"Theatre of the Moment" at Macalester Nov. 19-23

Macalester students, in a two-part "Theatre of the Moment," will improvise scenes around the theme "From Womb to Tomb" and perform two short plays by black authors. The consecutive performances are scheduled at 8 p.m. thru Nov. 22, with a 3 p.m. matinee Nov. 23, in the Janet Wallace Fine Arts Center Theatre. Tickets are on sale at the Macalester Box Office, 647-6343.

Part one, directed by Douglas P. Hatfield, associate professor of dramatic arts, will include a series of vignettes improvised by 26 students portraying man's journey through life as seen by the present college generation. Sets, costumes and music which have evolved from the creation during rehearsal will provide a flexible, informal background for spontaneous movement and dialogue on stage.

Hatfield has used improvisation in his acting classes and in rehearsals for other production, but this is the first time he has used the technique for public performance. He is relating it to the type of theatre now being performed in New York City by a company headed by Polish director Jerzy Grotowski.

Part two will be performed by 20 Mac student members of Black Arts Midwest, a repertory group presently operating out of the college's black community center, Black House. They will perform "The Militant Preacher," by Ben Caldwell, a playwright living in New York City; "Black Sketches," improvisation from Blacklife, and "Insurrection," by Ameer Baraka, director of the Spirit House Movers, a New Ark repertory group. Baraka has published numerous plays, books and poetry under the name Leroi Jones.

Youngdahl To Speak At St. Leo's Church

The Reverend L. William Youngdahl will deliver the main homily at the Thanksgiving Eve Vigil to be held at St. Leo's Catholic Church, 2055 Bohland Ave., St. Paul, on Nov. 26 at 7:30 p.m. His topic for the evening will be "A Time to be Human."

Rev. Youngdahl is the Coordinator of Urban Progress at Augsburg College.

Participating in the ecumenical spirit of the evening will be Rabbi Bernard Raskas, of Temple of Aaron, St. Paul, who will compose the liturgical portion of the service.

Twelve Protestant choirs will join with St. Leo's choir under the direction of Roger Claesgens.

Mark Waters Story On KTCA

"The Mark Waters Story," the tale of the Honolulu reporter who wrote his own obituary before dying of lung cancer from smoking, will be shown over KTCA-TV, Channel 2, Nov. 25 at 3 p.m.

The program stars Richard Boone (Paladin) in the title role. Beautiful Hawaiian scenery in the Oahu area forms a background for the film, which was produced by KHET, University of Hawaii educational television station.

The obituary began, "Cigarettes were the death of me." Mark Waters wrote it during the week before lung cancer claimed his life Feb. 1, 1966.

Seminar On Religion Teaching At Seminary

A three-part seminar on how religion is being taught in Catholic schools today will be demonstrated and discussed at St. Paul Seminary on November 23 and December 4. All sessions begin at 8 p.m. in the Brady Center Auditorium at the St. Paul Seminary, 2200 Grand Ave., St. Paul.

Sponsored by the Adult Education Committee of five St. Paul Catholic Churches: St. Leo's, St. Gregory, St. Therese, Nativity and Holy Spirit, the seminars will include video tapes of actual religion classes conducted at three of the schools in the primary, intermediate and upper grade levels.

Each seminar will include small discussion groups with religion instructors from the five schools.

Mark Waters' final bylined story appeared in the Honolulu Star-Bulletin and was later reprinted in Reader's Digest and other publications.

In an article which appeared in the Star-Bulletin executive producer Cliff A. Eblen said of the film, "The emphasis in this is going to be on Mark's love of life and joy of living—living in this place he loved so much and knowing he was killing himself and not being able to stop it. The irony is really the point."

The production was made possible by a grant from the U.S. Public Health Service and the Hawaii Inter-Agency Council on Smoking and Health. Richard Boone, who also directed the film, contributed his time and talent to the production because he believes so strongly in the story.

HAVE YOU HAD TOO MUCH OF A GOOD THING?

Everywhere we look there are cosmetic ads that pound and pound at us about the importance of keeping beautiful. They tell us with every skillful combination of words possible how awful it is if a line is permitted to show, or if people should guess our true age. Fashion ads screech their warnings and hairstylists whisper their hypnotic promises so insinuatingly, that it's no wonder we have become a nation of neurotics.

