Chip Gerdin collects maple sap in their family sugarbush near Braham. Each year the Gerdins tap approximately 400 trees.

Sap run keeps sugar shacks busy

BY TERRY SALMELA
NEWS@MORAMINN.COM

In the spring, when there are below freezing temperatures at night followed by above freezing temperatures during the day maple tree sap begins to flow. That is when maple syrup producers go to work to capture the sugar laden sap. They tap their trees and hang collection bags or buckets on their trees. Collection is followed by a long cooking process to boil off much of the water leaving sweet maple syrup to bottle and enjoy.

One family that continues this maple syrup making tradition is the Gerdin family in Maple Ridge Township located on their family farm just south of the Kanabec County line in Isanti County southwest of Braham. They are continuing this tradition that was started by their father K. Vernon Gerdin back in 1952.

"We used to tap a lot more trees before 1996. That was when a tornado destroyed a lot of our trees," said Vernon's son Chip Gerdin.

Last week the Gerdins had collected over 2000 gallons of sap from 400 taps and finished cooking out 50 gallons of syrup in their first week of making maple syrup. "In 2020 we got 100 gallons of syrup in three weeks. You don't know until the end of the season how much you are going to get. Once it warms up enough for the buds to come out and the ice is out of the lakes, it's done running," he added.

Ogilvie school continues 4-day week

BY KIRSTEN FAURIE
EDITOR@MORAMINN.COM

Ogilvie Schools will continue its four-day school week structure through the 2021-2022 school year, but whether it may continue beyond then is uncertain.

The Ogilvie School District is one of the few school districts in the state that utilize a four-day school week, and the Minnesota Department of Education no longer offers it as an option for school districts.

In 2015, the Minnesota Legislature removed four-day weeks from its options for flexible learning and added the requirement that schools like Ogilvie with existing four-day weeks could continue contingent on meeting World's Best Workforce goals.

Minnesota Education Commissioner Mary Cathryn Ricker sent a letter to Superintendent Kathy Belsheim informing her, "The Minnesota Department of Education finds this requirement challenging to assess. We believe it requires legislative clarification."

Ricker wrote the school may continue its four-day structure for the 2021-2022 school year, but "the Minnesota

Mayor Skramstad, other volunteers help veterans access care despite pandemic challenges

BY TOM JENKINS
WWW.DAV.ORG

As a second wave of the coronavirus ravaged communities across America, hospitals—including Veterans Affairs medical centers—were hit hard. With active COVID-19 cases among VA patients up 70% in November alone, VA health facilities and services were stretched thin as they headed into the winter months.

For Disabled American Veterans volunteers, the dedication to serve veterans remains strong despite the ongoing public health crisis, especially for those who volunteer with DAV's

Transportation Network. Though the process looks and feels a little different now in locations that are allowing the network to operate, volunteers from the Department of Minnesota and many other states have proven it's possible to carry on through challenging times.

"With COVID, our numbers are starting to go up on positive tests," said Al Skramstad, a veteran and volunteer driver who also happens to be mayor of Mora.

With these numbers rising, receiving regularly scheduled medical care is a growing necessity for veterans. However, as cases rise, the reality of the pandemic weighs heavily on the Mora community. Nevertheless, Skramstad and his local chapter are committed to helping and honoring their fellow veterans.

Twenty one Kanabec County residents have died due to COVID-19.

"Three that I know of and have done honors for having been veterans," said Skramstad. Our honor guard has said we will do that no matter what; we take every precaution:

Mora is 74 miles from the St. Cloud VA Medical Center, and it can take an entire day just driving one or two veterans to and from a medical appointment.

Chance of grass fires heats up with spring

BY MIKE GAINOR
NEWS@MORAMINN.COM

After Pine, Carlton and St. Louis counties were issued a Red Flag Warning for extreme fire risk by the National Weather Service, on March 20, the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources has issued new spring burning restrictions for the state.

The fire risk for Kanabec County is currently listed as low, meaning fires are not easily started, but in neighboring Pine County the fire rating is moderate, meaning fires can start easily and spread at a moderate rate.

Springtime burning permits are currently required in Kana-bec County, as they are across the state. Without snow on the ground, vegetation dries much faster, which increases the chance of grass fires and wildfires.

Campfires, if smaller than three feet in diameter and three feet in height, will continue to be allowed. Permits are not required for this type of fire if it is monitored until the coals are dead out.

The restrictions are weather dependent, but normally last from four to six weeks until summer green-up.

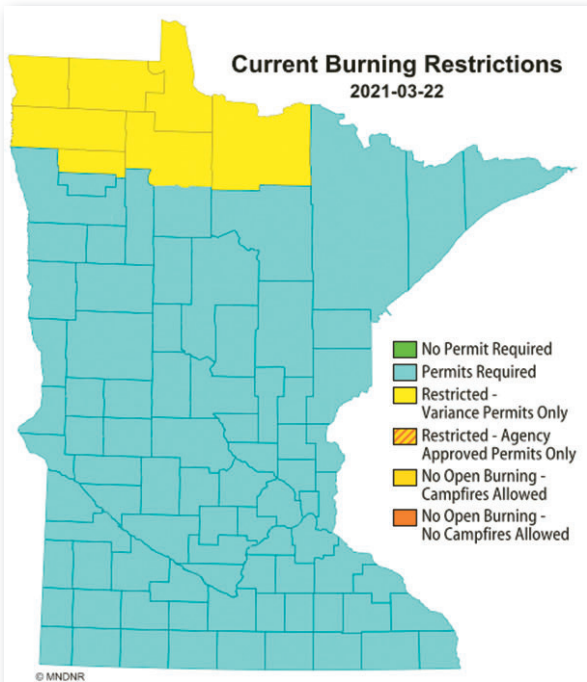

“Escaped debris burns are the number one cause of wildfires. That’s why we issue these restrictions,” said Casey McCoy, DNR fire prevention supervisor. “They really work—we’ve reduced wildfires by nearly a third since we started spring burning restrictions.”

McCoy encourages residents to use alternatives to burning, such as composting, chipping, or taking brush to a collection site. For information on how to compost yard debris, visit the DNR’s guide to composting yard debris.

