

North Branch Area Public Schools celebrate Veterans Day

Elementary students at Sunrise River School stand with local veterans as they recite the Pledge of Allegiance on Veterans Day, Nov. 11.
Photos submitted

Fourth-grade students from Dejah Zerwas' class at Sunrise River School read letters to veterans on Veterans Day.

Fifth-grade students from Sunrise River School sing songs in honor of Veterans Day.

Members of the North Branch American Legion Post 85 and North Branch VFW Post 6424 stand at attention during a Veterans Day program at North Branch Area High School.

Elementary students from Sunrise River School proudly wave their American flags during the singing of "Grand Old Flag."

Members of the North Branch Area High School Air Force Junior Reserve Officers' Training Corps Honor Guard present the flags during the Veterans Day program.

Members of the North Branch Area High School Air Force Junior Reserve Officers' Training Corps Honor Guard shake hands with members of North Branch American Legion Post 85.

Junior Reserve Officers' Training Corps instructor Col. Paul Johnson gives a speech to the high school students during the Veterans Day program.

North Branch Area High School students shake hands with members of North Branch American Legion Post 85.

Members of North Branch American Legion Post 85 and North Branch VFW Post 6424 greet students arriving at North Branch Middle School on Veterans Day.

A member of the North Branch VFW Post 6424 greets a student as he arrives at North Branch Middle School on Veterans Day.

Members of North Branch American Legion Post 85, the North Branch VFW Post 6424 and local veterans lead the students at North Branch Middle School in the National Anthem.