The pressures are so powerful that any woman who does escape and isn't conscious of her appearance every minute of the day is bound to get a guilt complex and begin asking around for the name of a good psychiatrist sooner or later.

If you have either of those problems, Cheer up! We're on your side. When there is just too much of a good thing, and you need a guide to find your way thru the beauty jungle, look us up. All is not lost.

SYNTHETIC WIGS—CARE-FREE MAINTENANCE

Current models in dynel or other synthetics are priced between $25.00 and $35.00. They are light-weight and can be set for as little as $5.00. You may wash the wig yourself and style it on your own head. Should you prefer human hair above your own, your costs will go up but not a great deal depending on color and other factors such as frosted, or blonde. To these initial costs you will have to add the costs of upkeep and they are pretty much the same as they are for caring for your own hair. Wigs hold their setting well and you will find maintenance call for every two or three weeks or so. We are calling this to your attention now as you will find that Wigs, Wiglets, Falls and all Hair Goods to be excellent Christmas gifts. Gift Certificates are available and we will be happy to serve you for your Christmas Hair Goods needs.

EDITORIALS

We certainly think it would be wise of NSP to shore up their impoverished public image by laying an early payment on the City of St. Paul so that some of the incompetent politicians down there will live long enough in office to die of air or water pollution with the rest of us.

It is incredible, however, that such a request was made in the first place.

Businesses are operated with a plan, and the economics of running a business today dictate that cash flow be controlled. We do not expect the Mayor or many of the Councilmen to understand this notion. Their own work shows a lack of knowledge in financial planning. The ploy to get an early payment out of NSP to ward off city bankruptcy is a clear example of political expedience and disrespect for the intelligence of you and me. In the first place, the request must tell us that the Mayor and all the Council members have not the slightest faith in their original plan which was to hold a referendum on Dec. 9th for an income surtax. NSP, which has provided a favorable hunting grounds recently for politicians of either political conviction, is clearly being blackmailed. Whether NSP submits, or rejects, the public cannot forget who deserves the black-eye. The Mayor and the Council, unable to solve their money problem, unable to promote the referendum on income surtax, unable to table a sales tax for political reasons, unable to invent a better plan than either, unable to sell themselves and their thinking on any important matter concerning leadership, planning, and innovation in City Government in St. Paul, are now out to save their necks in next Spring's Election by passing the burden of the buck on to a publicly held corporation. In their narrow-minded way, they are saying: "NSP was offered the chance to save us all. If they do, we are heroes for asking them, and if they don't they have proven again they are not interested in the public welfare." We wonder why corporate life in these parts is not very high on the list of many large American firms? Perhaps the Chamber of Commerce should depict the little peanut brain politicians we have heer in a blackmailing scenario such as the one they've foisted on NSP. It could be placed in the slide presentation for comic relief—between the churches on Summit Avenue and the White Bear Lake Regatta.

St. Thomas, U of M Graduate Program

The College of St. Thomas has been informed that the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools has voted to continue accreditation of the college's bachelor's and master's degree programs, as a result of its decennial inspection, and that preliminary accreditation has been granted for its Specialist in Education degree.

St. Thomas and the University of Minnesota are the only graduate program institutions in this area which are authorized to confer this degree. North Central stated in its report that this is a logical step at St. Thomas. "That St. Thomas is qualified to offer this program is attested to by their excellent reputation in producing administrators at the masters level and the favorable comparison of their proposed program to that of the University."

After a sufficient number of graduates come from the new program to permit a fair appraisal, the College will be examined for full accreditation at the new degree level.

Accreditation by North Central is granted after approval by a visiting team of examiners. Visits are made every ten years. Among the areas which are scrutinized are the general plant and facilities, administrative organization, faculty, student body and curriculum.

During the inspection period, St. Thomas had 2073 full-time enrollment students in its undergraduate program and 170 in the graduate level. The faculty consisted of 111 full-time personnel.

DT's Studied At Vets Hospital

The Veterans Administration Hospital in Minneapolis is one of 34 VA hospitals throughout the country participating in a nationwide study on effective treatment of delirium tremens (DT's) — a condition that each year afflicts as many as 200,000 people.

Dr. Arthur J. Klippen, hospital director, said each hospital will observe for 10 days selected male patients under age 60 who have no other serious medical and psychiatric complications.

