“My first priority is to understand what each patient’s primary concern is. Every patient has different goals for their visit, and my objective is first to understand their goals, and then to help them to achieve those goals.”

– Andrew Livermore, MD

“The guiding principle that I trained and practice with is that every patient deserves world-class care. Together, we will understand fully what is responsible for your symptoms and then devise a plan to treat those problems.”

– Dayton Opel, MD
