North Branch council drops fee from ATV registration

BY BILL STICKELS III
EDITOR@COUNTYSTAR.COM

The North Branch City Council put the finishing touches on its new ATV/UTV ordinance by unexpectedly backtracking from previous discussions and opting to not impose any fees for ATV owners registering their vehicles with the city.

The new ordinance, which was approved at the July 12 meeting, was needed due to the discovery of a state statute that makes the riding of ATVs on most city streets illegal unless a city enacts an ordinance allowing for it. After several months of revisions, North Branch’s ordinance was approved with provisions as times of the day ATVs can be ridden, speed limits, and the required registration of each vehicle with the city to prove riders have been issued a DNR permit and the vehicle has insurance. When a person registers with the city, they will be given a sticker that is valid for three years to be placed on the ATV.

Original drafts of the ordinance included a registration fee to recoup the costs associated with staff time and supplies such as the stickers. According to Police Chief Dan Meyer, the cost for 100 permit cards and registration stickers was approximately $300. During the discussion of the permit fees at the Aug. 8 meeting, however, the council decided they would rather eat those costs rather than pass them along to the ATV owners.

K&A Mini Golf adds laser tag to its entertainment arsenal

BY STACY VERDICK CASE
NEWS@COUNTYSTAR.COM

In 2019 K&A Mini Golf opened its doors as an inclusive place for families to spend time together in Cambridge. Located at 215 Opportunity Blvd. N., K&A's one-acre mini golf course is ADA compliant so that even those with physical limitations can enjoy playing golf with their friends.

When you walk into the K&A building you are greeted by a concession counter offering ice cream from Big Dipper Creamery (guess the mystery flavor and you could win a season pass—hint it's not Fruit Loops or Dreamsicle). Arcade games line the walls and there's a large party room to the right. Since opening, they've included mini golf, volleyball, and a water balloon game called Water Wars. Now, this hub of kid-friendly activities has added a 30-foot by 120-foot laser tag course.

Owner Mike Hout says they chose a laser tag gaming system based on the successful video game franchise "Call of Duty."

"I wanted the laser tag to be as family-friendly as possible," Hout said. So they passed on game systems with more realistic looking guns.

The laser weapons used by players at K&A simulate game controller actions that video gamers will be familiar with such as sounds and vibrations.

There are many different game modes to choose from like "Infected" which is a true tag-style game where the player who is "infected" tags other players adding them to their team, a Free for All mode, and the most popular Team Death Match where two teams compete against each other for the most points.

To ensure everyone gets their moneys worth out of the experience, players who are hit during the game aren't out of the game. They can "re-spawn"—essentially given another life—so they can rejoin the game as many times as they want for the full 30 minutes of play.

Currently, the course can accommodate up to 12 players. There are four buildings on the laser tag course perfect for two teams. Hout said there are plans to expand the course next year to include a two-story tower and a larger playing field. They also hope to include large viewing screens so people can watch all the laser tag action.

Originally, Hout had hoped to open the laser tag course last June, but the chip shortages delayed the shipment of the high-tech laser guns. Now that their entire arsenal has been shipped, the grand opening of the laser tag course will be this weekend, Aug. 13 and 14.

Birthday party packages are available at K&A and laser tag can be added to the package for an additional fee. Laser tag birthday parties can even be booked for the winter months.

There are no age restrictions to play laser tag, but there is a 48-inch minimum height requirement because the laser equipment is so large.

A round of laser tag is $12.50 for 30 minutes of continuous gameplay, however during the grand opening this weekend there is a buy three games, get one game free special.

Local businesses help with back to school needs

BY SARA GOLDSTEIN
NEWS@COUNTYSTAR.COM

It's that time of year again. The school supply lists are out, the stores are stocked and the shopping and stocking up has begun. It's back to school time.

As exciting as it is for kids to load up their new backpacks with all the supplies they will need, not every family can afford to purchase new backpacks. We all remember those few things that made you feel on top of the world on that first day of school, especially the new backpack. Verizon has been passing out new backpacks filled with supplies one day each fall for several years, however, one local franchise decided to take it up a notch.

The employees of the Cambridge Verizon store talked with other businesses in the Village Mall, with Papa Murphys and Getaway Wellness joining forces to make the event something bigger and more fun for the whole family.

Also joining in the event were the Isanti County Sheriff's department and search and rescue. Along with patrol vehicles, the Sheriff's department also brought a side-by-side ATV, Safety and Rescue boat, and Maverick from the K-9 unit. Cambridge Surplus Food Distribution also had a booth at the event. Over 100 backpacks were handed out to local families at the event that took place on July 31.

And they called it puppy love

Last week I casually mentioned “another” article pertaining to my desire to one day have a white German shepherd dog. Rather than keeping you all in suspense (and because quite honestly my mind is drawing a blank for a better topic), here is the backstory behind that statement.

Growing up, my family had three dogs, all of which were at least part German shepherd. So it comes naturally that I’ve developed a fondness for the breed. But why specifically a white shepherd? Well, that’s a longer story.

You see, back when I was living up in Ely as their newspaper’s photographer, one of my tasks was to go to the local veterinarian, who also happened to be the shelter for stray animals, and photograph the cats and dogs that were available for adoption. Most of the time, I would go there and simply stand in place and just let the people bring out each animal so I can grab one or two quick photos.

