CAMBRIDGE — Someone once said, it ain't over until the seniors sing. Well, the graduating class of Cambridge South Dorchester High School sang their final song in unison during their Wednesday, May 29, graduation ceremony, marking the end of their senior year.

The ceremony, a send-off of nearly 200 students, ended with a class sing-a-long of five songs from the students' senior play, "Shrek."

SHILOH — The North Dorchester High School class of 2019 shared the stage a final time Thursday, May 30, to relive great moments together and say goodbye to the house of learning they attended the last four years.

This ceremony was unique in the school also would be graduating and moving on to a new building in the fall. The current high school was completed in 1954, and Thursday was its final commencement ceremony.

"We have exceeded expectations of our senior motto," Senior Class President Jocelyn Meyers said. "We have worked hard. We have had fun, and indeed, we have made history."

Salutatorian Emily Marshall shared the spotlight with her friend
