

Where 'microTIF' could be used in North Platte

Owners of nearly 60% of North Platte's single-family homes potentially could benefit from Nebraska's two-year-old "microTIF" law under revisions that take legal effect Tuesday. The accompanying table and maps show the percentages of homes in the city's 17 Lincoln County Assessor's Office neighborhoods that are 60 years old or more and had 2021 taxable values of $350,000 or less under the law's revisions by the 2022 Legislature.