While I am an animal lover and thoroughly enjoyed taking these photos, I would intentionally limit my interaction with the animals. While I can’t say this was a conscious decision on my part, I’m sure this ensured I didn’t grow too attached to any of them.

Then came that fateful day. After taking photos of a couple animals like normal, the employee went to the back room and when she returned, there was this beautiful all-white German shepherd on the end of the leash. It was love at first site. After taking the obligatory photos, I just couldn’t help myself and I stepped forward, bent down and gave this gorgeous canine a quick pat on the head while saying “thank you for posing so nicely.” Sure enough, while doing that, this dog goes and gives me a slurpee right on the face. That was the clincher.

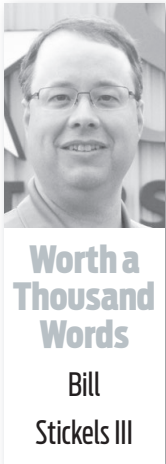

The problem was, I was at that time renting a room in a house that already featured three humans, a yellow lab and two cats. So when I broached the subject of introducing another “roommate,” it was quickly shot down as the house already being pretty crowded.

I remained determined to make sure this pup found a home somehow. Back then, no-kill shelters weren’t as common, and there was no way I was going to let that dog get put down. So, I called the vets office on a daily basis, asking if anyone had claimed or adopted it. And I formulated a “plan B.” If it got to the end of the hold period without being adopted, I was simply going to call up my parents and tell them “congratulations, you just adopted a dog.” At that time, they were dog-less and I knew they wouldn’t say no.

As it turned out, someone did come along and adopted it, so plan B didn’t need to be invoked. But the whole experience triggered a near-obsession with white German shepherds, one that has gone unfulfilled to this day.

Oh, and the name “Nimbus?” That is short for “cumulonimbus” — the type of cloud that is all white and fluffy looking, but can pack a powerful punch — just like white German shepherds.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Biden’s accomplishments sometimes not obvious

To the editor,

I am writing this letter to the man who asks what Joe Biden is doing for him.

If Biden lowered taxes, you could see it. But it is harder to see things like money for roads, bridges, schools, etc. Biden’s infrastructure bill will give Minnesota lots of money to build these things so maybe the costs won’t have to come from your property taxes.

Biden got on the TV and asked people to quit taking advantage of the high price of gasoline since then gas prices have gone from $4.60 to $4.20. Would you like to thank him for this?

I don’t know if things will get better or worse. At the Family Pathways Food Shelf, we went from serving 500 families at the height of the pandemic, to serving 200 families this spring, to serving about 322 this last month. Inflation is hitting everyone. There are not enough people to work the jobs. Most of the baby boomers have retired although some are back working to make ends meet.

Democrats are people who believe in education, and public works. We feed the roots of the tree before we worry about what comes out at the top like jobs and money.

I hope and pray that the economy gets better, just like other people hope and pray about school shootings. Let us all do something to make our country better. Get out and vote.

Barb Kruschel

Where is “common sense?”

To the editor,

I used to think the majority of obstacles or decisions in life could easily be navigated by using common sense. But now I see that the people on the left have deceivingly and I hate to say brilliantly came up with a plan to gain control of a large part of the population.

First you quietly buy up all the main stream and local media companies. Then you carefully broadcast only what you want people to know or in a way that promotes your specific agenda. After a while you can actually get people to believe an alternate reality. Like when a reporter in Minneapolis stands in front of a burning building and tells the audience that the protests are mostly peaceful.

So don’t question what is true or the real issue. In today’s world of technology if you want the truth if something doesn’t seem to make. The “common sense” triggers you to have to actually look to find the full story or more information to make better judgment of what is really going on. The lack of common sense is so obvious that you can tell when something is in plain sight and the person still believes the alternate reality because that’s what the media has told them.

There are about six corporations that own the majority of main stream and local media companies. If you have “common sense” you can defiantly tell which way they lean politically. Search the truth! Don’t be sheep.

After a busy Summer, we're ready for school to start

What an exciting school year we have before us! Thanks to the generous support of local voters last November, we are entering the new school year with lower class sizes and a lot of new teachers! As a result, class sizes will be smaller at every level. We are prepared to welcome 70 new Teachers to Cambridge-Isanti Schools this year. We hope everyone in our community will help us make them feel welcome and appreciated. Our goal during last year's referendum was to recruit and retain talented and caring educators. As a result, we increased starting salaries for new teachers and provided our veteran teachers with a modest raise. We avoided cuts in career and technical education electives and have rehired more than half of the teaching positions that were eliminated from 2019-2021 budget cutting. We are proud to report that 100% of the additional operating funding approved by voters is being used as promised. We are committed to transparency and fiscal responsibility, and will continue to share updates on career and technical education enhancements plans as the year progresses.

a team of 40 parents, staff, students and community members involved in updating our strategic plan, which will identify our most important focus areas for the next three years. Their work is expected to go to the Board in September, and we will be reaching out for additional volunteers to engage in planning for each focus area this fall. So please watch for additional information coming forth next month.

