

Stop Suffering from GERD

There's Help for Your Acid Reflux

Aaron Schwaab, M.D.

Board Certified
General Surgeon
Stoughton Hospital
General Surgery Clinic

Antacids and other medication may reduce GERD symptoms, however studies suggest long-term use of GERD medication might be risky. Dr. Aaron Schwaab now offers the minimally invasive LINX procedure which is an effective solution for reflux and may end your long-term dependence on medication. Learn more by joining us for this free talk!

The LINX device is approximately the size of a quarter.

Thursday, October 3rd, 2019 at 5:30 p.m.
Stoughton Hospital • 900 Ridge Street, Stoughton
Bryant Health Education Center • (lower level)

To register for this free talk, please go to stoughtonhospital.com and click on "Classes & Events."
Questions? Please contact Sonja at 873-2356.

stoughtonhospital.com

