Practical and personal, from the start

Doane University's Bachelor of Science in Engineering

Personal attention meets practical opportunities in our four-year program specifically designed to give you an edge in the engineering industry.

Doane's Bachelor of Science in Engineering program encourages students to learn and apply not just theoretical concepts, but to put them into practical use through project-based learning. So when you graduate, you're ready to make an immediate impact on the world around you.