LONG-TERM FACILITIES PROJECTS

We are completing critical infrastructure projects this summer by tapping into education funding designated explicitly for long-term facilities maintenance. We have replaced the original boilers and heating/air handling systems at Cambridge Primary, Cambridge Intermediate and Cambridge High Schools to improve indoor air quality. The old boilers were beyond their useful life. The exterior envelopes of the buildings were also repaired, filling air gaps and adding spray foam insulation to the ceiling deck. Roof repairs will continue at Cambridge Primary and Cambridge Intermediate Schools through October. Next summer, windows will be replaced and have already been ordered to avoid future price increases and supply chain delays.

LED lighting was installed in all schools and is expected to save $75,000 annually in electric bills. All buildings are also now on the same mechanical automation systems, as we replaced older pneumatic controls and switches in our older buildings.

Wastewater treatment problems were corrected at Cambridge Middle School in compliance with EPA standards. Crews have been incredibly busy this summer, ensuring our buildings are maintained to serve students for decades to come.

SPACE CONSIDERATIONS AT ISANTI PRIMARY SCHOOL

We are a growing community, and the business and economic development happening in the county will impact our schools. Isanti Primary is already very close to being beyond its capacity. We are installing two portable classrooms to expand capacity this year. The District will work cooperatively with the cities and county to understand their master plans and better plan for the projected growth impacts in the future.

SCHOOL STARTS SEPT. 6

We are so excited to welcome our students back to school this fall. We are also excited to welcome volunteers into our schools this year. If you'd like to get involved in our schools, please contact our volunteer coordinators. We are a growing community, and the more caring adults we have impacting the lives of children, the better supported our children will be.

Isanti County is a special place to live, work and raise a family. Our team in Cambridge-Isanti Schools is privileged to serve this community. If you know any new families to our region, please encourage them to contact our schools and enroll now. September 6 is just around the corner!

As always, it's a great day to be a Bluejacket!

Oh the joy!

There are moments in life that fill our hearts with joy! This weekend I experienced my daughter entering into the commitment of marriage. I vividly remember a little

As she proclaimed the words "I do," I was overtaken with gratitude for the people gathered as part of this celebration that have made such an impact on this young couple and will continue to do so long into their future.

independent girl who would often say, "I do, I do" when we tried to help her. Now on the day she said "I do" it was an acknowledgment of acceptance of dependence. She is now going to take the "I" and replace it with "we." She will continue to be the competent individual she is, but it now includes a commitment to being one with her husband.

It is overwhelming to me that as I am experiencing my first of three children getting married. So many of you have been down this road- what a ride!

I wish for my daughter and her husband a life filled with integrity, hope and inspiration! That is also my wish for each and every student that progresses through North Branch Area Public Schools (NBAPS).

If I had a superpower, it would be for every student to be covered in love, with the confidence to embrace their unique gifts and talents, and ready to work with others to accomplish great things. That is why I love NBAPS- that is OUR mission! We inspire with integrity, and hope!

May we continue to model how great things are accomplished through working in partnership, impacting the life of each student today and into their future.

Requirements for farm permits

Question: I have a child that will be turning 15 years old pretty soon. We farm for a living, what are some of the rules and requirements for a farm permit to drive?

Ask A Trooper
Jesse Grabow

Answer: For those who qualify, there is a restricted farm license. A person who meets the requirements of this restricted license may operate a motor vehicle only during daylight hours and only within a radius of 40 miles of the parent's or guardian's farmhouse. There are no exceptions for driving to/from school or any other non-farm use.

Traffic crashes are a leading cause of death in Minnesota teens. Due to inexperience, distractions and risk-taking, teen drivers increasingly jeopardize their lives on the road compared with other drivers. In 2020, teens (15-19) made up just six percent of all licensed drivers. Yet, they made up 16 percent of all drivers involved in traffic crashes.

Teens also have the lowest seat belt use rate of all age groups. In 2020, only 54 percent of killed motor vehicle occupant teens (13-19) were known to be buckled up.

Parents, please be sure your child is ready to drive and help them gain experience before sending them alone.

A portion of state statutes were used with permission from the Office of the Revisor of Statutes.

Extension Master Gardener volunteer program accepting applications

CONTRIBUTED

The application period to become a University of Minnesota Extension Master Gardener volunteer is open through Oct. 1.

Extension Master Gardeners bring science-based horticulture knowledge and practices to Minnesota, promoting healthy landscapes and building communities through volunteer efforts.

"Our understanding of the benefits of gardening is expanding to include personal and community wellbeing, pollinator health, the importance of climate resilient landscapes and more. Becoming a Master Gardener volunteer is a great way to invest time and energy in local activities and efforts that support healthy people and a healthy planet," said Tim Kenny, statewide director, Extension Master Gardener Volunteer Program.

Master Gardeners are respected as reliable sources of gardening information for Minnesotans. What many don't know is that becoming a Master Gardener gives volunteers a chance to expand their interests in areas including sustainability, local foods, pollinators and climate change. Master Gardeners also put their skills to work conserving green spaces, native plants and clean water.

The University of Minnesota has trained thousands of Master Gardeners; each year, they contribute more than 140,000 hours of service in Minnesota communities.