People who burn debris will be held financially responsible if their fire escapes and burns other property.

For information and daily updates on current fire risk and open burning restrictions, visit the DNR website: mndnr.gov/burnrestrictions.

Week of March 25 - 31

ARIES - Mar 21/Apr 20

Don't shy away from the issues that keep cropping up this week, Aries. They may cause a few headaches, but they also are making the days much more exciting.

TAURUS - Apr 21/May 21

Taurus, many people like to live by the mantra “don’t judge a book by its cover,” but many times appearances matter. Don’t regret picking out a nice outfit or a trendy restaurant.

GEMINI - May 22/Jun 21

Change may take you in unexpected directions this week, Gemini. The good news is that things are finally turning around for you. Enjoy this exciting time.

CANCER - Jun 22/Jul 22

Cancer, you may be drawn to people who appeal to your analytical side this week. You could be interested in some intellectual debate and need a worthy sparring partner.

LEO - Jul 23/Aug 23

Leo, if you see a chance to get ahead this week, jump on it. No matter what is involved or how inconvenient, you do not want to let this opportunity pass you by.

VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22

There is much more clarity in your life this week, Virgo. It’s almost as if a veil has been lifted or if your eyeglasses prescription has been fine-tuned.

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23

Libra, there might be a lot of activity going around you over the course of the week. Whether it’s good or bad, you won’t be directly involved in any of it.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22

Exercise caution when sharing your secrets, Scorpio. Make sure others can be tight-lipped, as some people cannot resist passing on a little gossip here and there.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21

There is great harmony in your life right now and it’s due mostly to the fact that you are working together with people both at home and at work. Keep up the collaborations.

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20

Listen to people around you to get a fresh perspective on various components of life that you share. People may have good ideas and be willing to share their advice.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18

Aquarius, if you have been trying to become better acquainted with someone in your personal life or even at the office, pay attention to their body language. It can say a lot.

PISCES - Feb 19/Mar 20

Pisces, trust your heart this week and be honest with how you feel about situations. Not every decision has to be based on analysis. Trust your gut.

Facts, logic ineffective against the Boogeyman

A man once told me that getting COVID was like facing the Boogeyman. Fear of the disease had built up, but his experience was much less scary in reality. Unfortunately, others facing the same have had their worst fears realized as loved ones die.

A few weeks after talking about the Boogeyman, I learned my young daughter was one of the 5% of children who experience sleep terrors.

Also called “night terrors,” I had thought they were just bad dreams. I quickly learned that sleep terrors are not dreams at all but are a form of sleepwalking. Instead of the silly things sleepwalkers might do, like pee in a closet or walk around with a jar of mayonnaise, sleep terrors hit the brain’s “panic button” inducing an episode of intense fear.

I have never before witnessed such unrestrained, pure terror. As a parent, to say they are heartbreaking is an understatement. Most frustratingly, there is nothing that can be done besides wait for it to pass and make sure the child doesn’t hurt themselves.

Needless to say, this past year I have been thinking a lot about fear and the extreme effect it has had not only on my personal life but on our nation. Fear and anger have affected our response to the coronavirus, stoked political divides and contributed to heartbreaking riots in Minneapolis and Washington D.C.

Unfortunately, facts have little effect in the fight when our minds are gripped by fear.

Like my daughter in the midst of her terror, it does not matter whether or not what she perceives is real. She screams to no effect and swats her hands at the shadows in front of her.

Fear causes us to target phantoms rather than the source of the problem. It overtakes our hearts, it misdirects our energy, distracting us from working out real solutions.

As an example, there is great national debate as the right attempts to make voting more restrictive to prevent election fraud; meanwhile the left is trying to make voting more accessible to prevent voter suppression.

The fear of either fraud or suppression distracts us from seeing both sides hold the same belief: A democratic government should be chosen by its people — not manipulated by special interests.

If we could put the fear aside and approach the topic with respect and understanding, we could see both sides actually want the same thing. With a shared goal, we move away from fear thus making room for logic, facts and teamwork.

We can help each other. We can wake up from this terror, but overcoming it takes courage and bravery to talk to each other with open minds.

Faith and belief accommodation at work is more than the right thing to do

Dallas-based Texas Instruments (TI) offers its 30,000 employees career and support groups for Christians, Muslims and Jews, time-off flexibility around religious holidays and serenity rooms for prayers or worship.

Software company Salesforce has a career and support group focused on religion, Faithforce, that has been the company’s fastest growing employee group since it was introduced in 2017.

Freedom Forum

Paul Lambert

Alphabet/Google’s Inter Belief Network and American Airlines’ various faith-focused employee resource groups earned them high rankings this year on the list of Fortune 200 companies with faith- and belief-friendly corporate workplaces.

These and other major companies say that respecting religious freedom at work not only is the right thing to do but also can lead to happier, more productive employees and a better bottom line.

TI employee Jason Rosen, speaking of his faith-friendly workplace, said, “When I’m bringing my whole self to work, that makes me want to give my all to Texas Instruments. ...You’ve enabled me to be who I am and I want to use that whole self and give it back to you.”

Addressing faith and belief at work starts with recognizing the reality of faith and belief among employees. The Religious Freedom Center offers training to help managers and workers develop knowledge and skills in environments of accommodation and action to make it happen.

DIVERSITY OF FAITH ADDRESSED

The diversifying world economy supports the trend toward accommodating faith at work. Markets are expanding globally, creating a more diverse and more religious customer base. All but one of the 10 fastest-growing economies each year since 2017 have been countries with big religious majority populations. This means the great majority of potential customers in emerging markets have a deeply held religious worldview.

Global data tracking religious affiliation shows a similar trend toward religiosity. The Pew

Big tech profits from news while journalists, publishers struggle

Over the past year, local journalism has been more important – and more needed – than ever. From the COVID-19 pandemic to the reignited social justice movement to the explosive 2020 U.S. presidential election and its aftermath, people have been turning to news publishers, day in and day out, to keep them up to date on how the changes happening around the world affect their daily lives.

David Chavern

However, while news has been more in-demand than at any time in recent history, news publishers have been struggling more than ever. It is impossible to deny the negative impact of the tech platforms on the industry's financial health. Major tech platforms like Facebook and Google exert their dominance over the digital marketplace, setting the rules for news publishers and determining how journalism is displayed, prioritized and monetized. They also capture the vast majority of all digital advertising dollars because of their unique ability to collect consumer data across the web. Through their anticompetitive behavior, the tech companies have disrupted the relationships publishers have with their audiences by building walled gardens that seldom results in a click, making it difficult for publishers to pay journalists. Because of the platforms' dominance in the ad tech ecosystem, when users do finally click through, news publishers may receive less than half of every advertising dollar.

The platforms have failed to compensate news publishers consistently and adequately for use of their content, which is needed to ensure news publishers are around to cover the next crisis.

The platforms pay to license music, sports clips and other forms of content, but they have fought all attempts to require them to pay to display news.

Quality journalism supports democracy, and the price of inaction – the disappearance of quality news – is too great.

As highlighted by recent global developments, including the European Union and Australia, the world is moving towards a new and more equitable compensation system for publishers.

Policymakers in the U.S. previously proposed legislation that would provide a safe harbor for news publishers to collectively negotiate with the platforms for a better deal. Now, the "Journalism Competition and Preservation Act" is expected to be reintroduced in the House by Antitrust Subcommittee Chairman David Cicilline (D-RI) and Ranking Member Ken Buck (R-CO), and in the Senate by Antitrust Subcommittee Chairwoman Amy Klobuchar (D-MN) and Senator John N. Kennedy (R-LA).

It is simply not possible for most individual news publishers to challenge the basic terms offered by the online behemoths. The platforms are simply much too big and much too influential, which is why they have been the targets of multiple antitrust lawsuits.

Contrary to the platforms' claims, the deals European and Australian lawmakers required them to reach with news publishers did not "break the internet" or in any way harm or punish end users. Instead, they have shown that there is not only an ability to provide sustainable options for news, but a desire from the public to do so.

What news publishers are asking for in the U.S. is pretty simple. American publishers are not asking for forced payments or a "link tax," as some have called it. They simply want the opportunity to seek better deals for everyone, and to work with the platforms rather than against them to build a better future for news.

The "Journalism Competition and Preservation Act" would establish a process that allows publishers to reap – and sow – the rewards of their work.

Quality journalism supports democracy, and the price of inaction – the disappearance of quality news – is too great.

It is more important than ever that our elected representatives support legislation that will bring value back to those who create journalism.

Bill provides safe harbor for news to negotiate with tech platforms

MINNESOTA NEWSPAPER ASSOCIATION
MNA.ORG

Minnesota Newspaper Association joins the News Media Alliance and other state press associations in applauding U.S. House Antitrust Chairman David Cicilline (D-RI), ranking member Ken Buck (R-CO), Senate Antitrust Chairwoman Amy Klobuchar (D-MN), and Senator John N. Kennedy (R-LA) for reintroducing the "Journalism Competition and Preservation Act" (JCPA). The bill provides a limited antitrust safe harbor for news publishers to collectively negotiate with Facebook and Google for fair compensation for the use of their content.

In response to the bill reintroduction in both the House and Senate, News Media Alliance President and CEO, David Chavern, said, "This is a huge milestone for U.S. news publishers. As we have seen over the last several weeks in Australia and Europe, the world is moving toward new compensation systems for publishers. The cost of inaction, in terms of the spread of misinformation we are all experiencing, is simply too great to ignore any longer. Quality journalism is key to sustaining civic society and we must ensure that the digital ecosystem returns value back to the people who create that journalism."

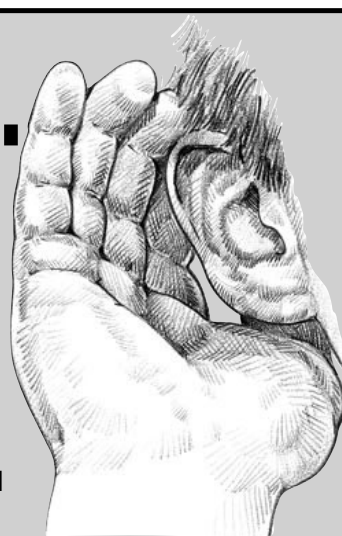

Since 2018, the News Media Alliance has been vocally advocating for such legislation in the U.S., which it believes is needed to address the imbalance in the news publisher-platform relationship. "Without an antitrust safe harbor, news publishers will have no capacity to collectively fight for their futures," Chavern said. The previous bill received support from several U.S. Representatives and Senators on both sides of the aisle and has now been reintroduced in the 117th Congress to continue progressing forward. Chavern added, "We are grateful to chairs Cicilline and Klobuchar, ranking member Buck, and Senator Kennedy for their commitment to quality journalism, and we look forward to working with them on ways to further strengthen the bill to ensure equitable terms and fair compensation for the valuable content being produced by all news publishers, including small and community publishers. News publishers need a fighting chance with the tech platforms that currently control who receives our content and how much we are paid."

Currently, the duopoly of Google and Facebook captures the majority of all digital ad revenue and doesn't fairly compensate news publishers for the value local news plays on these platforms. The Alliance joins the members of Congress in their belief that a safe harbor for news publishers to allow them to come together to negotiate with the platforms on their overall behalf is the solution to this problem. That basic idea now has wide support across the political spectrum and is the cornerstone of all comprehensive solutions.

VETERANS: Volunteers pay it forward to those who served

Skramstad and other DAV volunteer drivers make the trek to and from the hospital to ensure the veterans in his community and surrounding area still have access to their care—usually a 270-mile round trip, from pickup to drop-off.

Helen Loslebon retired from her 9-to-5 job a few years ago and was looking to give back to her community when she received a postcard from her local VA searching for volunteer drivers. Since then, she has spent one day a week driving veterans to and from their local VA and says it has given her something to look forward to.

“I just know that driving makes my week a lot more interesting,” said Loslebon. “(The veterans) have really given a lot back to me too.”

With COVID-19 cases on the rise, though, drivers like Loslebon have begun to feel the pressure of a growing workload.

“I have just been back about six weeks now,” said Loslebon, who lives in the suburbs of Minneapolis. “I think that they still have a shortage of drivers because I can see that some days I’m the only driver in the afternoon.”

Vietnam veteran and volunteer driver Jeff Jarret, from Hibbing, Minnesota, typically makes a 450-mile roundtrip journey to bring his passengers to the nearest VA in Minneapolis. He said that, while the miles may add up, the journey is far too important not to make it.

“It’s a long, long drive, but being a veteran myself, volunteer driving feels more like I’m paying it back to the people that need it,” said Jarret. “I don’t think anybody really knows what it’s like to be in a war unless you’re there and the trauma that they’ve had.”

While the pandemic has brought its share of challenges, the program and many other groups across the nation face a growing shortage of available volunteers.

“The fact of the matter is, we need an entire new corps of volunteer drivers to step up and help the generation of aging volunteers who are carrying the majority of the load now,” said National Voluntary Services Director John Kleindienst.

“With this pandemic, the risk for many of our drivers is often too high for them to volunteer their time, and soon they themselves will need help getting to and from their appointments. That’s why we encourage everyone, not just our veterans or their family members, to volunteer. Ask your neighbors, friends and community to repay the time and sacrifice that our nation’s veterans have made for us.

“All we need is one day a month from our volunteers, and you will have changed the lives of so many,” said Kleindienst.

SYRUP: Maples and hard work yield sweet treat to area hobbyists

has also been making maple syrup for many years. He said that his maple trees started running a little early this year. He started collecting sap on March 3 this year while last year he started March 5.

This year he has 700-800 taps in trees in four different sugar bush woodlots that have sugar, red and silver maple trees. As of last weekend, he had collected over 3000 gallons of sap and produced 80 gallons of syrup.

Another area maple syrup producer is Phil Bendickson who makes maple syrup northeast of Mora. He said that last week he had collected some 2,800 gallons of sap from 300 taps. He hauls sap from trees on his son's property near Braham in a 425 gallon tank on his trailer. He runs the sap through a reverse osmosis processing system to make syrup.

He said, "This year is about the same as past years. It did start running earlier. It will run as long as it freezes and thaws and the trees don't bud out."

The Gerdins collect the sap from three different sugar bush woodlots. After drilling a hole into a tree, they install a metal tap into the hole. A blue plastic bag with a metal top is hung on each tap to collect the sap when it runs. They then collect the sap using a skid steer with a 300 gallon poly tank mounted on a pallet that rests on the forks of the skid steer. They drive the ski steer through the sugar bush and pour the sap in the bags from the trees into a strainer on top of the tank.

The sap is hauled home to their farm and pumped into a bulk tank. When they get enough sap, they fire up their wood burning boiler evaporator. A batch of sap moves from the tank into the evaporator by continual gravity flow. Gerdins burn about one cord of wood in the evaporator for each 20 gallons of syrup produced. After a few hours of evaporating most of the water off they end up with maple syrup.

Chip Gerdin uses this wood-burning evaporator to reduce the sap down to syrup. The Gerdins burn about one cord of wood in the evaporator for each 20 gallons of syrup produced.

Cooking the sap into syrup takes several hours. Fortunately, it usually coincides with the state high school and NCAA tournaments. So, the Gerdins have a TV in their sugar house to be able to watch the tournament games while they keep an eye on their evaporator.

Depending upon the sugar content, it takes 30 to 40 gallons of sap to produce one gallon of syrup. For example, last weekend the sap from a silver maple that they sampled in their yard was at 2.9% sugar. So, if all the trees were at that level it would take about 33 gallons of sap to produce one gallon of syrup.

Kylander stores his sap in bulk tanks which is pumped into his evaporator system. This year he has a new steam-away 3 ft x 10 ft sap evaporator that he purchased from near Dubuque, Iowa. It processes 120 gallons of sap/hour in a continuous flow system. It compresses and filters the syrup.

A unique feature is that the steam-away system creates one gallon of soft water from every three gallons of sap. He stores the soft water in poly tanks and uses it for cleaning the system, his garden and other uses.

He said that he has been doing this for 20 years. Why does he spend many hours a day and sometimes from morning until night to cook syrup each spring? He said that he does it as a hobby and to produce syrup for his family, friends and to sell some.

Chip Gerdin summed up why his family does maple syruping when he said, "It is a family tradition and nothing is better than fresh Swedish pancakes smothered with maple syrup and butter on them."

LENA'S SVENSK PANNKAKOR

This recipe for "Lena's Svensk Pannkakor" (Lena's Swedish Pancakes) provided by Chip Gerdin comes from his friend and host during the Swedish Vasaloppet, Lena Smangs of Mora, Sweden.

Lena's tip for perfect pancakes: Make the batter ahead of time and let it set at room temperature for 2 hours or more before cooking.

Ingredients:
1 1/4 cups flour
2 1/2 cups whole milk
3 eggs
1/3 tsp salt
1 Tbsp melted butter or vegetable oil

Directions:
With a hand whisk, mix together all of the flour and 1/2 of the milk. Add the rest of the milk and mix. Add all three eggs and butter or oil and whisk. Cook in a greased pan over medium heat.

Watch for Leo the Lion through April; supermoon arrives the 26th

Spring is now in the sky as well as the air. And nothing's springier than Leo, the lion.

In April Leo dominates the southern sky after nightfall. Look for the backward question mark of stars known as the Sickle, which outlines the lion's head. The dot of the question mark is Regulus, Leo's brightest star. To the east, a triangle of stars mark the hindquarters and tail. On the 21st, a waxing gibbous moon hovers near the Sickle.

