

Dear Dr. Jenkins and MMSD School Board:

We as educators agree that safely reopening schools is a priority for our community.

We are also aware that this is a complicated and emotional issue for everyone, and that this letter will not cover all aspects of this debate. The focus of this letter is not intended to exclude additional discussion on those issues; in fact, we believe that the public deserves to hear as much testimony as possible when making such an impactful decision regarding the education of our community's children.

Every single teacher we work with at Madison Metropolitan School District wants to be in school as soon as we know that we have done all we can as a district to make in-person learning a safe experience for students, staff and the community at large.

MMSD is calling for teachers to return as soon as March 1st; however, as we have learned from the Wisconsin State Journal, Public Health Madison, and Dane County on Thursday, Feb 25th, the vaccine priority date and clinic at Alliant Energy Center reserved for educators has been delayed at least two weeks. The WSJ article stated that, "COVID-19 vaccination clinics for teachers and child care workers will be delayed by at least two weeks due to shortages in vaccine supply."

The process of inoculation is expected to take 6-8 weeks according to Dane County Public Health, once it begins.

Many supporters of reopening schools have stated that the decisions that led to a delay in vaccinating teachers were out of the district's hands.

That is true.

However, the action that is within the district's hands is the decision to reopen. As staff, we were told by the district that such a decision would consider all of the facts concerning the real-time progress of our community's current fight against the pandemic.

MMSD's decision to reopen elementary schools to in-person learning beginning on March 9th ignores the clear opportunity our community has to begin a phased re-opening once all staff (beginning with staff who have been in-person all year) have had an opportunity to be fully inoculated in the very near future.

This is a dangerous decision because the lack of inoculations will lead to an increased risk of spread throughout our community, including students and their families at home who could have the disease brought home to them.

It is causing further hurt and mistrust within the community of educators in Madison, who feel that their lives are being devalued.

We are literally weeks away from vaccines being in the arms of a majority of educators in the city. Why would we expose our schools to an increased risk of exposure and community spread, when that risk could be further mitigated in such a short period of time?

We have worked for a year to make virtual learning an equitable and enriching experience for all students. Regardless of those intentions and countless hours of dedication by staff, virtual learning will never replace in-person learning. We all agree on that.

Virtual learning, however, does not risk further spread of this virus at a time where inoculation for many is so close.

We, the undersigned staff at Madison Metropolitan School District and community members in the Madison area urge this decision to reopen schools to be reconsidered, immediately.

Signed,

Estimado Dr. Jenkins y miembros del Consejo escolar,

Nosotros como educadores estamos de acuerdo que es una prioridad reabrir nuestras escuelas de forma segura para nuestra comunidad.

También somos conscientes de que es un tema complicado y emocional para todos, y que esta carta no cubrirá todos los aspectos del debate. El foco de esta carta no entiende de excluir discusión adicional sobre estos temas; de hecho creemos que el público merece oír tanto testimonio posible cuando toman en cuenta la decisión tan impactante con respeto a la educación de los niños en nuestra comunidad.

Cada profesor en el distrito escolar de Madison quiere estar en la escuela tan pronto como sepamos que hemos hecho todo lo que podemos como distrito para averiguar cómo aprender en vivo puede ser una experiencia segura para los estudiantes, la facultad y la comunidad en general.

MMSD está avisando a los profesores que vuelven tan pronto como el primer de marzo, sin embargo, como hemos aprendido del Wisconsin State Journal, Public Health Madison y el condado Dane jueves pasado 25 de febrero, la fecha de prioridad de las vacunas y la clínica de salud en Alliant Energy Center que reservada para los educadores ha sido pospuesta por lo menos dos semanas. El artículo constató que “las vacunas de COVID para los educadores ha sido demorado por menos dos semanas debido a escasez en el suministro de vacunas.

Se espera que el proceso de inocular durará entre 6-8 semanas al comenzar, según el Departamento de salud público del condado Dane.

Muchos simpatizantes de reabrir las escuelas han constatado que las decisiones tomadas en demorar el proceso de inocular los profesores estaban fuera de su control. Es verdad.

Sin embargo, la decisión de reabrir las escuelas está bajo su control. Hace ratos, el distrito nos había comunicado que tomar la decisión de reabrir iba a incluir toda la consideración de los hechos relativos al progreso corriente en la lucha de nuestra comunidad en contra el virus COVID-19.

La decisión de reabrir las escuelas primarias empezando el 9 de marzo ignora la posibilidad de poder empezar la instrucción en vivo después de que nuestra facultad tenga la oportunidad de recibir una vacuna en el futuro próximo.

Esta decisión es peligrosa, debido a la falta de vacunas dará lugar a un aumento en el riesgo de propagar el virus por nuestra comunidad, incluso a nuestros estudiantes y sus familiares.

No obstante, la decisión también causa más desconfianza y daño dentro de la comunidad de educadores en Madison, quienes sienten sus vidas y salud devaluadas.

Estamos literalmente a semanas de distancia para poder recibir las vacunas para la gran mayoría de los educadores en la ciudad. ¿Por qué exponemos a nuestras escuelas a un riesgo aumentado de contagiar a nuestra comunidad, cuando podríamos mitigarlo durante un período de tiempo tan breve?

Hace un año, hemos trabajado para poder hacer el aprendizaje virtual una experiencia equitativa y enriquecida para todos nuestros estudiantes. A pesar de todas las intenciones y horas ilimitadas de nuestra facultad, estamos todos de acuerdo de que el aprendizaje virtual nunca reemplazará la experiencia y el valor de poder aprender en vivo.

Sin embargo, el aprendizaje virtual tiene beneficios en que no arriesga mayor difusión del virus COVID-19 cuando estamos tan cerca a una fecha de inoculación.

Nosotros, los abajo firmantes de la facultad del Distrito escolar de Madison, y miembros de la comunidad, le incitamos que Uds. consideren de nuevo la decisión de reabrir las escuelas sin demora.

Firmados,