This year, the training will be all online and spread out over 14 weeks, making the program more student-friendly than ever. To become a Master Gardener, individuals commit to complete online training and 50 hours of volunteering in the first year. After the first year, they commit 25 hours to annual volunteer work; many choose to devote more time to the program.

Master Gardeners come from all ages and backgrounds. To learn more about the program and apply, visit z.umn.edu/MG\_info or call 612-625-9864.

OBITUARIES

Sheldon Floyd Olson

Sheldon Floyd Olson, 57, of Braham passed away unexpectedly on Aug. 3, 2022 in Braham, Minnesota. Sheldon was born in Cambridge, MN on Jan. 22, 1965 to Floyd and Faye Olson. Sheldon grew up in rural Isanti and loved the outdoors. He spent most of his free time trapping, fishing, or hunting anything and everything. All he had to do was walk out of the house and he would inevitably come home with something that he wanted his mom to cook up. There wasn't a fall that went by that he wasn't in a deer stand with his dad, brothers, and family friends. He sold gopher feet and muskrat hides by the hundreds for money. Much of which was spent going to the Green Barn on his bike with his sisters to get candy and treats. He graduated from Cambridge-Isanti High School in 1983. He was an eight-year veteran of the Bluejackets football team. As a senior he played varsity defensive and offensive tackle #74. He was awarded a Bethel College football scholarship but chose to follow in his fathers and brothers foot steps into the military. He served in the U.S. Army at Fort Shafter OK, and was stationed in Germany for three years.

While serving in the Army Sheldon pursued the construction trades which built on his childhood experiences and knowledge from working with his dad at Floyd Olson Builders. He went on to start his own construction company Olson Construction and Roofing. He also spent time as the Vice President of Kremer Davis Waterproofing in Minneapolis. Most recently he has been self-employed in construction doing remodeling, additions, and pursuing his entrepreneurial side. He developed and sold a method of plucking a chicken efficiently and named his device the Mother Plucker Chicken Plucker. Sheldon raised chickens, hatched baby chicks, and loved every part of it. Sheldon spent time working at the Braham Meat locker, as well as learning and perfecting his own processing skills. For the past several years he has been processing deer for family and friends until it grew into many deer per year. He always had a project of some sort that he was working on and was just getting started to build a new home in Braham. Sheldon was no stranger to hard work. But not just for himself, for all those who knew him. You would be hard pressed to find a person that knew him that he hadn't built something for. From chicken coops, decks, garages, porches, gazebos, barns, or deer stands; just to name a few, he built it.

Shortly after returning from the Army, Sheldon met his wife, Jeanne. Sheldon, Jeanne, Barie, and Darla became a family on December 8th, 1990. Their family continued to grow with the addition of Brady John, Darah Marie, and Brennon Floyd. Sheldon's love for his kids was endless, and he was proud of each of them. Having Sheldon as your dad meant going on vacations, scavenger hunts, riding in the back of pickup trucks, and at times not a dull moment. He was a proud father at basketball games, football games, choir concerts, and supported the activities of all the kids in his life. He loved kids, and being an uncle was something else he strived hard to do well and he left a part of himself in each and every one of them. Most recently becoming a grandpa was one of proudest moments of his life. He was already teaching his 4-year-old grandson Lenny to build. Sheldon had a sense of humor that uniquely his, and if you knew him, or even briefly met him, he would have had a nickname for you. Sheldon rarely entered a room unnoticed. He was the really tall guy with the hat and flannel shirt. You couldn't help but noticed how tall he was especially if he was standing next to Jeanne. Jeanne stood by Sheldon and loved Sheldon for 31 years. Sheldon was a man of many talents. He was the big tall guy with the big heart who could process a deer to perfection and throw in a really good rhubarb pie too.

Sadly, Sheldon had been experiencing health issues recently, and in April he had suffered a stroke. His death was unexpected and his loss will be felt deeply by many who knew him and loved him.

Sheldon was preceded in death by his Father Floyd Olson, Father-in law Darrell Lester, older brother Steve Olson and his nephew Brian Lester. Sheldon is survived by his wife, Jeanne Olson, his children, Brady Olson (Scout), Darah Olson (Scott), Brennon Olson, Darla Shortell (Jesse) and Barie Shortell; His grandchildren Lenny, Lola, and Luca, sisters Darla Stoffel (Bryan) and Dee Dee Larsen (Andy), brother Shannon Olson (Maria). His mother Faye Olson, mother-in law Lois Lester, Sisters in law, Sherri Luckow (David), Susan Centeno (Max). Brother-in-law Bruce Lester (Joanne). Nieces Rena, Drewanna, Whitney, Lindsey, Alex, Kara, Brittni, Bella, Mia, Sara, Patty, Derri, Shay; his nephews Jesse, Lincoln, Christopher, Alec; Great Niece Charlotte, Great Nephew Nathan, along with many aunts, uncles, great aunts and uncles, cousins, and friends.

