Symphony Invites the Children To Make Nutcracker Ornaments

Children from throughout the state have been invited to make original ornaments for the Nutcracker Fantasy Christmas tree to be used in two holiday performances of the Nutcracker on Friday, December 22, at 8:30 p.m. and Saturday, December 23 at 2:30 p.m.

Children aged six through 14 are urged to create and submit original ornaments to trim the 20-foot Christmas tree centering the stage of Northrop Auditorium on the University of Minnesota campus for the ballet. The beloved story about the toy nutcracker which comes magically to life will be danced by the Contemporary Dance Theatre. Tchaikovsky's famous music will be played by the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra.

The Symphony and University Artists Course, who are presenting the Nutcracker and conducting the ornament competition, have directed that ornaments be carefully labelled with maker's name, age, address and phone number. Wrapped ornaments should be mailed or delivered to Room 103 or Room 110, Northrop Auditorium.

University Gallery director Charles C. Savage III will select prize-winning ornaments. Ten prizes of two tickets each to the December 22 performance of Nutcracker Fantasy will be awarded for the best ornament produced in each age level from ages six through 14. Ornaments should measure not more than six inches in diameter and must have a loop or hook for hanging.

Children attending the Nutcracker will see their ornaments on the tree. A picture of the ornaments on the tree is also planned for the Minneapolis Star.

For further details on the Nutcracker Fantasy, call Minneapolis Symphony, 373-2331, or University Artists Course, 373-2345.

Greeting Card Etiquette

Whose name comes first if you use a card with your names printed or engraved on it?

Here the wife's name is courteously used first: "Mary and Tom" (or "Mary and Tom Green").

What if a child's name is included in the signature?

Then the father's name should come first: "Tom, Mary, and Billy Green." If you have several children you may informally sign the card: "Tom and Mary Green" and underneath it, "Billy, Jane and Debbie." Or "The Greens—Tom, Mary, Billy, Jane, and Debbie." The birth of a baby since last Christmas is also often announced, such as "and our new daughter Deborah, born September 27, 1967."

Is it correct to print or engrave your name rather than sign it personally on a Christmas card?

Many busy people with large mailing lists have their names printed or engraved. Many prefer a personal signature—especially on a card to a close friend, even if it is printed or engraved.

If a Christmas card is engraved with the sender's names, with "Mr. and Mrs.," should these be at the top or bottom of the card?

Always at the top. Otherwise, they might seem like a signature.

When signing a card, whose name is written first—the husband's or the wife's?

It is courteous for the person signing the card to write the other's name first. For example, if you sign the card for you and your husband, it should read: "Tom and Mary" (or "Tom and Mary Green," if more identification is needed).

It is, incidentally, very acceptable to write notes on your card, or to enclose a note.

Christmas Party

A Christmas party will be held in conjunction with the dinner program of the Twin Cities Womens' Traffic club, December 11 in the Hotel Lowry. Preceding dinner at 6:30 p.m., will be a 5:30 cocktail hour.

The program will include singing carols.

Guest Minister

Mt. Zion Temple Women's Program

A dramatic departure from the usual luncheon, business, program format of women's organizations has been arranged by Mrs. Allen Gray and Mrs. Maurice L. Green, program chairmen for Mount Zion Temple Sisterhood. On December 18 the St. Paul Arts and Science Museum will open for a private exhibit of Marc Chagall works garnered from the private collections of Temple members. These art works, ranging from lithographs, drawings and graphics will be augmented by the two Chagall lithos that are a part of the permanent collection that hangs in the Milton P. Firestone Gallery at Mount Zion Temple. In addition to the art pieces publications on Chagall from private libraries will also be on display. Chagall, now seventy-eight years old, resides in France and is still an active artist.

The "Marc Chagall Day" activities will begin at 11:30 with gallery tours led by qualified personnel. A catered petit luncheon will be served at 12:30 in the museum penthouse. Reservations for the luncheon must be made with Mrs. Joseph Sinaiko by December 15.

In the afternoon a prize-winning documentary color film on the artist's life will be shown. This outstanding film is narrated by Vincent Price.

