Randolph Heights sponsors 'Quiz the Candidates Rally'

All 16 candidates for the seven seats on the Saint Paul City Council have been invited to meet local voters at a "Quiz the Candidates Rally" on Wednesday, April 5. As of Villager press time, 12 of the 16 had indicated they will attend.

The rally, which is being sponsored by the Randolph Heights Neighborhood Association to foster a better pre-election understanding between City Hall hopefuls and the local citizenry, will begin 8:15 p.m. at Calvary Lutheran Church, 341 So. Hamline Ave.

Area residents will hear the candidates address four key issues: the costs of pensions; the Shortline and 35E development plans; whether Saint Paul should have a full or part-time city council; and the relationship between City Hall decisions and neighborhood concerns. Ample time will be allotted for questions from the audience.

Starting at 7:30 p.m. and ending just before the rally begins, the Randolph Heights Neighborhood Association will hold its annual meeting and election of officers and directors for 1978-79.

The Randolph Heights Neighborhood Association is the community organization which serves those residents of the area from Randolph to Summit and from Snelling to the Shortline.

Ramsey Clark to speak at CST on 'Integrity in Government' Apr. 11

Ramsey Clark, former U.S. Attorney General under President Lyndon Johnson, will present a lecture on Tuesday, April 11 at the College of St. Thomas.

Now a lawyer in private practice in New York, Clark will discuss "Integrity in Government" at 1:00 p.m. in the auditorium of O'Shaughnessy Educational Center. The public is invited to attend without charge.

A native of Texas, Clark attended the University of Texas and University of Chicago Law School. He practiced law in Dallas from 1951 to 1960 prior to his nomination as an Assistant Attorney General during the Kennedy administration. As Attorney General (1967-69), he headed the Department of Justice, directing its work in civil rights, civil liberties, and antitrust enforcement investigations.

Since retiring from government service, Clark has represented the Alaska Federation of Natives, winning for his clients the largest settlement of native land claims in history. He also represented the Rev. Philip Berrigan in the Harrisburg trial, and argued the first Freedom of Information Act case along with various First Amendment and other civil rights actions.

A prestigious writer, Clark's books include Crime in America and The Role of the Supreme Court, which he co-authored with Sam Ervin.

Rev. Walters installed as new pastor of Merriam-Lexington

Reverend Jerry Walters will be installed as the new pastor of Merriam-Lexington Presbyterian Church at a 3:00 p.m. service on Sunday, April 2 at the church, Dayton and Howell St.

The sermon will be delivered by Dr. William R. Laws, Jr., former moderator of the General Assembly (1970-71). Also participating in the service will be Rev. Kenneth Stokes, Synod Christian Education consultant, who will give the charge to the pastor. The charge to the congregation will be given by Rev. Douglas Sampson, interim pastor of Merriam-Lexington.

Ruling elders Harlan

Klima of Merriam-Lexington and Betty Cowles of the Presbyterian Ministerial Relations Committee will act as liturgists. Scripture readings will be presented by Robert Wells, Jr., Ruling Elder of Merriam-Lexington, and Dr. Rex Knowles, pastor of Macalester Plymouth United Church.

Rev. Walters and his family, who come to Merriam-Lexington from the Second United Presbyterian Church of Keokuk, Iowa, will be honored at a reception immediately following the service in the Helen Rogers room of the church. All church members and friends are invited to attend.

Community Education Notice

More than 70 different courses and activities have been scheduled as part of the 1978 Spring Session of the Groveland, Homecroft and Randolph Heights Community Education Programs. Nearly all of the course offerings will begin during the first two weeks of April.

Residents of the three community education program areas (for Groveland the area bounded by Summit, Snelling, Randolph and the Mississippi River; for Homecroft the area south of Montreal from the Mississippi to the 35E cut, and the area between Cleveland and Snelling as far north as Ford Pkwy.; and for Randolph Heights, the area bounded by the Shortline, Summit, Snelling, Highland Parkway and the 35E cut) will find a copy of their community's program flyer inserted within this issue of the Highland Villager.

Those living in the areas mentioned above should consult their flyers for specific course offerings and registration information. Those living outside those areas who would like to obtain copies of the program schedules should call Jim Martin at Groveland (690-5037), Dave Pasiuk at Homecroft (690-2879) or Ruth Wiltfang at Randolph Heights (690-4081).

Welcome to Spring!

YWCA to offer courses at Immanuel Lutheran Church

Women in the Macalester and Groveland areas of St. Paul may attend YWCA classes in their own neighborhood this spring.

Several classes will be offered by the YWCA Women's Center at Immanuel Lutheran Church, Snelling and Goodrich Ave., beginning in April. As a further convenience, nursery service will be available during all scheduled classes.

Swedish Gymnastic Exercise, a new offering in the community program, will be held April 16 to May 25 from 9:00 to 9:45 a.m. Anne Hooke, who trained under the Swedish Gymnastic Federation, will teach the class, which is designed to improve flexibility, coordination, the cardiovascular system and one's sense of rhythm, balance and timing.

A course in Yoga will be taught by Millie Bryan, who studied under Swami Rama. Yoga I is scheduled from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., Yoga II from 9:00 to 10:30 a.m. Both will meet from April 6 through May 25.

In addition to the fitness programs, classes in knitting, weaving and calligraphy are scheduled. For a complete list of activities, contact the YWCA at 222-3741.

Registration will be accepted at Immanuel Lutheran on Thursday, March 30 from 9:30 to 11:00 a.m. or may be mailed to the downtown center, 65 E. Kellogg Blvd., St. Paul, MN 55101.

Meeting set for formation of combined district council

The Highland-Groveland-Macalester Community Association will act as covenor for a public meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, March 30 on behalf of Districts 14 and 15. The two districts represent that area of St. Paul south of Summit Avenue and west of the Shortline and 35E strip.

The purpose of the meeting, according to current HiGroMac president Howard Guthmann, is to initiate the City Council recognition process for the formation of a single council for Districts 14 and 15.

The new organization, to be known as the Southwest Area District Council, would be a new organization, not a revamped HiGroMac, Guthmann said. Though HiGroMac would retain its legal existence under the proposal, the community organization would become a dormant body.

Mike McTeague, chairman of the board of HiGroMac, will serve as temporary chairman at the March 30 meeting until a permanent chairman can be selected.

Other community organizations in the area, including the Randolph Heights Neighborhood Association and the Homecroft Community Association, have been apprised of the move toward formation of the combined district council.

All residents, business people and property owners in Districts 14 and 15 are invited to attend the meeting.

St. Paul Schools' Adult Education classes begin April 6 at six sites

The St. Paul Public Schools will offer a complete Spring Adult Education Program at six evening community centers starting the week of April 3.