A private funeral service for immediate family will be held at the Carlson-Lillemoen Funeral Home in Cambridge. Pallbearers are Brady Olson, Darah Olson, Brennon Olson, Barie Shortell, Shannon Olson, Bryan Stoffel, Jesse Weber, Lincoln Larsen. Honorary Pallbearers are Christopher Olson, Alec Olson, Bruce Lester and Zach Michaels. Full military honors will be provided by the Cambridge American Legion Post #290. Cambridge Representative Brian Johnson
Receives Guardian of Small Business Award

CONTRIBUTED

Representative Brian Johnson, R-Cambridge, received the prestigious Guardian of Small Business Award from the National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB). NFIB serves as Minnesota's major small business organization.

"I am honored to receive the award, but the real recognition goes to our business owners and operators," Johnson said. "The past few years, our businesses have overcome insurmountable challenges. I am proud to be a voice for business while in the legislature, and I am thankful for the strength of Minnesota's businesses to prosper, despite any obstacles."

The Guardian of Small Business Award is reserved for legislators who vote consistently with small business on the key issues identified by small business owners. Minnesota lawmakers who voted with small business on key issues 80% or more of the time during the 2021-22 legislative session earned the NFIB Guardian of Small Business Award. Johnson had a 100% score on the NFIB Minnesota Voting Record from 2021-22.

"Now more than ever, Main Street needs strong advocates in the Minnesota Legislature, and they have one in Representative Brian Johnson," said John Reynolds, NFIB Minnesota State Director. "Thanks to Brian's leadership, small businesses were spared from painful tax hikes, more red tape, and burdensome mandates."

Lawmakers are informed prior to key votes of consensus positions developed through NFIB's one member, one vote policy and asked to support the priorities of small business with their vote. Key votes are recorded in the biennial NFIB Minnesota Voting Record and distributed to the more than 10,000 small businesses that belong to NFIB. # ATV: Future councils may opt for instituting fee based on expenses own ATVs,” said Councilmember Kelly Neider. “They pay a lot of taxes. They eat at our restaurants. And I don’t want to nickel and dime them. It would be something the city would be offering as a benefit of living in the city. Even though $30 or $10 is not a big deal, we don’t need the ten bucks.”

Councilmember Patrick Meacham agreed, adding that people would be more likely to register their ATVs if there wasn’t a fee attached to it. He asked Meyer if the police department’s budget could afford the $300, with Meyer responding they could.

Councilmember Kathy Blomquist was the only person to say she would prefer to have a small fee.

“Most of our fees are to cover staff time,” she said. “There’s a lot of paperwork that staff has to handle for just one application. I always look at it that you have to have a buy-in rather than just give it away. So maybe like $10, just so people have ownership.”

Mayor Jim Swenson asked Meyer what the fines would be for someone violating any part of the ordinance, including not being registered. Meyer said the ordinance has a $75 fine for the first offense, $150 for the second, and $300 for the third.

Neider offered that the fines could help encourage people to register, especially if there’s no fee.

“Having a penalty, for an officer to say, ‘dude, it doesn’t cost you anything to go apply for the darn permit. I could charge you $75 bucks right now and you could have gone to City Hall yesterday and paid nothing.’ It gives you guys (the police department) leverage.”

“Right now, it’s new. I think let’s have no fee,” said Councilmember Robert Canada.

Meyer added that since this would be on the city’s fee schedule, which is approved on a yearly basis, once the city finds out how many registrations they will receive, the council could take another look at assessing a fee later on.

Ultimately, the council approved imposing no fees for the three-year registration permit by a vote of 4-1, with Blomquist casting the lone nay vote.

HURRY UP AND WAIT

Also at the Aug. 8 meeting, the council heard an update on the nuisance property on 9th Avenue. According to Assistant City Attorney Alissa Harrington, she was successful in getting Chisago County Social Services to at least attempt to contact the homeowner about receiving mental health aid, which would make it easier to go forward with his removal from the property, as well as the cleanup. However, the county’s three attempts to contact him went without a response.

Given this update, Harrington said the council has five options to consider, with the options varying in the level of the cleanup and expense involved. Options included the city cleaning up as much as they can on the outside, which could be done in a shorter period of time than the previous timeline of Feb. 2023. However, she cautioned that the property owner would more than likely replace what was removed with additional junk. Additionally, trying to pass along the cleanup costs would be more difficult since the property is in foreclosure.

Harrington and city staff advised that the council simply instruct the city to continue conversations with the bank to try and take action as soon as the foreclosure is finalized in the middle of October. The council agreed, but added the request that city staff contact neighbors to give them an update to show them “there is a light at the end of the tunnel.”

Only small surprises arise from primary election

BY BILL STICKELS III
EDITOR@COUNTYSTAR.COM

By the end of counting votes for the local Primary election, there were mainly predictable results, but with a few mini surprises. Below are the unofficial results of voting:

MORRIS SURVIVES

Incumbent county commissioner Susan Morris had the most contested race, with three other candidates on the ballot. And when the smoke cleared, Morris advanced to the general election, however she wasn’t the biggest vote-getter. Kristi LaRowe garnered 515 votes, with Morris earning 430. Those two will now go head-to-head in the general election. Michelle Block came in third with 274 votes and Clark Johnson only had 50 votes.

DUFF, MORLEY ADVANCE IN DISTRICT 1

The three-person race to replace current commissioner Dave Oslund, who is not running for re-election, in Isanti County Commissioner District 1 featured Alan Duff and Joe Morley easily advancing to the general election. Morley came in first with 638 votes, with Duff receiving 463. Gary Lantz came in a distant third with 189 votes and will not be on the Nov. 8 ballot.

