

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

March 18, 2022

I send my warmest greetings as you celebrate the 150th anniversary of Lake Geneva Regional News.

Journalists like yours have kept generations of readers informed with the latest stories and breaking news. At a time when truth is increasingly under attack, it is clear that safeguarding the freedom of the press—a sacred pillar of our Constitution—has never been more important.

Thank you for chronicling the triumphs and tragedies that have defined America and your community. May we all continue to stand with truth-tellers across our Nation and around the world who perform the essential functions that independent journalism and a free media provide.

Congratulations on this milestone anniversary. I wish you all the best in the years ahead.
