Badgers' Might Raps 'Cats

Witt Scores Four Times in Easy Win

gave them the ball in mid-field. It took them only six plays to score from there.

Ameche took a pitch-out and smashed inside the defensive left end for 17 yards. Coatta attempted a pass that was incomplete, then Ameche carried the ball twice, picked up six yards each time, and it was a first down for the Badgers on Northwestern's 22.

Witt Starts Spree

Witt took a pitch-out and made five yards around right end. Witt then worked into the clear in Northwestern's left flat zone, took a pass from Coatta and barrelled the rest of the way for 17 yards and a touchdown. Coatta converted with a placekick to give the Badgers a 7-0 lead.

Wisconsin was back deep in Northwestern's territory a few minutes later in the first quarter. The Badgers had a first down on Northwestern's six. Ameche was held without a gain, and then Wally Jones intercepted Coatta's pass in the end zone and brought it back to the Wildcat 23.

Wisconsin started a scoring drive from its own 37 late in the first quarter. Ameche made four, and Strehlow then thread-needled his way up the middle for 19 yards and a first down on Northwestern's 46. A fumbled pass-off from Coatta to Ameche lost 17 yards. Ameche made two as the first quarter ended.

Goes All the Way

Coatta called a pass on the first play of the second quarter, and he pitched to Witt; the blocky Badger took the ball out of the hands of Jones and rambled all the way to a touchdown the play covering 61 yards—from the Badger 39. Coatta converted to make it 14-0.

Once again the Badgers wheeled deep into Northwestern territory on a drive that failed short of its goal. Starting from their own 27, the Badgers reached Northwestern's 12 in 10 plays, despite a 15-yard holding penalty.

Coatta's pass on second down was intercepted by Dick Alban on Northwestern's eight. That saved Northwestern that time, but it was a reprieve and not a pardon.

Badger Aerials Click

Wisconsin found itself on Northwestern's 33 after a Wildcat punt, but a penalty moved the Badgers back to the 44. Coatta passed to Hollie Strehlow for 11 yards, and then passed to Witt for 22 yards and a first down on the Northwestern 11.

Ameche split the middle for six yards, he made a yard on the next play and then Witt took a pitch-out and circled right end for four yards and a touchdown. He was hit near the goal line, but he lowered his shoulders and drove his way across Northwestern's cleat-torn goal line. Coatta again converted to make it 21-0, and that was the score at the half-time intermission.

Wisconsin roared to a fourth touchdown the first time it gained the ball in the second half. This one started on their own eight, and the Badgers covered the necessary 92 yards in six plays. Strehlow made four and Ameche slammed for eight and a first down on the 20. Witt made four, Ameche was held to a yard gain when he slipped in trying to cut, and Strehlow then hit right guard for five yards and a first down on the 30.

Runs 70 Yards

Witt then was hit at the line of scrimmage, but he broke out of a tackle's arms, and sprinted 70 yards to a touchdown. Coatta converted to make it 28-0.

Wisconsin forced Northwestern to punt four plays after the ensuing kickoff, and the Badgers began another scoring drive from their own 39.

Hill Hutchinson ran for five, Schleisner added three, and Hutchinson then broke loose for 12 yards and a first down on the Northwestern 41.

Roughing Penalty Helps

Schleisner made two, Quarterback Burl Hable lost two when he fumbled but recovered, and Hable's pass was incomplete. The Badgers were forced to punt for the first time during the game, but the boot was recalled when Northwestern was guilty of roughing the kicker, and Wisconsin had a first down on the Wildcat's 26.

Schleisner made four yards and then one; Hutchinson stepped through a hole at right guard and cut to his left for nine yards and a first down on the 12.

Illegal use of the hands pushed Wisconsin back to the 24, but an offside penalty on Northwestern moved the Badgers to the 19. Hable's pass to Peters was incomplete, and then Schleisner made 12 yards. Young made a yard, and Hable then passed six yards to Peters waiting in the end zone.

Bill Miller converted to give the Badgers a 35-0 lead.