TIGHT RACE FOR CAMBRIDGE COUNCIL

If the primary election results are any indication, the race for Cambridge Council’s two open seats is going to be extremely close. With four of the five candidates advancing from the primary election to the general election, the four who advanced were separated by a mere 94 votes. Current Cambridge-Isanti School Board member Aaron Berg wound up coming in first with 511 votes — just one vote ahead of current councilmember Bob Shogren’s 510. Amanda Wisner finished in third place with 461 votes and former councilmember Joe Morin came in fourth with 417. Brandon Harapat only garnered 129 votes and will not be advancing to the general election.

LOVERING, SEIBERLICH EASILY ADVANCE

The two Isanti County Sheriff candidates who did the most campaigning unsurprisingly cruised to the general election. Wayne Seiberlich came in first with 3,089 votes. Current chief deputy Lisa Lovering earned 2,003 votes to come in second. Michael Longbehn was a distant third with 271 votes.

CHISAGO COUNTY DISTRICT 1

In the new Chisago County District that includes exclusively the city of North Branch, it looks like it will be a battle between two candidates who are currently sitting in other government seats. Current North Branch Mayor Jim Swenson received 383 votes to come in first, followed by current North Branch School Board chair Tim MacMillan with 297 votes. Richard Cedergren came in third with 143 votes and will not be advancing.

CHISAGO COUNTY DISTRICT 5

In the district that encompasses Rush City and Harris, plus Fish Lake, Nessel, Rushseba, and Sunrise Townships, Dan Dahlberg easily came in first, earning 631 votes. The race for second place was much tighter, with Cindy Erickson edging out John Sutcliffe 265 to 198 votes. Dahlberg and Erickson will now advance to the general election to fill the remaining term of late County Commissioner Mike Robinson, who died back on Jan. 23.

VOTER TURNOUT

Overall, the voter turnout was satisfactory for a primary election. In Isanti County, approximately 20% of the registered voters filled out a ballot. Voter turnout was slightly lower in the two Chisago County Commissioner districts, with approximately 14% of registered voters casting a ballot.

Did somebody say ‘Dairy Queen’ in Isanti?

BY BILL STICKELS III
EDITOR@COUNTYSTAR.COM

It has been said that a city in Minnesota doesn’t become “official” until it has a Dairy Queen open for business. Under those conditions, the city of Isanti is on its way to becoming “official.”

James Fowler, owner of the Cambridge, North Branch, Pine City, and St. Croix Falls Wisconsin Dairy Queens, has put in a Conditional Use Permit request, along with site plans to construct his fifth franchise restaurant, to be located adjacent to Highway 65 between the Allina Clinic and the Caribou Cabin. The official address of the proposed restaurant is 280 5th Ave NE.

According to Fowler, this DQ will be similar to the North Branch one in being a Grill and Chill complete with a two-lane drive-thru and a 750 square-foot outdoor eating patio. The building itself will be 3,225 square feet and include two kitchen spaces, bathrooms, an office, and a staff breakroom.

The original layout presented to the Isanti Planning Commission had the outdoor patio situated on the eastern side of the building, facing Highway 65. However, before the Aug. 3 city council meeting, those plans were revised to have the patio be on the southwest side of the building.

“That will alleviate some of the congestion of the parking and increase the flow in the parking lot,” Community Development Director Stephanie Hillesheim.

It has long been speculated that a Dairy Queen would open in Isanti, however, based on a franchise agreement with the previous owner of the Cambridge Dairy Queen, no additional restaurants could be opened by a different franchisee within a certain diameter of the Cambridge location. When Fowler purchased the Cambridge location a couple of years ago, that opened the door for him to consider opening in Isanti as well.

The initial plans call for the ground to be broken this fall with a tentative opening by no later than November 2023, but perhaps as early as the Spring of 2023.

LOCAL OLYMPIAN TO BE HONORED AGAIN

A year after winning a silver medal in the girls team gymnastics competition during the Tokyo Olympics, Isanti resident Grace McCallum was honored with the second “Grace McCallum Day,” on Sunday, Aug. 7.