Patients will be assigned at random to be treated with one of four drugs, each of which has shown promise toward offsetting the severe effects of DT's, a mental and physical condition that sometimes follows heavy intake of alcohol over a long period.

Dr. Klippen said this VA cooperative study is one of 18 now underway at the agency's 166 hospitals. In these studies investigators at VA field stations agree to examine selected problems collectively, making use of the largest volume of clinical material available under a single agency.

Participating hospitals will report data and records to the VA Central Neuropsychiatric Research Laboratory at Perry Point, Md., for analysis. Dr. Richard O. Heilman, chief of the Minneapolis VA hospital's alcoholism treatment unit, is principal investigator in the study.

The project is said to be the largest of its kind. In spite of the high incidence of alcoholism, Dr. Klippen said, there have been few large-scale studies evaluating the effectiveness of different drugs used in the treatment of delirium tremens. Authorities estimate DT's are fatal in 10-15 per cent of the cases, he said.

Airport Issue Report

If the Twin Cities area is to move rapidly to get an airport system ready for the 1970's current discussions must be broadened to include three other major issues — and at least one other major controversy ought to be avoided—says the Citizens League.

In a 50-page report prepared by their Airport Committee and approved by the Board of Directors, the League urged attention be given immediately to:

- Arrangements for paying off the $130,000,000 obligation at Wold-Chamberlain at the same time we are beginning to build and pay for a new major airport—and the effect this obligation may have on delaying or otherwise affecting decisions about a site and the system.

- Ending the "independent district" approach to airport planning which is responsible for current planning troubles, and ensuring that the decision on new airports is fully directed by overall state and metropolitan planning policies.

- Working out a new policy for taxation of private property at the new major or secondary airports by local units of government—one which would recognize the metropolitan character of the facilities and the impact of airport development on the local tax base.

The Airport Committee, which met for nine months, was chaired by Waverly Smith, executive vice president of St. Paul Companies, Inc.

The issue to avoid, the League said, is the question of state take-over of the airports system—which the committee said it fears could result in a delay that would be totally unnecessary.

What is critically needed from the state, the League said, is some direction, currently lacking, in the form of a state airports and transportation plan, about the system into which the metropolitan airports are to fit. Given this, the League said, ownership and operation of the local system can and should continue through the competent local airport agency, such as in the MAC act of 1943, created by the state for this purpose.

The League did recommend, however, that the present MAC be reorganized to have its jurisdiction cover the seven-county area, to provide for suburban representation and to bring it under the planning and policy direction of the Metropolitan Council, in the manner the Legislature has provided for in the sewer, open space, and other metropolitan operating programs.

The League said it was troubled by the lack of clear, public indications that questions of financing the next major airport are yet resolved . . . because of the way the present system of finance (in which development is underwritten by payments from airlines and other users) might affect the timing of a decision about moving out of Wold and the consideration which can be given to alternative sites. If the public wants major commercial operations off of Wold, some larger public role in the retirement of the outstanding debt may be required. To settle this question, the League recommends the Metropolitan Council explore the issue of airport finance, and, if it becomes necessary, also consider the possibility of public support—preferably through a direct charge on departing passengers, as a way of paying for a portion of the outstanding debt.

Basic inconsistencies exist, the League reported, in policies for taxing private property as be-

Candy Cane Ball For Charity

The Saint Paul Jaycee Wives will hold their 18th annual Candy Cane Charity Ball on Saturday, November 29th, in the Minnesota Ballroom at the St. Paul Hilton Hotel. The public is cordially invited to attend.

There will be dancing to the music of Jo Vavro's Band from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. with an intermission floorshow to entertain those attending which begins at 9:30 p.m. The theme of the floorshow will be "Fly Me to the Moon" featuring two dance lines with Jaycee Wives, the Mary Vavro dancers, and the entertainment of the Gallivants from Gallivants Restaurant. State Rep. Joseph T. O'Neill will emcee this portion of the program.

The entire proceeds from the Ball will be donated to the Early Education Unit for Hearing Impaired Children housed at Tilden School. This school provides services to hearing impaired preschool children so that they are given the opportunity to acquire language understanding at the same age and pace as normal children. They plan to use the donated funds to supply the school with a special electronic amplifying device which will give further advantages in teaching these children.