We have a twin checking service. first, we are very happy to have you leave your hairpieces and wigs with us for expert restyling and cleaning. Also, if you are not quite satisfied with the way your wig fits we can probably refit it for you.

Our second checking service is to check and recondition your hair after an active season. Anybody who has spent much time under the sun will need a series of renewing hair treatments.

Isn't it a wonderful world? A generation ago women had to keep their hair undercover when they'd venture out into the sun and the weather. Now we can enjoy ourselves without fear of damage. It's just 1-2-3, yes, just 3 treatments and the silk and satin sheen is back again.

FRANKLY, THE LONG AND SHORT OF IT!

Long hair, short hair, and in between lengths are all equally acceptable with today's fashion. The important thing to remember is that not all styles are right for everybody. We suggest you come in to see us and try on some of the wigs and hairpieces we have in stock and find out for sure just what lengths you ought to wear. Yes, I used the word lengths in the plural for of course you'll want to wear your hair at different lengths for different occasions. Practically no one is satisfied with one hairdo anymore.

DO YOU DREAM IN COLOR?

Are your daytime dreams in color? When you imagine the people and situations you want around you are they in color? Is the man you haven't yet met tall dark and handsome or blond and bronzed? And are you dainty vividly dangerous or softly pastel? Do you sometimes think of yourself as an ugly duckling waiting to turn into a beautiful swan?

Time after time patrons have walked into our salon uncertain darklings and emerged self-assured and glamorous blonds in tints anywhere from dark gold to platinum.

If you dream in color you should be coming to us, for so do we.

IF YOU HAVEN'T FOUND A BEAUTY SALON THAT SUITS YOU — COME SEE US!

Don't let our glamorous decor fool you. Most of our patrons are middle-income people just like you. And our service charges are geared to you.

For more information or an appointment come in or telephone 698-8804.

WHAT'S GOING ON HERE

Helen G. Miller, 1763 Stanford Ave. St. Paul, associated with the flower industry for over twenty years is now in charge of Commercial Accounts at Mitzi's Florist, 801 Sibley Memorial Highway.

James Pharmacy, Randolph and Snelling had 3,000 people in their new drug center and soda grill last Saturday. Veteran observers from the grand opening was with Bridgeman's and McKesson-Robbins claimed it was the biggest opening any Twin Drug Center has ever had. Hat's off to two guys who need a day off worse than anything.

Kathy Fiad, owner of the Place Of Gifts, St. Clair and Snelling, is encouraged by the action in her first month of business. The 24-year-old businesswoman with a winning way and big brown eyes conceived of and originated the shop which specializes in unique gifts — paper, glass, straw, brass and wood. Kathy would like you to see her selection of gifts this holiday season.

Jim Kennedy, owner of Kennedy's Pharmacy, Randolph and Hamline had so much response to an ad he ran in the Villager kidding about his newborn son that he wishes he could have a new son every two weeks.

Carl Watrud, owner of Highland Ben Franklin is the author of this year's Highland Christmas Decorations (for everybody who's glad he went ahead and got the job done, but afraid to ask who had the presence of mind to know that Christmas was coming.)

Lloyd Robinson, Highland Den, has Gant Shirts, and is singing about it. When Lloyd sings about anything, it's worth dropping in to hear because he has a great voice. In fact, his wife might join him in a duet which is something they have done a lot of together at clubs and organizations around the Highland area.

And thanks to the many people who called thanking us for sending them our annual Highland Villager Business directory.

CARNIVAL PRINCESS CONTEST

The Highland Drug Center Carnival Princess will be crowned on Saturday, December 9th, beginning at 8 P.M. One of the lovely girls who are competing for the "princess" title to represent the Highland Drug Center in the St. Paul Winter Carnival "Queen of the Snows" Pageant, will be chosen from the stage of the Highland Theatre preceding the movie program.

The winner will be selected at that time from a group of candidates by three former "Queen of the Snows."

Uniformed members of the King's Guard, who will act as escorts, will add pomp and color to the ceremony. Come early and support your area favorites.

Original Children's Play at St. Catherine College

An original children's play in which all 11 actors share star billing will be performed at The College of St. Catherine the afternoons of Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 9 and 10.