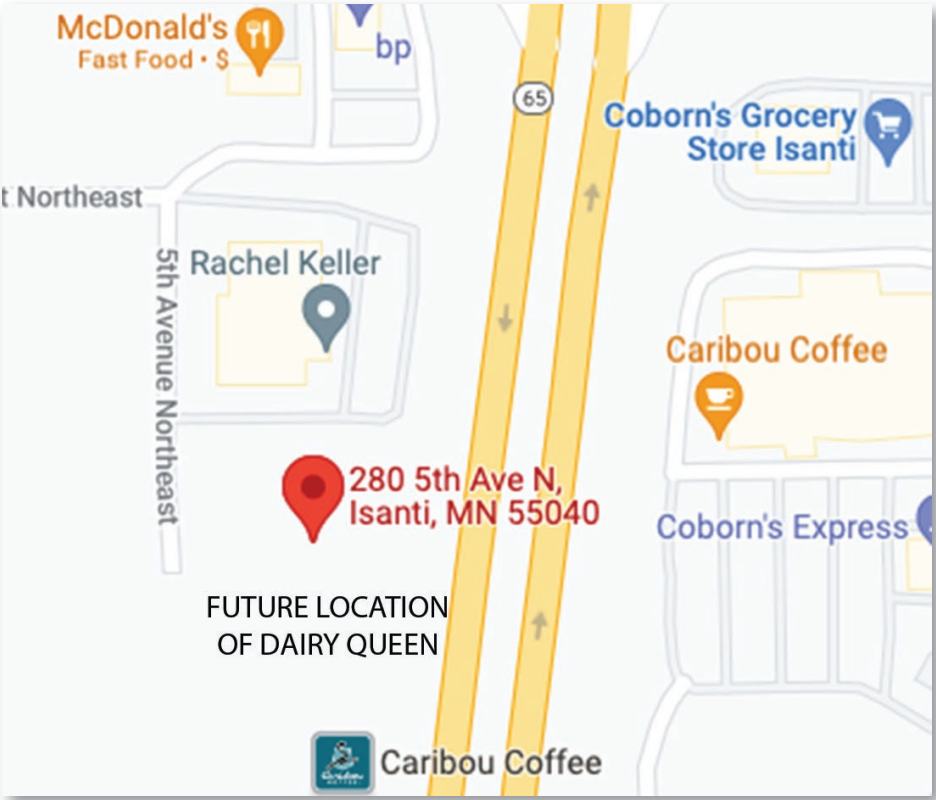

Following the Olympics, McCallum went on to compete for the University of Utah, where as a freshman she helped the Utes place third at the NCAA National Team Championships.

McCallum is expected to be in attendance at the Aug. 13 Isanti Street Dance, where Mayor Jeff Johnson is planning on presenting to her the official Mayor’s Proclamation.

COUNCIL REJECTS INCLUSION ON ORANGE FROG BILLBOARD

As an extension of Isanti County’s ongoing “Orange Frog/Happiness Advantage” mental health initiative, the county is preparing to rent a billboard along Highway 65, with the logos of various local businesses and the three cities within the county being included at no charge to the cities.

“She (County Administrator Julia

The above map show the future location of the Dairy Queen Grill & Chill between Allina and Caribou Cabin in Isanti.

Lines) is asking all three cities to have their logo on there as participating,” said City Administrator Josi Wood. “She believes this billboard will promote the initiative and communicate community support of the initiative they have had with the “Orange Frog” program.

The council, however, was far from willing to show their support. “I’ve heard more negative comments around town about the money spent around the Orange Frog than positive,” said Councilmember Paul Bergley.

“It was a waste of money in my mind,” added Mayor Jeff Johnson.

“I will inform Ms. Lines that we appreciate the offer, but respectfully decline,” Wood told the council after all five voiced their displeasure with the initiative.

Volunteers needed to protect Minnesota waters

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA EXTENSION

Lake-loving volunteers are needed across the state of Minnesota on Saturday, Aug. 20, 2022, to participate in a search for starry stonewort—an aggressive, aquatic invasive algae that can spread easily and grows into dense mats at and below the lake’s surface.

Starry Trek is an annual event where members of the public first gather at training sites to learn how to identify starry stonewort and other aquatic invasive species. The newly trained participants then branch out to local water accesses to search for signs of the invasive species.

Starry stonewort was first found in Minnesota at Lake Koronis in 2015 and has since spread to nineteen Minnesota lakes. Early detection of this species is critical for control. Starry Trek volunteers have found starry stonewort in four lakes – Grand Lake in Stearns County, Wolf Lake at the Hubbard/ Beltrami County border, Lake Beltrami in Beltrami County, and Carnelian Lake in Stearns County – as well as other aquatic invasive species like Eurasian watermilfoil and zebra mussels during this event.

The 2017 discovery of starry stonewort in Grand Lake led to the lake association and Minnesota Department of Natural Resources rapidly mobilizing to hand-pull the infestation. This early intervention has widely been considered a success, with starry stonewort continuing to be limited to the small area near the public access where it was initially discovered.

“This event is a terrific way for people to get outdoors, get educated about aquatic invasive species, and help protect their area lakes,” said Megan Weber, Extension Educator with the University of Minnesota and Minnesota Aquatic Invasive Species Research Center. “The information we gain at this event helps researchers and managers understand its current distribution and potentially take action if new infestations are found.”

No experience or equipment is necessary to participate in Starry Trek. Expert training on monitoring protocols and starry stonewort identification will be provided on-site. This event is free, but registration is required. Children under 18 must be accompanied by a parent or legal guardian.

“We’re excited to continue our partnership with the Minnesota Aquatic Invasive Species Research Center for this event,” said Ariana Richardson, AIS Program Coordinator, Meeker County. “Protecting our lakes for future generations is really important to us all, and we want to make sure we’re doing the best we can to prevent the introduction and spread of AIS. This event is a great opportunity to learn more about AIS in the county and spend a day outdoors!”

There are currently 26 local training sites around the state, including one at West Ripley Park in Litchfield, Minn. Volunteers will meet at their local site for training, then will be sent to nearby public water accesses to check for starry stonewort. At the end of the day, they’ll return to the local training site to report their findings. For a full list of the sites and other FAQs, please visit starrytrek.org.

