Bucks Crowd Philly Out of the Playoffs

The Bucks had 42.7 per cent from the field, the 76ers 43.2 per cent. Rather, it was the rugged contact basketball that made this one of the most exciting ever played in the previously exclusively amateur Field House.

AND THE CROWD seemed to arouse to the roughhouse—and carry on a little verbal rough-house of its own. The noise was unbelievable. It was louder than a Big 10 game.

The players, too understood the deadliness of the battle. Two technicals were called—one on Cunningham and one on Jon McGlocklin.

The officials ignored dozens of other provocations.

The remarkable thing about the Bucks' victory is that the five starters did it. Alcindor, McGlocklin, Dandridge, and Robinson all played more than 40 of the 48 minutes. Don Smith spelled Greg Smith for 12 minutes, and the other Bucks played only briefly. Freddy Crawford only 7 minutes, for instance.

So, if the game was muscle, the Milwaukee starters out-muscled their Philadelphia counterparts.

THE BUCKS now get a long rest. Their next series cannot start til Thursday against either the New York Knicks or the Baltimore Bullets.

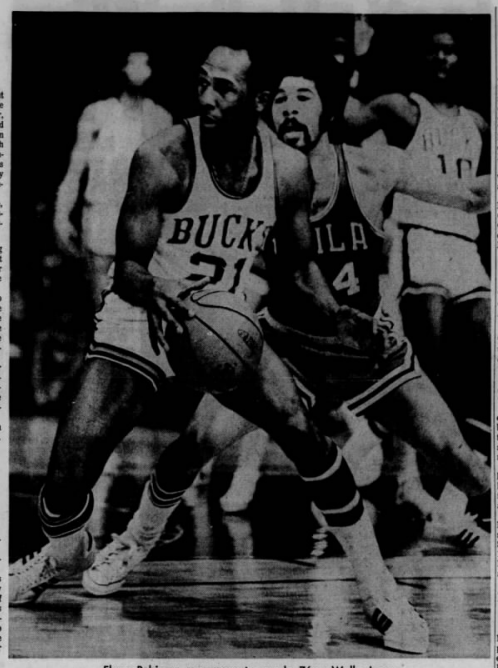

Some say it is better to keep playing and stay "up." Some think a rest helps. After the kind of brutal basketball the Bucks had to play to overcome the 76ers, it is likely that Milwaukee can use the rest.

The Bucks are now in their second season of NBA basketball. They are in their first season of Lew Alcindor. They are one-third of the way to a championship.

They would not have been there Friday night without Lew.

Wes, Bucks Are Grand

Bucks will play Thursday in either New York or Baltimore.

But definitely not in Philadelphia.

"I think we were relaxed as we have been," said Bobby Dandridge, who scored eight of his 21 points when the Bucks came back in the fourth quarter. "Nobody really wanted to go back to Philadelphia. We were looking for those three or four days off."

THE BUCKS will get them, and then tangle with the first-place Knicks or the third-place Bullets.

Any preferences?

"Our matchups are good with New York," calculated Costello.

Guard Jon McGlocklin said he'd rather play the Knicks. "I'd like to play New York because I think we have a better chance against them.

"BESIDES, WE'D rather go to New York than Baltimore." Fun City has more than movies for entertainment, according to McGlocklin.

McGlocklin was understandably pleased with the surprise $1,000. "That's a tremendous gift. This is a great organization with great people."

Alcindor, the 7-2 center who scored 46 points and snared 25 rebounds despite pressure from the muscular 76ers, was asked if Baltimore or New York could be rougher than Philly.

NEW YORK center Willis Reed or Baltimore's Wes Unseld couldn't be any more physical than Lew's recent playmates, 76ers Darrell Imhoff and Luke Jackson. "They (the 76ers) do anything they can do without getting kicked out of the game," Alcindor said.

The important thing to veteran Milwaukee reserve Guy Rodgers was that Lew didn't get kicked out either.

"He fought back with his basketball. He didn't fight back so he'd get kicked out."

RODGERS ALSO praised Dandridge. "The man who kept us in the game was Dandridge. There were things he did that were just fantastic."

Ramsay also raved over Dandridge.

"Here Dandridge played last year for a small college, Norfolk State. He was unheralded and given no chance even to make the team, let alone be, I think, the second most valuable player in the series."

THERE WAS of course no question who the most valuable is — Alcindor. "I thought he did another great job," said Ramsey. "Here his position and in that close he has to score."

Both in the basket and in the bank.

Ritger Gains Firestone Finals

AKRON, O. (AP) — Don Johnson, a Kokomo, Ind., bowler with a 228 average for 48 games, led a five-man contingent into today's finals of the $100,000 Firestone Tournament of Champions.

Johnson wound up the 48-game qualifier with 11,979 pins.

In second place 161 pins back was Mike Durbin of Dayton, O.

A Wisconsin bowler, Dick Ritger of Hartford was third. He rolled big games of 269 and 288 Friday to take a 73-pin lead over fourth-place Barry Asher of Costa Mesa, Calif.

Winter to Retire

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Bud Winter, track coach of defending NCAA outdoor champion San Jose State, is retiring at the end of this season, he said Thursday.

Winter, 59, who coached such Olympic stars and world record holders as Lee Evans, John Carlos, and Tommie Smith, said, "I want to quit while I'm still young enough to enjoy retirement and do some of the things I've always wanted to do."

