

Forecast for Monday, April 27, 2026

Bands separate high temperature zones for the day.

NATIONAL SUMMARY: There will be a significant risk of tornadoes, damaging winds and hail from Wisconsin to Arkansas tomorrow. Rain will dampen the Dakotas and Minnesota as showers dot the Rockies. It will be mostly dry across the rest of the nation outside of afternoon thunderstorms in Florida. Warm air will expand across the East Coast and it will be mostly sunny.

©2026 AccuWeather, Inc.