Withers Intercepts

Wisconsin's last touchdown came in the fourth quarter on a drive that started on the Badger 20 after Ed Withers had intercepted Bob Burson's forward pass in the Wisconsin end zone.

Young ran for nine, but a penalty on the next play shoved Wisconsin back to its own 18. Hutchinson made five, Schleisner made three, and Wisconsin was forced to punt for the second time. However, this one didn't count either, for a Northwestern offside gave Wisconsin a first down on the 21.

Young made three, and Schleisner then made 10 and a first down on the Wisconsin 44. Hutchinson made one, and Young then broke through the line and went 20 yards before he was hauled down on Northwestern's 35. The Green Bay freshman almost went the full route on the play.

Score Called Back

Schleisner made five yards in two carries, Norris Ace made three, and Schleisner then made three more and a first down on the four times during the entire game. Once the Wildcats reached Wisconsin's 46, once the 41, once the 49 and once the eight. That was the modest total of Northwestern's offensive damage. The Badgers' control of the game is indicated by the fact they ran 93 plays from scrimmage to Northwestern's 57. The Wildcats were harmless tabbies when confronted by the ferocious Badgers.

They were just different breeds of cats in this contest.

SCHLEISNER PETERS

Each scored once

24. Hable's pass was incomplete; Schleisner broke loose up the middle for nine yards, then made two for a first down on the 13.

Hable passed to Locklin for a gain of seven yards, but interference was called on the play, and that kept it a first down for the Badgers while keeping the ball on the 6. Schleisner took a pitch-out and ran right end for six yards and a touchdown, but a holding penalty nullified the touchdown and pushed Wisconsin back to the 21.

Schleisner made three, and Hable passed to Ace for 14 yards. Hable picked up half that on a sneak up the middle, and then Schleisner went the rest of the way for a touchdown that counted.

Miller Misses Field Goal

Two penalties moved the Badgers back to the 12 for the extra point attempt, and Miller missed from there.

Wisconsin threatened again moments later, but the drive stalled, and Miller's field goal attempt from the Northwestern 25 failed. That threat was set up when Jim Craine intercepted Don Rondou's pass on Northwestern's 40. Benefiglio passed to Ace for 13 yards, and Hutchinson went through left tackle for 11. The Badger drive fizzled, and Miller missed a field goal on fourth down.

Northwestern crossed midfield only once in the first half and only

Strehlow Spilled After Taking Coatta's Pass

Northwestern's Dick Alban upsets Rollie Strehlow (40), Wisconsin halfback, as the latter receives a bulletpass from Quarterback Johnny Coatta in the first period. The Badgers routed the Wildcats, 41-0, in their Big 10 meeting at Evanston, Ill.

Qualifying winds up at the Arcade Recreation alleys today in the Dane county district of the state individual match game bowling championship tournament with both men and women bidding for places in the state finals slated in Milwaukee next weekend.

One out of every five entrants in each of the men's and women's firing at the Arcade today will qualify for the 24-game total pin state title roll-off. The Dane county district elimination meet is under the direction of the Madison Bowling Proprietors' assn. and the state test next weekend will be run off by the Wisconsin Proprietors' assn.

While entries for the state test closed last weekend the state proprietors group assured the writer Thursday that one out of every five men's and women's entrants in today's meet at the Arcade Recreation would be allowed to enter the state roll-off.

A group of members of the Madison Woman's Bowling assn. will vie for three places in the feminine portion of the state test when they roll at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. The group includes Lorene Keefe, Dee Fix, Ellie Poole, Bea Hein, Ad Colvin, Corky Kubicek, Fran Fiechl, Marcy Kleinsteiber, Marcy Olson, Gladys Milbrook, Priscilla Siewert, Marguerite Fedkenheuer, Ramona Kivlin, Esther Tietz, Barbara Zanoya and Martha Van Winter.

