

Forecast for Sunday, August 9, 2026

Bands separate high temperature zones for the day.

NATIONAL SUMMARY: Some relief from the humidity will be expected in the Northeast today, but not along the coast. A swath of severe storms will race from the Plains to the Midwest during the day and night. Typical summer thunderstorms will blanket the Southeast, with monsoonal storms in much of the Southwest. It will stay dry in the Northwest.

©2026 AccuWeather, Inc.