for 'helicopter'
- P. EX-EMPLOYEE ... What you call a person who lets the boss know what an idiot he is
- Q. LICHTI'S ... Foreign car repair shop for years on Goshen's Logan Avenue
- R. LOW-VOLTAGE ... Like a lot of outdoor landscape lighting
- S. TED ... "Thank you for attending my ____ Talk"

Acrostic: Philos. Thomas Sowell