

New facility

The Macon County Board on Thursday approved purchase of a 109-acre site for a new recycling center and administrative offices, with other possibilities including a compost center, small solar farm and community gardens.

maps4news.com/©HERE, Lee Enterprises graphic