The play, "Bump/Jump, A Fantastical Trip," will be presented at 2 p.m. each afternoon in Jeanne d'Arc Auditorium. All seating is by general admission, 25 cents for children and 50 cents for adults.

Prior to the two regular performances, however, will be a special performance for children of St. Catherine alumnae at 2 p.m. on Friday. This will be preceded by a pre-show entertainment period starting at 1:30 p.m. Favors will be distributed and refreshments will be served.

Campbell to Direct Shakespeare Play

Douglas Campbell, artistic director of the Minnesota Theatre Company, will direct Shakespeare's "Troilus and Cressida" at the University of Minnesota this season, acting University Theatre director Arthur H. Ballet announced Monday.

The tragedy of young love will be presented Feb. 1-11, 1968. It will be the third in a series of five plays to be presented this season in the Scott Hall auditorium on the University's Minneapolis campus.

"This year's season fulfills the function of a university theatre by providing a wide range of theatrical experience for the audience and the actors—from a musical comedy to serious modern drama to a little-known Shakespearean work to a major comedy," Ballet said.

Season subscriptions for the Scott Hall series and theatre group books can be obtained by mail from the Scott Hall Auditorium Series, University of Minnesota Theatre, Scott Hall Ticket Office, Minneapolis 55455. Individual tickets go on sale at the ticket office 10 days before the opening of each play. Only individual tickets are sold for the Playwright's Premiere—Experimental Series.

Mail orders for individual tickets will be accepted one month in advance of the opening date. All individual tickets are priced at $2.10. Season tickets for the Scott Hall series sell for $7.75 each. Tickets for the Young People's Theatre are priced at $1 each. Special student rates are available at the ticket office. Prices quoted include Minnesota Sales tax.

Cystic Fibrosis Annual Bazaar

The Mr. C/F Volunteers of South St. Paul will hold their annual bazaar Thursday through Saturday, December 7, 8, and 9, at 128 North Concord Street, South St. Paul. The hours are from 9 to 9 on Thursday and Friday, and from 9 to 5 on Saturday. A variety of items are available, including many suitable for Christmas gifts. A drawing and door prizes will also be part of the bazaar.

Proceeds from the bazaar go to support cystic fibrosis research and training centers through the Minnesota Chapter of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation.

"Bump/Jump" was written by George Poletes, assistant professor of drama and speech at St. Catherine's.

Poletes, who is directing the play, said it's geared to the things children delight in... clowns, magicians, animals at the zoo, even a Chinese fairy tale. ("Chinane" because it takes place in "Chinan," a country which lies midway between China and Japan.)

The play is being put on by members of St. Catherine's Laboratory Players with the assistance of College of St. Thomas students.

They all double in various capacities such as actors, singers, dancers, stagehands, musicians and "directors" to keep this musical review going at a fast pace.

Music for the play is under the direction of David Steineck and Beth Stewart, junior.

Gibbs Farm Open This Winter In Response to Popular Demand

The Gibbs Farm Home, maintained by the Ramsey County Historical Society, will be open this winter for the first time since the 100-year-old farm of a pioneer settler of the country became a museum 18 years ago.

In announcing the first winter schedule of hours, Mrs. James O. Wall, society president, said the opening of the museum during the winter was in response to "a steadily growing demand on the part of the public, the schools and community groups" for tours of the museum and an opportunity to attend crafts demonstrations and other special programs.

Under the new winter schedule, the Gibbs Farm Museum will open December 15 and will remain open through March 15. (It will reopen

May 1). The museum will be open to the public from 2 to 5 p.m. every Sunday. Crafts demonstrations will be held at this time.

On weekdays, except Mondays and Saturdays, the museum will be open all day for specially-guided tours of groups numbering 15 to 40 persons in each group. Appointments for tours may be made by calling the museum, telephone 646-0624.

During Christmas week, the museum will be open daily from Tuesday, December 26, through Friday. The Gibbs farm house will be decorated for Christmas, using old-fashioned decorations typical of the last half of the 19th Century.

A Christmas tree will be hung with old ornaments from the museum's collection, and toys from the period will be displayed.

