

Progressive's Believe It Or Not!

"Not only are windows key elements for making your home energy efficient, comfortable and beautiful; they are also key components of California's newest TITLE 24 energy code."

Believe it not, INSULATION, WINDOWS and DOORS have become one of the first and most important things to consider when building a new home or remodeling your existing residence.

Why? Because, not only are they key elements for making your home energy efficient, comfortable and beautiful; they are also key components of California's newest TITLE 24 energy code.

Progressive Insulation & Windows has been working with Malibu homeowners and contractors since 1978. There have been many energy related code changes since the mid 1970's. However in 2007, when the California Public Utility Commission announced that all new homes would be "Energy Neutral" by 2020, those changes have increased dramatically, as have their potential costs.

Dealing with a company like Progressive that has been at the forefront of change and new energy efficient technologies for over 40 years can be critical to a successful project. The real key to your success is that you put together your team "EARLY". The right team of specialty contractors should be able to advise and help the architect and engineers design a project that will meet the needs, goals and objectives of the homeowner.

Yes, believe it or not, insulation, windows and doors should all be one of the first things to research especially when considering such things as: Fire Safety, Flat Roofs, Vaulted Ceilings, Roof Overhangs, Vented or Unvented Attics, Indoor Air Quality, HVAC Systems and Ventilation just to mention a few.

Having Progressive involved in the early stages of your project will not only save you potentially thousands of dollars, but will also ensure that your home will be comfortable, cost efficient and beautiful. ■