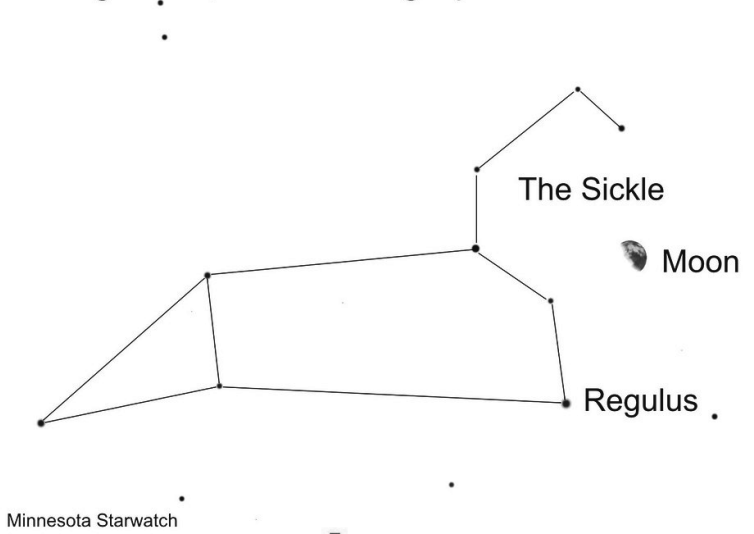

The night of the 26th, a full "supermoon" crosses the sky behind Spica, the only bright star in Virgo, the maiden. Fullness comes at 10:33 p.m., less than three hours after moonrise. So this will be not only the second closest full moon of the year, but, as it clears the eastern horizon, one of the largest and roundest.

That night the moon forms a tall triangle with Spica and brilliant Arcturus, the jewel of kite-shaped Bootes, the herdsman. As dawn starts to break on the 27th, the triangle will have moved to the west. Also, its base will have broadened as a result of the moon's motion eastward against the background of stars during the night.

In the morning sky, Saturn and Jupiter are now high enough above the southeastern horizon for easy viewing. Go out an hour before sunrise to see them against a dark sky. Jupiter is lower and brighter than Saturn, and no bright stars are close enough to be confused with them. As the days go by, both planets rise earlier, even as they move slowly and steadily apart. Their increasing separation is due to Jupiter's faster motion eastward in its orbit.

Between the 1st and the 4th, a waning moon rolls through the stars of Scorpius and Sagittarius in the morning sky. On the 6th, a fat crescent rises below Saturn, and the next morning a slightly thinner moon rises below Jupiter.

The Lyrid meteor shower has a broad peak, spanning from the 16th to the 25th. It's predicted to be strongest in the pre-dawn hours of the 22nd, when it should sprinkle a dark sky with 10-15 meteors per hour. Meteors will radiate from high in the south-southeast, near the brilliant star Vega, in Lyra, the lyre.

FAITH: Accommodating religion at work improves employee well-being

Research Center calculates that religious affiliation in the world will grow to 84% by 2050. This has major impacts on market growth in a global economy. Any company that hopes to grow its global footprint must better understand and accommodate global customers, including their religious and cultural worldviews.

But it isn't just a macro issue. At Intel, for example, faith-based employee resource groups have had a positive impact on employee recruitment and retention and on revenue, said Craig Carter, an Intel manager and controller, at the 2020 Faith@Work Conference.

In Silicon Valley, 57% of the tech workforce is foreign born, according to a recent study by the U.S. Census Bureau and the Silicon Valley Competitive-ness and Innovation Project. With national diversity comes religious diversity, with many workers coming from reli-gious-majority countries, such as India and Iran.

Companies seeking to attract and keep this talent must have policies in place that accom-modate and protect religious diversity and belief. I'd also note: A workplace that em-braces diversity also welcomes atheists, agnostics and those of no faith.

Employees who feel accom-moderated in their religious beliefs at work and see others accommodated as well are bet-ter employees, says TI software engineer Zonera Javed, who moved to the U.S. as a child.

“For many people of faith, our religions aren’t something we can toggle on or off depend-ing on where we are during the day. And that shouldn’t be the case or the expectation,” Javed said, speaking at a conference last fall about her workplace experiences as a Muslim. “We spend a lot of time at work and by having an environment that allows us to truly feel at home, our work thrives and our com-panies perform better.”

U.S. HAS A LONG WAY TO GO

Sadly, U.S. businesses have a long way to go in creating faith-welcoming workplaces. Thirty-six percent of American workers — 50 million people — say they have experienced or witnessed hiring discrim-ination or verbal abuse based on religion and other forms

Employees who feel accommodated in their religious beliefs at work and see others accommodated as well are better employees of religious disparagement or discrimination, according to a 2014 survey by the Tannen-baum Center for Interreligious Understanding.

In another report, the U.S. Equal Employment Opportu-nity Commission found that workplace religious discrimi-nation complaints were nearly twice as high as complaints about sexual orientation in 2018.

For many companies, accom-moderating employees’ faith and belief at work may sound scary and hard. In my role with the Freedom Forum’s Religious Freedom Center, I’ve worked on these topics with some of the companies I’ve mentioned and I don’t see it that way. It’s a small investment that pays immeasurable dividends.

It’s time for all employers to recognize the power of faith and belief accommodation and empowerment. It’s not only a fundamental right and the right thing to do, it’s also good for business.

Mustangs shine on court, in classroom

BY RICH RASMUSSEN
NEWS@MORAMINN.COM

There is a reason they are called 'student-athletes.' Yes, every kid is a student but you cannot be an athlete until you meet certain requirements. The school sets standards to be met in the classroom in order to participate in sports.

The Minnesota Basketball Coaches Association awards teams that go above and beyond in their academic endeavors. The Mora boys basketball varsity team has again, yes, that means that they did this last year also, won the Section 6AA academic championship. Also, they won the Granite Ridge Conference academic championship too.

This senior class of boys have set a high bar for succeeding Mustang athletes. The basketball team consisted of eight seniors: Caleb Anderson, Levi Hallstrom, Jeff Lillienthal, Nick Nelson, Noah Nielson, Andrew Rasmusson, Jack Sampson and Ben Wright; junior Garret Honstrom; and sophomores Dallas Fix and Max Sampson.

These 11 athletes have proven you can star on the court and not sacrifice your academics. The above named seniors all participated in basketball last year when they were named the academic champions of the conference and Section 6AA.

Certificates of achievement will be sent to all members of the team plus the team's accomplishment will be displayed on the scoreboard at Target Center during the State basketball tournament.