Some 140 different classes are available, including Belly Dance Costume Making, Guiding Behavior of Young Children, Building Self-Esteem and Responsibility in Children, Speed Reading, Swimming, Slimnastics, Outdoor Cooking, Easy Woodcarving for Men and Women, Lebanese Cooking, Tennis, Fly Tying, Fishing Rod Building, Driver Education, Metric System, Guitar, Photography, General Repair and Maintenance for the Home, Reupholstery, Calligraphy, Lapidary, Learn the Electric Typewriter and Fencing.

These and more than 100 other classes will be available at Como Park, Ramsey, Hazel Park and Highland Park Junior High Schools, and Harding and Johnson Senior High Schools.

Automotive classes for men and women will be held again at the Auto Transportation Centers, and Horticulture classes will be held at Frost Lake Greenhouse.

Copies of the complete class schedule are available at all area public libraries.

Heat loss photos of area homes on view at West Seventh Center

The aerial infra-red photo exhibit of Highland area homes will continue making the rounds of local neighborhoods during the next few weeks.

The photographs, which indicate the level of home heat loss experienced at about this time last year, are being interpreted for area residents by a specially trained team from the St. Paul Housing and Redevelopment Authority. HRA employees are also offering tips to homeowners on techniques for conserving energy.

Community Center, 175 So. Western Ave. Viewing hours are from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays, and from 1:00 to 8:00 p.m. on Thursdays. The exhibit will remain on view through April 7.

Beginning Monday, April 10, the exhibit will be on display at the Highland Park Branch Library, 1974 Ford Pkwy. Viewing hours there will be from noon to 8:00 p.m. on Mondays and Thursdays, and from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays. The display will remain on view at the library through April 21.

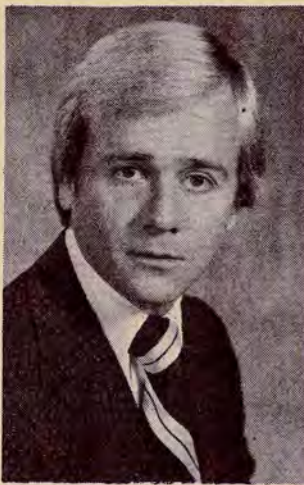

Insert correction

Those living in the area bounded by Summit, Snelling, Randolph and the river should note this change in their Groveland Community Education program flyer, inserted in this issue of the Highland Villager:

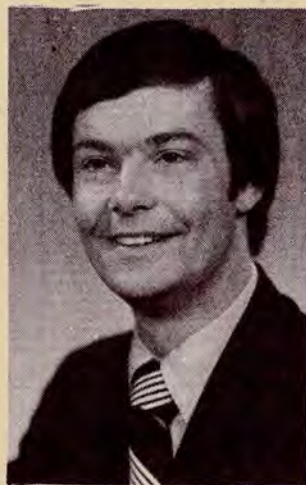

The class listed as Parenthood as a Partnership has been changed to Fatherhood. (Don't ask where the moms went.) For further information on the course, call Jim Martin at 690-5037.

Registration opens April 3 for Macalester Summer Session

Over 150 courses and independent study projects, representing almost every academic department at the college, will be offered as part of Macalester's 1978 Summer Session. Registration for all courses will open Monday, April 3.

The Summer Session consists of two four-week terms. Term I is from June 12 to July 10, Term II from July 12 to August 8.

During each of them, a student can take one course, the equivalent of a semester course during the regular academic year. Classes will be small, most with enrollments of five to fifteen, and many will be conducted on a seminar or group independent study basis.

The Summer Session is open to Macalester students, students currently enrolled at other colleges, high school graduates admitted to Macalester or another college for the fall of 1978, and high school juniors recommended by their high school principals. Courses are also open to teachers who desire refresher work or certification, and to adults who want to return to campus to pursue an academic interest.

Scholarships are available for a limited number of adults (age 24 or above and out of school for five years) who have decided to return to college to obtain their degrees. There are also special opportunities for adults and senior citizens to audit courses at a low fee. To provide learning opportunities for persons with daytime commitments, several courses are being offered in the evening.

For more information and a Summer Session catalog, call 647-6330.

University Libraries receive Altman's Steinbeck collection

A comprehensive collection of books and other material by and about Nobel Prize-winning American author John Steinbeck has been given to the University of Minnesota by local book collector Milton H. Altman, 1921 Pinehurst Ave.

Appraised by a New York rare book dealer at $39,095, the collection consists of more than 600 books, several hundred periodicals, a large quantity of clippings, pamphlets, photographs and some letters and manuscripts.

All first editions and many later editions of Steinbeck's novels, collections of short stories, plays and non-fiction works are in the Altman collection, along with Steinbeck's contributions published in other books and periodicals. The collection also includes a great deal of biographical and critical material about the author.

Austin McLean, Chief of Special Collections for the University Libraries, said the gift is the most important literary collection donated to the University in many years and will be an important resource for Steinbeck scholars.

"This ranks as one of the finest Steinbeck collections ever to be assembled," McLean said. "Each volume has been kept in near mint condition."

Steinbeck received the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1962. His works include The Pastures of Heaven, Tortilla Flat, In Dubious Battle, Of Mice and Men, The Red Pony, The Grapes of Wrath, Cannery Row and many short stories.

The Altman collection is located in the Special Collections and Rare Books division in Wilson Library.

No real solutions seen for law school parking problem

by Roger Fuller

When a school building which has been vacant for two years suddenly begins filling up with over 1000 students five nights a week, it's bound to have an impact on the surrounding neighborhood.

It did and still does.

Ever since William Mitchell College of Law moved up the avenue from its former location at 2100 Summit to the former location of Our Lady of Peach High School, parking's been a problem for area residents. But even a partial solution—expanding the school's parking lot—met with mixed community reaction.

"When we increased our lot from 45 spaces to 114, some of the neighbors complained about the loss of greenery," said Marvin Green, Associate Dean. "There are others who would have us take out all existing green space and replace it with blacktop for parking lots."

The present parking lot, located between the school and the former OLP convent, is fairly unobtrusive. If more parking space were to be made available on William Mitchell property, it would involve the large expanse of lawn on the northwest corner of Summit and Victoria.

Another partial solution to the problem has come from nearby churches, who have agreed to provide an additional 200 parking spaces in their lots during the evening hours when classes are in session.

"But let's face it," said Green, "It's human nature to park 100 feet from where you're going if you can, rather than use a parking lot two blocks away."

Green also discounts the frequent suggestions that William Mitchell students use mass transportation to and from school.

"I'll bet 90 percent of the people who suggest it don't use it themselves," he said. "Besides, most of our students are on tight schedules in which time between work and school is at a minimum."

The parking problem exists only during the evening hours because William Mitchell offers classes only between 4:30 and 10:20 p.m. However, it irks many neighbors who, after a day of work, come home to find the closest available parking spot is a block or more away.

But for the present and foreseeable future, anyway, that's the way it's going to be.

MISCH- Masch

by Maurice F. Mischke

How quickly a person's plans can be changed. After an Easter Sunday afternoon with the family which included a bit of basketball with our boys and a couple of neighbor youngsters, I checked out of the game... to sort out my notes on what this week's Misch-Masch should include. (The old man didn't strain himself on defense, of course, nor was he a ball of fire on offense for that matter.) Then a nice Easter dinner and whammo! I became a local emergency for the paramedics.