Photo-facts

By C. L. Van Duzee
HIGHLAND DRUG CENTER

CHEAPER DOWN THE STREET

There is an old saying to the effect that "when you get something for nothing, that is what it is worth." Applying the same principle to merchandising one does not have to look far to see why one place will sell an identical item for less than the guy across the street does. If the merchandise is identical, what, then, makes the price at the latter's worth the difference?

Store policy, that's what. The store that charges a little more provides customer benefits the cheapie can't possibly give at his low price.

Some of these benefits you receive when you purchase a camera or projector or accessory at Highland Drug Center are INSTRUCTION on how to use the equipment; professional critique of ing it properly, with suggestions for eliminating any problems you may evidence in your pictures, slides, or movies; a follow through on the guarantee if your equipment should seem defective; a return or exchange privilege — or refund; in other words — SERVICE.

Then, too, you get SandH Green Stamps, you may charge your purchase, have it delivered, gift-wrapped or whatever. But the important benefit you automatically get here is service and instruction. So one could look at it this way: At Highland Drug Center the merchandise costs the same as the identical item downtown; the slight extra cost is for service.

Nothing is more frustrating than to own an expensive piece of merchandise and not know how to operate it properly. The instruction books often appear to us to be written in Greek, too, but our photographic experience allows us to interpret what the manufacturer was trying to say. Finally, there is a more relaxed atmosphere to shop in at Highland Drug Center — good for the nerves at this time of year.

Seasons Greetings.

MacPhail Center Offers Violin to Pre-School-Age

Violin lessons for children between the ages of three-and-a-half and six years are now being offered through the University of Minnesota General Extension Division's MacPhail Center for the Performing Arts.

The lessons, open to any child who demonstrates a firm grasp of the English language, involve both the child and one parent in weekly private lessons with an instructor. The lesson schedule may be arranged on an individual basis by calling the MacPhail Center at 332-4424.

Instruction will be based on the so-called "talent education" method, a system of instruction begun in the early 1950's in Japan by Shinichi Suzuki, and since employed successfully in the United States, including the Twin Cities. The method relies on the child's ability to learn to play the violin by imitation, in the same way he learns to speak his native language by imitation.

The purpose of the program is not to produce child prodigies, but to give children an appreciation of beauty, particularly musical beauty. As side benefits, the child is expected to develop a sense of accomplishment and an attitude of cooperation between himself and his parent.

Success of the technique depends in large part on the assistance of the parent, who will supervise all practice at home. No prior musical knowledge or ability is expected from the parent.

All music will be learned by imitation and memory, without such aids as musical notation, books or music stands. Lessons will be geared to the individual child's attention span. The student will listen to recordings of music currently being studied, as well as music to be studied in the future.

Mark Bjork, the instructor, has been a student of the violin since he was four years old. Currently, he is on the MacPhail Center staff, is a member of the Radisson Hotel Golden Strings, and is a candidate for the master of fine arts degree at the University.

Bjork is a graduate of Indiana University, where he was a student of Josef Gingold, former concertmaster of the Cleveland Orchestra.

He has studied privately in Oslo, Norway, with Henrik Due, and has spent time observing Due's extensive teaching of children.

Bjork is also a former member of the Evansville (Ind.) Philharmonic Orchestra and of the Terre Haute (Ind.) Symphony.

Enjoy The Pleasures of Not Smoking

The American Heart Association has published a new cartoon leaflet which cites the pleasures to be derived from not smoking, and suggests ways in which these pleasures might be enjoyed.

Among the benefits one can expect from giving up cigarettes, the pamphlet points out, are the opportunity to feel better, enjoy life more and to live longer. Specifically, it asserts, people who quit cigarettes reduce the risk of heart attack, cancer and other disabling diseases.

The leaflet is one more in a series of publications, color films and radio and television spot announcements being produced during 1967 which the American Heart Association has designated as its smoking emphasis year. Particular stress is being placed on cigarettes as one of the leading risk factors in heart and blood vessel disease.

Among other advantages, the new leaflet points out that the reformed smoker can overcome stained teeth, yellow fingers and smoker's breath, which would make him or her nicer to be near. It also is possible to save enough for a tropical vacation by quitting cigarettes. The price per pack varies in different areas. But the smoker who spends 45 cents a day for his pack can save almost $165 over a full year.