MORA BOYS BASKETBALL

Mustangs win first; lose in quarterfinal

BY RICH RASMUSSEN
NEWS@MORAMINN.COM

In Section 6AA basketball tournament play the Mora Mustangs won their first game against the St. Cloud Crusaders 64-39 and lost their second game with Sauk Centre in a close battle 53-50.

MORA 64, ST. CLOUD 39

They say the third time is the charm but not so for the St. Cloud Crusaders as they lost for the third time this season to Mora 64-39. The first two defeats were regular season league losses, and this last one was Mora's opener in section 6AA play at home last Thursday, March 18.

The Mustangs owned the opening tip but immediately turned the ball over without a shot attempt. Bad passes again plagued the team in the first half, but the Mustangs were still able to mount a lead of 30-17 with 2:48 to go in the half. However, a late rally by the Crusaders cut the lead to 33-25 to end the half.

Mora started fast in the second half and ran to a 49-31 lead and continued to stretch the margin to 56-37 with 7:05 to play. The reserves finished up for Mora and scoring ended at 64-39. Senior Jack Sampson came off the bench to knock down two important threes while Garret Honstrom, starting junior post, contributed 10 points. Senior starters Jeff Lillienthal and Andrew Rasmussen both added eight points

Mora wrestlers Place top 6 at preliminaries; Grangruth heads to state tournament

ALY NELSON | SUBMITTED

Senior Tanner Grangruth (23-5) qualified for the State Finals at 220 pounds, Tanner is the first Mora wrestler in six years to earn All-State honors.

ALY NELSON | SUBMITTED

Six Mora wrestlers qualified for the state prelims and all placed sixth or higher.

March 20, 2021 Section 7AA/8AA Individual SuperSection

With COVID protocol this year wrestling did not have any individual tournaments until the postseason.

Traditionally the wrestling season ends with the entire wrestling community of the state of Minnesota converging on the Xcel in Saint Paul.

This year, however, a series of smaller tournaments were held in order to keep the number of people in attendance down.

Section 7AA was held March 17, in Grand Rapids and the top four finishers qualified for the State prelims in Foley, held Saturday, March 20, with sections 7AA and 8AA combining for the first couple rounds of state. The top two finishers from Saturday qualified for the State Finals in St Michael to be held March 26.

Final results:

Anthony Nelson-113 4th place
Trevor Thielen-120 4th place
Connor Gmahl-152 6th place
Dom Adams-170 6th place
Tommy Nosbush-182 3rd place
Tanner Grangruth-220 2nd place

Team Celebrate raises funds for cancer research

The 10th annual Moraloppet Ski for the Cause just couldn't be held this winter following two postponements and a cancellation all due to too cold of weather and then snow melt. But that didn't stop skier Sally Ahlgren's Team Celebrate from collecting donations from friends and family to go toward the Dr. Susan Love Research Foundation and their vision to end breast cancer. Worthy of Ahlgren's efforts totaling $1,300 in donations, she was awarded the Top Team Fundraiser trophy of a pink Dala horse. This horse will be added to her herd of pink horses from previous Moraloppets, now totaling 10.

TEAMMATES: A ‘special group’ of boys wrap up a season to remember

apiece. The offensive fire power was senior Ben Wright who poured in 28 points on 75% shooting from the floor.

The win gave the Mustangs home court for game two of section play against Sauk Centre. Pine City forfeited their game against Sauk Centre last Thursday because of the virus allowing Sauk Centre to play Mora last Saturday afternoon.

MORA 50, SAUK CENTRE 53

No do overs. No two out of three. No joy for the Mustang boys after dropping the quarterfinal game of section play to the Sauk Centre Mainstreeters last Saturday afternoon, March 20, in Mora, 53-50.

All season long Mora played with large leads at the end of most games but Sauk Centre took a half-time lead of four points 26-22, and maintained a lead throughout the second half. Mora did cut the margin to two late in the game but could not find the magic to lift them over the hurdle.

‘It has been my great privilege to have coached this group of players, and I hope they remember how fortunate they were to play the entire season in the COVID era and that they relish the time with their teammates.’

Curt Grachek
Head Coach

Mora took the opening tip and finally gained a lead of 9-6 and then 15-8 with 8:15 showing on the clock. That is when the Mainstreeters’ Jay Neubert, their extremely talented freshman, scored 11 straight points to give his team a 19-16 lead. Basketball is a game of momentum and confidence, and Sauk Centre plainly had both as they took a 26-22 half time lead.

Except for Mora’s only regular season loss to Albany, their reputation for a strong start at the second half was expected by the crowd and the team. However, Sauk continued with confident play, helped by shooting better than they had all year, according to their fans after the game and the Mainstreeters continued to hold the lead.

The Mustang effort and hustle could not be questioned with players diving for loose balls and scrambling on defense. The problem was putting the ball through the hoop from the field and especially from the foul line. Sauk Centre’s game plan was obvious, when in doubt, foul. And foul they did, sending Mora to the line time after time only to come away with converting 13 out of 30 attempts. The Mustangs still had life with 22.7 seconds left after Noah Nielson sank one of two free throws to make the score 50-48 but Sauk scored three more to Mora’s two to make the final 53-50.

Mora was led offensively by Ben Wright with 21 points while Neubert had 18 for Sauk.

Head Coach Curt Grachek said, “the players realize that the more rope you give to a team during a game the tougher it gets to grab the upper hand and do the job you are capable of. We knew coming into the game that their freshman, Neubert, was unique and he proved it, but a great deal of luck was involved. Our ‘on the ball’ defense was very good but their shooting percentage of nearly 59% on twos was both decent shooting and lots of fortune. It has been my great privilege to have coached this group of players, and I hope they remember how fortunate they were to play the entire season in the COVID-era and that they relish the time with their teammates. Truly a special group.”

Hungry bears waking soon; Prevent bear encounters with this spring checklist

BY MN DNR
WWW.DNR.STATE.MN.US

With bears emerging from hibernation in the coming weeks, the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources reminds homeowners to check their property for food sources that could attract bears.

