

Forecast for Wednesday, July 29, 2026

Bands separate high temperature zones for the day.

NATIONAL SUMMARY: A storm will spread heavy rain and thunderstorms across the Northeast today. There could be flooding, particularly in low-lying and poor-drainage areas. Spotty thunderstorms will dot the Southeast and Gulf coasts as well as the Rocky Mountains. It will be dry as a heat dome brings above-average temperatures to the middle of the nation.

©2026 AccuWeather, Inc.