Nothing too serious, fortunately, and I could be out of the hospital in a day or two, according to the latest word. So that's where these words are being written—for dictation to Jan over the phone... yeah, on press day, yet! Orchids to the rest of the staff for carrying on short-handed on that very busiest day of the fortnight.

I won't even pretend that you can't get along without this column for at least one issue. The legislative session could have rated some comment if the juices were running properly. But I have the feeling that it came out much better than any of us could have hoped for in January. The results were at least one small step away from unkind. But let me give you an up-to-date definition of an ultra-liberal (legislator, that is): That's a person who suddenly gets very conservative about the state's coffers when any tax adjustment is being considered.

My, how times have changed—Remember when there were "millinery shops" in every business district. Yesterday, in church, I was startled to see a beautiful Easter bonnet several rows ahead. It prompted me to check out the rest of the congregation. A sum total of three hats in the whole crowded place!

Well, folks, that's about the best I can do today... between x-rays, tests and what have you. Let's hope I can do better by you next time around.

Apartment Dwellers:

One step further for safety than the Reader's Digest

Q. How many Electronic Smoke Detectors do we need for a three-room apartment?

A. At minimum, one outside your bedroom door. A second unit outside your entrance could warn of other people's fires on floors below you.

The article also mentions that it is the law in at least 27 states that all new houses and apartments have smoke alarms.

We at Highland Electric, in the fire alarm and security system business for years, suggest that smoke alarms in apartments be connected electrically so that when one alarm goes off, they all go off. A Fire Control Panel, which we can install, will set off horns or bells at a number of key places in the apartment complex as well as the individual apartments.

If this makes sense to you, ask your landlord to call us today. Prevent personal tragedy—and also maybe save the lives of others.

Bruce Erickson, Curator of Paleontology at the Science Museum of Minnesota, examines a 60-million-year old egg given to the museum by Chris Czech. Chris found the egg, believed to be that of a Crocodilian, while on a hunting trip in Wyoming with his dad.

Local 12-year-old boy turns over 60-million-year-old egg to museum

A 60-million-year-old egg, believed to be that of a crocodilian, was presented to The Science Museum of Minnesota last week by a local sixth-grader who found it while looking for a rock "to scare a deer."

The fossil egg, the first in the museum's total collection of some 1.2 million specimens, was found in Wyoming in November, 1976, by Chris Czech, 12, of 1089 Juno Ave. After exhaustive analysis, SMM Curator of Paleontology Bruce Erickson established that the boy's find is about 60 million years old and that it may contain evidence of the embryo.

"I was walking in a kind of drainage ditch and tossing rocks into the bushes trying to help my dad flush out a deer while he was hunting," said Chris, a student of Adams School. "I spotted something that seemed whiter than the other rocks and it was shaped like an egg so I didn't throw it."

Instead, Chris showed it to his dad, Dennis Czech, 41, an employee in the shipping department at Univac Corporation and an avid hunter.

"I told my dad what I thought it was," said Chris, "and he put it in his jacket pocket."

The specimen was brought to The Science Museum some time later. Analysis of the egg continued for 16 months, according to Erickson.

"We wanted to be as certain as possible that we knew what Chris had found because, obviously, something so fragile as an egg does not generally survive to become a fossil."

Erickson, whose research on the egg was published just last week, said the egg had to have been buried either by the mother or by accident. Only the shell remains intact, the rest of the egg having undergone a complete replacement of its interior structure.

Wednesday, March 29, 1978

Head of the SMM paleontology department for the past 12 years, Erickson said he is aware of similar fossil eggs in a museum in Germany. He said in order for the egg to have survived for 60 million years it had to have been buried in a swamp or lakeshore. There also had to have been "a fairly rapid sealing over by sediments" to preserve the egg.

If the museum's new acquisition is a crocodilian egg, Erickson said it is the earliest evidence yet that the reproductive behavior of those pre-historic reptiles closely resembled current crocodilians.

Meanwhile, the discovery of the egg appears likely to shape Chris Czech's career choice. He now says he wants to be a paleontologist or an archaeologist, having spent many hours at The Science Museum with Erickson.

He does all those interesting things with dinosaur bones and crocodiles and alligators," said Chris, "and I want to do that too."

Chris, who describes himself as a pretty good student who gets "mostly A's except once in awhile in English," had visited the museum several times before his memorable discovery in Wyoming.

"Now when I go to the Museum, they even know who I am," he said.

The month between Purim (March 22) and Passover (April 21) was recently proclaimed "Exodus 1978: A Time of Concern" in Minnesota for prisoners of conscience in the Soviet Union. On hand for the signing of the proclamation were, left to right: Hillary Freeman, Bonnie Weller, Bill Aberman, Governor Perpich, Morton W. Ryseck, Donna Leviton, and Samuel Horowitz. Except for Perpich, all are members of the Minnesota-Dakotas Action Committee for Soviet Jewry, an organization which seeks greater public recognition of the fact that Jews and other minority groups in Russia are being deprived of their human rights.

Registration set for St. Kate's Tennis Club

The College of St. Catherine Tennis Club will begin accepting memberships this week for its 1978 summer program, May 20 through September 3.

Area residents who'd like to improve their game may take advantage of a full program of tennis lessons to be offered by qualified teachers in May, June and July. A nominal fee will be charged for the lessons.

While members of the general public may sign up for the lessons, Tennis Club members will be given first priority at the time of registration.

For further information on the Tennis Club and the lessons, call Mrs. Swanson at 690-6705.

From the Legislature

by Dick Cohen
District 63B

As this is being written, the 1978 session of the Minnesota Legislature is almost over. By the time this is printed, we will have adjourned. Consequently, it is difficult to write in this column about particular issues. I'll save a legislative wrap-up for the next column.

What I would like to address is the question of why or how I make up my mind to vote on a particular issue. Such a question lies at the foundation of representative democracy and at the heart of the legislative process. Many people ask if I or any other elected officials vote the way we want, or whether we attempt to represent our district. Obviously I have attempted to represent my district to the best of my ability, but with over 1500 recorded roll calls, it is difficult to gauge popular feeling on every issue.

Sir Edmund Burke, writing in the late 18th century, spoke of his membership in the British Parliament as a trust given to him by the people of his district to make the best possible judgments. Andrew Jackson, on the other hand, had a more populist approach and felt that his actions were predicated on his readings of public opinion.

In making my individual decisions, there are a number of factors which I rely on. Obviously constituent mail and telephone calls are very important, since they give me direct contact with constituents on a particular issue. However, such contact is usually limited, and it is difficult to tell how widespread such feeling is. The most contact I have had on any one issue is the mandatory deposit legislation for throwaway cans. I have received about 125 letters on this subject with almost all voicing support. On a recent bill dealing with chiropractic medicine, I received about 25 telephone calls. These are the two issues which I have had the most direct input, and obviously the numbers are a very small fraction of District 63B's 11,000 households.

Many of you filled out my legislative questionnaire which was dropped in November and December. I got a response of a little under ten percent, and the replies appeared to be a good cross section of the district. Unfortunately, extensive public opinion surveys are simply too expensive at a legislative level to be attempted, and often a legislator has to rely on his sense of what his district is and how it feels.

One assumption made in a representative democracy is that it is part of the job of a legislator to study and analyze an issue and make a decision which is the best possible one for the state, and obviously those considerations are important.

When I have voted on legislation, I have tried to follow a guide of what my constituents would think about a particular bill, given my work and study of an issue. Obviously, this is not an always perfect way, but as I have tried to point out, there is no sure way to determine how a district feels on every issue.

'The Hiding Place' screened April 6

The Hiding Place, a film based on Corrie ten Boom's book of the same name, will be shown at 7:00 p.m. Thursday, April 6 in Jeanne d'Arc auditorium at the College of St. Catherine.

Sponsored by the Inter Varsity Christian Fellowship, the movie relates the experiences of ten Boom, a Dutch Christian, as she leads a resistance force to aid Jews in their efforts to escape capture by the Nazis.

Admission is $1.50 in advance, $1.75 at the door. For advance tickets or more information, call 690-6102.

Old Mexico Shop to host Grand re-opening April 1

The Old Mexico Shop, formerly located at 646 Grand Ave., has moved down the street and into the lower level of the Summit Hill Mall, 41 So. Oxford at Grand.

Owners Mary Wilson and Billie Young have invited the public to help celebrate their Grand re-opening this coming Saturday, April 1. Besides special discounts on all merchandise in the store, the Old Mexico Shop will be offering bocadillas, birthday cake and sangria to all who drop by.

According to Ms. Young, the move to the Summit Hill Mall has enabled the shop to greatly expand its Mexican import line. Besides the previously featured gift items such as sterling silver jewelry, huaraches (leather shoes with tire soles), and countless varieties of tin and ceramic houseware, the shop now stocks natural fiber clothing from Mexico, Greece, Morocco and India, plus architectural products for the home, including wrought ironwork and ceramic floor and wall tile from Mexico.

The two owners claim they've become experts in installing the ceramic tile after doing the shop's entryway themselves. They'll be happy to give do-it-yourselfers a few tips.

Mary Wilson and her husband, Perry, belong to a three-generation family having its roots in the Crocus Hill area.

Billie Young lived in Central and South America for seven years while her husband, George, was in charge of American schools. They've lived in St. Paul for the past seven years.

Call-in survey of Christian women being conducted

A telephone call-in survey to elicit concerns of all area Christian women is currently being conducted by the Minnesota St. Joan Community, an ecumenically-oriented organization of Catholic men and women who encourage the Church to implement the Gospel message of equality.

Women of all Christian denominations are asked to phone their response to the question, "What needs, concerns and hopes do you have as a Christian woman that aren't being met?" to 544-1121 between 1:00 and 9:00 p.m. seven days a week, now through May 14.

The responses will help determine the future direction of the Minnesota St. Joan Community and its proposed resource center.

TRAVELING TROPHY

Well class, the report cards are now in on "The Saint Paul Board of Education Voters Test" taken Tuesday, March 14, 1978.

One thousand nineteen voters in Ward 11 would have failed the test entirely, had they not been given credit for being conscientious enough to vote in the first place. These 1019 Ward 11 voters cast their ballots for Robert Christensen.

Like all good citizens, these people had been taught to evaluate the candidates' credentials, capabilities and aspirations for a position on the St. Paul School Board before casting their ballots for the most qualified person. Prior to the primary elections, Robert Christensen had not answered a single request for information about himself or his ideas. As a result, voters had no idea what he intended to do or whether he was capable of doing it. For voting for him anyway, 1019 people in Ward 11 received a "D" on the Voters Test.

Ten times as many people did not vote at all. They received an "F."

There were three candidates worthy of consideration for a position on the Board of Education in the March 14 election. Most of the thoughtful voters cast their ballots for Catherine Piccolo—a total of 1201 in Ward 11. Wayne Witman and Douglas Ward, both with the necessary qualifications, received a little over 1000 votes between them in Ward 11. Those who voted for these three individuals received "A's" and "B's."

The wastebasket in the corner of Ward 11 has been reserved for all those voters who received "D's" and "F's." Collectively, they have been awarded this week's Talking Out of School Traveling Trophy—a giant-sized papier-mache dunce cap, constructed from one year's worth of "Misch-Masch" clippings.

These voters are encouraged to apply themselves to their civic studies in the future. They will be given an opportunity to redeem themselves by becoming familiar with the candidates and the issues before voting in the city election on April 25.

WHAT'S GOOD?

Don Sonsalla, principal of Highland Park Junior High School, that's what's good, say the parents of sixth graders heading for Highland next fall.

While we know good things are often happening at Highland, this week's "What's Good?" concerns the orientation program recently developed by Sonsalla and a team of teachers—six from Highland Junior and two from Highland Elementary—for incoming students.

A tentative schedule of upcoming program events looks like this:

April 3-7 The sixth graders, by classes, will visit Highland Junior, with a seventh grader acting as host or hostess. Incoming students will receive a tour of the building, get an opportunity to attend three different classes, and eat lunch before returning to their home school. The highlight of the tour, according to Sonsalla, will be provided in an assembly setting "with the cheerleaders cheering, the band playing, and the principal giving a rousing speech." (We refuse to make any editorial comment on the latter.)

April 10-14 Counselors and seventh graders from Highland Junior will in turn visit the elementary schools to answer questions and register the new students.

May 10-17 Each Highland Junior faculty member will visit six parents of incoming students to acquaint them with the school and answer their questions.

We believe that this kind of extra effort on the part of our school personnel will help restore confidence in our school system and help reverse the current trend which sees more and more students leaving the public schools.

Talking Out of School salutes Don Sonsalla and all members of the faculty of Highland Junior and the elementary schools taking part in this program.

P.S. to the Highland area resident who asked about the Evaluation Committee mentioned in last issue's column: The committee has been in existence for about three years, though with over 150 different school district committees currently operating, we can understand why someone might not be aware of this one. Of its 25 members, 23 are employed by the school district and two come from the community. Talking Out of School has attended all Evaluation Committee meetings over the past three years.

Mac promotions announced

Earl W. Bowman, Jr., Macalester College Dean of Students since 1972, was recently promoted to the position of Vice President for Student Affairs.

William Svrluga, Associate Dean and director of Residential Life at Macalester since last July, will succeed Bowman as Dean of Students.

According to Macalester President John B. Davis, Jr., the reorganization of the college's student services division will permit Bowman to assume a broader range of responsibilities and will also help strengthen service to students, improve efficiency and assure better coordination and planning.

Bowman will be responsible for the college's minority programs, counseling, academic advising, Upward Bound, the college's Study Skills Center, student government, commencement and academic review.

Svrluga will direct residential life, campus programs, community involvement programs, the office of Career Planning and Placement, the chapel and the health service.

'Prairie Was Quiet' to be rebroadcast over KSJN radio

Because of the interest expressed following the first airing of "The Prairie Was Quiet," produced by award-winning reporter/producer Greg Barron, Minnesota Public Radio has scheduled a rebroadcast of the program on Wednesday, March 29 at 10:20 p.m.

The documentary, which was first broadcast in November, 1977, was produced like a mosaic to form a sound and word portrait of the American prairie, past and present.

Months of research, interviews, taping and editing went into the creation of the documentary. To capture the sounds for the program, Barron and Engineer David Felland—both of them area residents—made numerous trips to the prairie, getting up early in the morning and sometimes spending 16 hours in the field.

The MPR crew took microphones to places most listeners will never visit, like the middle of a buffalo herd. It often took several hours of tape to get a minute or two of the exact sound they wanted.

"The Prairie Was Quiet" may be heard over KSJN 91.1 FM.

Israeli film festival to mark nation's anniversary

A film festival highlighting the art and culture of the people of Israel will be held at the Minneapolis Institute of Arts throughout the month of April to mark the 30th anniversary of the independence of the State of Israel.

A two-hour program of documentary films will be shown at 2:00 p.m. from Tuesday, April 4 through Sunday, April 9 in Stage One of the museum. Three feature films will also be shown on April 3, 10 and 24 in the museum's Pillsbury Auditorium. Kozablana is a modern musical version of the Romeo and Juliet story. The House on Chelouche Street is the story of a Jewish family's struggle for survival in the turmoil of British-occupied Palestine. 5Lupo! is the tale of a folk hero and his hilarious war against the modernization of Israeli society.

The Highland Villager

Report from the House

by Ray Faricy
District 63A

Well, it's over! It was a session that had it ups and downs, but the finish was, in my estimation, a good one. The Schools Aids bill which was passed provided approximately $1 million of additional relief to the City of St. Paul, and the Tax Bill, when considered in conjunction with the bill that was passed last year, has provided substantial relief to many people within the district.

As you will recall, the emphasis in the 1977 tax bill was property tax relief, and I think as you are filing your forms you will see that you are being helped considerably in this respect. At this session, the approach was directed toward the income tax itself and other taxes. In particular, the sales tax was eliminated on fuel oil, coal, wood, steam, propane gas and LP gas used for residential purposes. Also, the sales tax was taken off of natural gas and electricity in all-electric homes for the billing months of November, December, January, February, March and April.

In the 1977 tax bill, the personal credit for individuals on the tax form was increased by $9.00, effective for the tax year of 1978. At this session, we increased that an additional $10.00 so that the personal tax credit on the 1978 tax return will be $40.00 per person and the personal credit for senior citizens, blind persons and deaf persons will be $60.00.

A new approach was taken concerning the spouse that stays at home and takes care of the children—a new tax credit of $50.00 if either the tax-payer or his spouse devotes time to maintaining a household and caring for a child under the age of 13 rather than being employed. The combined federal adjusted gross income of the tax-payer and spouse must be less than $25,000 in order to qualify for this tax credit.

There has been a reduction in the income tax rates which are applicable to levels of taxable incomes in excess of $25,000. Also, the employers' excise tax, commonly known as the payroll tax, has been eliminated. That repeal is effective for wages paid after June 30, 1978.

The first $7,200 of pension income from private pension plans is not exempt, treating it thus the same way public pensions are now being treated. The $7,200 exemption is reduced by social security, railroad retirement benefits, and the amount by which the individual's federal adjusted gross income exceeds $13,000.

There has been adopted a $140.00 tax credit for income rank or below. In addition, there were other provisions which would affect low income wage earners. All in all, I believe that the Legislature in the last two years has done a good job of addressing many of the problems that we are facing.

On another subject, I would urge you to look closely at the proposal which would repeal our ordinance dealing with Gay Rights. I certainly can appreciate the emotion which is attached to the situation, but I find that this provision has been on the books now for many years without any problems having occurred. I hope that each of you would seriously consider whether or not this provision, if repealed, would work injustices on some people in our society. I think many of you have already seen Archbishop Roach's statement concerning this issue. I would hope that you would give this serious consideration.

The many calls and letters over the past months have been greatly appreciated. I hope that you would continue to keep in contact. Lastly, I would like to again express my deep appreciation to Mr. Mischke and The Highland Villager for allowing me to communicate with you.

Area women win St. Patrick's Day marathon prizes

The 6th annual Saint Patrick's Day Mini-Marathon saw a record 475 participants hoofing it across the Summit Avenue islands from the College of St. Thomas to the State Capitol.

First and second place finishers in the marathon's four divisions received cash prizes which were then donated to the charities of their choice.

Of the eight cash prize winners, two are from the Highland area. Both took top honors in the Women's Division.

They and their chosen charities are: 1st place—Shona Hillman, 1600 Grand Ave., $50 to Multiple Sclerosis; 2nd place—Judy Lutter, 1897 Summit Ave., $25 to St. Croix Valley Girl Scout Council.

'HAVEN FOR HOMOSEXUALS'

Dear Editor,

If the Archdiocesan priests (represented by the Priests' Senate) have their way, St. Paul could become a haven for homosexuals. By giving them extensive rights under the St. Paul ordinance, we already have the situation where Twin City "gay" activists traveled to Florida and recruited homosexuals to come to the Twin Cities to live and work. According to newspaper accounts, many accepted. A disproportionate number of them were teachers.

Are we prepared to handle this influx of homosexuals into our community? Are we prepared to pay exorbitant taxes to combat the new epidemic of venereal disease that will be the result of this heavy concentration of homosexuals?

Now is the time to repeal the St. Paul ordinance before it is fully implemented and causes more unfortunate consequences.

KTCA to air ninety-hour Action Auction April 21-29

Public television's marketplace will be open for business April 21-29 as KTCA-TV, Channel 2, presents its ninth annual Action Auction from the Merchandise Mart of the Minnesota State Fair Grounds.

One of the station's major fund-raising events, the auction will feature more than 6,000 items for sale during the 90-hour shopping spree—all of them donated by local companies and private contributors.

During the sale, viewers will be bidding on everything from diamond dinner rings to automatic chicken pluckers, a Hawaiian vacation to a ride in a Minnesota State Highway Patrol car.

The most expensive item on the auction block to date is a 52-day cruise around the continent of South America, valued at $14,310. A bit closer to home, a trip to a Nashville recording session with country western singer Sherwin Linton is also up for sale.

Other merchandise includes a $3,300 totem pole to be carved during the broadcast, a talking Bible, a sport and ski boat, designer-labeled clothing, a riding lawn mower, refrigerators, microwave ovens, computer and audio visual courses, a $1,600 drafting table, a cannon ball bed and a $2,300 porcelain figurine.

