Dr Kerr

Just wanted to congratulate you on your Friday interview on WTMJ 6:20 AM. It was great to hear your perspective about schools going forward during these unprecedented times. It was interesting to hear that you had started your own consulting business and if you get a chance I would love to hear more about The services you provide and Maybe answer a few of my questions.

Thanks again for your time and please give me a call at your earliest convenience 414-897-4524

Hi Deb,

I hope that you are well.

Reaching out to reconnect about the work we are doing to update the Framework for Teaching via support from the Kern Family Foundation.

Would you be willing to set up 30-min to chat about the project. The larger ask would be for you to review and provide feedback on some of our draft revisions. We have funding to support such a review.

Let me know and take care,
Jim

Hi Deb,

So great to meet you a couple weeks ago and apologies for not being back in touch sooner.

I am hoping you might still be willing to review some of our materials and provide feedback between now and the end of next month. As I mentioned, some of our grant funding from the Kern Family Foundation supports review by subject matter experts. I'm attaching an agreement outlining the scope for you to consider. It lists lots of content, but essentially we will take whatever time you can give and however far you can get between now and July 31 up to the maximum of 16 hours.

Let me know if you are willing and if you have any questions/concerns about the agreement.

Thanks,
Jim

Hello everyone,

American society, including education, is at a standstill as we collectively try to survive COVID-19. While we long to return to our lives and our activities, we know that this pause is necessary to protect our vulnerable, to mitigate the loss of life, and to safeguard the humanity of our medical providers, who otherwise would be forced to make devastating decisions.

As many of you know, we were in the initial stages of planning a physical convening at the end of this month. Since that became impossible, we have reconsidered how to adapt to the conditions of the world without simply delaying to a later date. We will host several small group discussions that will allow us to iterate and advance our thinking prior to a future in-person gathering. We hope that you can join Charlotte Danielson, our team, and a group of other innovative and forward thinking educators to discuss the intellectual, moral, and civic dimensions of teaching and their contribution to the development of flourishing students.

We plan to hold a series of 90-minute conversations with groups of 6-8. Each conversation will be summarized and shared to a shared space.

If you are interested in participating, please complete this doodle poll to indicate availability by Friday, April 10. Please indicate all dates for which you are available.

We will notify you when the scheduling is complete and confirm your date/time.

Prior to the meeting we will ask you to review two readings: The Framework for Teaching Clusters and the Framework for Character Education (both attached here).

Our Goals for the Meetings:

- Begin a collective endeavor to move the conversation on teacher professionalism in a new direction, one that centers predominantly on the purpose, values, expertise, craft, and wisdom of educators.
- Gather input and feedback on how the Danielson Framework for Teaching and the supporting tools, services, and resources we provide might better name and support a renaissance of teaching that does justice to the sophistication and complexity of the profession, and the intellectual, moral, and civic dimensions of the work.

We hope that you will be able to join. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Take care,

Jim

Hello everyone,

I hope you all are well. I wish you good health and peace of mind during this strange time.

As you might expect, we have decided to postpone this event. We are looking forward to gathering a group together when things have settled and are hopeful that will be sometime in June or later in the summer. We will keep you updated. I have included those of you who were initially unable to attend and hope that a future date may work for you.

Between now and that rescheduled date, we would like to hold a series of virtual meetings to get the conversation on redefining professionalism started. I hope that you'll consider participating. Next week we will be sending more information and a set of dates/times. We will do one of them on April 21 in case you still have that blocked on your calendar.

If you had already made travel arrangements, the travel agent will take care of canceling those. If you are able to make the rescheduled date, then we will reach out about rebooking those tickets.

Take care,

Jim

nvitation to Participate in a Day of Reflection, Dialogue, and Collaboration

Monday, March 2, 2020 at 2:19:05 PM Central Standard Time

email: "furman@danielsongroup.org Jim Furman"

To: email: "dkerr@browndeerschools.com Deb Kerr"

Hi Deb,

As promised, here are the details on the event that we are putting together. I really hope that you might be able to make this work! Please reach out if you have any questions or would like to chat briefly about it.

The Danielson Group will be convening a group of educators and thought leaders to participate in a day of reflection, dialogue, and collaborative work focused on teacher professionalism and its connection to student mindsets and development. We hope that you can join Charlotte Danielson, our team, and a group of other innovative and forward thinking educators to discuss the intellectual, moral, and civic dimensions of teaching and their contribution to the development of flourishing students.