Numerous male keglers in the city are to bowl later this afternoon and tonight, matching their total pins totals against those bowlers who rolled Saturday. Anyone wishing to compete today can do so without a reservation by merely appearing at the Arcade and entering the three games across six alleys competition. The entry fee is $4.

After another week of firing during which he hit 493, 626, 567, 728 and 492 in five leagues, respectively, Stan Thaden's current season average is 208.14 for 90 games. His top single league average is 717.15 in the Arcade's Industrial loop, in which he rolled the 728 Friday night.

Male bowlers who have not as yet filed their entries for the Golden Jubilee state tournament which opens in Milwaukee on Dec. 1 have been granted a 10-day extension to do so. Sec. Clarence Jonen of the Wisconsin State Bowling assn. has announced that the date for filing entries for the state meet has been extended until Nov. 5 at midnight. The entries are to be sent directly to the state association office, 817 N. 27th st., Milwaukee 8.

Feminine keglers wishing to enter the 33rd annual state tournament of the Wisconsin Women's Bowling assn. have until Dec. 1 to file their entries. The 1952 meet opens Jan. 19 at Wausau with team firing at the Stettin Bowl-O-Dome and doubles and singles at the Wausau Bowling Center. Entries will be filed as announced by Sec. Jean Knepprath, 3431 W. Lisbon ave., Milwaukee 8. Team firing will again be in five classes and doubles and singles in four classes. Aug. 1, 1951, averages are to be used.

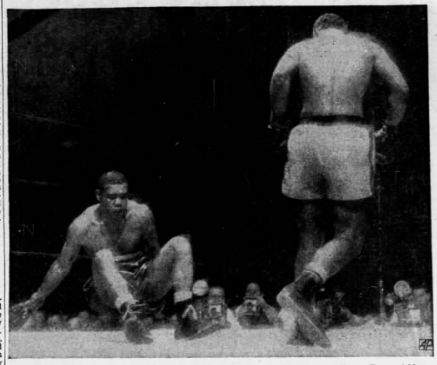
Teams wishing to enter the booster event of the 1952 ABC tournament in Milwaukee can do so by contacting Charlie Allen, Madison's director of the ABC board.

Following are the current city season records:

MEN: Team triple — Bostad's Men's Wear 1,940; Team single game — Hirzy Sheet Metal 1,041; Individual triple — Stan Thaden 626 and 728, Billy Hoven 626; Individual single game — Stan Thaden 269 and 728.

WOMEN: Team triple — Rhode's Steak House 2,752; Bor's Tavern 1,216; Team single game — Rhode's 1,041; Individual triple — Bernice Hoven 1,492; Individual single — Gladys Milbrook 615, Irene Zimbrich 646; Individual single game — Gladys Milbrook 232.

Joe Louis' Fall Brings End to a Boxing Era



Joe Louis starts on the way down in the first knockdown in the eighth and final round of his scheduled 10-rounder with Rocky Marciano (right) in Madison Square Garden at New York, Friday. Louis went down for the count of eight. No sooner had he come up than a flurry of blows by Marciano sent him down again and referee Ruby Goldstein signaled the end of the fight in 2:36 of the round.

East. Jun.	2	3	0	East. Sen.	2	3	0
West Jun.	0	4	0	Wis. High	0	4	0

Central captured the championship of the Monona division and East Seniors cinched at least a tie for the Mendota title in the Four Lakes High School League football program.

Central defeated the East sophomores, 6-1 Saturday morning to drop the latter out of first place; Bill Gothard scored the only touchdown on a 35-yard pass play.

East Seniors whipped the West Seniors, 38-0, to clinch its title tie. The West Seniors defeated the East Juniors, 21-14, and set the tie for the crown by defeating the West Juniors in a postponed game.

East Sophomores walloped Wisconsin high, 38-0, in the other Monona division game. Dean Hewitt, Don Marks, Dick Miller, John Cesare, Harry LaMay and Lyle Kloever scored touchdowns and Marks added two points.

Don Hahan scored twice and Don MacLeish once for the West Seniors while Dick Simonson collected the 14 points for the East Juniors.