On April 9, art and antique collectors will get a first-hand look at a fine display of donated pieces during the first annual Art and Antique Preview at the Calhoun Beach Club. The highest sealed bids on the art and antiques will become the opening bids during the auction.

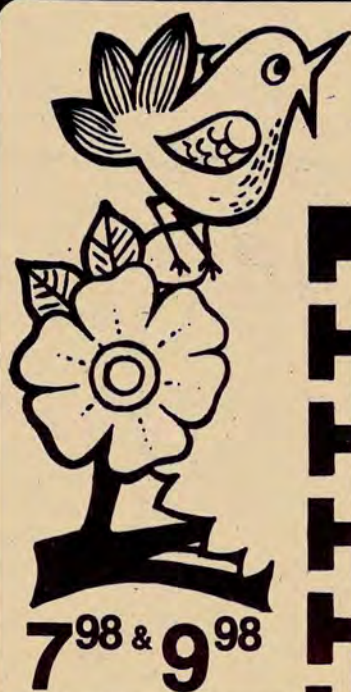

Items not found in typical stop-and-shop spots will go up for sale on the auction "I Wish" board. Among the nearly 100 "I Wishers" are a pair of tickets to see Beverly Sills in the opening night Metropolitan Opera production of Thais; dinners with Governor and Mrs. Rudy Perpich, Mayor and Mrs. George Latimer, and Congressman and Mrs. Bruce Vento; a lunch and tour of the State Capitol with Secretary of State Joan Grove; chauffeured nights on the town in a Rolls-Royce; and a ride in a hot air balloon.

Other "I Wish" highlights include a Lake Minnetonka cruise with WCCO-TV's Sue Cox; a fishing trip with Minneapolis Tribune outdoor columnist Ron Schara; a tennis match with WCCO-TV's Al Austin; a caricature by the Minneapolis Star's Craig MacIntosh; a personalized doodle by Twin Cities doodle king Sam Graiss; and a chance as guest announcer on KDAN radio. By the time the final sale is completed on April 29, more than 100,000 bids will have been placed.

Donations to Action Auction of merchandise or services valued at $40 or more are welcome up to the last day of the auction. Contributions can be made by calling the KTCA-TV Action Auction office at 646-4611.

Jean-Francois Millet's masterpiece painting, The Gleaners, on loan from the Louvre in Paris, will make its United States debut at the Minneapolis Institute of Arts from April 2 through June 4. One of the best-known 19th century French paintings in the world, The Gleaners presents three peasant women who are fated to bend their backs gathering wisps of grain left behind by the harvesters. At the time of its creation, the French Revolution had already elevated the life of ordinary people to a new prominence. The Gleaners stood for social and political involvement in the public mind.

Early passport applications advised

With passport applications expected to exceed the two previous years, postmasters of St. Paul and Minneapolis have advised international travelers to apply for their passports as soon as possible.

The U.S. Passport Office expects post offices to receive at least 100,000 more passport applications in 1978 than the million plus in 1977, a year that surpassed the previous peak year of 1976 by more than 200,000.

The St. Paul and Minneapolis postmasters suggest applying for a passport even if travelers haven't pinned down when and where they want to go. Applicants should allow at least a month to receive their passports.

Mac Luncheon Club meetings scheduled

Macalester College Alumni and the general public are invited to attend two meetings of the Macalester Luncheon Club which will be held Tuesday, April 18 at the North Star Center Ballroom in Minneapolis and Wednesday, April 19 at the St. Paul Athletic Club.

Both meetings will begin with a reception at 11:45 a.m. followed by lunch at 12:15 p.m. and the program. Roger K. Mosvick, associate professor and chairman of the Macalester Speech Communication and Dramatic Arts Department, will speak at both meetings on "The Future of Managerial Communication."

The cost for each luncheon is $5.50, payable at the door. Reservations are due by Wednesday, April 12.

Webster School round-up slated

Kindergarten Round-up at Webster Magnet School, 707 Holly Ave., will be held on all four Thursdays next month—April 6, 13, 20 and 27.

Children eligible for kindergarten next fall may visit the kindergarten classrooms with their parents from 9:00 to 11:00 a.m. or 1:00 to 2:30 p.m. on any of those four days.

Basketry course offered at library

A four-part fiber basketry workshop will be offered at the Highland Park Branch Library, 1974 Ford Pkwy., beginning Thursday, April 6.

Sponsored by the library, COMPAS and the St. Paul Parks and Recreation Department, the workshop will cover the basic techniques for mats, baskets and decorative fiber art. Classes will meet all four Thursday evenings in April from 6:00 until 7:30 p.m. A materials fee of $2.00 per person will be charged.

To register, stop by the library or call 698-0823.

Getting a sneak preview of a few drawings by St. Paul artist Gary Frick, these St. Thomas academy mothers get set for the STA Mothers' Club annual silent auction, to be held at 7:00 p.m. Saturday, April 8 at the school. Frick's drawings will be among more than 200 items auctioned in an effort to raise over $20,000 for financial aid programs at St. Thomas Academy. Pictured above are, left to right: Marilyn Berg, 1865 Bayard; Pat Schaak, 71 Otis Lane; Patsy Emmer, Edina; Gary Frick; and Kathy Hanousek, 180 So. Mississippi River Blvd.

"Never learned so much in such a short period!"

Ruth Dunn of the Hutchinson Leader, a 1977 Newspaper Skills Course graduate, says:

"I had never learned so much in such a short period of time as I did during the MNA Newspaper Skills Course."

The course was an intensive view of the newspaper field and helped me discover a new career. I left teaching for the job I have at The Hutchinson Leader."

This summer—from June 5 through June 30—The Minnesota Newspaper Association will conduct its tenth annual "Newspaper Skills Course" at the Anoka-Hennepin Area Vocational Technical School. Purpose of the course is to train interested persons in the skills of journalism.

To qualify, you need [1] to have a high school diploma, [2] to pass an entrance English-usage exam, [3] to be able to type at least 35 words a minute, and, most importantly, [4] to have a deep and serious interest in newspaper work.

Cost of the Newspaper Skills Course is $60 for Minnesota residents. Fees and supplies will cost about $45. Students will be required to have a 35mm camera with a single lens reflex. Scholarship loans are available.

It's a tough course, but if you graduate it could be the start of a rich and satisfying career for you. If you're interested, fill out the form below and send it in!

A close substitute is not enough

We have the right tire for your foreign car

Oh yes, an American brand tire will fit on your wheel, but it could be up to an inch and one half larger than the tire that is supposed to be on that wheel. This may cause a clearance problem, throw off your speedometer and odometer readings and even change the gearing in your car.

We do it right

Have you ever had your tires balanced by a high speed computer in one of the big shops, and yet vibrations was not removed or even got worse?

It could have been because your tires were only balanced and not inspected for radial and lateral run-out. This needs to be done manually, and we take the time to do it.

