Statement and Order from City of Racine Public Health Director Dottie-Kay Bowersox

City Public Health Department extends "Safer at Home" with the "Turn the Dial" amendments within jurisdiction

City of Racine – In response to the State Supreme Court ruling this evening, the City of Racine Public Health Department has locally extended the "Safer at Home" order with the "Turn the Dial" amendments within its jurisdiction until May 26th. This order takes effect immediately.

Public Health Administrator Dottie-Kay Bowersox released the following statement with the official order:

"I know these are very difficult and highly unusual times, but Public Health's responsibility is to mediate and maintain the safety and welfare of our residents. I am therefore adopting the provisions of Safer At Home locally and ordering that it be extended until May 26th. Before that date, additional guidance will be released for how we can safely move forward. I do not issue this order lightly, but we must protect ourselves, our families, and the other members of our community. A full and immediate lifting of the Safer At Home order would put all of us in danger of contracting the virus. We have to be concerned about surges in cases overwhelming our local hospitals, as well as our first responders, public health professionals, and workers employed at our community's grocery stores, pharmacies, and other essential businesses at risk."
