Highland-Hilltop Little Leaguers

Courtyard Cotillion Features Dali Jewels

A "Courtyard Cotillion" to premiere the Opening of the "Art-In-Jewels" Collection by Salvador Dali at the Saint Paul Art Center Saturday evening, July 12, will be sponsored by The Gallenteers, the volunteer organization of the Center according to Malcolm E. Lein, Director.

The Collection is on loan from the Owen Cheatham Foundation and the preview party will be the first major fund-raising effort of the Gallenteers. According to research by the committee, it is the first summer benefit ball in the history of Saint Paul organizations.

The 8 p.m. invitational affair, geared to the summer season, will be black tie-optional.

In addition to the brilliant jewels, designed by Dali to show the jeweler's art in true perspective, the evening's festivities will include a gourmet buffet supper, dancing in the main concourse, dining in a courtyard cafe, and a silent auction of art works, antiques, and treasures in the Crawford Livingston theater.

A special "Mr. and Mrs." committee will be in charge of distinguished guests and include the Amos Martins, the Gilbert Wilsons, and the Meredith Hledredges.

Guests who are expected from out-of-town include Mrs. Owen Cheatam; Carlos B. Alemany, who executed the Dali jewels for the collection, and Peter Weston, who designed the "room within a room" in which they will be exhibited.

Following the formal opening, the collection will remain on view to the public for three weeks during regular gallery hours. For this exhibition a nominal admission will be charged as the Owen Cheatam Foundation collection can only be used for fund-raising purposes. Plans have been in progress for over a year to bring the Art-In-Jewels exhibition to Saint Paul. The Collection has been shown in Rome, London and Toronto, as well as in the United States since 1959, and the exhibition at Saint Paul Art Center is its first appearance in the Northwest.

Life without fun is like an automobile without springs.

Offerings include a boys' swimming program, boys' all-sports clinic, girls' swimming and activity program and mixed boys' and girls' swimming. The sports programs will include instruction and participation in football, basketball, track, tumbling, swimming, bowling, golf, wrestling, tennis, physical fitness and trampoline.

Highland Area School Has Highest Enrollment

Anachronism or prophecy—a fifteen percent increase in enrollment has forced Derham Hall High School, 540 South Warwick, to close registration May 29, 1969, according to Sister Julie Boo, acting principal. The incoming freshman number 146, the largest class in the school's 65-year history.

With 28% more freshmen and increased junior and senior classes, enrollment has reached 470, capacity for the school. Derham Hall moved from its location on the campus of the College of St. Catherine in 1962 to a new and larger building on Warwick.

One of the first schools in the Twin City area to attempt scheduling innovations, Derham Hall is completing its third year on modular scheduling. In cooperation with Cretin High School, Derham this year initiated a policy of educating not only Catholics but students of all beliefs. The increased enrollment reflects little response to this ecumenical invitation.

Mexican-American Cultural Units

New Mexican-American culture units in social studies courses for grades nine and twelve are being integrated into the curriculum at Humboldt High School.

A similar effort is made in Humboldt's home economics courses where students study and prepare Mexican-American foods. This includes a unit-culminating dinner with Mexican-American cuisine.

Topics to be included in the new social studies units include the background, history, and contributions of Mexican-Americans to this country's society. Problems of migrant workers in the United States will also be included. Sound filmstrips and outside speakers will add variety to the units. Initiating the outside speaker series was Mr. Sam Miguel from the Bureau of Indian Affairs, who spoke to the students about problems encountered in by minority groups in American society.

Plans for the over-all study of minority cultures at Humboldt include joint efforts in the future like asking the home economics classes to host social studies and history students at a Mexican-American dinner next school year.

Teacher orientation to nuances of Mexican-American students and culture is also planned, including a meeting of the Humboldt staff with Mr. Sebastian Hernandez—Spanish teacher at Harding High School—during opening week workshops in August.

About 20 percent of Humboldt's students are Mexican-American.

