Anyone entering healthcare facilities should be prepared to be screened before entering.

PSA: Keep Foods Safe

Foodborne diseases are largely preventable. To help protect yourself and others from foodborne illness, take a few minutes to ensure foods are safe.

- Wash hands, utensils, surfaces, and cutting boards after contact with raw meat or poultry and before touching other food.
- Wash produce before you eat it.
- Take a few extra minutes to make sure meat, poultry, and eggs are cooked thoroughly.
- Don't drink raw (unpasteurized) milk or eat soft cheeses made from it.
- Make sure to check the "Storage Times for the Refrigerator and Freezer."
  - <https://www.foodsafety.gov/food-safety-charts/cold-food-storage-charts>
- Report suspected foodborne illnesses to your local health department.
- Check CDC's food safety website and foodsafety.gov, your gateways to federal food safety information.