Spaniard Wins European Crown

MADRID (AP) — Jose Manuel Ibar Urtain of Spain knocked out West Germany's Peter Weiland in the seventh round Friday night and captured the European heavyweight crown.

The 30-year-old 223½-pound former champion was floored three times, in the first, second and third rounds, before being knocked out in the second minute of the seventh.

After his three knockdowns the German had little if anything to put up against the 187-pound powerful Urtain, who Friday night achieved his straight knockout victory.

The end came when Weiland was caught against the ropes and Urtain let loose with a flurry of rights and lefts to the body and face of the German.

The German was floored for the first time 15 seconds after the start of the fight. A terrific right swing sent Weiland to the canvas at two minutes of the second round.

Peters Gives Up Run, Then Wins

(By Associated Press)

Boston's Gary Peters yielded his first run of the spring — an unearned eighth inning tally — before the Red Sox rallied for three runs in the ninth and a 3-1 exhibition baseball victory Friday over the Cincinnati Reds.

The Reds, held to two hits by the former Chicago White Sox' pitching ace, ended his scoreless string at 31 2-3 innings with the help of a throwing error by rookie third baseman Luis Alvarado.

BOSTON, which had managed only one hit off rookie Wayne Simpson through the first seven innings, then struck back in the ninth. The Red Sox scored the tying and winning runs on Tony Conigliaro's bloop double and a wild throw to the plate by Reds second baseman Darrel Chaney.

While Peters continued to shine in sunny Florida, St. Louis whipped Eddie Stanley's South Alabama college team, 9-2, at Mobile, Ala.

Atlanta downed Oakland, 4-2; Montreal nipped Baltimore, 3-2; Pittsburgh blanked its Columbus farm club (International League), 5-0, and Cleveland bowed to its Wichita (American Association) affiliate, 7-5.

HOUSTON placed pitcher Don Wilson, a 16-game winner last season, on the 21-day disabled list. The young fireballer has tendonitis in his right shoulder and pitched just 12 exhibition innings.

Minnesota announced that waivers have cleared on veteran outfielder Bob Allison. Twins Pres. Calvin Griffith said he will withhold a decision whether or not to release Allison until Monday.

South Alabama outhit St. Louis, 7-6, but the Cardinals capitalized on 15 walks to win. Mike Stanky, 18-year-old son of the former St. Louis manager, caught two innings for the Jaguars.

PAT JARVIS' shutout pitching over the first eight innings and a home run by Hank Aaron keyed the Braves' victory over Oakland.

Montreal pushed over a ninth inning run on Bob Bailey's squeeze bunt to shade the Orioles. Dave McNally, who worked six innings, and loser Dick Hall limited the Expos to four hits.

Dock Ellis checked Columbus on two hits through seven innings and successive homers by Bob Robertson and John Jeter triggered the Pirates' attack.

Wichita toppled Cleveland behind righthander Steve Hargan, on loan from the Indians, who held his teammates to two runs in seven innings.

Giant Rally Beats Brewers

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Dick Dietz eighth-inning triple and Hal Lanier's single combined Friday night for San Francisco's 6-5 exhibition victory over the Milwaukee Brewers.

Lou Krausse, tuning up as Milwaukee's probable opening-game starter next Tuesday, gave up two hits and one run in three innings.

The Brewers, in their second exhibition loss in three games under new management, had trailed 4-1, then exploded for four runs in the fifth. The Giants came back in the seventh to tie the game.

Bulls Rebound Behind Haskins

CHICAGO (AP)—Clem Haskins and Chet Walker lifted the Chicago Bulls off the floor Friday night for a 131-120 victory over the Atlanta Hawks.

Atlanta was left with a 3-1 edge in their best-of-7 Western Division semifinal series. The teams now turn back to Atlanta for game No. 5 Sunday.

THE HAWKS, who had breezed to easy victories in three previous games, fell behind, 32-25, in the first quarter and could never gain command.

The Bulls led, 57-53, at the half, and although Atlanta took several four-point leads in the third quarter, the Bulls had the hot hand.

Haskins scored 15 points in the third quarter, getting 11 in a row to power the Bulls to a 99-88 lead going into the final period.

HE FINISHED with 29, but scoring honors went to Walker's 39. Atlanta's Joe Caldwell again paced the Hawks with 36 points.

Dance Act Kayoes the Champ

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — World heavyweight champion Joe Frazier fractured his right ankle during an enthusiastic dance in his night club act on the Las Vegas Strip, it was disclosed Friday.

THE PHILADELPHIA boxer was taken to Southern Nevada Memorial Hospital late Thursday night and the injured ankle was placed in a cast when the break was discovered.

Frazier's manager, Yancey Durham, said the champion will be incapacitated six to eight weeks.

A proposed title match with Bob Foster, the light heavyweight titleholder, in Houston's Astrodome in June would have to be set back until later in the summer, Durham added.

A SPOKESMAN said the injury occurred during his first show in the lounge of Caesars Palace, where he is appearing with his rock group, The Knockouts.

He was dancing and apparently placed his weight on the wrong leg, a member of the group said. Frazier finished the show and did the entire second show an hour later.

Later, with the ankle painfully swollen, Frazier was taken in a wheel chair out of the hotel and removed to the hospital.

A HOSPITAL aide said the break was in "good position" and should heal well. Frazier, the hotel announced, will return to the lounge for the two Sunday night shows but will sing from a wheelchair. His group will go it alone through Saturday night.
