

Forecast for Friday, May 15, 2026

Bands separate high temperature zones for the day.

NATIONAL SUMMARY: A storm will linger over the Northeast today, producing a few showers with steadier rain along the coast. Rain and thunderstorms could track over part of the Midwest. From Kansas to West Texas, spotty severe thunderstorms are forecast late in the day with building heat. The storms will linger into the night. Showers will dampen the Northwest.

©2026 AccuWeather, Inc.