Hair Magic

COLOR STYLING

Of course color should be styled. Nature set the pattern by placing 3 or 4 colors on every head. That's true! A good many heads of virgin hair have as many as 7 or 8 distinctly different colors mixed together. Nature unfortunately doesn't plan color deviations for beauty's sake, but we do. No, color styling wasn't invented by us, but we have some wonderful new ideas about it that you have never heard elsewhere.

ARE "PERMS" IN OR OUT

After years of going straight, curls are back. Nothing but a Perm can give you the extra body needed to add "longer life"—keep curvy curls "bouncy and alive"—and casual curls from "dropping out". If your hair never wants to stay in order we suggest a modern day permanent wave and especially so during extreme hot weather when hair often becomes limp and unmanageable.

FOR BEAUTY SALON GOURMETS

... There are some women who really enjoy their salon visits. If you are one of those who like to sip and enjoy the minutes set aside to spend with us, you'll feel at home here. You will be treated with all the leisure of a welcome guest. There will be no assembly line to rush you out. On the other hand if you prefer speedup technicians we will respect your wishes to get you in and out with speed. We treat every patron according to her own preferences.

WIGS, WIGLETS & FALLS

During hot weather and vacations nothing is so important as to have ready at all times these modern accessories. We have a complete personalized service. We give professional advice on all hair goods and we are equipped to clean, style, color, and alter hair goods at your convenience.

TWINS ANNOUNCE NINTH ANNUAL FATHER-SONS GAME ON JUNE 15

The ninth-annual Twins' Father-Sons Game will highlight the next homestand at Metropolitan Stadium, when the Twins' players and their sons will take to the field at 1 p.m., Sunday, June 15, Fathers Day, in a preliminary to the Twins-Cleveland game that day.

Some 15 members of the 'Junior Twins' will attempt to continue their 8-year mastery of their dads in this year's Father-Sons Game. Clancy the Cop and Willie Ketchum, of WCCO-TV, will also be on hand to umpire the proceedings, thereby insuring that no shenanigans will be pulled by the 'greybeards' in their all-out effort to snap their 8-year losing skein!

Tonka Toy Corp. is adding to the festivities by presenting each boy participating with a beautiful Tonka truck.

TWINS TALES . . . League leading hitter Rod Carew enjoyed possibly the greatest night of his major league career, May 26, when he belted two long homeruns and turned in an unbelievable fielding play to spark the Twins to a 7-1 win over the Senators . . . Veteran reliever Al Worthington is working out Thursday, June 12, 1969 with the Twins in a comeback attempt. Should his efforts be successful, he could be placed on the active list early in June . . . Twin infielders are turning in half again as many double-plays this year as in 1968. At their present pace, they figure to break their 1962 club record of 173 doubleplays . . . The annual baseball clinic at Metropolitan Stadium for Twin Cities are a boys 9 to 18 will be at 10 a.m. on Saturday, June 14. Angelo Giuliani, Twins scout and clinic director, will be assisted by several Twins players John Mauer.

About 300 St. Paul children now in grades 1-5 in public or parochial schools may still be enrolled in summer classes offered at eleven locations by the St. Paul Public Schools. Registrations may be made through principals of the eleven schools. So far, about 600 children have been enrolled.

At seven schools both enrichment and Remedial classes will be offered. These are Drew, Sibley, Roosevelt, Ames, Van Buren, Hill, and Whittier. At four other schools only remedial classes will be available. These are Jackson, Jefferson, Franklin, and Mississippi.

Sessions will be six weeks, June 16 to July 25, at all eleven schools. Students enrolled for enrichment classes will meet for four hour sessions Monday through Friday—8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.—while remedial class students will meet for two hour sessions—either 8:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. or 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

STATE EMPLOYMENT SERVICE REPORTS RISE IN METROPOLITAN AREA JOBS

Employment in the metropolitan area is up over 25,300 from a year ago, according to Ross W. Sweum, area manager, Minnesota State Employment Service.