“To avoid season-long problems, take the time now to remove or secure anything that could attract a bear,” said Eric Nelson, wildlife damage program supervisor for the DNR. “Prevention is key. Once a bear finds a food source, it will likely return.”

As bears emerge from hibernation, their metabolism gradually ramps up and they will begin looking for food at a time when berries and green vegetation are scarce. Home and cabin owners should remove or secure attractants such as birdseed, garbage, livestock feed, or compost to reduce potential conflict.

Black bears are the only bear species that live in the wild in Minnesota. Bears are more common in the forested region of northern Minnesota, but can live anywhere in the state if they find an area of suitable habitat. They usually are shy and flee when encountered.

Never approach or try to pet a bear. Injury to people is rare, but bears are potentially dangerous because of their size, strength and speed.

People should be cautious around bears and give them space. If bear problems persist after cleaning up food sources, contact a DNR area wildlife office for advice.

BEAR PREP CHECKLIST:

GARBAGE

- ❑ Store garbage in bear-resistant garbage cans or dumpsters. Standard rubber or plastic garbage cans are not bear-proof.
- ❑ Keep garbage inside a secure building until the morning of pickup.
- ❑ Properly rinse all recyclable containers with hot water to remove all remaining product.
- ❑ Store recyclable containers, such as pop cans, inside.

BIRD FEEDING

- ❑ Any time you feed birds, you risk attracting bears. Avoid feeding birds from April 1 to Nov. 15.
- ❑ If you still wish to feed birds, hang birdfeeders 10 feet up and 4 feet out from the nearest trees. Use a rope and pulley system to refill birdfeeders and clean up spilled seeds.
- ❑ Replace hummingbird feeders with hanging flower baskets, which are also attractive to hummingbirds.

AROUND THE YARD

- ❑ Do not put out feed for wildlife (like corn, oats, pellets or molasses blocks).
- ❑ Do not leave food from barbeques and picnics outdoors, especially overnight. Standard coolers are not bear-proof.
- ❑ Clean and store barbeque grills after each use. Store them in a secure shed or garage away from windows and doors.
- ❑ Elevate bee hives on bear-proof platforms or erect properly designed electric fences.
- ❑ Pick any fruit left on trees from last fall and collect any fallen fruit promptly.
- ❑ Cover all compost material added during the winter by turning the piles or covering with leaves, shavings, manure or other compostable material. If you compost household food scraps, consider securing it with an electric fence.
- ❑ Harvest garden produce as it matures. Locate gardens away from forests and shrubs that bears may use for cover.
- ❑ Use native plants in landscaping whenever possible.
- ❑ Store pet food inside and feed pets inside. If pets must be fed outdoors, feed them only as much as they will eat.

50 YEARS VASALOPPET

This weekly series counts down the history of the Mora Vasaloppet leading up to its golden anniversary on Feb. 12-13, 2022.

1976

A Vasaloppet Board of Directors is formed with two members each from the Mora Jaycees (Denny Schulz and Wayne Frana), Mora Commercial Club (Bob Buchholz and Bob Beck), and Kanabec Conservation Club (Glen Johnstone and Bernie Manthie).

Entry fees: $5 for 50km, and $3 for the 25km ending at Knife Lake.

Tour skiers pay $3 and could drop out at any soup stop.

The idea to run a 50km point-to-point race from Warman to the Kanabec County Fairgrounds came up short. The race ends near Einar and Kathy Hovland's property, due to no snow further south.

A soup and sandwich lunch and awards ceremony is held at the Mora American Legion.

347 skiers are registered for the race.

ing interesting account of his visit to the trial of Nazi war criminals in Germany:

A few days ago I was privileged to visit the world publicized war crimes trials at Nuremberg, Germany. From my seat in the visitors' gallery I saw and heard the proceedings of the case presented by the French against the defendants, 20 chief nazi leaders.

Attached to each seat was a pair of ear phones with a little gadget which enabled you to tune in your favourite language, German, French, Russian or English. France was presented facts relating to the Nazi deportation of 50,000 Jews for labour, prostitution and experimentation. To protect themselves from too severe criticism in transporting these Jews across country, the Nazis were careful to always have a certain percentage of children mixed with the adults to make it appear that the families were not broken up. However, in the majority of cases children and parents were not sent to the same camp.

Lucking, a Fingerhut employee, went about expanding the house's tiny bathroom the other day, but after tearing away only one wall, his progress came to a rapid halt. Behind the wall, previously hidden from his view, Lucking discovered a number of handwritten notes penciled into the 2-by-4s.

The writings, dated from 1925 through 1934, are signed by people who apparently stayed at the house when it was a cabin.

OBITUARIES

Lois Terpstra

Jan. 21, 1939 — March 14, 2021

Lois Terpstra, surrounded by family, died on Sunday, March 14, 2021 in Mission, Texas after a nine-year courageous battle with cancer. She was 82 years old.

She was born in Milaca on Jan. 21, 1939 to Nathan and Gertrude Kessler. She spent her childhood on the family farm with her five siblings. She graduated from Milaca High School in 1956 and spent a short time working as a secretary in St. Paul. While in high school, she enjoyed roller skating, and it was at the roller rink where she met her soul mate, Jim Terpstra. They were soon united in marriage on April 18, 1957. After some time spent in the Twin Cities area and then California, the couple settled in Ogilvie. For the last 29 years, she enjoyed time at her winter home in Palmview, Texas. There, she made many friends, learned new card games, explored Mexico on a bike and planned Red Hat and neighborhood events.

Her life was her family. She was a homemaker, supporting her five children, Randy, Michael, Jody, Darren and Heidi through school attending as many sporting events, theater performances or choir/band concerts that she could. When she wasn't busy with her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, she was doing embroidery work, gardening, playing cards or helping with church functions. For many years, she ran the vacation Bible school program at church and touched many children's lives. If you were in the right place at the right time, you might have even heard her play the accordion.

She was a blessing to all. Her kindhearted spirit welcomed everyone. She had a zest for life rooted in her Christian faith. She was optimistic and positive. Her smile lit up the room. She will be missed by many family and friends.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Jim; brother, Duane Kessler; sister, Donna Campbell; and parents.

She is survived by her children, Randy, Michael, Jody, Darren and Heidi; grandchildren, Nicole, Trent, Bobby, Ricky, Jennifer, Chelsey, Wesley, Tony, Makenzie and Tyler; and 11 great-grandchildren; brothers, Rodney, Terri and Alroy; many nieces and nephews.

A private funeral service was held with burial in the Graceland Cemetery in Ogilvie. A public celebration of life will be held from 1:00-3:00 p.m. Saturday, May 29, 2021 at Lewis Lake Covenant Church. In lieu of flowers, please consider donating to Kick Cancer to the Curb. Write checks to Kick Cancer to the Curb with Lois Terpstra in the memo section and mail to Rita Tharp, 1847 Sundet Road, Mora, MN 55051. Arrangements are by the Akkerman Ingebrand Funeral Home of Mora. Condolences may be posted at www.aifuneralhome.com.

Nathan J. Dailey

Nathan Jay Dailey, of Mora, died Friday, March 19, 2021. He was 53 years old.

He enjoyed biking, camping and fishing with his son until his COPD limited his outings. They both enjoyed watching football and playing video games.

He was preceded in death by his sister, Julie and grandparents, Ernest and Mary Gibson.

He is survived by son, Justin; mother, Linda; step-father, Jerry Pederson; and many aunts, uncles and cousins.

In keeping with his wishes, no funeral will be held. A celebration of life will be held from 1-3 p.m. at the Crystal on Saturday, March 27, 2021. Memorials are preferred for a trust for Justin.

A special thank you to Nathan's friend Kristie Herzog for all her help.

Phillip “Ned” Carlson

Aug. 9, 1942 — March 20, 2021

Phillip “Ned” Carlson died on Saturday, March 20, 2021 at his home in Mora. He was 78 years old.

Lindsey A. Klink

May 30, 2007 — March 12, 2021

Lindsey Ann Klink tragically took her own life at her family home on Friday, March 12, 2021. She was 13 years young.

Lovingly known as “Lu” by her loved ones and friends, she was born in Mora on May 30, 2007 to parents Kristy Nielsen and Jason Klink.

Always outgoing and charismatic she easily made friends and brought great joy to the lives she touched. Whether you knew her well or barely at all, she left a piece of her with you. Please remember her.

She was in the eighth grade at Mora High School. As tough as this past year has been for everyone, she was looking forward to the future. She had plans for the summer: basketball camp and summer practice so she'd be ready to hit the court her freshman year; our first real family vacation to Lake Powell to visit her big sister; she was counting down the days until her 14th birthday so she could finally get a real job; our grand adventures to new state parks to climb the rocks, wade in waters she had never touched, chase the waterfalls we had yet to find.

She was preceded in death by her great-grandfather, Ronald Mortenson, and aunt, Sgt. Jennifer Nielsen.

She is survived by her mother, Kristy Nielsen; father, Jason Klink; siblings, Taytum, Levi, Kennedy, Brody and Aubrie Klink; great-grandmother, Betty Mortenson; grandmother, Becky Nielsen; grandfather, Todd Nielsen; uncle, Christopher Nielsen; as well as many other relatives and friends

She loved so many, and was loved by so many more. She gave her light to others selflessly, and she succumbed to the darkness feeling alone.

I promise you, you are stronger than you feel, and loved so much more than you could ever imagine. Please reach out if you are feeling alone, hopeless, broken. This struggle too shall pass. You are precious in this world.

vs-

Unknown heirs of John O'Berg, also known as John Oberg, deceased; unknown heirs of Hilda O'Berg, deceased; unknown heirs of John O. Lundquist, also known as John Lundquist, deceased; unknown heirs of Greta Lundquist, deceased; unknown heirs of Helena Lundquist, deceased; and also all other persons claiming any right, title, estate, interest or lien in the real estate described herein;

Defendants.

SUMMONS

THIS SUMMONS IS DIRECTED TO ABOVE-NAMED DEFENDANTS:

1. YOU ARE BEING SUED. The Plaintiffs have started a lawsuit against you. The Plaintiffs' Complaint against you is on file in the office of the court administrator of the above-name court. Do not throw these papers away. They are official papers that affect your rights. You must respond to this lawsuit even though it may not yet be filed with the Court and there may be no court file number on this summons.

2. YOU MUST REPLY WITHIN 20 DAYS TO PROTECT YOUR RIGHTS. You must give or mail to the person who signed this Summons a written response called an Answer within 20 days of the date on which you received this Summons. You must send a copy of your Answer to the person who signed this Summons located at:

Ahlgren Law Office, LLC
One North Lake Street,
Mora, MN 55051

3. YOU MUST RESPOND TO EACH CLAIM. The Answer is your written response to the Plaintiffs' Complaint. In your Answer you must state whether you agree or disagree with each paragraph of the Complaint. If you believe the Plaintiffs should not be given everything asked for in the Complaint, you must say so in your Answer.

4. YOU WILL LOSE YOUR CASE IF YOU DO NOT SEND A WRITTEN RESPONSE TO THE COMPLAINT TO THE PERSON WHO SIGNED THIS SUMMONS. If you do not Answer within 20 days, you will lose this case. You will not get to tell your side of the story, and the Court may decide against you and award the Plaintiffs everything asked for in the complaint. If you do not want to contest the claims stated in the complaint, you do not need to respond. A default judgment can then be entered against you for the relief requested in the complaint.

5. LEGAL ASSISTANCE. You may wish to get legal help from a lawyer. If you do not have a lawyer, the Court Administrator may have information about places where you can get legal assistance. Even if you cannot get legal help, you must still provide a written Answer to protect your rights or you may lose the case.

6. ALTERNATIVE DISPUTE RESOLUTION. The parties may agree to or be ordered to participate in an alternative dispute resolution process under Rule 114 of the Minnesota General Rules of Practice. You must still send your written response to the Complaint even if you expect to use alternative means of resolving this dispute.

7. THIS LAWSUIT MAY AFFECT OR BRING INTO QUESTION TITLE TO REAL PROPERTY located in KANABEC County, State of Minnesota, legally described as follows:
