The countdown to the NFL Draft has begun. Jacksonville is on the clock with the No. 1 pick and has quarterback Trevor Lawrence in its sights. But who is on the board for the other teams? CNHI Sports Indiana's George Bremer offers his expertise in mocking out the first round:

JACKSONVILLE
RD 1: PICK 1

TREVOR LAWRENCE
CLEMSON | QUARTERBACK

The Urban Meyer-era begins with the selection of the most complete passing prospect in years.

N.Y. JETS
RD 1: PICK 2

BYU | QUARTERBACK

An inventive talent often compared to Chiefs QB Patrick Mahomes, Wilson is a virtual lock here.

OHIO STATE | QUARTERBACK

The former Buckeyes star adds a mobile, strong-armed passer for creative head coach Kyle Shanahan.

ATLANTA
RD 1: PICK 4

A trade with a team looking for a QB is possible, but Atlanta adds a phenomenal offensive weapon here.

CINCINNATI
RD 1: PICK 5

OREGON | OFFENSIVE TACKLE

Joe Burrow gets a blind-side protector, but wide receiver also likely is in play here.

This could be the spot for defense, but Miami can't pass on the top wide receiver in the draft class.

VIRGINIA TECH | OFFENSIVE TACKLE

Looking to beef up the offensive line and protect QB Justin Herbert, the Bolts land a brawler at left tackle.

GEORGIA | EDGE DEFENDER

Baltimore adds a productive, if undersized, edge rusher who was expected to go sooner.

LSU | WIDE RECEIVER

Aaron Rodgers gets a former five-star recruit with tremendous upside as a new target.

BUFFALO