The Minnesota Aquatic Invasive Species Research Center works across the state to develop research-based solutions that can reduce the impacts of aquatic invasive species. A portion of the funding for this program is provided by the Environment and Natural Resources Trust Fund. Learn more at maisrc.umn.edu.

Minnco asks for school supplies during annual drive

BY STACY VERDICK CASE

The first day of the 2022-2023 school year is just around the corner, but for 15 million students each year in America buying school supplies is a struggle. Local Credit Union Minnco is stepping up to help fill the school supply gap in our area. Through August Minnco branches are collecting school supplies. This is the second year Minnco has conducted its school supply drive. In 2021 they had “great success” collecting supplies. Employees from the credit union will collect and deliver supplies. Many of our local schools will benefit from these deliveries including Isanti Primary, Intermediate, Middle and Arts and Science Academy, Cambridge – Primary, Intermediate, Middle and High School, Princeton and Braham schools, Big Lake – Liberty Elementary and Independence Elementary, Andover Elementary and HS, CI Woodland Campus, Cambridge Christian School, North Branch Area Education Center – Kindergarten, and Sunrise River Elementary School – grades 1-5. Anyone who wants to help can donate supplies at their local Minnco branch. All supplies listed on the local school supplies lists are needed. Below are a few ideas to help get you started. You can also make a cash donation at the branches. Money donated will be used by Minnco to purchase additional supplies before they make their deliveries.

Pack a back-to-school breakfast or lunch with a nut-free alternative

School is almost in session and that means busy families may be in need of a few meal solutions that fit into their schedules — particularly items to grab on the way to school or work. Granola bars often fit the bill as nutritious options in portable packages. While store-bought granola bars are convenient, they tend to be made with nuts or oats, which are not ideal for those with food allergies or intolerances. People can easily whip up home-made granola bars that are chock-full of vitamins and minerals and can be customized to food preferences and tastes. This recipe for “Nut-Free Granola Bars” from “Eat What You Want” (Ten Speed Press) by Danielle Walker can be enhanced with raisins, chocolate chips or dried fruits.

- Nut-Free Granola Bars
Makes 12
- 2 tablespoons warm water
  - 1 tablespoon chia seeds
  - 1/3 cup light-colored raw honey
  - 1 tablespoon virgin coconut oil
  - 2 tablespoons unsweetened sunflower seed butter
  - 3/4 cup raw pepitas
  - 3/4 cup raw sunflower seeds
  - 1 cup unsweetened coconut flakes
  - 2 tablespoons sesame seeds
  - 2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract
  - 2 teaspoons ground cinnamon
  - 1/2 teaspoon fine sea salt
  - 1/4 cup chocolate chips, raisins, or dried fruit pieces

Preheat the oven to 350 F. Lightly grease the short sides of a 9- by 13-inch baking dish or rimmed baking sheet with ghee or coconut oil. Line the bottom and long sides of the pan with parchment paper so the ends hang over the sides. Whisk the warm water and chia seeds in a small bowl and set aside. Melt the honey in a small saucepan over medium-high heat. Turn the heat to medium and simmer for 5 to 7 minutes, until a candy thermometer reads 225 F. Stir in the oil and sunflower seed butter and remove the pan from the heat. Let cool for 10 minutes. Place the pepitas and sunflower seeds in a food processor and pulse once or twice until coarsely chopped. Add the coconut flakes, sesame seeds, vanilla, cinnamon, and salt and pulse a few more times, until coarsely chopped and incorporated. Add the chia mixture and the honey mixture and stir by hand until just combined. Immediately spread the mixture into the prepared baking dish. Place a piece of parchment paper on top and use a flat-bottomed measuring cup to press the mixture firmly and evenly into the pan. Remove the top piece of parchment and bake for 15 minutes, until golden. Sprinkle the chocolate chips over the top. Let cool in the pan for 30 minutes, then transfer the pan to the freezer for 1 hour, until set. Remove the pan from the freezer and lift the parchment flaps to remove the slab from the pan. Using a sharp knife, cut into 12 rectangular bars. Serve the bars chilled. Store in an airtight container in the refrigerator for 2 weeks, or in the freezer for 6 months. Defrost in the fridge overnight.

Westrom murder case goes to trial

STAFF REPORT
NEWS@COUNTYSTAR.COM

After years of legal wrangling, the murder trial of former Cambridge businessman Jerry Westrom began on Tuesday, Aug. 9 with the selection of the jury. Westrom was originally arrested and charged in Feb., 2019 for the 1993 stabbing murder of Jeanne Ann Childs. Westrom was arrested in part due to a DNA sample found at the crime scene being matched through a genealogy website in 2018. Needing a further DNA match, investigators trailed Westrom in January, 2019 to a hockey game, where they observed Westrom wipe his mouth with a napkin after eating a hot dog. Law enforcement recovered the napkin from a trash can to obtain the needed DNA sample.

The actual trial has been delayed numerous times due to COVID, plus a large number of submissions from Westrom's lawyer, Steven Meshbesh.

According to reports, the trial is expected to last "a couple weeks."
