

Development in the flight path: noise concerns could scuttle needed housing

A stretch of East Washington Avenue between Aberg Avenue and Highway 51 soon to be served by Bus Rapid Transit is ripe for redevelopment with high-density housing. But the arrival of F-35 fighter jets at Truax Field in 2023 could subject much of the area to unhealthy levels of noise, raising questions about whether it's suitable for housing.