Other panels in the folder state that the wheezer can get his wind back and run as he couldn't before, that the ladies can stay on their weight-watching diets, but enjoy their food more, and that teenagers can know the real joy of accomplishment that comes from breaking a bad habit which enslaves so many others. Not to mention the chance for better health in their maturing years.

Among other Heart Association publications dealing with smoking risks are, "What Everyone Should Know about Smoking and Heart Diseases," "Cigarette Quiz," "What to Tell Your Parents about Smoking," and "Why Risk Heart Attack?" All of them are available from the Minnesota Heart Association, 1821 University Avenue, St. Paul, Minnesota 55104, 646-6553.

Social Security News

About one of every five applicants for social security disability benefits delays so long before making his application that he risks possible loss of some payments, R. Gower, district manager of social security in St. Paul, said.

In an effort to remedy this situation, the Social Security Administration is asking anyone who might possibly qualify for disability benefits to get in touch with a social security office as soon as possible.

"Some people fail to apply because they don't realize that they can benefit from the program," Gower said. "Younger people often think that social security payments are only for people in their sixties, whereas the disability program was specifically set up to protect the wage earner who is forced to stop working before he is old enough to collect retirement benefits."

A person under 65 can receive monthly payments if he has a physical or mental impairment that has kept or will keep him from working for a year or more. Individual benefits range from $44 to $152 a month. If the worker has dependents, total family benefits can amount to as much as $339 monthly.

"Others don't file because they are under the impression that they have to be permanently disabled. This was generally true before a 1965 change in the law, but now payments can go to a person whose disability has lasted, or is expected to last, for 12 months or longer," Gower pointed out.

Benefits begin after a person has been disabled for 6 full months. No benefits can be paid for months during this "waiting period." Also, the law limits the back benefits a person can collect to the 12 months before the month in which he applies.

This means that the latest a person can file without losing any back benefits is the month that comes after the 18th month of his disability. (These 18 months cover the waiting period and the 12-month limit of retroactive benefits.)

Gower cautioned, however, that benefits can be paid only if a person's disability is severe enough to prevent him from doing not only his usual job, but also any work in keeping with his age, education, and experience. And, to be eligible, a person must have worked under social security for at least 5 of the 10 years before he became disabled.

"If you know of anyone who might qualify," Gower urged, "tell him to phone, write, or visit the nearest social security office. Your tip may lead to his not losing out in whole or part for disability benefits. The St. Paul social security office is located at 175 Aurora Avenue and the telephone number is 228-7811.

GALA RED AND GREEN DESSERT

CHRISTMAS APPLE CHARLOTTE makes an elegant and enticing holiday dessert, combining lime-flavored gelatin and convenient canned pie-sliced apples in its light and delectable filling. From the test-kitchens of Comstock Foods.

Red and green are the festive colors worn by this holiday dessert suggestion: Christmas Apple Charlotte. A refreshing and deliciously light change from heavy holiday fare, the recipe uses the versatile canned pie-sliced apples in combination with a green-lime-flavored gelatin and whipped cream center. A portion of the apple slices, tinted red with currant jelly glaze, are used as a garnish, enhancing both its taste and attractive appearance. From the test kitchens of Comstock Foods:

PARTY APPLE CHARLOTTE

- 1 lb. 4 oz. Pre-Sliced Apples
- 8 lady fingers, split lengthwise and halved
- 1 3-oz. box lime gelatin
- 1½ cups hot water
- ½ pint heavy cream
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- ½ cup currant jelly

Drain pie-sliced apples well. Arrange half of ladyfingers around edge of 9-inch spring form pan. Dissolve gelatin in hot water, stirring well. Chill until slightly thickened. Beat gelatin with rotary egg beater or electric mixer until fluffy. Beat heavy cream with sugar until stiff. Fold into gelatin mixture with pie-sliced apples, reserving about a dozen apple slices for garnish.

Dr. J. Maxwell Adams Valedictory Sermon At Macalester College

Dr. J. Maxwell Adams, chaplain of Macalester College for 20 years, will deliver his valedictory sermon at the annual All-College Christmas Communion service Tuesday, Dec. 12.