Tickets are available at Daytons, from Mrs. John Donohue, 1205 Westminster, St. Paul or Mrs. Raymond Niemann, 188 Juniper, Cottage Grove. Tickets will also be available at the door the night of the Ball. Formal wear is optional.

CTC OPENS "CINDERELLA" NOVEMBER 29

"Cinderella," directed by Bain Boehlke, the Children's Theatre Company's leading actor-teacher, will open for the holiday season at The Minneapolis Institute of Arts, Saturday, November 29, with performances at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. and on Sunday at 2 p.m. The play will run through January 4 with special holiday weekday performances.

The Children's Theatre group will perform a play-within-a-play when it poses as an acting company in northern England in the late 1800's, producing "Cinderella" together with musical-act-entertainments (olios) for a local holiday festival.

Over 300 versions of "Cinderella" exist, coming from every part of the world. The story as most of us know it today was first published in 1697 with other Mother Goose stories, written and published by French poet and critic, Charles Perrault. The latter version of the story, adapted by John Davidson, will be used, with the setting in France in the time of Louis XV. The costumes, music, and dance of those times will have elements of the music-hall, or vaudeville, such as a man playing the role of the step-mother.

John Donhue, the theatre's artistic director, designed the costumes, and Barbara Tyirin created patterns and with her staff made the costumes. Traditional carols and music for the French court are combined by music director, Roberta Carlson, as the audience is taken from 19th century England to 18th century France and back, again and again.

In addition to the regular weekend performances, many special weekday presentations to school groups are given.

Veterans' Widow Pension Plan

Veterans' widows were reminded today that if they have a limited income they may be eligible for a Veterans Administration pension.

John R. Murphy, Manager, VA Center, St. Paul, said that under current law, qualified widows of wartime veterans who have died of causes not related to their service are eligible. Their income must be no more than $2,000 if they have no children, and no more than $3,200 if they do.

If a widow does not qualify for a pension because of a higher income or because she remarries, her children may still be eligible to receive pensions.

Murphy said pensions are based on need. Compensation, meantime, is paid to the survivors of veterans who die of service-connected causes, and the income of the survivor has no bearing on eligibility or the amount paid, he said.

Persons seeking further information were urged to contact the VA Center in the new Federal Building at Fort Snelling or their nearest Veterans County Service Officer.

'U' President Moos Issues Policy For Faculty On Campus Disruptions

What should a University professor do if a group of demonstrators enters his classroom? If hecklers try to disrupt a campus meeting?

University of Minnesota President Malcolm Moos, in a policy statement issued today to faculty members and administrative officials, defines the role of the University and of individual teachers in case of disruptive events on the Twin Cities campus.

Prepared by the Office of Student Affairs under Vice President Paul Cashman, the statement lists the standards currently used in judging whether or not an event is to be considered "disruptive;" sets down procedures for faculty members faced with disruptions in the classroom or elsewhere on campus; and defines the disciplinary procedures followed by the University after such an event.

In general, behavior that seriously interferes with teaching, administration or other University activities, or that involves injury to persons or property, is considered disruptive.

Examples of such behavior include demonstrations in classrooms, laboratories, study centers, offices, and meeting places; blocking access to or creating noise interfering with activities in those places; and willfully failing to comply with instruction from a University officer acting within the scope of his authority.

A teacher, chairman of a public meeting or any other University officer is instructed to call the University Police immediately if a disruption appears to threaten life or property. He is then requested to call the Office of Student Affairs to provide details on the situation.

If a disruption represents a "serious intrusion" into normal activities, and, in the judgment of the University representative present, cannot be tolerated, he can adjourn and report the incident to the proper offices, or call in a representative of the Office of Student Affairs.

In either case, he may inform demonstrators that they are violating the University policy on campus demonstrations and will be disciplined by University authorities (or, in the case of non-student demonstrators, in accordance with civil and criminal law), though he is advised to consult a representative of the Office of Student Affairs, if possible, before declaring a disruption to exist.

Certain procedures are standard in the various disciplinary bodies within the University. These include notifying a student of the complaint or charge filed against him and granting him a hearing before a University committee. He can choose to be represented by an adviser, call witnesses, and hear evidence presented against him. Appeals through proper channels can go to the president and the regents.

Clean Litter Area . . .

