

Sources of nitrogen

Fertilizers from crops, air pollution and manure are some of the primary sources of nitrogen transported from the Mississippi River Basin to the Gulf of Mexico.

Source: United States Geological Survey

Lee Enterprises graphic