A reception to honor his retirement will be held in the Student Union after the service.

Dr. Adams, who joined the Macalester faculty in 1947, is retiring Dec. 31.

He will be succeeded as chaplain by Dr. John R. Bodo, former professor of practical theology, San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo, Calif. Dr. Bodo will assume his duties as chaplain Jan. 1, 1968.

During his tenure as chaplain, Dr. Adams was professor of religion, served as advisor to the Macalester College Christian Movement, was active in the foreign student program and organized the volunteer community service program, which involves more than 300 students part-time in service in churches, settlement houses, hospitals and welfare agencies.

Dr. Bodo was born in Budapest, Hungary, in 1920 and graduated from Union Theological Seminary, New York City, and Princeton Theological Seminary, Princeton, N.J. He was awarded the doctor of

For eight years Dr. Bodo was pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Princeton before becoming professor of practical theology degree by Princeton at San Francisco Seminary in 1959.

He served as special lecturer to the Presbyterian synods of California, Oregon, Washington, Nebraska and New Mexico and, during a sabbatical in 1966-67, was a research analyst in the legislative reference service of the California legislature dealing with such subjects as civil defense and natural disaster preparedness, the inequities of the American jury system and the problem of privacy.

Spotlight Your Decorations

Inexpensive outdoor decorations can be made much more exciting and beautiful simply by spotlighting them.

Consider using a colored light, although white is always effective. The only really important thing to remember is to conceal the source of the light as much as possible.

Shrubby near a window or door is always good for cover. However, spotlights get hot, so take care that the heat is not too close to the shrubs to cause a fire.

Like to feature a twinkling star in your display? It's easy . . . simply cut a star shape from perforated board. Place the light behind, turning it away from the star to shine on a wall or other large, solid object close by. The light will bounce back and shimmer through the tiny holes in the star-shaped board, making it seem to twinkle.

For courtesy's sake, make sure your outdoor lighting does not shine on your neighbor's home.

For the third year in a row the Minneapolis and Saint Paul Chambers of Commerce, together with representatives from leading area businesses, will sponsor the Minnesota Career Opportunities December 27 and 28, 1967. The event will be staged as in the past at the Armory on the campus of the College of Saint Thomas. Over 50 Minnesota companies have already signed up to conduct interviews during the two-day Career Opportunity Center.

"We know for a fact that the Twin Cities metropolitan area is one of the fastest growing centers of business and industry in the country," said MCO Chairman Hilding T. Eckstrom. "When all of our participating firms have registered we will have close to 60 companies all ready to interview seniors completing college this school year or previous graduates getting out of the service or Peace Corps." Eckstrom indicated that student inquiries have already reached a higher mark than in the past two Career Opportunity centers. "We have close to 400 student inquiries already with MCO information posted with college placement directors in most of the large colleges and universities throughout the country. At this rate we should have close to 600 students appearing for interviews during the two-day event."

Eckstrom indicated that the employers represented at the Career Opportunities center will be looking for college graduates with both a technical background and business and the liberal arts. "So far the firms signed up to interview have indicated they will discuss employment with graduation candidates even though they still may face the draft," said Eckstrom. "This year there will be no official scheduling of interviews, but rather we will have a large electronic board to indicate which interview booths are open, thereby making it easier for a student to move from one interview to another."

Students are not restricted in the number of companies they may interview with, and they may interview on either December 27 or 28, or on both days.

There is still booth space available for companies wishing to participate in MCO, and fees and terms may be obtained by calling either the Minneapolis or Saint Paul Chamber office. Interested students may contact the Public Relations Department of the Saint Paul Chamber or the Promotion Department of the Minneapolis Chamber for further information.

Boy Scout Merit Badges Revised

"Keeping up-to-date" is one of the aims of the Boy Scouts of America, and the latest list of requirements for Boy Scout merit badges shows that ten are new or revised.

Earl Nystrom, advancement committee chairman for the Indianhead Council, Boy Scouts of America, said that there are now 111 merit badges covering vocational and hobby subjects from agriculture and American business to world brotherhood and zoology.

