

Forecast for Tuesday, August 18, 2026

Bands separate high temperature zones for the day.

NATIONAL SUMMARY: While the Northeast becomes less humid tomorrow, hot and sticky conditions will remain from Texas to the Southeast. Thunderstorms will develop across the region and in the Rockies and Midwest. Some storms will be severe from eastern Nebraska to central Illinois. Meanwhile, the West Coast will be partly sunny and warmer.

©2026 AccuWeather, Inc.