

publishing the mechaject. While support remains essential, it sure that the former le multiuse facility
nity.
process of the reno-
one, ensuring that et thus far are hon-

able.
There are a lot of moving parts ship from the city in coordinating parts is essential if this effort ultimately successful.

A postscript

While the council is to be comto proceed, the two councilors wh Branaman and Scott Stern, decar-

RURAL RECONNAISSANCE

Objectives on the urban ec Contributing Columnist, Freeman Courier be an exploration inputs. At some etheless, there are more of
to the dominant

graduates is less than school diplom Statistics.
achelor's degree
of those with so
percent of those employed; but 14
as were unemp
bureau.
chool overrides:
t want to vote
the additional
e Broad Found
re dropouts an predictors of c
k dropouts fro rimes? Most li
)
ht times as lik
graduate and n

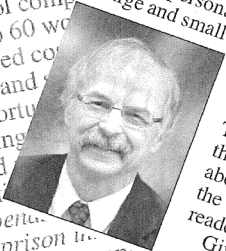

Watchdogs, Town Criers, Historians:

The People and Newspapers of ISWNE inities in caring for the welfa rs.

the deleterious effects of hu be environment, particularly ridled corporate growth, is ble and irresponsible. Be-of life on earth, it is ob-y will always affect the or negatively, in ways
's hidden from us. The iose hearts and minds are suffering from orms and environ-
cal bullet is able to source depletion
we experi-
n those who have
are designed to earn to live with the globe
pastor now living

of schooling, if a crime such
one-third.
nds $9,644
inmate.
ool comp
to 60 wo
uced co
es and
opportu
iving
and
s st spen-
er prison
amounts of mone n in prison. Sounds financially. In these times to spend money wisely.
nal year of schooling, the odds that commit a crime like murder or assault st one-third.
er the neighbor kid stays in school lihood of him (or her) committing a down the street or even at your allows weeklies to offer 'breaking news' isher, Freeman Courier

dition of the Courier at freemansd.com has included a report about that meeting for a full week. A brief report of the decision by the council to proceed with phase one of the project appeared online at freemansd.com less than an hour after the meeting adjourned Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 13. And at 10 p.m. that evening, a more comprehensive story about the meeting and the two votes that led to the council's decision was available to online readers.

Given the interest in the project in the community and the timing of the meeting, our part is well-veiled, our gress. Fight
several stakeholders.
our Congressional de D.C. to support the de-

THEORETICALLY
Roy Kaufman, a retired pastor now living in Freeman, has some communi-

OUR VIEWPOINT
EDITORIAL
ring overrid
ly have dire
sequences
g no is penny-wi
ound foolish
employment rate for college of people without a hi Bureau of La
of people with sports scores and (with the appropria winter) weather related postponement cancellations as needed. If there's a story, we'll likely post that as well.

But with limited time and resources, the fact that our print products continue to be our primary focus, we are certainly not at a point where we can provide the immediacy of continual news reporting that you'll find at CNN, KELO or even daily papers like the Stoux Falls Argus Leader that update their online editions frequently during the day.
On the other hand, you would