Temple of Aaron "Petite" Luncheon

A "petite" luncheon for new and prospective Temple of Aaron Sisterhood members will be held at the home of Mrs. Bernard S. Raskas, 611 Mt. Curve Blvd., August 4 at 12:45 p.m.

Past presidents of the organization will welcome the guests. Musical selections are scheduled for program entertainment.

All interested women are cordially invited to attend. For further information please contact membership co-chairmen Mrs. Ronald Miller (699-3624) or Mrs. Joseph Kaplan (699-4581).

Home Health Fair At Liberty Plaza

Children are only as safe as their home is . . . and Children's Hospital has a hazard-filled exhibit to prove it.

In cooperation with Liberty Plaza, the Hospital's "Home Health Fair" will be open for neighborhood families: Thursday, July 24, at the Dayton Avenue Presbyterian Church, (Dayton Avenue and Mackubin), from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. in the afternoon and 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. in the evening.

In ten different displays, the Hospital shows dangerous corners in the home, over 100 kinds of objects that children have swallowed, and an array of dangerous toys sold in area stores.

The Children's Hospital exhibit will be available throughout the year for a limited number of requests from schools and organizations.

Showboat Cancels Winona Trip

The University of Minnesota's Centennial Showboat will not travel to Winona this season. Operational expenses and a demand for extra performances in the Twin Cities caused the cancellation.

Instead of going to Winona, the boat will return to the Minneapolis landing Aug. 26. "The Birds" will be presented Aug. 26, 27 and 28 and "The School for Scandal" will be given Aug. 29 and 30.

"The School for Scandal," a comedy by Richard Brinsley Sheridan, is playing in Minneapolis now through July 26. It will be presented at Harriet Island in St. Paul July 28 through Aug. 2; in Stillwater Aug. 15 and 16, and in Red Wing Aug. 19, 20 and 21.

Walter Kerr's adaptation of Aristophanes' satire "The Birds" will be presented in St. Paul Aug. 4 through 9; in Stillwater Aug. 12, 13 and 14; and in Red Wing, Aug. 22 and 23.

Tickets are available at the U Ticket office.

Lee's Village Inn Sold, Kitchen Under Present Owner

Effective July 1st, 1969, Lee's Village Inn will be owned by Mr. Sam Ciresi, prominent Twin City restaurant, cafeteria operator, according to Edward Berg, current owner.

Berg, in making the announcement, reported that Lee's Kitchen, on Ford Parkway will remain under his ownership.

Lee's has long been one of the Twin Cities' outstanding family restaurants. Prior to Berg's ownership it was owned by Port's, St. Paul, and it was originated by Don and Cora Lee.

Berg, longtime food service administrator, has owned the Village Inn and Kitchen for ten years.

Ciresi has been associated with downtown cafeterias in office buildings in both St. Paul and Minneapolis and is an active member of the Minnesota Restaurant Association. Berg was president of the Minnesota Restaurant Association in 1967-1968.

The basic Lee's concept, quality and operation will remain as it has in the past, according to Ciresi.

The announcement was made recently at a meeting of the Highland Civic Association.

Rhodesian Artist To Exhibit At 'U'

Animals and people of Africa have inspired many of the semi-abstract oil paintings by Rex Mhiripiri which will be exhibited in the Terrace room of Coffman Gallery at the University of Minnesota Monday (July 21) through Aug. 8.

Mhiripiri, 34, is a native of Rhodesia and an English and philosophy student at the University. He came to the United States almost three years ago. In Africa, he was employed by the Kenya Ministry of Information and as a sales executive by the Mobil Oil Company. He has traveled extensively in Africa and has exhibited his works there and in Israel.

African music will be heard at the public opening of the show Monday from 7 to 9 p.m. Regular gallery hours are 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., Monday through Friday.

"Two Pails of Water" At Peppermint Tent

For the delight of young guests who attend "Two Pails of Water" at the Peppermint Tent children's theatre:

Actors hide in nightshirts hanging on a clothesline.

Telephones talk entirely on their own.

Characters find themselves glued to benches.

The play is a farce based on an old Dutch nursery rhyme. It will be played at 3:30 p.m. every afternoon to August 17. The red-and-white Peppermint Tent is on the University of Minnesota campus at the Mississippi's edge, near the Centennial Showboat. There are special rates for groups.

Director of the play is Les Schimelpfenig, a graduate student who recently directed "Treasure Island" for the University Theatre as well as the Peppermint's first show this season, "Bobby and the Dragons."

Temple of Aaron Elects Officers

Saul S. Garelick has been re-elected president of the Temple of Aaron for the coming year. Garelick was elected by unanimous vote at a recent Board of Directors meeting. Re-elected to serve with Garelick were: K.S. Goldenberg and Donald Swartz, vice presidents; Arthur Freeman, treasurer; and Joseph H. Kaplan, secretary.

