

Forecast for Tuesday, July 14, 2026

Bands separate high temperature zones for the day.

NATIONAL SUMMARY: Thunderstorms, some heavy, will spread from Texas to the Carolinas today. Any thunderstorm will be capable of producing flash flooding and localized damaging wind gusts. Afternoon storms will dot the Rocky Mountains. The Midwest and Northeast will be dry as warm air spills into the area, bringing above-average temperatures.

©2026 AccuWeather, Inc.