

Recidivism Rates

For three years, the Idaho Department of Correction tracked recidivism among inmates released in 2012 from the state's Retained Jurisdiction Program – before its fall 2015 revamping – and inmates released in 2012 after serving prison terms. Recidivism for inmates serving prison terms was counted only if they were sent back to prison. Recidivism for inmates in Retained Jurisdiction was counted if they were sent either back to the program or to serve a prison term.

Among inmates rated before sentencing as low risk for recidivism:

Among inmates rated before sentencing as moderate risk for recidivism:

Among inmates rated before sentencing as high risk for recidivism:

Recidivism Rates

For three years, the Idaho Department of Correction tracked recidivism among inmates released in 2012 from the state's Retained Jurisdiction Program – before its fall 2015 revamping – and inmates released in 2012 after serving prison terms. Recidivism for inmates serving prison terms was counted only if they were sent back to prison. Recidivism for inmates in Retained Jurisdiction was counted if they were sent either back to the program or to serve a prison term.

Among inmates rated before sentencing as low risk for recidivism:

Among inmates rated before sentencing as moderate risk for recidivism:

Among inmates rated before sentencing as high risk for recidivism:

