State commission OKs $174M road project

A state commission on Tuesday approved roughly $174 million in updates to an 18-mile stretch of highway near Madison. The project, approved unanimously by the state Transportation Projects Commission, would provide pavement updates, add multiple roundabout intersections and enhance safety for vehicles, bicycles and pedestrians, runs the length of U.S. 51 from the Beltline, through McFarland and Stoughton and to the interchange with I-90.