Non-manufacturing employment advanced by over 18,300 jobs with the largest growth reflected in services, trade and government, in that order. Public utilities was the only major non-manufacturing segment to show a decline from a year ago. Manufacturing employment is up over 7,000 with the greatest expansion occurring in electrical machinery.

Wage and salary employment increased over 6,800 jobs between March and April, 1969. During this period, manufacturing employment is up by more than 500. Non-manufacturing jobs rose 6,300 jobs over the month. The largest increase of 2,300 was in construction as this industry accelerated its seasonal expansion. The service industries also reflected a seasonal gain of 2,000 while trade and government posted lesser gains.

Unemployment in April, 1969, was estimated at 15,700 or 1.9 per cent of the workforce. This compares with 14,200 in March, 1969, and 14,800 in April a year ago.

Average weekly earnings of production workers rose from $140.04 in March to $141.03 in April. The increase was due to a two cents an hour increase in the average hourly wage and a one-tenth of an hour increase in the average workweek.

will be transported to somewhere in the Southern Hemisphere where the climate is hot. Rome will be transformed into metaphor and exist at no specific place at any particular period in time. It rather will become the symbol of where ever political turmoil has existed in the past and where ever it might exist in the present and future. "Julius Caesar," often called the greatest political play ever written, will change to a drama to which an audience can bring very few pre-conceived notions, thereby, concentrating only on the bone and sinew Shakespeare intended to lay bare.

"Julius Caesar" is the story of a tyrant and a revolution that failed: a theme that existed historically long before Shakespeare set it into play form, and one that existed almost continuously since Elizabethans first crowded the Globe Theatre to see it performed, probaly in the costumes of 1598.

Civil Defense Outlines Tornado Procedures

Stephen A. Gleason, city civil defense director, urged St. Paul citizens today to review their family plans for protection against tornadoes. May through August is the tornado season in Minnesota.

Gleason emphasized that the weather bureau office at International Airport has responsibility for sounding the outdoor warning sirens in St. Paul when a funnel is seen touching down and approaching the Twin Cities area. Mr. Gleason stated that if the sirens are heard other than at 1:00 p.m. on the first Wednesday of the month, every one should take immediate cover and then listen to the radio for further information.

There are two reasons for taking cover. First, there is no way for any particular person to know how close the tornado is. Second, the tone of the siren for tornadoes and nuclear attack are very similar; therefore, the act of taking cover immediately could be life saving.

Tuning to your radio is important to learn what the situation is and to find out when the danger is over. There is no "all clear" on the sirens. A second siren warning means that another tornado has been seen approaching.

Actions for tornado and nuclear attack warning are the same. Go immediately to a basement or interior corridor of the building you are in. Stay away from windows and stay out of rooms such as gymnasiums and auditoriums.

At home your best protection is in a corner of the basement on the side of the house from which the tornado is approaching.

If you can, open doors and windows slightly on the side of the house away from the direction of the tornado's approach. This will equal the air pressure and possibly reduce damage to the house.

If you are outside and cannot get to a building, move at right angles to the tornado's path. If you cannot escape the tornado or get into any other protected place, simply lie flat in a ditch or depression until the danger from flying debris has passed.

"Remember," Mr. Gleason emphasized, "get to protection when you hear the siren and then listen to your radio for information."

ST. THOMAS ACADEMY WILL SPONSOR SUMMER SCHOOL DAY CAMP FOR BOYS

Registration will be held on June 16 for St. Thomas Academy's Fourth Annual Summer School Day Camp for boys. This unique combination of summer school and day camp provides an opportunity for boys from the ages of 9 to 14 to strengthen themselves academically and to learn life-long recreational skills.

The regular St. Thomas Academy faculty along with several recreational specialists conduct this six-week program on the spacious 52 acre Academy campus in Mendota Heights, only minutes from downtown St. Paul and Minneapolis.

