A botany professor at St. Catherine's has identified it as an extremely rare "Gripenicus gigantus," but Amy Benno, 2019 Fairmount, and Gordon Gripen, 2086 Eleanor, recognize it for what it is—a sign of spring and a chance to play a little make-believe. Designed and constructed by Gripen, the six-foot steel flower is planted in front of the CSC art building where Gripen is currently enrolled in a senior citizen's art class. Amy, the daughter of Ralph and Bonnie Benno, is a student in the CSC Montessori School.

Area street paving projects due to begin this summer

Three local street paving projects that were delayed last year will soon be under way, according to the St. Paul Public Works Department. The scheduled improvements will affect a 13 block area around Sheridan and Wheeler Streets.

The streets are Field and Sheridan Avenues, from Edgumbe to Davern; Wordsworth and Munster Avenues, from Edgumbe to West Seventh; Wheeler St., from Field to West Seventh; and Davern, from St. Paul Ave. to West Seventh.

The streets will be paved to 32 feet wide, except for Sheridan and Davern, which will be 36 feet wide, with parking on one side only. Other improvements will include new sun-colored sodium vapor lighting, integral curbs and gutters and trees.

The total cost of the construction which should run from June to October, is just under $400,000. More than 90 percent of the money will come from Capital Improvements Bonds and Minnesota State Aid funds. There will be no assessments.

Public hearing set to discuss district merger

The St. Paul City Council has set Tuesday, May 2 as the date for a public hearing to consider the recognition of Planning District 14 and 15 as a single Southwest Area District Council.

The hearing will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the student cafeteria of St. Joseph's Hall on the campus of the College of St. Catherine.

Neighborhood coalition sets mass shade tree purchase

Residents of the Macalester, Groveland and Randolph Heights neighborhoods will have an opportunity to purchase shade trees this year at a substantial discount, thanks to the efforts of a group known as the District 14 Coalition.

The coalition is a non-profit neighborhood group which is working with the Randolph Heights Neighborhood Association to organize a group purchase of trees for planting on private residential property.

Five species of trees are being offered: Norway Maple, Sugar Maple, Green Ash, Honey Locust, and Flowering Crab. The trees are potted and range in size from 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 inches in diameter (8-12 feet tall). A flyer with further details

Eleven 1978 Pulitzer Prize winners in journalism will visit Macalester College on Wednesday and Thursday, May 10 and 11, for the annual World Press Institute Forum.

The only time the Pulitzer winners in journalism will be brought together at the same time in one place during this year, the 1978 Forum will include talks by the Pulitzer winners, a special keynote address, a dinner and a reunion of the 1968 World Press Institute Fellows.

On Wednesday, May 10 at 7:00 p.m. in the Weyerhaeuser Chapel at Macalester, the Pulitzer winners will tell the stories behind the stories that won their prizes. On Thursday, May 11 at 11:00 a.m. in the chapel, Leonard Marks, a member of the World Press Freedom Committee, will give the Forum's keynote address on the topic "Press Freedom in Third World Countries." A private, non-profit organization sponsored by American corporations and foundations, the WPI selects outstanding young journalists from throughout the world as WPI Fellows each year.

For nine months, these journalists participate in the institute's program of intensive American studies, internships and extensive travel. Since the WPI's establishment, 214 journalists from more than 70 foreign countries have become WPI Fellows.

MISCH-MACH

by Maurice F. Mischke

Once again this column comes to you from the not too unpleasant confines of the old homestead... while the rest of the staff covers for me at the office. But, one of these days, I'll be back. In the meantime, what I have to offer may not add much to the depth and breadth of your knowledge, but you can be sure I'll try to give it to you straight.

Which somehow reminds me that, by the time you read this, the most unusual election in recent St. Paul history will probably be over, with the results perhaps already known to you. And regardless of the turn-out and how it all turns out, life will go on... believe me.

Election turn-outs are always a great old guessing game. The city hall "pros" were way off in the primary, with a prediction of 44,000... actually only 22,000 showed. The current prediction could be close... or it could be way off, too, in either direction. People can be beautifully unpredictable on that score, computers notwithstanding.

In the meantime, we can look forward to the most competitive fall election the State of Minnesota has seen in many a year... at least at the top levels. Even the September primary could produce some fireworks here and there, especially since the two Bobs have decided to challenge the endorsement system. DFLer Bob Short, as you know, is challenging Congressman Don Fraser for HHH's senate seat, and our own local IR hopeful, Bob Johnson, is set to challenge Congressman Al Quie for the governorship. Neither one of them, I would surmise, plans to campaign with peanuts for money.

Ordinarily, battling a major party's endorsed candidate is a tough row to hoe. But of one thing you can be sure... Bob Johnson has the background in the field of taxes to give our state business climate problems a thorough airing. And that's a job that really needs to be done... as even the labor unions are beginning to agree.

Some of those problems are hitting pretty close to home... like Webb Publishing Company, over on Shepard Road. Perhaps you read in the daily press the other day what Bob Haugan, Webb's president, had to say on the subject at the firm's annual stockholder's meeting. Assuming anything like the status quo, any further expansion of the firm's facilities will automatically go out-of-state. That's not exactly good news for people who would like to live and work in this neighborhood.

We should appreciate the fact that the people at Webb are leveling with us now, while there's still time to turn things around. Some other firms have just up and made the decision that economic realities seemed to call for... without any long-range warning. 3M, for one, admits that a number of its recent out-of-state locations could just as well have been built here... under more favorable economic circumstances.

There have been some skeptics who say this is all a campaign on the part of business leaders. Well, if it is a campaign, it's one that should have started long ago. I can recall quite a series of business development ads that appeared in the Wall Street Journal quite a number of years ago. The central theme was "Profit is not a dirty word in Ohio." Well, maybe we should do what's necessary to convince business and industry that it's not a dirty word in Minnesota now. Profits create added investment, more venture capital and in the process MORE JOBS... maybe for your kids and mine.

And doesn't it seem incredible to you that all the brain-power we're paying for in Washington can't come up with a solution to inflation... a solution we can live with. Oh, I think there are enough people who know what to do, including my favorite call-it-as-you-see-it economist Milton Friedman (sorry, Walter Heller). It's just that the answers require too much in the way of political guts... or maybe more accurately, political suicide.

Look what happened when President Carter dared to suggest holding cost-of-living increases for government employees to 5.5% next fall, instead of a scheduled 6% or more. "Silly symbolism," the head of the public employees union called it, to pick on them in that way. I thought it was silly symbolism, too, but not for the same reason. Who has done better than federal employees in recent years under our "made in Washington" inflationary spiral?

What if Carter had said we'll PASS on all those raises next October? Well, that might have been a little rough, since half of the year has already gone by. But what if he had suggested 4% this October, and 2% for 1979, and that the federal budget would also be reigned in accordingly? That would have been a terrific signal to the whole country that he really meant business... that it wasn't merely a sop, another WIN button program.

With that kind of meaningful, moral leadership, even jawboning might have become a wee bit effective. The AFL-CIO, of course, would scream bloody murder... they'd want to get theirs, come hell or high water. So would other unions. Then would come congressional pressure... in an election year they'd all get off the wagon, leaving Carter to fend for himself. Business would be willing enough to comply, but only if the unions did likewise. After all, most price increases come on the heels of labor settlements and hourly increases.

Now, I'm not saying that some businesses don't try hard to pad the increases for a little more profit... if they aren't beset by competitive factors. But most firms have a helluva time passing all added costs along to customers. They have to keep looking for other factors of efficiency to hold prices down, like eliminating jobs, for instance.

So what am I saying? Just this. Present-day politics have so overwhelmed economic reality, that the skills of our learned economists have been rendered virtually useless. And that's really a sad state of affairs in what is supposed to be a free enterprise economy. Maybe the business executive who said we were a nation of economic illiterates was right. Maybe economic teaching needs to start in kindergarten. After a generation, maybe, political sense and economic sense could once again coincide. But what's going to happen in the meantime? Anybody out there got an answer?

Back to the state scene for a moment. Independent-Republicans must have heaved a sigh of relief Saturday when Dave Durenberger made himself available for the Humphrey senate seat. It rounds out the top part of the ticket, and makes it almost as strong as it might have been if Al Quie had gone for the senate instead. But who can blame Quie. I'd want to get back to Minnesota, too, after 20 years in Washington. We still have to balance our budgets out here in the Hinterlands, to point up just one difference.

So even though we had a lot of rain the past weekend, I'm still not in favor of a DOMED stadium in these parts. I can see it in Houston, I can see it in New Orleans, and I can see it in Seattle. After all, a baseball season includes some 75 to 80 sessions, and you just couldn't play the game or draw a crowd for it very often in those locations, given their horrendous summer heat and humidity and Seattle's frequent rains. But how often is the climate a problem here? Maybe for two or three Viking games and maybe six to eight baseball games each season... certainly not enough to justify the atrocious construction and energy costs which would be involved. But if Minneapolis feels it would be such a ten-strike for related development, maybe its leaders ought to do a selling job on having it become a Minneapolis-only investment, then conduct a referendum on it among its voting citizenry. Do you think it would wash? Ha!

'Nuf said! Here are several parting pilfered punchlines, since I shorted you last time. First this: "The secret of happiness is to count your blessings while others are adding up their troubles." Then this: "If at first you don't succeed try a little ardor." And, finally, a bonus p-p-p... from an Arabian source, way before anybody heard of Dutch Elm disease: "Do not cut down the tree that gives you shade."

Area resident is named consultant for Archdiocese

William J. Smith, 825 Ridge St., has been engaged by the Archdiocese of Saint Paul and Minneapolis as a part-time financial consultant to the Development Office. Smith will help the Archdiocese set up a program of deferred giving and endowments and will coordinate budget and allocation functions of the Archdiocese.

Smith began financial consulting work in 1977, after 16 years as executive vice president of the United Way of St. Paul, where he had responsibility for overall direction of fund-raising, planning, allocations and financial operations.

He had 20 years prior experience organizing and directing Community Chest and United Fund programs in several other midwestern cities.

Low-interest loans and grants now available for home rehab

St. Paul homeowners who want to take advantage of the spring construction season to make home repairs, are encouraged to apply for a low-interest loan or grant through one of several Home Rehabilitation programs administered by the City of St. Paul and the State Housing Finance Agency.

More than $1,305,000 is available through the various programs with interest rates ranging from one to eight percent. Loans of up to $17,400 are available, with terms of up to 20 years. Low-income homeowners may qualify for a grant of up to $5,000, which does not have to be repaid if they continue to live in the house for a designated period of time.

Eligible repair items include cracked or broken foundations, broken or missing doors and windows, inadequate insulation, leaking roofs or flooded basements, exposed wiring, plugged plumbing fixtures, and many other interior and exterior items.

Free technical assistance is also available to aid homeowners in determining eligible repair items, estimating cost of repairs, filling out an application, and monitoring the contractors' work.

Loan or grant applicants must be owners or contract-for-deed purchasers of the property.

Eligibility for the loans and grants is determined by a combination of income and family size and ranges from a maximum adjusted income of $14,500 for a one person family to $19,000 for a family of 10 or more.

Loans available through the state program have the lowest interest rate, but must be applied for before May 10. Other loan programs will continue as long as money is available.

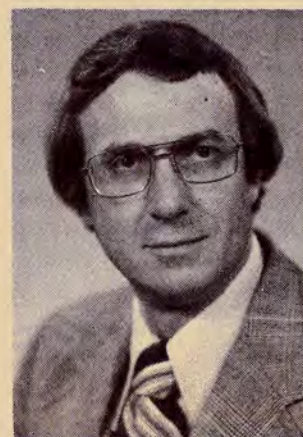

For more information about the programs or for an application, call 298-5495.

Let us spray: Inchworm infestation on the way

by Roger Fuller

When those nasty little inchworms begin falling out of the trees and onto our heads this spring, we're just going to have to learn to live with them. According to St. Paul City Forester Thomas Karl, the Parks Department has no intention of spraying the trees this year.

Karl said he did not recommend the spring spraying because it is neither cheap nor effective.

"If we sprayed the trees from the ground, it would cost $16,000," he said. "If we did it from helicopters, it would run about $70,000."

Spraying is not an effective method of combating the inchworms because it only prolongs their life cycle, according to Karl.

"If we let them live through their natural life cycle without interfering, they'll die down in a few years," he said.

Until last spring, the Park Department had sprayed every year because of pressure from area residents who complained about the worms. The situation came to a head last year when the worms came early and the spray came late.

Given those conditions, the department decided not to spray because the leaves were already eaten by the time the city was ready to treat them.

According to Karl, inchworms have a natural life cycle of from four to five years. Each year they become more numerous until there are more worms than leaves to feed upon and they die.

"When we spray we might get 70 percent of them," Karl said. "But the other 30 percent survive because there is plenty of food left. The worms then have a good chance of laying eggs which will hatch next spring."

There are two species of inchworms, otherwise known as cankerworms. One hatches from eggs laid in the fall, the other from eggs laid in the spring. The eggs of both species hatch within a couple of days of one another.

The inchworm period is brief—a couple of weeks at the most. The worms have no permanently harmful effect on the trees, and within a few weeks after their disappearance, the leaves which have been eaten away are replaced by new ones.

The inchworms affect several areas of St. Paul, but for some reason the Highland, Groveland and Macalester areas have traditionally been hit hardest.

The Parks Department plans to use the left-over spray from last year to treat the trees in parks such as Como and Highland. "It makes sense to spray them when the area affected is of manageable size," Karl said.

In the meantime, we can all wait for the worms to grow more and more plentiful as they eat themselves out of their trees.

Apartment Dwellers:

One step further for safety than the Reader's Digest

Q. How many Electronic Smoke Detectors do we need for a three-room apartment?

A. At minimum, one outside your bedroom door. A second unit outside your entrance could warn of other people's fires on floors below you.

The article also mentions that it is the law in at least 27 states that all new houses and apartments have smoke alarms.

We at Highland Electric, in the fire alarm and security system business for years, suggest that smoke alarms in apartments be connected electrically so that when one alarm goes off, they all go off. A Fire Control Panel, which we can install, will set off horns or bells at a number of key places in the apartment complex as well as the individual apartments.

If this makes sense to you, ask your landlord to call us today. Prevent personal tragedy—and also maybe save the lives of others.

Tutoring program set at St. Luke's

A Summer Tutoring Program in math and reading for grades K-5 will be offered at St. Luke's School from June 19 through July 21.

The five-week program, which is open to all area students, will review and reinforce the basic skills introduced during the past school year and help prepare students for the next grade level. Although primarily designed to improve the students' math and reading comprehension, the sessions will also emphasize the development of motivational skills including concentration, attention and listening.

Each child will be assigned to a small group of four to six students and will receive one hour of daily individualized instruction Monday through Friday mornings. The cost is $12.00 per week.

'IRRATIONAL FEAR'

In response to Mrs. Kopp's letter in the March 29 issue of the Villager, I would like to refute some of her erroneous statements and assumptions.

The St. Paul Human Rights Ordinance is not new; it has been in effect for nearly four years. It does not grant homosexuals "extensive" rights, only the same rights shared by all citizens. Thirdly, to attribute a potential "epidemic" of venereal disease to gays, or even to suggest it, is ridiculous and a clear indication of irrational fear. I hope the citizens of St. Paul vote on the basis of facts, not fears, as the opponents of the ordinance would like. Those who fear, or who are so threatened by homosexuality, ought to seek professional help.

The real issue is, should gay people be denied their human rights because they are gay? I don't think that is justifiable in a democracy, especially since the USA is the leader in promoting the preservation of human rights throughout the world. In a democracy, no group has any right to deny anyone their individual liberties.

St. Gregory's to celebrate 25th anniversary

All present and past parishoners of the Church of St. Gregory the Great are invited to join in the celebration of the 25th anniversary of the church and school on Sunday, April 30.

The observance will begin with an 11:30 a.m. Mass at the church, 1640 Montreal Ave. Monsignor Terrance Berntson will be the celebrant. Festivities will then continue at the Marriott Inn in Bloomington with a 1:00 p.m. luncheon and the traditional "Burning of the Mortgage" ceremony.

St. Gregory's parish was created as a result of the post World War II growth in Highland Park. Archbishop John Murray appointed Father Thomas Jude to establish the new parish on June 15, 1951.

St. Gregory's first Mass was celebrated in a tent on the parish grounds on June 22. Through the following winter, Masses were held in the basement of neighboring St. Leo's Church. The first Mass in the completed St. Gregory's Church was celebrated on November 9, 1952.

Camp Fire's highest honor goes to two Highland youths

Two Highland area Camp Fire Girls were awarded the WoHeLo (Work-Health-Love) Medallion, Camp Fire's highest honor, during the Highland-Midway Area Council Fire last Monday at Ramsey Junior High School.

Receiving the medallions were Anne Meddaugh, 1746 Rome Ave., and Joan Vitek, 1359 Sumner St. Both young women will graduate from Highland Park Senior High School this spring, and both have been involved in Camp Fire Girls for 11 years.

Ms. Meddaugh, whose award was presented by Janis Martin, one of her sponsors, earned her recognition partly through her work with the deaf, an area in which she plans to base her future career.

Ms. Vitek, whose award was presented by Mayor George Latimer, earned her honor through service within the community and in public affairs. She also has the honor of being the first person in the history of the St. Paul Council to have achieved all 19 Torchbearers in 19 separate fields.

Cretin wins state table tennis title

Cretin High School was able to overcome Minneapolis Central 9-8 in overtime to win the AA Minnesota State High School Table Tennis Tournament, held recently in Minneapolis.

Cretin beat Golden Valley 9-4 in the quarterfinals, but from then on it took overtime tie-breakers in the semis and finals to win the championship.

In the semifinals against Highland Park, the singles competition was played to an 8-8 tie. In the doubles tie-breaker, Cretin's Whaley brothers, Tom and Tim, beat Highland's Thai Dav and Hung Phan in two out of three matches for a 9-8 victory and a spot in the finals.

In the championship match against Central, the Whaley boys again turned an 8-8 tie into a one point victory by winning two out of three doubles matches from Swen Baker and Tvan Nguyen.

Cretin's John Fries and both Tim and Tom Whaley were named to the all-state team.

Western Style the Wilson Way
Wilson Western style has a hearty smoke flavor that will remind you of campfire cooking. The pork sausage is blended with special spices and lean shoulder meat to give it a real outdoor flavor. The rich colored hams have been trimmed so that only the lean outside meat is used. Then they're sugar cured and deep smoked so the meat is tender and juicy. The hearty smoke flavor of the center cut, thick sliced bacon comes from the extra time Wilson gives it in the smokehouse . . . what a treat for breakfast! The franks are made from fully cooked sausage that's been blended with special spices then heavily smoked. Look for the bright new Western style packages in the Applebaum meat case.

Particular People shop for meats, cheese, salads & party trays from the Applebaum deli, for convenience sake.

Highland PTSA meeting slated

Dr. David Frye, principal of Highland Park Senior High School, will present a progress report on the present school year during a PTSA meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 2 in the school library. Parents of incoming 10th graders are invited to attend.

An added attraction for the evening will be a preview of I Hear Your Hands, a production of the Highland Park Theatre for the Deaf. Performed by both hearing and deaf students, the play will also be presented at 7:00 p.m. Thursday and Friday, May 4-5 in the Highland Park Senior High Auditorium. Admission is free.

TRAVELING TROPHY

This week's Talking Out of School Traveling Trophy, the "Pass the Yen Award" (given the international monetary situation, we thought it might soon be worth more than the buck), goes to Donald Guigsberg, principal at Battle Creek Junior High School.

The award is presented in recognition of the attitude Guigsberg recently displayed when reacting to charges of discipline problems at Battle Creek.

The problem, according to Mary Jo Pignato, the mother of a Battle Creek student, is that "there is too much fighting among the students, uncontrolled student smoking, the sale of drugs, and a double standard in discipline."

When confronted by these and similar charges from parents at a recent school meeting, Guigsberg responded, "There are some lunatics and hoodlums in our schools, but I have no control over that."

"Despite all the problems, there are many magnificent things going on here," he said. "We're not half as bad as our image."

We believe it's up to the principal to be a leader and set the tone for the rest of the school. We've seen the returns come in when a principal takes charge in helping to create a better educational climate for students and staff.

And so, Mr. Guigsberg, we present to you this week's Traveling Trophy—one standard-sized rubber yen. Along with all your responsibilities, it's guaranteed to come bouncing right back to you.

WHAT'S GOOD?

Mel Therrien, French teacher at Highland Junior and Senior High, that's what's good, according to parents of students in his classes.

In talking with Therrien, we learned that part of his teaching philosophy is to instill in his students an appreciation for world togetherness and a desire to be a part of that world. Many of the projects he undertakes in this effort go far above and beyond what we normally expect of our teachers. In fact, we almost accused him of being a glutton for punishment when we discovered he had just returned from a three-week tour of England and France with a group of 19 Highland students.

Therrien estimates he put in over 100 hours in preparation for the trip, which included six Saturday planning meetings with parents and students.

The obvious value to those who went on the trip was an opportunity to experience the people and cultures of other lands. However, the most important thing the students brought back from Europe was an expanded sense of the world, a cosmopolitanism which taught them that St. Paul, Minnesota, was not the primary focus of attention for everyone, that there are other people and cultures, and other points of view.

This year's was the third trip Therrien has taken with his students. From the reaction of both students and parents, we hope he will continue to provide these kinds of experiences for future Highland students.

Talking Out of School salutes Mel Therrien for the extra mile he goes in helping to educate our children.

Childhood Center registration opens

Saint Paul's Childhood Center, 900 Summit Ave., is now accepting registrations for its 1978 Summer Day Camp for children age 3-7. The first session will run from June 14 through July 14; the second from July 17 through August 11.

Cost for the day camp program is $8.00 per day, which includes instruction, two weekly field trips, swimming, and a daily breakfast, lunch and a snack.

As a federally certified outreach program of Saint Paul's United Church of Christ, the Childhood Center accepts children of all races and religions. For any further information, call Mrs. Smith, director, at 224-4749.

Hadassah to honor contributions May 3

The St. Paul Chapter of Hadassah will honor its Youth Aliyah contributors at noon Wednesday, May 3 at the Temple of Aaron, 616 S. Mississippi River Blvd. Through its support of the Youth Aliyah (immigration) movement, Hadassah has helped resettle over 155,000 Jewish youths from 80 lands in Israel.

The program will consist of an installation of officers, an Ima presentation in memory of Miriam Haspel Kaplan, and a musical performance by the Eugene Levinson family.

Down at the Playground

Hello from Desnoyer!

Registration is now open for all softball, baseball and T-ball teams. We don't want to call you "out at home," so if you intend to play ball this summer, you must sign up now. If interested in coaching, call the playground.

"Track time" has arrived, and boys and girls in grades 3-9 are invited to stretch their legs and win a few ribbons. We're all set—registration is open, the events are posted on the bulletin board, practice sessions are scheduled—we just need you.

The playground will be closed April 25 because of the election. See you soon.

EDGCUMBE

Spring soccer for boys and girls will begin at 4:00 p.m. Thursday, April 27. The basic fundamental and skills program is open to area youngsters free of charge.

Due to the generosity, support and efforts of many volunteers and booster members, the 1978 Sports Banquet was a great success and a memorable evening for all the young athletes.

A special "thank you" goes to the Silver Fox Club for its generous donations to our hockey program. The money has been well spent and each team will benefit from the club members' kindness.

For additional information on our summer programs, call the center at 699-6903.

GROVELAND

In baseball, it's "three strikes and you're out!" Well, Groveland is gonna give you four. We have designated Monday, May 1 as Late Registration Day for all softball, baseball, Recreation for Small People, day camps and roller skating programs. We know you don't want to miss out on any of the summer fun, so come on down and sign up now.

RIVERSIDE

Registration is still open for T-ball, softball and baseball. The fee is $1.00.

The Junior Olympics district competition will be held Wednesday, May 17 at the Highland High School track. Participants are needed for the following events: dashes, distance runs, high jump, running broad jump and softball throw.

There will be a two-division free throw contest on Thursday, May 11. Competition for grades 6 and under will be held from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m. and for grades 7-12 from 6:00 to 9:00 p.m.

HILLCREST

Cribbage, ping pong, checkers and chess tournaments will be held at Hillcrest during May. If you want to participate, call Pete at 698-1435. The first tournament will be cribbage on Tuesday, May 9. The entry fee is 50 cents.

Little league to hold paper drive

The first of four paper drives scheduled by the Highland-Hilltopper Little League will be held on Saturday and Sunday, May 13-14. Proceeds from the door-to-door drive will be used to help upgrade the playing field at Montreal and Cleveland Ave. and to defray general league expenses.

The Ford Motor Company has donated a one-ton truck to help pick up the papers, but a few young ballplayers and adults are still needed to coordinate the effort. Those who would like to lend a hand are asked to call league president Jim O'Connor at 699-5086.

Wednesday, April 26, 1978

Robert S. Swanson, a senior at Breck High School, was recently announced as the winner of a four-year Merit Scholarship made available by the General Mills Foundation.

Highland Junior High to celebrate Chicano Week

Chicano Week will be celebrated at Highland Park Junior High School May 1-5 as another in a series of cultural weeks held throughout the school year.

The week that includes the 5th of May is a time of celebration for all Chicano people. It was on that day in 1962 that the Mexican army defeated the greater French forces of Puebla, turning the tide of French intervention in Mexico.

Week-long activities at Highland to celebrate Chicano Week will include the showing of a number of films, and the sale of Mexican cookies and buttons, and the raffling of pinatas and other Mexican items.

On Monday and Tuesday, May 1-2, Rosemary Peterson and Mary Kuettnier of the school's World Languages and Cultures Department will present a short unit on Mexican-Americans in the school's social studies classes. Staff members, Spanish students and their families will all dine out at a Mexican restaurant on Tuesday evening.

On Wednesday, May 3, students of Spanish will participate in a Mexican Cultural Fair during which Mexican-American craftsmen will demonstrate their art.

Homecroft scouts to hold rally on May 2

A summer adventure rally for cub scout-age boys in the Homecroft School neighborhood will be held from 7:00 to 8:00 p.m. Tuesday, May 2 at the Highland Park pavilion, near Hamline and Montreal Ave.

Cubmaster Dave Gjerdingen of Pack 181 invites all boys age 10 or under who have completed second grade to come to the rally with their families and see cub scouting in action. The new scouts will get a preview of the pack's upcoming activities, which include a day camp, a Twins ballgame, a visit to the U. of M., and the Indianhead Council Scout-O-Rama.

Have you ever had your tires balanced by a high speed computer in one of the big shops, and yet vibration was not removed—or even got worse? It could have been because your tires were only balanced and not inspected for radial and lateral runout. This needs to be done manually, and we take the time to do it.

Considering Contacts?

It's not a decision you'll want to make without first getting some professional advice. With soft lenses, conventional lenses, gas permeables and so many others now available, it takes a specialist in fitting contacts to help determine which lens, if in fact any, would be best for your eyes.

That's where we come in. Highland Optical technicians make it their business to work with you in making that decision. They're trained to identify those who will predictably be problem contact wearers, and to prescribe the right lens for those who should have no trouble with them.

If you're a candidate for contacts, you'll be opening your eyes to a whole new world of trouble-free vision, not to mention ridding yourself of the hassle glasses can often be.

If we can help answer your questions concerning contacts, just drop by or give us a call any time.

Handicapped citizens compete in 'Olympic' meet May 5 at CST

The 1978 East Metro Games and Special Olympics track and field event will be held on Friday, May 5 in O'Shaughnessy Stadium at the College of St. Thomas.

Co-sponsored by the St. Paul Association for Retarded Citizens, the St. Paul Jaycees and the St. Paul Parks and Recreation Board, the track and field day is the last meet in the seven-part athletic program for handicapped citizens.

As in the previous six meets, the track and field event is divided into two divisions: the East Metro games, age 17 and under; and the Special Olympics, age 18 and older.

The scheduled events include the 50-yard dash, 110-, 220- and 440-yard relays, a softball throw, long jump and broad jump.

The day's activities will begin at 9:00 a.m. with an opening ceremony similar to that of the International Olympic Games. Actors Theatre inaugural season closes with 'Arms and the Man'

George Bernard Shaw's classic comedy, Arms and the Man, is the fourth and final production of the Actors Theatre of St. Paul's inaugural season.

The show will continue its run in Foley Theatre at the College of St. Thomas on Thursdays and Fridays at 8:00 p.m., Saturdays at 5:15 and 9:15 p.m. and Sundays at 7:00 p.m. through May 14. The April 30 performance will be signed by Cathy Silvern, in cooperation with the Minnesota Theatre Institute of the Deaf.

Special matinee performances are also scheduled on Thursdays, April 27 (11:00 a.m.), May 4 and 11 (1:30 p.m.).

Set in a small town near the Bulgarian Balkans in the late 19th century, the play stars Steven Pringle as Captain Bluntschli, the "Chocolate Cream" Serbian soldier who finds the sweets more of a prerequisite for survival on the battle field than ammunition.

The comedy begins as Bluntschli, seeking an escape from the rapidly advancing Bulgarian army, climbs through the bedroom window of Raina Petkoff, daughter of Major Petkoff and the betrothed of Major Sergius Saranoff, both of them officers in the Bulgarian army.

The playwright's wit is given full reign as Raina tries unsuccessfully to juggle two suitors, Bluntschli and Saranoff, much to the confusion of her parents and the delight of the audience.

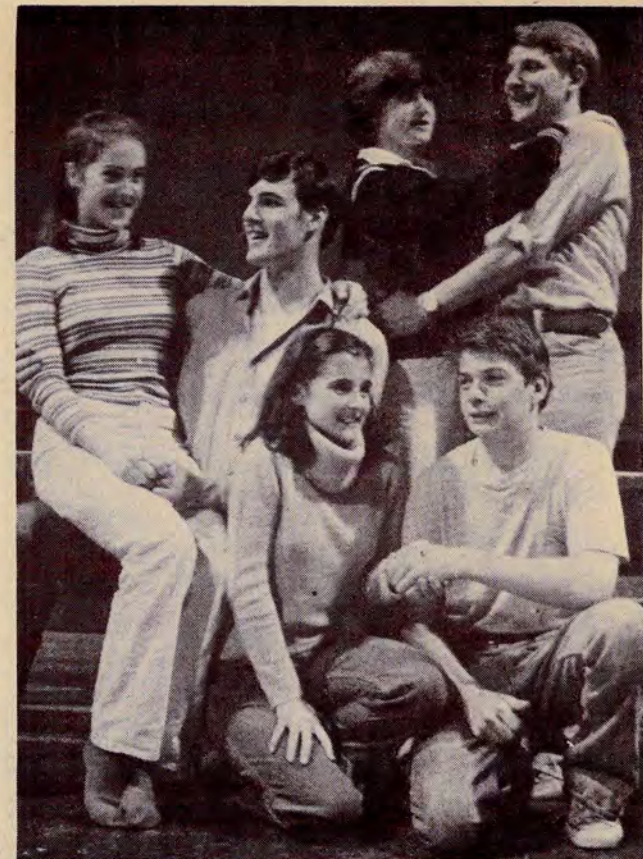

Directed by Actors Theatre artistic director Michael Andrew Miner, Arms and the Man stars resident company members Barbara Granning, Mari Rovang, Nancy Bagshaw, James Harris and Steven Pringle. Guest actors appearing in the play include Michael Laskin, John Pekas and Peter Farley.

Ticket information and reservations for Arms and the Man are available by calling the Actors Theatre box office at 698-5559.

WHERE TO GO & DO

The Villager's Guide to Food, Fun & Entertainment

The long vigil ends when Michael, Lily and Skinner surrender to the British troops in Chimera Theatre's production of Irish playwright Brian Friel's "The

'Freedom of the City' to open at Chimera

The Freedom of the City, a play by Irish author Brian Friel, will open at Chimera Theatre this Friday, April 28 and will continue its run through Sunday, May 28.

Set in Northern Ireland in 1970, The Freedom of the City examines the fate of three Irish demonstrators who mistakenly occupy the Mayor's parlor to escape British tear gas. Believing the occupation to be terrorist activity, British troops surround the building.

Suspense builds throughout the play as the action switches from the three Irish marchers inside, whose humorous and poignant observations reveal the true background of the political incident, to the observers outside, whose erroneous assumptions eventually lead to the demise of the three.

Tomas Mac Anna, of Dublin's Abbey Theatre, is director and designer of Chimera's production. Mac Anna received a "Best Director" Tony nomination for his Broadway production of Borstal Boy, which he also directed at Chimera in 1972. During his sojourn in St. Paul, he is staying with friends, George and Aileen DeLong, 1774 Summit Ave.

The Freedom of the City stars Mikel Clifford as Lily, Glen Staffan Bjornson (825 St. Clair Ave.) as Skinner, and Mark Drusch as Michael.

Three other performers in the 16-member cast come from the Highland area. Robert Evans, 1358 Goodrich Ave., plays the part of an Army Press Officer. A Chimera Theatre regular, Evans is employed at Economics Laboratory.

John Williams and his wife, Marion Matters, 1936 Sargent Ave., also appear in the play. Williams, a legislative analyst with the Minnesota House of Representatives, plays Brigadier Johnson-Hansbury, and Matters, a records analyst with the Minnesota Historical Society, plays Dr. Dodds, an American sociologist.

The Freedom of the City will be presented Thursday through Saturday evenings at 8:00 p.m. and Sundays at 7:00 p.m. A 2:00 p.m. matinee is also scheduled for Sunday, May 21.

Chimera Theatre Company presents its plays in the Crawford Livingston Theatre of the St. Paul Arts and Science Center, 30 E. 10th St. For further information or reservations, call the Chimera box office at 222-0792.

Twelve troupes to perform Three-day theatre festival begins May 12 in Highland

The Minnesota Theatre Federation and the Walker Art Center will sponsor a Minnesota Regional Theatre Festival on May 12-14 in Frey Theatre at the College of St. Catherine and the Edyth Bush Theatre, 690 S. Cleveland Ave.

The weekend festival will offer 12 performances and 11 workshops beginning at 7:00 p.m. Friday, May 12 and continuing through Sunday evening, May 14. Each night will conclude with an open forum to discuss the processes, techniques and productions presented during the course of the day. Larry Devine, drama critic of the Detroit Free Press and chairperson of the executive committee of the American Theatre Critics Association, will serve as guest critic for the discussions.

The purposes of the festival are: (1) to bring more people into contact with the region's theatres through performances, workshops and conversations; (2) to provide a three-day period during which artists and companies can view each other's performances, participate in workshops, and meet informally to support, nurture and extend their art; and (3) to raise local, regional and national awareness of their philosophies, intentions and performing styles.

The theatre companies and individuals participating in the festival represent groups of performing artists seeking their own alternatives to commercial or large repertory fare—those often outside the limelight of the big name theatres in the Twin Cities area. The theatre groups and scheduled performances are as follows:

Friday, May 12

The Palace Theatre: Palace Stew at 7:00 p.m. at the Edyth Bush. The Palace Theatre, an ensemble of theatre artists whose style is highly physical and daring in its variety and directness, will present a collection of selected scenes from its most recent work, When the Spring Comes the Snow Melts and Close to the Bone.

At the Foot of the Mountain: The Story of a Mother at 8:45 p.m. in Frey Theatre. At the Foot of the Mountain describes itself as "a women's theatre of protest" and an alternative to "theatre written and produced by men." The Story of a Mother celebrates the mother-daughter relationship through dialogues, masks, myths and songs.

Leslie K. Ferris: Route Through Venice at 10:45 p.m. at Edyth Bush. Leslie K. Ferris directs and produces the English premiere of French avant-garde playwright Andre Benedetto's newest work, which explores the concept of art sold as merchandise.

Saturday, May 13

Performing Arts Learning Center: Friday; and Chimera Theatre's Educational Center: The Wise People of Gotham at 1:00 p.m. at the Edyth Bush. The Performing Arts Learning Center of the St. Paul Public Schools, which teaches theatre arts to secondary students interested in the performing arts as a career, will present the story of a young theatre's attempt to become financially self-sufficient.

Chimera Theatre's Educational Center is one of the few programs offering intensive work in creative dramatics for children in the Twin Cities. The children will perform an improvisational adaptation of an old English folk tale which not only involves the audience, but also invites the children to provide the power and fun of imaginary fun-making.

Provisional Theatre: Inching Through the Everglades at 3:30 p.m. in Frey Theatre. The Los Angeles-based Provisional Theatre, an innovative theatre troupe currently on a midwest tour, will perform a musical comedy about

Environmental board seeks 35 volunteers for task force

The metro Regional Environmental Education Council (REEC) is seeking volunteers to become members of five task forces to design and carry out environmental education programs for citizens of the seven-county metro area.

The metropolitan area REEC is one of 13 citizen-based regional councils conducting such programs statewide under the authority of the Minnesota Environmental Education Board, created by the legislature in 1973.

In order to strengthen the metro REEC, the 1976 legislature provided for the addition of five seven-member task forces comprised of representatives from each of the following locations: 1) Minneapolis, 2) suburban Hennepin County, 3) Carver, Scott and Dakota counties, 4) Ramsey County, 5) Anoka and Washington counties.

The task forces will serve the general public as well as teachers and students by identifying environmental problems or concerns and creating educational programs to help resolve them.

Kiwanis meeting set

The Kiwanis Camp Auxiliary will hold a luncheon meeting at 11:30 a.m. Monday, May 1 at the Minnesota Museum of Art, 305 St. Peter St.

Graphologist Catherine Downs will present a handwriting analysis program. For reservations, call Mrs. Joseph Rodgers at 774-7431.

Each task force may develop its own strategies but education projects typically involve development of curricula and other resources, conferences, workshops, forums and special events.

Task force members are being sought from a cross-section of the community including education, business, industry and agriculture, labor, voluntary organizations and elected officials.

Interested residents of the metro area can obtain more information and application forms by calling 378-7010. The task force organization will begin in May.

Horticultural Society offers growing tips at '78 Garden Show

Gardening—what to grow and how to grow it, indoors and outdoors in all seasons—will be covered in a series of lectures and demonstrations by members of the Minnesota State Horticultural Society at the 1978 Home and Garden Show, to be held April 28 through May 3 at the Minneapolis Auditorium.

The Horticultural Society will provide an educational program which, in addition to lectures and demonstrations, includes plant displays by the Orchid Society of Minnesota, the Minnesota Bromeliad Society, the Minnesota Rose Society, the Indoor Light Gardening Society, and the Minnesota Chapter of the American Gloxinia and Gesneriad Society.

Pruning trees and shrubs, vegetable gardening, potting and repotting house plants, and growing grapes in Minnesota will be among the topics covered in programs presented daily in the auditorium theater. The pruning and training of bonsai, plant propagation and other garden practices will be demonstrated daily in a special "potting shed" section of the auditorium.

For more information on scheduled programs and times, call 373-1031.

Home improvements never stacked up better.

Remodeling seems to pay off handsomely for homeowners these days, what with the constantly rising costs of new housing. But whether it's do-it-yourself or having-it-done, it costs... and usually more than your current budget can stand.

That's where we come in... at a 10.5 annual percentage rate that practically asks "Why wait?"

At Mid America State Bank of Highland Park you pay interest only for the time you actually use the money. If you're able to pay ahead of schedule, that will always be your privilege... and it will always reduce your interest charges accordingly.

So if you have that lingering dream of remodeling your home, but have been putting off the project for lack of cash, we invite you to stop by to see us soon. We may surprise you with the way we can make your home improvement package stack up—so that it makes good sense to you.
