Christian chivalry

If you are looking for an eternal preface to chivalry, look no further than Psalm 82. This verse has everything that Arthur envisioned in his Camelot. Is it any less applicable today? There are plenty of weak and orphaned people in our world that need to be cared for, and the number of poor and oppressed in the United States alone is enough to keep the Christian community busy for a while. Rescuing damsels in distress may not be as common a scenario as it was for Arthur and his knights, but there are plenty of people that need rescuing, even if it's just the kind old lady that needs help across the street. This passage calls us to be the ones to come to the aid of these people so the wicked are not given an opportunity to take advantage of them. When you walk past someone that needs your help, you are not only making that person more cynical, you are also passing up the chance to be more Christlike and be the agent of God in the world. The next time that you see someone in need of aid, stop and help them. God Himself will smile on you and warm your soul with the feeling of a good deed done for no sake other than to do a good deed. Have you done your good deed today?

Defend the cause of the weak and fatherless; / maintain the rights of the poor and oppressed. / Rescue the weak and needy; / deliver them from the hand of the wicked.
Psalm 82:3-4 (NIV)