The dates of the summer school day camp are June 16 to July 25 and the daily schedule is from 8:45 to 3 p.m. The recreational program includes individual instruction in golf, tennis, archery, swimming, boating, riflery, baseball, basketball and track. The boys also participate on a team basis in soccer, volleyball, touch football, and softball.

Academically, each boy may choose two subjects from the following course offerings: developmental and remedial reading, enrichment and remedial arithmetic, basic science, creative writing, typing, and arts and crafts.

Regular Army personnel assigned to the Academy conduct a military program for all the campers, with fundamental training in close order drill, military courtesy, neatness, discipline, and qualities of leadership.

All of the usual academic facilities are available for the summer program as well as the gymnasium, indoor rifle range, swimming pool, archery range, tennis courts, the track, four large play fields, and Rogers Lake.

Both the academic and recreational programs are highly individual and each boy is given special attention, the key to the success of a good summer camp experience.

The program is under the supervision of William J. Ridley, Assistant Headmaster.

Following his internship a corps member will be eligible for teacher certification and a master's degree from the University. Red Cross Revamps Water Safety Program

St. Paul Area Red Cross announced this week that water safety instructors certified by Red Cross must be retrained in new methods and skills by December 31, 1969, in order to be eligible to teach Red Cross certified courses after that date.

The American Red Cross is now in the midst of a nationwide retraining program for all currently authorized water safety instructors who wish to remain in active status.

Retraining is necessary because of the changes made in the new Swimming and Water Safety textbook which is now available.

According to Judge Otis Godfrey, St. Paul chairman of water safety, the new text changes the philosophy and approach to teaching swimming.

Judge Godfrey said that all water safety instructors wishing to remain on an active status should contact the American Red Cross in St. Paul immediately.

4 St. Paul Colleges To Have Cooperative

Four St. Paul colleges—St. Catherine, St. Thomas, Macalester and Hamline—have received a joint grant of $50,000 from the Louis W. and Maud Hill Family Foundation to establish a cooperative Russian major.

The project, which will go into effect in September 1969, is the first joint major offered by the schools which have been conducting cooperative classroom projects for more than 15 years.

The grant is being used to help fund the planning and staffing of the program during the first three years.

A shared professorship for advanced composition and literature courses has been created under the grant and will be held by Dr. Savil Kliachko, now assistant professor of Russian at the University of Arizona, Tucson.

The cooperative major has been in the planning stages for more than a year by two committees of deans and language department faculties of the participating schools. Preparation for the project included a study of Russian language offerings in several colleges and universities throughout the country.

According to Dr. Charles U. Walker, Hamline dean, the project is an outgrowth of the increasing number of students on all four campuses studying Russian and an interest on the part of the colleges in providing these students with the opportunity to major in the field.

Courses in beginning and intermediate Russian and some classes in Russian literature are now available to students from all four colleges through the inter-campus curriculum in which students from one college may take courses at any of the other three for credit. The new shared professorship makes it possible to provide more advanced courses.

The site for Dr. Kliachko's classes will be rotated among the four campuses, but during a given semester or term all of his courses will be offered at one college only.

Thursday, June 12, 1969

Dr. Kliachko will hold the rank of associate professor at all four colleges but for administrative purposes will be attached to Hamline.

Dr. Kliachko received his Ph.D. from Stanford University, his M.A. from Columbia's School's of International Affairs and his Ph.B. from University of Chicago. He also studied at Charles University, Prague, Czechoslovakia under a fellowship from the Institute of International Education.

He conducted evening courses in scientific Russian for executive technical personnel of several pharmaceutical and chemical companies in New Jersey. This program was acclaimed in national business publication.

The deans of the four colleges—Dr. Dwight Culver, St. Catherine; Dr. Kenneth Goodrich, Macalester; Monsignor William O'Donnell, St. Thomas and Dr. Walker—believe the cooperative Russian major to be a workable and financially feasible method of offering this study for students at their colleges. They hope that it might serve as a pilot project for cooperative majors in other fields such as geography and Chinese.

