

Macon County restaurant closures

The Macon County Health Department has closed seven restaurants in the first five months of this year. That's more than every other year but 2017, when eight were closed in all – only one of those in the first five months. Officials credit the recent uptick to more community education about the importance of restaurant health inspections.

Lee Enterprises graphic

0.1111 in