Up-to-date merit badges include landscape architecture, which replaces landscaping; theatre, replacing dramatics; and American business, replacing business.

Revised or realigned requirements are newly offered to Boy Scouts for the subjects of aviation, cooking, firemanship, personal fitness, and soil and water conservation.

The newest merit badges offered to Scouts this year are computers and engineering.

The most popular merit badges still reflect Scouting skills, Nystrom said. The top three are swimming, cooking, and first aid. In Indianhead Council, in a year's time, more than 5,700 merit badges are earned by Boy Scouts.

Nystrom explained that all of the merit badges are available to Boy Scouts who have earned the Second Class rank, although 12 of the merit badges require completion of certain First Class tests in similar subjects.

"The purpose of the merit badge plan is to encourage Boy Scouts to explore many worthwhile fields of interest, to help find out what kind of activities they like best and those for which they are best suited, and to give them further training in Scouting fundamentals and skills," Nystrom said.

Sales and Property Tax Laws Subject Of Legal Institute

Developments affecting the new Minnesota sales and property tax laws will be discussed at the 27th Annual Tax Institute, to be held Dec. 8-9 at the Radisson Hotel in Minneapolis.

The program, open only to Minnesota lawyers, is presented by the department of continuing legal education of the University of Minnesota General Extension Division and the Minnesota State Bar Association.

Special aspects of the sales tax law to be covered include interpretations of the occasional sale, the sale of property for use outside the state, sales of drugs and medicines, and exemptions for industrial processing. In addition, problems will be considered which involve contracts entered into during the transitional period for delivery following Aug. 1, sales by and to contractors, and sales to government and charitable organizations.

Discussion of the property tax law will focus on the function and administration of the property tax relief fund, exemptions from the property tax created by the 1967 laws, and the determination of market value and of adjusted market value of real and personal property for such purposes as assessment.

Other topics which will be considered during the one-and-a-half-day program are federal income tax of employment fringe benefits, the current status of pension plans for the incorporated law firm, and plans for the self-employed lawyer under H.R. 10.

Fire Fighters Request Toys

Two years ago, in mid-December, the men of Fire Fighters local 21 surveyed the ruins of a fire in an old fire station. The old building had held thousands of toys they had worked for months to repair, and the hopes of Saint Paul's forgotten children for a Christmas present from Santa.

A fire can be heartbreaking. These men wept at the extent of the loss and their hours of work which lay in charred ruins, but most of all for the children who faced a Christmas in which gifts were just a cruel jest.

But the community was made aware of the loss and responded so quickly and so generously that the firemen were able to buy hundreds of new toys. The outpouring was so great that instead of 2,000 children receiving toys, 3,368 of Saint Paul's impoverished children were remembered. People walked into fire stations with $5.00 and $10.00 gifts. Checks came from as far away as Connecticut and California. Business and individuals gave

Toys for Tots Safety Tips

Be safety conscious when purchasing toys for small children and keep Christmas happy, the American Red Cross warned this week.

Judge Otis H. Godfrey, chairman of the St. Paul Area Chapter's safety services, listed some of the things parents should remember when Christmas shopping.

● Avoid toys with sharp metal corners or edges.

● Eyes may fall out of stuffed animals into a baby's mouth.

● Paint on toys may contain lead, which may cause lead poisoning if the toy is chewed.

● Detachable wheels, bells, knobs can get stuck in a child's throat.

● Plastic toys can shatter and cut. Broken rattles spill small stones.

● American made toys must meet safety standards, while imported articles may be flammable.

"Now, while you have time, check all electric cords to be used in holiday decorations. Be sure they are in good condition and won't cause a fire. If they are broken, discard them. Don't mend them with tape," the judge added.

Friday nights 8:00 to 9:30 is Teen night at Groveland School — Volley Ball, Basketball.

MEN & WOMEN

Tuesday nights from 8:00 to 9:30 we would like to see men and women at Groveland School for Volley Ball.

TAXPAYERS! TAXPAYERS! (Nice Going)

It will be an unpolite joke for many years to come that a group of Democrats put together a liberal document for governing the city of St. Paul, sold it to the conservative establishment and pushed them over the cliff in a big back slapping orgy unmatched in the history of St. Paul elections.