The joint Russian major continues an ever-increasing pattern projects that these four colleges—of cooperative academic projects—two Catholic and two Protestant—started in 1953 with the creation of the four college area studies and later expanded into such programs as the sharing of library resources and the inter-campus curriculum.

Another Type Of Hope Chest

The term "hope chest" conjures up visions of lovely young girls accumulating clothes and domestic furnishings in anticipation of a happy marriage.

But at this time of the year, we know of another type of hope chest—the symbolic Hope Chest connected with the annual multiple sclerosis campaign. This chest, too, must be filled with the wherewithal to bring happiness—not material happiness—but trust and reliance that the National Multiple Sclerosis Society will fulfill its dream of finding the cause, prevention and cure of the dread disease.

MS is a crippling disease of the central nervous system, the brain and spinal cord. In MS, the myelin sheath or protective coating of the nerve fibers deteriorates. Scars form and the nerve impulses can't get through to activate muscles to perform their tasks properly. MS is a slowcrippler, but a progressive one.

The MS Society is the only nation-wide voluntary organization dedicated to promote research into the cause, alleviation and control of MS. By filling its Hope Chest with your dollars, you will provide the funds that are used locally for patient services, professional and public education, and for national and international research programs.

During the next few weeks, the Society will conduct its annual appeal for funds. Give generously to this new and important type of Hope Chest.

$4,000 Grant Issued For Rehabilitation

The Ramsey County Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association has granted over $4,000 to St. Paul-Ramsey Hospital for the development of rehabilitation classes for obstructive pulmonary disease.

Research has shown that rehabilitation classes have relieved most patients of some disabling system due to their disease; in fact, some who have been incapacitated have been able to return to work.

All persons with chronic bronchitis or emphysema are invited to attend, but referral by their physician is required. There is a small charge for attending.

Open House For Labor At Minneapolis Institute of Arts

On Tuesday evening June 17th, from 7 to 9 p.m., A.F.L.-C.I.O. Labor Unions join with one of the city's major cultural institutions to sponsor an Open House which will combine music and art. Union members are particularly invited but the general public is also welcome to this free program at The Minneapolis Institute of Arts, 201 East 24th St., Minneapolis.

Lecture-guides will discuss the paintings and sculpture and four different musical groups will perform. These musicians will play concurrently in the galleries complimenting the particular period and style of their music, which ranges from the classical and baroque to jazz and folk music. The music for this occasion is provided through the cooperation of the Minneapolis Musicians' Association (Local 73, AFM) on a grant from the Music Performance Trust Funds of the Recording Industry.

Music 60, Unique 'U' Summer Course, Concerts, Lectures

Music 60, a unique music appreciation course, is being offered during the University of Minnesota Summer Session for the fourth consecutive summer in Northrop auditorium, starting June 17.

Music 60 differs from other music courses in that each class is a concert and a lecture. With the exception of the initial orientation session, all concert-lectures include the entire Minnesota Orchestra under the direction of Assistant Conductor George Trautwein, small ensembles, or chamber groups personally appearing on the Northrop stage.

Arnold Caswell, professor of music education at the University and principle lecturer for the series, and his staff have developed important visual aids to illustrate the music programs.

"The excitement of live performances enables the audience to explore devices composers use to communicate meaning, ranging from simple, traditional practices to very sophisticated, modern versions," Professor Caswell said today.

The nine concert-lectures, to be held Tuesdays and Thursdays at 2 p.m., have been designed primarily for people who want to develop a more thorough understanding of concert music.

High point of the series will be the premiere of "Bravo Mozart," composed by Dominick Argento, professor of composition in the University music department. The symphony, written especially for Music 60, depicts Argento's musical description of the five major stages of the life of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart. The work, scored for a chamber ensemble, will be conducted by Trautwein and accompanied by three soloists.

Registration for Music 60 is from May 26-29 and the only requisite is a personal interest in and appreciation of good music. Write Summer Session Office, 135 Johnston Hall, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minn. 55455; or telephone (612) 373-2925 for enrollment assistance.
