Four great musical artists, Forrest, Denham, Smith, and Van Zandt, will be featured. Each will perform separately.

J. Pount, violin, and Edwina Shoppert, piano, will be here during the season. This attraction costs $250 per night and is eagerly sought at that price.

The Colonial Saxophone quartette and Victoria Lynn, reader, form a highly-recommended attraction.

In response to persistent requests, the committee engaged the Midland Jubilee singers, a talented company with a splendid professional reputation.

The Rachel Steichman concert company is another strong number which should appeal to musical lovers.

TWIN FALLS NEWS. TWIN FALLS, IDAHO, FRIDAY, JUNE 26, 1908.

ANOTHER RECORD FOR TWIN FALLS
PRESENTS FIRST COLORED MEMBER TO IDAHO BAR.

Joseph R. Mitchem of Twin Falls, a young colored man, who has been employed as a messenger for the Hotel Perrine for several months, enjoys the distinction of being the first of his race to be admitted to the Idaho bar. He passed the necessary examination on Tueday and qualified for that honor.

Until a few years ago the Idaho statutes prohibited colored attorneys from admission to the bar in this state. The barrier was removed by striking out the word "white" in that section of the statutes which barred the eligibility of the applicant.

Young Mitchem studied for two years at Ann Arbor before coming to Twin Falls. He did not graduate, but passed a "conditional" examination, leaving the university before the completion of his term. On his arrival here he secured employment at the Hotel Perrine, where he speedily won recognition because of his gentlemanly manner and his strict attention to his duties. He continued his studies and was prepared to take the examination at this term of court.

On motion of A. M. Bowlen of Idaho, Judge Walters appointed Mr. Bowlen, E. V. Larson and Everett M. Sweeley a committee of three to examine the applicant. The examination treated the applicant with absolute fairness but subjected him to a rigid examination. They reported an average on all subjects of 70½ per cent, which was more than enough to pass.

"Mr. Mitchem did remarkably well," said of the attorneys. "We treated him fairly, but we did not spare him and he made a splendid showing. His grasp of the different subjects was secure and he showed a wide range of legal knowledge."

The young man received the necessary credit for his pluck and study. Those who have observed his conduct in the hotel were pleased to learn that he had been successful and that they would commended him highly for his spirit. Mitchem is a quiet, young man, who attends strictly to his own business and he has won the respect of all with whom he has come in contact. It is not his intention to practice in Idaho. He wants to go elsewhere in the event that he decides to follow the legal profession.