Girl Scouts Good Scouts

While the teachers were away, the children played — except for the Girl Scouts from the Seward, Adams, and University Area schools who cleaned up the river banks on Friday, October 17.

Trash had accumulated over a period of years without any removal due to the wide beaches below the East River Road from the Franklin Bridge to the St. Paul border which are inaccessible to Park Board trucks. As a community service project, through the Minneapolis Girl Scout Council, Junior, Cadette, and Senior Girl Scouts from Seward, Adams, Pratt, Marcy, and Tuttle Elementary Schools and from University-Marshall High School worked on the second Minnesota Education School holiday, Friday, October 17, from 10 a.m. until after 3 p.m. They raked the debris into piles. The debris consisted, in part, of some 25,785 beer cans.

The next step in the Girl

Scout project was to find someone to help remove the trash. Word of the cleanup caper got around and within several days offers to help poured in.

On Wednesday, November 5, after school, about 3:15 p.m., the gung-ho Girl Scouts gathered trash on the river bank near the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children, 2025 East River Road. They packed the trash into bags. At 9 a.m., Thursday, November 6, a 16 ft. aluminum craft manned by a member of the Army Corps of Engineers, Earl Fenton, made as many trips as necessary to transport the debris to the St. Anthony Falls lower lock, 1 Portland Avenue.

Will the Girl Scouts consider the project completed? No, sir, for they're already pondering how to keep the river bank neat and clean. Now all they need is someone to donate garbage cans for the area, or offer to terrace steps down to the river for Sunday strollers, or . . .

Veterans Educational Rights

The Veterans Administration says that certain veterans rights offer a special opportunity to a GI with limited education and income.

Former servicemen can complete high school under the GI Bill and still go on to college or a trade school as a student full-time at $130 a month, according to John Murphy, manager, VA Center, St. Paul.

While these educational rights apply to all qualified veterans who served after Jan. 31, 1955, a Viet-Nam era veteran who has less than one year training beyond high school can supplement his GI check by getting a "transitional appointment" to work for the Federal government while attending school.

While the veteran getting a "transitional appointment" does not have to compete with others for a job, Murphy said, he must have the qualifications required and must agree to complete one full year of education or training leading to a high school diploma or its equivalent. Veterans who do not want further education or training can be given assistance in finding a job at the Veterans Assistance Center in St. Paul.

Murphy said veterans with a limited income who are permanently and totally disabled from reasons not traceable to service may be eligible for a VA pension. Veterans without dependents are eligible if their annual income is no more than $2,000 a year. Veterans with dependents may be eligible if their income is no more than $3,200. Payments range from $29 to $130 a month.

The manager also reminded veterans that procedures have been established to speed up medical care for Viet-Nam veterans. Those who develop medical problems within six months of their release are to be treated immediately when medical need is demonstrated without waiting until the veteran establishes that his ailment is service-connected. Qualified war veterans are also eligible for treatment at VA hospitals for ailments not related to military service, if they are unable to pay the cost of private care.

Murphy said that in recent years the VA has reversed its traditional policy of waiting until the individual veterans come for assistance. The agency now actively seeks out new veterans to inform them of available benefits. Letters individualized by computer are sent to all servicemen upon discharge and local VA offices follow up with phone calls and in some instances with personal visits. Veterans seeking further information are urged to contact the St. Paul VA Center in the new Federal Building at Fort Snelling, or their nearest Veterans County Service Officer.

Effective Group Communication To Be Object of 'U' Workshop

How can a small group — a family, a business or community group, a social actino agency — reach agreement on a plan for action when many divergent points of view are represented?

Through communication of ideas and understanding of the feelings behind them, and by changing the behavior of the people involved, according to John Geier, University of Minnesota communications expert.

As leader of a workshop in effective small-group communication to be held at the University Dec. 1 and 2, Geier will speak on communication techniques, guide participants in applying them in practice sessions, and supervise role-playing exercises.

Among those who have registered for similar workshops in the past are representatives of business and industry, the clergy, social work agencies and community groups such as the League of Women Voters and PTA's. Parents working for better family communication also are invited to attend.

Advance registration is suggested so that participants can submit descriptions of problems encountered in small-group work to Geier prior to the workshop. Information is available from the General Extension Division's department of conferences and institutes in Nolte Center on the Minneapolis campus. The workshop will be held in Nolte Center.

