Jeff Idell
Voted Best
Licensed General Contractor

A locally owned and operated business in Greenville Tennessee since 1987, Idell Construction Co. Inc. strives to build pride in their community by enhancing the quality of both commercial and residential development.

The Idell family, born and raised in Greene County, desires to serve their local community with the highest level of integrity, incorporating other local businesses in the pursuit of its dream to instill ever-increasing pride in the citizens of the town of Greenville. Originally conceived and inspired by Billy Idell, this dedication to the community of Greenville and its development continues now into a second and third generation. In addition to both commercial and residential projects, Idell Construction also intentionally develops special projects that give back to the community, working with charitable organizations like Young Life, Isaiah 117 House and the Hope Center. Between fulfilling the needs of both the commercial and residential sectors, and plugging into the community by working alongside charitable organizations, the passion and pride for Greenville and its future remains the driving force behind the efforts of the Idell family and Idell Construction Co. Inc.