Don Zimmerman ran 80, 20, and 10 yards for touchdowns in the East Seniors' victory. Ray Faust scored a touchdown and two conversions, and Marv Jensen added the last touchdown.

Point, Oshkosh Tie in State League Tilt

OSHKOSH —(AP)— Oshkosh stayed off a last minute Stevens Point scoring threat Saturday to battle to a scoreless tie in a State College Homecoming game.

The Pointers got to the three-yard line in the last minute of play and Alton Due tried for a field goal. His placement bounced off the goal posts.

Georgia Tech Nips Vanderbilt

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — (AP) — Georgia Tech's unbeaten Yellow Jackets wallowed to a squeaky 8-7 victory over Vanderbilt in a sloppy, rain-sodden battle here Saturday.

Georgia Tech completely dominated the Southeastern Conference contest and led 8-0 on a blocked punt and a safety until the final eight seconds when Quarterback Bill Wade fired an 18-yard pass to End Ted Kirkland for Vanderbilt's only score.

In the final three minutes of the struggle, Tech's captain, Tackle Lamar Wheeler, blocked Vanderbilt's punt out of bounds on the Commodore two.

Glenn Turner rammed for the touchdown on the next play but Pepper Rodgers' conversion try was wide.

Georgia Outlasts Boston College

ATHENS, Ga. —(U.P.)— Georgia Quarterback Zeke Bratkowski connected with End Harry Babcock for two spectacular last minute touchdowns Saturday to settle a wild offensive battle and hand Boston College its 14th straight setback, 35-28.

After a fast and loose first half that ended with the score locked at 21-all, Bratkowski hit the speedy Babcock for touchdown passes of 76 and 52 yards.

Bratkowski furnished the Bulldogs with the spark they needed as he completed 13 of 24 passes for 245 yards and a new school record.

Caldwell 'Dunked' by Happy Tigers

PRINCETON, N. J. —(AP)— Football Coach Charlie Caldwell cooled off in Lake Carnegie Saturday after his red-hot Princeton Tiers' performance.

All-America Dick Kazmaier, Captain Dave Hickok and End Len Lyons tossed Caldwell into the lake before 200 spectators after the 53-15 victory over Cornell. Caldwell had promised his team the privilege if they beat Cornell.

Marciano Willing to Stand in Line for Crack at Title

NEW YORK — (AP) — Rocky Marciano, boxing's latest sensation as the result of his eight-round knockout of Joe Louis, said Saturday he'd like to fight Heavyweight Champion Jersey Joe Walcott for the title, Jersey Joe said he'd like to fight Marciano.

But right now it appears that Walcott will fulfill his contract to give Ezzard Charles, the former titleholder, the return title shot in June.

'Ambition — Championship'

Pres. Jim Norris of the International Boxing Club said a Walcott-Marciano scrap was out of the question for the time being and that Charles would get his deserved chance first.

Marciano, who appeared at the IBC to pick up his $49,605 check and talk to Norris, said "sure, I'd like to fight Walcott for the title. That's my ambition — the championship. But Charles is entitled to his chance. I wouldn't like to fight unless Charles stepped aside."

Charles, who watched Friday night's Madison Square Garden bout, said, naturally, that he didn't want to step aside. He said too he'd be very happy to fight Marciano.

Joe's Out of the Woods

Walcott was another ringside observer. He, too, said Rocky "is a good fighter but he beat the shell of Joe Louis. I'll fight anyone my manager wants."

Louis, meanwhile was in seclusion Saturday. The Brown Bomber is through as a big-timer. He'll announce his future plans on Monday but the formal announcement can't be anything but retirement.

Louis received $94,281 for Friday night's eight round kayo defeat and a good chunk of it went to the government for taxes.

There was one happy note for Joe, however. Truman Gibson, his attorney, said Louis' income tax situation would be "clarified" as a result of Friday night's fight. Gibson said "there will be a compromise" on the tax matter. So it appears that old Joe is finally out of the woods, financial-wise.
