A bronze plaque, bearing the name “Hiawatha,” was affixed to the base of the big Indian statue in Riverside Park Friday morning. Floyd Loper (left), and Lloyd Bayard, holding the plaque, installed it. The naming of the Indian has occasioned a dispute between historical interests which favor “Decorah” and tourist interests which favor “Hiawatha.”—Tribune Photo.