

Forecast for Sunday, July 5, 2026

Bands separate high temperature zones for the day.

NATIONAL SUMMARY: Thunderstorms will rumble from the Great Lakes states to the Gulf Coast states today. There could be locally gusty winds in any heavier downpour. Dry weather will persist in New England, the Dakotas and west of the Rocky Mountains. The fire danger will remain elevated in the Southwest, and the sky will be smoky from ongoing wildfires.

©2026 AccuWeather, Inc.