Will your memories be there?

Will the stories of your family's weddings, anniversaries, births and deaths be on Facebook a hundred years from now? Maybe not. PROBABLY NOT!

But if you let the Chronicle know, we will publish your news the old-fashioned way — often for free — so your friends and family near and far can know about it now — and in the distant future.

Our editions are saved by libraries in hard copy and electronic format, as well as in our vaults, and your family will cherish their own cuttings for many years.

Don't let your great grandkids down when they try to find out about you!

Call the Chronicle to record your family celebrations in news or with advertising on 01260 273737.