Elected to the Executive Committee were: Stanley Baranbaum, Harry Bell, Sanford Brody, Gerard Hirschhorn, and Eugene J. Schway. In addition to the officers and elected members, the immediate past president, Frank H. Schaffer, also serves on the executive committee.

The Board of Directors also announced the election of the following members as Trustees for the Congregation Cemetery Association: Harold Field, Hy Goldberg and Mrs. Arnold Rubenstein.

Work Incentive Program for AFDC Families

A new Work Incentive (WIN) program to provide vocational training for members of families receiving assistance under the AFDC (Aid to Families with Dependent Children) was launched in Minnesota July 1 with 600 persons enrolled, Commissioner George J. Vavoulis of the Minnesota Department of Employment Security has announced.

The program is a cooperative venture with the State Department of Public Welfare, which administers the AFDC program, and 13 county welfare offices.

The 600 persons were transfers from the Work Experience and Training programs which WIN succeeds, Vavoulis said. Work Experience and Training programs were operated by county welfare offices under federal legislation which expired June 30.

Minnesota has received federal funds of $1,131,727 to finance the WIN program for one year, Vavoulis said. This will be supplemented by $282,935 in state and county welfare contributions.

Under the WIN program mothers and youth, who are out-of-school and out-of-work in families receiving AFDC, will be offered courses ranging from basic education to training in jobs requiring a high degree of skill.

"In some cases, persons may even finish professional courses, such as nursing, if they have had previous training."

There are openings in the WIN program for 1,200 persons, allocated as follows:

Hennepin county, 350; Ramsey county, 350; St. Louis county, 200; 10-county Concentrated Employment Program (CEP) area, 200; special work projects, 100.

WIN openings filled through transfers from the Work Experience and Training programs were:

Hennepin county, 200; Ramsey county, 300; and St. Louis county, 100.

Commissioner Vavoulis, who was chairman of a WIN study committee of the International Conference of Employment Security Agencies, said the objective of the program is to develop the earning capacity of AFDC families so they may become economically independent.

The 1969 Minnesota State Legislature appropriated $500,000 for the State Department of Public Welfare to pay part of the State's share of the program over the next two years, Vavoulis said. Counties also will contribute to the program's financing. Under the provisions of the program, federal government provides 80 per cent of the funds, with the state and counties contributing the other 20 per cent.

The 1,200 WIN openings for training will remain constant, Vavoulis said. As soon as one person completes training, another will be assigned.

Referrals to the training program are made by county welfare workers. Plans call for a total of 1,700 persons to receive training and employment under the program during the next twelve months.

Clara C. Glenn, St. Thomas Academy Librarian, Retires

Miss Clara C. Glenn has retired from educational work after 25 years of service to Saint Thomas Academy. Miss Glenn served all her years at the Academy as librarian; for many years she also was in charge of audio-visual materials. Born in Beaver Falls, Minnesota, Miss Glenn was graduated from Saint Luke's grade school, Saint Joseph's Academy, and received her Bachelor of Arts degree in Classical Languages from the College of Saint Catherine, Saint Paul. She earned a Master of Arts degree in English Literature and a Bachelor of Science in Library Science degree at the University of Minnesota. She taught at the College of Saint Catherine, the College of Saint Scholastica in Duluth, Catholic University of America, Saint Joseph's Academy, and the Senior High School in Chisholm, Minnesota, among others. Her professional reputation was nationally recognized when she was appointed Editor of the Catholic Supplement to the Standard Catalog for High School Libraries, 1962-65. A Phi Beta Kappa, she has written articles which have appeared in Crisis, Commonweal, the English Journal, and other publications.

In speaking of Miss Glenn, George E. Langeland, English and history instructor and former principal of the Academy, said, "Her defense of the down-trodden and her arguments for justice were constant showers of fire." A born teacher, Miss Glenn found great delight in helping a cadet learn the ways of researching a subject. A single question from a student might result in his leaving the library with numerous pamphlets, books and articles. Miss Glenn enjoys reminiscing about her high school teaching days on the range and her college experiences in Washington, D.C.

She holds memberships in various organizations: Minnesota Association of School Librarians, American Library Association, Catholic Library Association, Minnesota Historical Society, American Association of University Women, Minnesota Council of Teachers of English.

Miss Glenn was feted by the faculty and administration at an informal gathering, by the student body at a convocation, and was publicly honored at the Academy's commencement exercises. Miss Glenn will continue to live in her West Saint Paul home at 1013 Hall Avenue with her retired sister Laura Glenn.

The show is co-sponsored by the Dakota County Fine Arts Society and Garden Clubs in the Dakota County Pilot Council and the Burnsville Council.

Twins Highlights

The third annual Fisherman's Night highlights the upcoming homestand of the Minnesota Twins, and will kick-off the unique 'Early Wynn's Twins' Camp-In' at the Met!

Fisherman's Night, slated for Friday August 1, when the Twins open a series with high-flying Baltimore, will once again feature a pre-game fishing contest wherein members of the Twins will fish for trout from a tank at home-plate. The trout will be banded with tags carrying numbers corresponding to the numbers on tickets which will be handed out to each fan entering the turnstiles that evening.

The defending world champion Detroit Tigers will start the homestand by meeting the Twins in a two-night double-header on Tuesday, July 29. After two more night games by the Tigers here, the Orioles will move in on Fishermen's Night and remain for the entire Campers' Weekend.

SPACE AGE HAIRSTYLING FOR PRACTICAL EARTH WOMEN

No doubt historians of the future, looking backward to today, will label us "Early Space Age." Even the type hairstyles we wear, with the importance of a hairgoods wardrobe to most of us, will reveal that life is like a ticking timebomb. We all need all the shortcuts we can get to pack enough into the crowded hours left to us.

A SPECIALIST MUST KNOW WHAT HE'S DOING

It's a matter of life and death to a bullfighter. Of course, it isn't quite that serious for us, but one little slip could mean our business life and we never forget it. That's why we have a standing request with our suppliers and beauty products manufacturers to keep us informed of anything new, whether it's a technique or a product.

That also explains why we keep on taking advance styling courses after all these years. We're able to satisfy our patrons because we're never quite good enough to satisfy ourselves. You see, no matter how good business is, we always need your business.

WIGS, WIGLETS & FALLS

We give professional advice on all hair goods, and we are equipped to clean, style, color, and alter hair goods at your convenience. We have a complete personalized service, and during the hot weather and vacations nothing is so important as to have ready at all times these modern accessories.

MANICURES

Miss Lucy and Miss Pauline available full time.

Hamm's Present

"AMERICA SINGS" AT MET SPORTS CENTER

The Theodore Hamm Brewing Co. has gone into show business.

The company, out to sell the U.S. — without commercials — has put together an original two-hour musical stage production titled "America Sings" that is touring the western states.

Its Twin City appearances will be at Metropolitan Sports Center on Saturday, July 26, with a performance starting at 8:30 p.m. Admission is free, but tickets are resuired.

The reasoning behind the venture is explained by Hamm's president, Barry M. Rowles. "Americans need a more prideful view of their country—past, present and future—and we're out to demonstrate it," he said.

Eddie Peabody, the world's greatest banjo player and a retired U.S. Navy captain, is a featured performer. He appears with a contemporary group of 19 singers and dancers billed as "The Spirit of US." One of the members of the group is Joan Beth of Minneapolis.

Producer of the show is Robert Simpson, who has directed and choreographed over 100 Broadway musicals in summer and winter stock theaters across the country. Musical director is Gregg Perry who, at 21 years of age, has conducted the NBC Orchestra and the Merv Griffin and Mike Douglas show orchestras.

"America Sings" will play 29 performances between July 13 and July 30 in 15 cities and at three military installations.

Tickets for the performances may be obtained at the Metropolitan Sports Center box office Friday from 9 to 4 p.m., and Saturday noon to performance time.

CYC 31st Annual Summer Carnival

Only once a year the Catholic Youth Center has a fund raising event. The CYC's 31st annual summer carnival will be held on Sunday, July 27th, from noon until 8 p.m.

A Water Dunking Booth, Apple Tree and American Legion Locomotive are just a few of the 27 and more games, booths and rides which will be set up at the CYC on 150 N. Smith, St. Paul. Igor, the monster, and his brother, Ivan, will give tours through the perennially popular "House of Terror." There will be swimming in the pool in hour long periods for those who bring their suits and a quarter.

Tickets may be purchased at the door, or from one of the 500 grade school boys and girls, 700 high school students and 600 boy campers who are selling tickets throughout the entire St. Paul area. A door prize will be given away.

Hilltopper Little League Awards Banquet

The Hilltopper Little League annual awards banquet will be held at the Sveden House, 501 North Snelling Avenue, Thursday, August 7th, 6:30 p.m. A smorgasbord will be served.

Angie Giuliani of the Minnesota Twins staff will be the guest speaker. Trophies will be awarded to each boy on the first and second place teams of each division.

Players, managers, coaches of all the teams, their families and friends are invited.

Urban Jazz At 'U' Summer Festival

"Only a city, and a big one, has the diversity needed for the development of a new art form —and can provide an audience for it," says William C. Rogers of the University of Minnesota.

"Jazz, which originated among the black people in American cities, is the only distinct, original American contribution to world culture."

Rogers, a serious jazz devotee in private life, is director of the General Extension Division's program of continuing education in urban affairs, which is sponsoring a free urban jazz festival at the Universty Aug. 4, 6, 7 and 8.

