X. Reports

A. Woodbury Comprehensive Plan Update

Karl Batalden, Housing and Economic Development Coordinator for the City of Woodbury, shared an overview of the city's 2040 Comprehensive Plan, which is in the final steps of being updating. Batalden shared that the city is expecting commercial growth to occur along the Manning/Interstate 94 corridor in the future, which would expand the district's tax base. The plan also identifies the general timeline for when development of the residential area around Brookview Elementary could occur. If adequate infrastructure can be provided, development of new housing could begin as early as 2019, pending City Council approval. If grading begins in the summer of 2019, full home production would begin in 2020. It would take approximately three to five years for all of the homes in the area to be constructed. Approximately 10 percent of all school-aged children within the city of Woodbury live within the Stillwater Area Public School boundaries.

XI. Action Items

A. Brookview Elementary School Expansion

Superintendent Pontrelli requested action to approve an expansion to Brookview Elementary School. The expansion will increase capacity of the 450 student school to 600 k-5 students to help address growth within the Woodbury community.