- Vibration Removal
- Guaranteed Mag Wheel Service

'78 Catholic Appeal reaches 90 percent of $2.7 million goal

Pledges totaling $2,463, 646 or 90 percent of the $2.7 million goal, have been received in the 1978 Catholic Appeal campaign, according to a recent announcement by Thomas E. Holloran, Appeal chairman.

Reports have been received from 216 of the 224 parishes in the Archdiocese of St. Paul and Minneapolis. Of these, 59 reported results over their goals and 108 have exceeded the amount they raised in the 1977 appeal. At last count, more than 70,000 Catholics had made pledge commitments to the drive.

The Catholic Appeal will help fund a variety of charitable and educational efforts, including the Catholic Charities program for the aging, Seton Center's pro-life counseling programs, Manalife, respect life programs, Catholic Rural Life, the Urban Affairs Commission and the Calix Society.

Three new programs this year are Continuing Education and Spiritual Renewal for Priests, the Family Life Commission, and St. Joseph's Home for Children.

In addition, the Appeal drive will offer inner-city and rural schools assistance and high school scholarships for needy students.

Ryan and Rauenhorst receive annual awards at St. Thomas

Two College of St. Thomas alumni, both known internationally in their respective fields, received awards recently at the college's annual St. Thomas Day celebration.

They are Joseph M. Ryan, M.D., medical director of the St. Joseph's Hospital department of nuclear medicine, and Gerald A. Rauenhorst, Edina-based industrialist and builder.

Dr. Ryan received the annual Humanitarian award, and Rauenhorst, the Distinguished Alumnus award. Both are presented annually to outstanding St. Thomas alumni by the college and its alumni association.

Two additional award selections were announced at the founder's day dinner. M.A. Selim, assistant professor and chairman of the Economics department at St. Thomas, was named winner of the Professor of the Year award, a Terrence Fleming, a senior from Winona, was named the 48th winner of the "Tommy" award.

Dr. Ryan, 425 Mt. Curve Blvd., earned his B.A. at St. Thomas in 1924, and his medical degree at St. Louis University in 1929. He practiced medicine in St. Paul until the early years of World War II when he served as chief of medicine for the Manhattan Project which developed the atomic bomb in Oak Ridge, Tennessee.

He returned to St. Paul and became chief of staff at St. Joseph's Hospital in 1951 and chief of medicine the following year. In 1941 he organized and developed St. Joseph's Seaton Center, a special facility for unwed mothers.

Among awards and honors he previously received are the Catholic Social Service award, State of Minnesota Citation of Honor, Pioneer in Nuclear Medicine award, and the Minnesota State Medical Association's President's award.

Rauenhorst is a 1948 graduate of St. Thomas, a member of its Board of Trustees, former first chairman of the President's Council, and former national alumni chairman of the 1963 Program for Great Teaching.

Born in Minneapolis, he was reared in Olivia, Minnesota, entered St. Thomas in 1945, and was graduated three years later with a Bachelor of Arts in Economics. He then attended Marquette University and earned a Bachelor of Civil Engineering degree in 1951.

Soon after leaving Marquette, he formed his own construction business in Minneapolis with an initial capital of $354. Rauenhorst Corporation today is a multi-million dollar construction and development enterprise, recognized nationally among the most important in the field.

Rauenhorst is a past president of the Minneapolis Suburban Serra Club and former governor of District 7, Serra International. He is a member of the College of St. Catherine President's Council and has worked for many years as a member and chairman of the American Board of Trustees of Sogang Jesuit College in Seoul, Korea. St. Thomas conferred on him an honorary Doctor of Laws degree in 1971.

Drinkwine appears in benefit concert

Local folksinger and classical guitarist Paul Drinkwine will perform in a benefit concert at 8:00 p.m. Friday, March 31 in Jeanne d'Arc Auditorium at the College of St. Catherine. Admission is $1.50.

A cosmic concert

Minn. Orchestra to present Music from Outer Space

A Star Wars Concert and Laser Show will be presented by the Minnesota Orchestra at 8:00 p.m. Friday, July 28 in the St. Paul Civic Center arena.

The program, entitled "Music From Outer Space," will feature musical scores from the films Star Wars, Close Encounters of the Third Kind, 2001: A Space Odyssey, and Holst's The Planets. Arranger-conductor-composer Newton Warland will conduct the extravaganza.

The multi-media production was first performed last November by Zubin Mehta and the Los Angeles Philharmonic in the Hollywood Bowl. It sold out to a capacity audience of 17,500 music fans.

Since then productions of the same kind have been performed by the Dallas Symphony Orchestra, the Houston Symphony, and other major orchestras throughout the country.

Billed as a "science fiction spectacular" and "cosmic concert" by other orchestras, the production will feature a light and laser show, visual effects, and an "electric symphony," where every instrument of the full orchestra is miked and amplified.

Tickets, expected to go fast, are now on sale at Orchestra Hall, the St. Paul Civic Center Box Office, and Dayton's ticket offices.

'El Grande de Coca Cola' opens MMT spring season

Despite the explosion which ripped through its offices at the Commodore Hotel last month, the Minnesota Music Theatre Company has rallied to produce a spring theatrical season. El Grande de Coca Cola, a comic musical revue written by Ron House, John Neville-Andrews, Alan Sherman, Diz White and Sally Willis, is now playing at Landfall Variety Playhouse, 2967 Hudson Road.

El Grande is running concurrently with MMT's production of The Housewives' Cantata. Cantata plays on Friday evenings and El Grande on Saturdays. Both performances begin with dinner at 6:30 p.m., followed by the play at 8:00 and dancing at 9:00 p.m.

Directed by James

Rayfield, chairman of the Dramatics Department of Alcorn State University in Lorman, Mississippi, El Grande de Coca Cola is set in a cabaret of questionable quality in Trujillo, Honduras. The dialogue consists of English as well as Spanish and French cognates—words which sound much like their English counterparts—delivered at a brisk clip by impresario Pepe Hernandez and his "Parada des Estrellas." The stars, all members of Pepe's family, perform their nightclub acts in typically slapstick style.

Cost of the dinner-theatre package is $9.95 per person. For reservations or further information, call the MMT box office at 221-0282.

Actors Theatre of St. Paul takes a humorous look at the family with the Twin Cities premiere of a new comedy by St. Louis playwright James Nicholson in its third show of the season, Down by the Gravois (Under the Anheuser-Busch).

The comedy, which will run through April 19, introduces the O'Grady family as they drink beer, celebrate their father's birthday, drink beer, play soccer, drink beer, dabble at romance and drink more beer.

Actors Theatre and Capitol City Distributing, Inc., area distributors of Anheuser-Busch, have joined together for festivities during the run of the show. The Actors Theatre lobby even houses a collection of Anheuser-Busch memorabilia from pre-prohibition days to the present.

Joining the resident company of Actors Theatre for the show are guest actors Clive Rosengren, familiar to many from his work at the Cricket Theatre, and Don Amendolia, who just ended a season at the Guthrie.

