OrthoNebraska is bringing its orthopedic care services into Lincoln with a planned opening in spring 2027. The expansion marks a significant milestone in the organization's continued growth, extending its specialized orthopedic services beyond Omaha, Norfolk and southwest Iowa.

"Expanding into Lincoln is something we've been working toward for several years, and we're excited to take this next step," said Todd Gaddie, orthopedic hand surgeon at OrthoNebraska. "Our goal is always to get as many people as possible to benefit from high-quality orthopedic care, delivered the way only we provide it, with easy access and quick, clear recovery pathways. Establishing a presence in Lincoln allows us to bring our nationally recognized quality and patient satisfaction to more patients and communities in Nebraska."

OrthoNebraska Lincoln will open near 74th Street and Pioneers Boulevard in spring 2027. The facility will feature an orthopedic clinic and urgent care services, with nine exam rooms and on-site X-ray capabilities.

Patients can walk in without an appointment and receive X-rays, casting, medications and a treatment plan, and can see a sub-specialist quickly for follow-up if needed. From a cost perspective, orthopedic urgent care is billed to insurance plans the same as a specialist visit, which is often a lower rate than traditional urgent care. And for a vast majority of plans, no referral is needed.

OrthoNebraska's askOrtho service offers the community the chance to chat 24/7 with actual orthopedic experts about any new injury or problem they might be experiencing for help navigating next steps in care.

The new location will give Lincoln and surrounding area residents another option for addressing orthopedic injuries, aches and pains, whether they need immediate attention or ongoing care. Current patients who travel from Lincoln to OrthoNebraska in Omaha will soon be able to access the same level of care closer to home. The new location will offer subspecialists in sports medicine, joint replacement, spine, foot and ankle, and hand, wrist and elbow. Further service expansion is anticipated over the coming years.

The expansion represents an important step in OrthoNebraska's continued growth, building on its established Omaha-area presence while laying the groundwork to serve more communities across Nebraska.