Special Insurance Programs for Retired are Explained

The Greater Minneapolis Chapter #54 and the Greater Area of St. Paul Chapter #123 of the American Association of Retired Persons will hold a special meeting on November 25 at which Samuel G. Boardman, insurance consultant for the AARP will explain and evaluate the various insurance plans available to older persons. In a question and answer period following the meeting, Mr. Boardman will discuss individual cases.

The Luncheon meeting will be held at 1 p.m. in the Sveden House, 2920 27th Avenue, South Minneapolis, Minnesota and is open to the public.

Harold G. Callister, 4513

46th Avenue South, Minneapolis, is President of the Greater Minneapolis AARP Chapter and Mrs. Mae D. Rogers, 2055 Princeton, St. Paul, is President of the Greater Area of St. Paul AARP Chapter.

The American Association of Retired Persons is dedicated to helping older people achieve retirement lives of dignity, purpose and independence. Since many older persons live on fixed incomes, AARP has worked toward stretching retirement dollars by developing the nation's first group health plans for older persons and its own drug service, by mail. Then came the travel service, geared to the membership's special needs. Later advances include insurance plans to work hand-in-hand with Medicare, a nation-wide Driver Improvement Program and a recommended automobile insurance plan with attractive noncancellation features, underwritten by a major American insurance company.

Dr. Osmond

Dr. Humphry Osmond, a research psychiatrist of world renown, will speak on "Schizophrenia as an Illness" this Saturday, November 22 at 8 o'clock in the evening at John Kennedy High School, 9701 Nicollet Avenue. Lecture is open to the public.

Airport Issue Report

tween Wold-Chamberlain and the satellite fields. It is "troubled" that discussion has not yet started as to which policy should be followed in development of a new major airport. Private property at Wold is presently not subject to school district tax levies. The League recommends that this tax subsidy be eliminated for non-air transportation users and that taxes collected from a composite mill levy on taxable property first be used to cushion the temporary loss of tax base to affected units of local government with the remainder being distributed to local government throughout the metropolitan area on the basis of a formula established by the Metropolitan Council.

The Citizens League is a non-partisan, independent educational organization of 3,600 members, founded in 1952, and dedicated to the improvement of local government in the Twin Cities metropolitan area.

PEOPLE OF EVERY AGE ARE NOW TRAVELING young, old and in between . . . Years ago only the wealthy traveled or those who were retired and had the time and money to see the world . . . and except for a very PRIVILEGED FEW young adults were left completely out of the travel scene . . . THINGS HAVE SURE CHANGED . . . what with reduced travel rates and jets almost anyone can afford to "take off" . . . Every year thousands of college students fly to Europe to spend the summer touring independently, sleeping in hostels and getting around the countryside on bikes . . . but not everyone is up to this rugged life. I THINK I'VE FOUND THE ANSWER FOR YOUNG ADULTS AND PARENTS ALIKE . . . last week a young man far from England called on us at the office . . . David Martin-Sperry represents a company that specializes in tours for students . . . Student Travel Overseas Programs or S.T.O.P. Tours are really fascinating . . . As a parent I completely approve because the tours are so well chaperoned (an old fashioned word I know) . . . however, young adults will still love the trips because they are tailored to their likes and needs . . . no "old folks" to cramp their style . . . S.T.O.P. TOURS ARE PLANNED FOR YOUNG ADULTS FROM 15 TO 18 AND 18 TO 26 . . . There isn't space in this column to tell you about all of the individual programs . . . just contact your FAVORITE TRAVEL AGENT and ask for a brochure . . . but I will tell you about just one of the tours . . . TEEN COSMOPOLITAN, 21 DAYS IN EUROPE visiting England, France, Switzerland, Italy, Spain and Portugal . . . Kids jet to NEW YORK then on to LONDON where they sightsee, shop "Mod" Carnaby Street, tour Soho and spend an evening at the theater . . . Bus to PARIS . . . visit Notre Dame, the Louvre, tSe. Chapelle, Les Invalides, Sacre Coeur, shop and relax . . . NEXT LUCERNE where they just relax and enjoy the beautiful Swiss scenery at this famous lakeside resort for a couple of days . . . VENICE is next with a walking tour of the city, leisure time and a swim on the Lido if they like . . . FLORENCE IS FABULOUS the young will enjoy seeing the art treasures and beautiful palaces . . . they have three days to see the sights . . . ROME, AND THE ETERNAL CITY will keep any group interested . . . opera under the stars, a visit to the Sistine Chapel, shopping and plenty of free time . . . three days of fun then on to MADRID . . . no time for boredom here . . . plenty of sightseeing, a visit to the Prado Art Museum plus side trips to other historic points . . . LAST BUT NOT LEAST, LISBON . . . with an excursion to Sintra and the beach at Estoril plus a special party that will introduce the gang to the "Fado" . . . after 21 DAYS THEY JET HOME . . . It's all very educational, entertaining exciting and it's shared with a group of their peers . . . WOULDN'T A TOUR LIKE THIS MAKE A GREAT GRADUATION GIFT? . . . Check on the numerous tours available . . . some as long as 47 days . . . ENOUGH ALREADY, HOW ABOUT THE REST OF US? . . . well there's always LAS VEGAS . . . now is the time to think about a few days at a luxury hotel enjoying a little "adult fun" . . . WELL THE SNOW CAME AND I'M READY TO GO . . . everytime I look at my block long driveway and think about shoveling it I chicken out and start packing my bags . . . I like the sun . . . BUT YOUKNOWTHEREARE PEOPLE WHO LOVE THE SNOW . . . they even go in search of "more snow" and risk a broken leg just to ski down a steep slope . . . UGH! WHAT AN AWFUL WAY TO GO . . . BUT I WON'T NEGLECT YOU "SKI BUFFS" . . . next issue I tell you all about the ski tours available . . . EACH TO HIS OWN.