Baritone Michael Riley portrays "Figaro" and soprano Marsha Hunter "Susanna" in the Minnesota Opera production of Mozart's "The Marriage of Figaro," opening April 7 at the Guthrie.

Minnesota Opera Company to present 'Marriage of Figaro'

An Italian opera set in Spain, derived from a French play, composed by an Austrian and sung in English by the Minnesota Opera company opens Friday, April 7 at the Guthrie Theatre.

Mozart's The Marriage of Figaro tells the tale of one of the most hectic wedding days on record as Figaro and his Susanna encounter mistaken identities, eavesdroppers hidden in closets, a lecherous count, jilted lovers, an outraged gardener and love-struck teenagers in one of the funniest and most melodious operas in the company's repertoire.

The production features baritone Michael Riley singing the role of Figaro and soprano Marsha Hunter as his lovely Susanna; Count and Countess Almaviva are sung by baritone John Brandstetter and soprano Barbara Brandt.

Other members of the cast include soprano Susan Chastain, mezzo sopranos Janis Hardy and Dawn Timmerman, tenors Yale Marshall and Vern Sutton, baritone Robert Galbraith and bass Carl Glaum. Members of the Minnesota Opera Studio sing the roles of members of Count Almaviva's household.

Other artists involved in the production are music director Jere Lantz, stage director H. Wesley Balk, set and properties designer Bruce Miller, costume designer Deborah Dryden and lighting designer Jean Montgomery.

Performances are April 7, 9, 15, 18 and 23. Sunday performances begin at 7:00 p.m.; all other performances are at 8:00 p.m.

The Villager's Guide to Food, Fun & Entertainment

More than mime, the artistry of mask theatre duo Berlovitz-Serrand comes to the Edyth Bush Theatre for seven performances beginning April 13.

French mask-theatre duo to perform at Edyth Bush

French mask-theatre artists Berlovitz-Serrand will return to the Twin Cities for seven performances at the Edyth Bush Theatre, 690 So. Cleveland Ave., on April 13-16 and 20-22. The shows will be the duo's only Twin Cities performances on their 1978 North American tour.

Those who remember Berlovitz-Serrand from their tour with the Guthrie in 1977 will also remember their touring show, A Party For Two. Composed of two plays, Jeux de Masques and Paf, the show demonstrates Berlovitz-Serrand's unique blend of visual comedy, mime and Chaplinesque humor.

Besides A Party for Two, the team will present the area premiere of My Foot My Tutor by Peter Handke.

Barbra Berlovitz and Dominique Serrand met at the school of the famous French mime teacher, Jacques Lecoq, as did the popular Mummenshanz performers.

Like Mummenshanz, Berlovitz-Serrand quickly shed the restrictions of classical mime to explore their own creativity in theatre-without-words.

A Party for Two will be presented on April 13, 14, 16 and 20. My Foot My Tutor will be presented on April 15, 21 and 22. Curtain time for all performances is 8:00 p.m.

Tickets are available at all Dayton's box offices and at the door.

Minneapolis Civic Orchestra plays free concerts

The Civic Orchestra of Minneapolis, under the direction of Robert Bobzin, will present a concert at 8:00 p.m. Tuesday, April 11 at Normandale Community College, 9700 France Ave. So., Minneapolis. The concert will be repeated at 8:00 p.m. Sunday, April 16 in Northrop Auditorium at the University of Minnesota.

The program for both evenings will open with the world premiere of Winaki Win by Lloyd Ultan, chairman of the music department at the U of M. Ultan was commissioned by the Civic Orchestra to compose the work in honor of its 25th anniversary. "Winaki Win" means "We Live Together in Peace" in the language of the Ojibwe Indians.

James Callahan, a member of the faculty at the College of St. Thomas, will be the featured soloist in Rachmaninoff's "Piano Concerto No. 1, Opus 1." The concert will conclude with Nielsen's "Symphony No. 2, Opus 16."

Both concerts are open to the public free of charge.

Not only that, but we have discount packages called "early bird specials". And that means if you buy before April 15, you'll not only miss the increased prices, you'll save even more on our large discounts.

So why wait until after April 15? Buy in '78 at '77 prices. Call or come on over to the Sussel Showroom on Como Avenue, right across from the fairgrounds. See our model home and garages, and make your own choice.

"We wouldn't join a real estate franchise until we found Realty World."

There is no topic that has changed the face of our industry so drastically in the past five years as franchising.

Quite frankly, we've had our doubts about franchises. We've spent the past several years watching them grow, weighing the pros and cons, but not finding one with which we felt comfortable—until we found Realty World.

Why Realty World?

We've worked diligently since the day we opened our first office to build a fine reputation as professionals in our field. We were familiar with the many advantages of a franchise, but above all it had to have the one important ingredient we were looking for: Quality!

We are particularly impressed with the quality of brokers who have joined Realty World, not only in our area but all over the U.S. and Canada. The training and on-going educational programs are second to none, and will assist us in attracting and training the best sales associates in the business—and that's the way to provide the finest professional attention to our buyers and sellers.

And we are still us, retaining our independence of operation, but now offering so many more services than we could ever hope to offer before, with a major emphasis on quality.

We made the decision. We joined the franchise—the one that will help us stay a step ahead of a changing world. Realty World.

Cordially,

Hiawatha YMCA candy drive is on

Some 50 youngsters from the Hiawatha Branch YMCA will begin knocking on neighborhood doors March 31 asking area residents to help them earn their own way to their favorite summer Y camp or program activity.

The youngsters will be selling boxes of Mint Truffles, Toffettes and Peanut Crunch at $1.50 per box. Each YMCA candy seller and product will be clearly identified by the YMCA emblem.

According to Lynne Schulz, Community Program director for the Hiawatha Branch, the money earned by each youngster is applied directly to the YMCA program of their choice.

The YMCA's "earn our way" candy project will conclude April 22.

DARC seeks funds for '78 camperships

The Campership Committee of the Dakota County Association for Retarded Citizens (DARC) is currently seeking support from other community groups and individuals for the 1978 DARC Campership Fund.

The fund is used to assist children and adults in paying for outdoor camping experiences at Camp Friendship in Annandale. Operated by the Minnesota Association for Retarded Citizens, Camp Friendship serves ages five through adult with varying levels of retardation.

For further information on Camp Friendship, contact the DARC office at 457-2588.

Manager of Development. The pledges came from 7,863 new or renewing members, a 45 percent increase over the same period last year.

"Festival '78" which concluded March 19, was highlighted by special programming ranging from "Live From the Grand Ole Opry" to "Live From the Metropolitan Opera." It included a nationwide 30-hour marathon featuring notables from throughout the entertainment and broadcast industry.

"This dynamic example of increasing public support gratifies us all, and encourages us to press ahead with our plans to make Twin Cities Public Television one of the top public television stations in the country," said William H. Kobin, President and General Manager of Channels 2 and 17.

"With this ongoing splendid viewer support, along with continuing and increasing business and foundation financial assistance, we're going to succeed."
