A Luxury Masterpiece of the 1930s

Crafted at the height of pre-war automotive excellence, the 1936 Mercedes-Benz 500K Type Special Roadster was never meant to be ordinary—it was designed to be unforgettable. Introduced to worldwide acclaim at the 1934 Berlin Motor Show, the 500K quickly became a symbol of prestige, performance, and innovation.

With just 29 Special Roadsters ever built—and even fewer featuring the striking long-tail design—this rare masterpiece remains one of the most coveted automobiles in Mercedes-Benz history.

Power and Prestige in 1:18-Scale Die Cast

Now Hamilton Authenticated presents a 1:18-scale die cast of this luxury performance car, capturing the sleek, aerodynamic silhouette and engineering brilliance of the original. The center-hinged bonnet flaps open to reveal the supercharged straight-eight engine, while wire-spoke wheels, whitewall tires, and functional rumble seat complete this tribute to one of the most exclusive automobiles ever created.