The meeting will take place from 9:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. on Tuesday, April 21, 2020, in Chicago.

This conversation will inform our efforts to update the Danielson Framework for Teaching and supporting resources. We also hope that this will be the first step in a broader conversation about professionalism and the work of teachers that helps to reconcile some of the disparate forces that have been at play in our efforts to improve outcomes for students; honors the complexity and purposeful nature of teachers' work; and adds a much needed dimension to conversations about teacher growth and development, recruitment and retention, and whole child development.

Here is a more detailed description of our goals and the focus of the day. Feel free to reach out if you have any questions. In addition to the day of the meeting, we will ask you to complete a small amount of pre-reading in advance.

Please reply to this email to let us know of your interest and availability to participate by Friday, March 6. If you are able to join us, please complete this registration link. This event is supported by the Kern Family Foundation.

Hope to hear from you soon,

Jim

Deb,

Thanks for the update!

I appreciated the time yesterday and have these next steps:

First, Here are the states we are looking at: Iowa, Tenn, Alabama, Ind, WI, AZ, IL, TX and FL. If you could send me some names and groups to talk to that would be great!

Second, I contacted the Danielson Group today and forwarded your contact info. Let me know if you hear from them.

Three, We are going to consider how best to engage Dick Pieper and will follow up with you. I appreciate you sharing his contact info.

Lets make sure we do not let so much time go by. Best, Bill

Hi Deb,

Please see attached logo and signature for Lead Greatly, LLC. Also attached are some samples of what they would look like on printed material. The "LLC" isn't always included on the logo, but I can revise if you'd like it added. Let me know if what you're thinking in terms of a separate graphic. I'm thinking of revising the Kerr on your signature as it sort of looks like Kem.

Thanks,

Attached are the revised signatures. The first three contain the signature only in different versions for print. The other three includes the title: president & CEO. I updated the samples doc also.

Hi Deb,

Please see attached logo and signature for Lead Greatly, LLC. Also attached are some samples of what they would look like on printed material. The "LLC" isn't always included on the logo, but I can revise if you'd like it added. Let me know if what you're thinking in terms of a separate graphic. I'm thinking of revising the Kerr on your signature as it sort of looks like Kem.

Thanks,
Tracy

Hi Deb,

Here are some samples for the company name and your signature. I'll keep plugging away, but please let me know if we're getting closer. Thanks tracyallenharris@gmail.com is outside your organization.

email: "dkerr@browndeerschools.com Deb Kerr"

To: email: "tracyallenharris@gmail.com Tracy Harris"

This is the name of my new company - I haven't done my mission statement yet but here's a picture of some color schemes that might work well - pink, purple. and teal.

Company Goal:

I want to inspire my clients in their leadership to innovate and lead greatly.

I plan to do this through executive coaching, leadership development, and networking events.

My name on everything will be:

Dr. Deborah Kerr, CEO President or whatever title you suggest...

I would like a cool signature for my emails and business cards.

My address is:
6112 Stefanie Way
Caledonia, WI 53108-9565

New email address:
leadgreatlyllc@gmail.com

Would $35/hour work for this project?

Sincerely,
Deb

Hi Deb,

I've attached samples for your company logo. I incorporated your color scheme. The graphic on top is a butterfly shape that I drew. It represents transformation into a better leader. Please let me know your thoughts.

I know you have to get your new phone number, website, and mission statement. What I have are just place holders. We'll need a new photo--one with high resolution.

Thanks,

Hi Deb,

We are looking at a new tentative date of Tuesday, April 14 at 6:00 PM. It is possible the meeting will be virtual with the two superintendents, IT person, and 3 guest presenters in a board room with everyone else attending virtually.

Let me know if this date and time works for you. Once I hear from all presenters, I will confirm with school board members and then get back to you.

Thanks,

Jeff

Hi Deb,

We are looking at a new tentative date of Tuesday, April 14 at 6:00 PM. It is possible the meeting will be virtual with the two superintendents, IT person, and 3 guest presenters in a board room with everyone else attending virtually.

Let me know if this date and time works for you. Once I hear from all presenters, I will confirm with school board members and then get back to you.

Thanks,

Jeff

Send me the times that do work and I will see what I can do. I read over your summary and have some ideas for you to consider.

Ironically, I was cleaning out one of my closets and found my box of consolidation materials! This was meant to be. I can also send you a proposal for you to consider as well after we talk this next week.

I commend you both to considering the long-term future of your school districts.