JFK Memorial Concert Nov. 23

A memorial concert commemorating the sixth anniversary of the death of the late President John F. Kennedy will be presented by the Twin Cities Catholic Choral at 8 p.m. Sunday, November 23 in the Church of the Nativity in St. Paul. The Reverend Richard J. Schuler will direct the 70 voices, a string orchestra of 10 pieces, and organist John Vanella. Four professional soloists will perform with the Choral. They will present the infrequently performed Michael Haydn Requiem in C Minor, and selections from Mozart. Father Schuler is a member of the faculty at the College of St. Thomas, and pastor of St. Agnes Parish in St. Paul.

The concert is free and open to the public. It is the third concert in a series of nine which is being presented by the Church of the Nativity and arranged by Mr. Vanella, director of music for the parish.

St. Thomas Alumni Dance

Back to the campus. That's the big news for the 1969 College of St. Thomas Alumni Dinner-Dance to be held Saturday, Nov. 29, in Murray Hall. After 19 years at Twin City hotels, the annual Tommy alumni social comes home to roost now that facilities are suitable at the College and available during the Thanksgiving weekend.

While all alumni are invited and welcome, the spotlight hits the 25th anniversary class of 1944. The Alumni Association also honors the Cigar Bowl football team and the championship basketball team of 1949, both of which commemorate their 20th anniversaries with special reunions. Other five-year anniversary classes beginning with 1929 are among those holding reunions as part of the Dinner Dance. The Dinner Dance committee hopes to top the 702 attendance record set in 1966.

A candlelight dinner will follow a social hour which begins at 6:30 p.m. Dancing to the music of the Jules Herman Band will follow the dinner program. For those who prefer reminiscing over dancing, the college library archives office will provide the usual displays honoring the anniversary groups, and the audio-visual department will provide movies of the Cigar Bowl games and the previous season as well as movies of the classic St. Thomas vs. Hamline basketball game of 1949 played before a standing-room-only crowd of 9,000 in the St. Paul Auditorium.

President of the St. Thomas Alumni Association is Dr. Donald J. Nollet '43 of Hibbing, Minn. Dinner Dance Chairman is Donald DeMarce '56, 5515 Pleasant Ave., S., Minneapolis. Chairman of the class of 1943 is J. Eugene Clifford, 421 Kresge Circle, Hopkins, Minn. Reservations are required and invitations have been extended to all St. Thomas alumni.

The College of St. Thomas has a current enrollment of 2400 undergraduate and graduate students. Greatest concentration of alumni is in St. Paul with 4414; Minneapolis has 2949; outstate Minnesota, 3236.