It didn't exactly happen that way—but that's how it turned out.

The rebuke was severe—and, unfortunately, many of the people who voted "Yes" because they believed they had a chance and were urged to do so by their so-called leaders were left out of the real secret of the New Charter election. That secret, and I call it that because apparently few people in the establishment in St. Paul know anything about the demographics of the St. Paul voter, is in the simple arithmetic of what I call the "chancey-choice" factor. Namely, that 35% of the voters in St. Paul are senior citizens and highly unlikely to chance a vote for sweeping change, and the largest occupational block of voters are laborers and unlikely to make a choice on something they don't understand. These two groups represent 65 percent of all eligible voters in the city. The spokesmen for the Charter took the high road of lecturing—too academic for the laborer.

When every organization in town got behind the Charter Reform it alerted the senior citizen to the fact that a rug was being pulled out from under the status quo. The laborer generally reacts strongly against anything the Chamber of Commerce and the newspaper backs regardless of how his party or union instructs him.

Then there were the abominable ads—not at all in keeping with the fine tone of Mr. Guthmann's lectures.

In all, it proved what happens when you gather too many chiefs from too many tribes to the big meeting place in the blue sky.

Let us hope that the DFL and the GOP and those in between go back to their familiar roles of battling each other.

The mess they all made together this early Winter, perhaps unwittingly, was something to behold.

The GOP, because now it is nearly impossible for them to elect a Mayor in the Spring, and Byrne's Charter Boys because they made the lady in the white hat ten feet tall.

A pencil, a pad of paper and some objective analysis of the voter situation might have saved a lot of people in St. Paul the thumping they took at the bottom of the cliff they talked themselves into believing wasn't there.

EGG NOG VENDETTA . . .

The suspension of well-known Highland youth leader Hank Streich from the City Health Department can be chalked up to a vendetta. If they suspended every city official who has something other than Civil Service pay going for him, the place would be empty down there. Bill Carlson, Commissioner who leveled the suspension, has been well-known and active as an insurance agent for most of his political career. Holland is in the insurance business; Meredith the garbage hauling business; Tedesco, an entertainer (and how); Dalgish, an engineering firm. The double standard seems to apply in the case of Streich, who has always done his moonlighting organizing and instructing kids on baseball diamonds and basketball courts. Apparently, members of the Byrne administration were after Hank in a big way. One of Byrne's campaign aids used to sell the same product Streich allegedly sold, and one of Byrne's supporters manufactures a competing brand. Perhaps some accounts will change hands. Tsk tsk, it seems they could have saved the taxpayers some real money if they'd have aimed a little higher than egg nog!

McCARTHY WIT . . .

"Being in politics is like being a football coach—you have to be smart enough to know the game, and dumb enough to think it is important!" Or, in answering a complaint that since he has been a senator, Minnesota has lost out on a lot of federal aid, "Yes, that's true, nothing since the Cavalry pulled out in 1886."

QUICKIES . . .

Look for the metro-transit backers to use the current bus strike as part of the public snow job in their attempts to buy the bus company for more than it's worth and run it at a loss, stuffed with patronage jobs. Wasn't it a disappointing Bingo Ordinance we got? This 800 to 1 odds game can't be cleaned up anyway they slice it—unless, of course we get a Metropolitan Bingo Authority. Morrie Steinman's running for council (how about dancing waters instead of yard signs, Morrie?) Crack about the "Yes" Charter Ads—"The same guys who smeared the town with red paint, got the taxpayers in the red in the first place." I don't know why they want to shoot 400 deer at the arsenal. All they have to do is lease the land for a dollar a year to some politician's brother-in-law, get him an SBA loan for working capitol, turn the place into a Bambi-land, get a blue-ribbon board of subscribers on a brass plaque at the entrance and take some of the pressure off the Como Zoo as a place to take the kids on Sunday afternoon. They could mingle with the deer and feed them chopped kidneys.

Angels are meeting ahead of time to stuff Christmas stockings and sew clothes for little dolls. Angels are also making some cookies and punch for refreshments. The party will be spiced with Christmas carols and games.