An educational program illustrating the styles and backgrounds of the traditional jazz of several American cities, the festival will feature four Twin Cities jazz groups and program notes by Professor John Lucas of Carleton College.

Each band will play a different style of jazz at 8 p.m. on the steps of Northrop

ELIMINATE HAZARDS FOR FUN-VACATION

Want a longer vacation? You can have one if you start it when you leave home, for going can be as much fun and as relaxing as being at the vacation spot, provided you plan the trip carefully, take necessary equipment for emergencies and don't push too hard to reach a destination.

Prepare Thoroughly

Before starting, have your car thoroughly checked for safety. Include the tires, brakes, lights, steering, wipers, horn—install seat belts in all seat if you don't already have them, and plan that you and all passengers will use them at all times during travel. National studies reveal that approximately 10,000 lives could be saved each year by the use of seat belts, and that up to one-third of the serious injuries suffered by car occupants could be avoided.

For on-the-road emergencies, be sure to pack a well stocked first-aid kit, flash light and warning flares or flags, pliers, screw-driver, wrench, and proper equipment and tools for changing tires. A fire extinguisher also provides added security—a pressurized dry chemical type, at least 2½-pound capacity, is recommended.

Before leaving your house, stop all deliveries (milk, paper, etc.) and have the post office hold the mail; arrange for regular lawn mowing; ask a neighbor to keep an eye on the house; lock windows and doors, but leave the shades up.

Start Early, Take It Easy

Start your trip early and don't try to cover too many miles in one day. Remember that speed, or monotony of driving too long, may kill or lead to an accident. Enjoy the scenery, take a break from driving every two hours. Stop occasionally to stretch your legs, and leave the car from the curbside, away from traffic.

Drive Safely

Be sure to use safe driving techniques according to the different localities, such as when in the mountains or on super-highways. Read highway signs and signal carefully and remember they are not uniform in all states.

For real vacation fun—relax, don't try to crow a year of exercise into two weeks. Take the Thursday, July 24, 1969 sun in easy doses, and wear sun glasses.

Swimming and Boating

When swimming, select a good, safe place to swim—choose a pool, if possible, rather than a remote, unguarded, non-controlled beach or body of water. Don't try to swim too far, have someone with you, practice the "buddy" system.

Practice rules of safety when using a boat—don't stand up, or overload; check the weather before going any distance, have life vests available.

Hiking, Hunting, Camping

If you are a hiker, hunter or camper, take care to prevent the unpleasantness of finding yourself yost in the wilds. Have a knowledge of the area, use maps, or carry a good compass, or mark your trail over the route that you travel.

Avoid the use of water from possible polluted sources. If there is a question of its purity, either boil the water, or carry purification tablets to use in the water, prior to drinking.

Beware of eating plants, berries, nuts or mushrooms unless you are positive that they are wholesome. Many varieties are poisonous to human beings—be safe, rather than sorry.

Don't scoff at poison ivy or poison oak. Better than 75% of all persons are susceptible. The first rule of protection is to recognize these poisonous plants.

Plan your trip well, avoid known hazards, and prepare to have a real fun vacation.

Photo-facts

By C. L. Van Duzee
HIGHLAND DRUG CENTER

With all the beauty of summertime all around us obvious to the naked eye, and with the simplicity with which most cameras operate these days, one would think that all one had to do is aim and shoot to come up with perfect reproductions of what one's eyes see. Such is not the case, for the eye has a brain to interpret what we are looking at, whereas the camera can only record everything within its scope.

Take a scene which is beheld in open shade. We see, and concentrate on, that part of the scene which is of most interest to us. The fact that our eyes compensate for excessive blue in such a scene escapes us, and when we see our pictures or slides, they have a bluish cast to them. This can be alleviated by the use of Skylight or UV filters over the camera lens.

When we suggest to our film-buying customers "Do you need flashbulbs or cubes?" some of them look at us as tho we were draft—don't we realize that this is summer, and the sun shines, so who needs flash? Ah, but look at an example of how a picture can be drastically improved by the use of flash, in sunshine, when next you stop at the Photography department of Highland Drug Center. We will be happy to show you a picture taken without flash and then one with the use of a cube. Once you see for yourself, you will want to supplement daylight on certain shots.

If you have an adjustable camera, you should take care when at the beach or around water to stop down an extra stop to prevent over exposure. The reflecting power of water and sand is usually misjudged, and metered cameras fail to compensate automatically very often.

If you have an Instamatic camera, you have heretofore been limited to the coverage of the lens. At Highland Drug Center we have a set of wide angle and telephoto adapters which will greatly extend the range of pictures you can get.

Only $12.95 for the two lenses and viewfinder. Ask us to show you pictures taken with this set on an Instamatic 134 camera. You will be surprised at the different coverage each gives you compared to the regular lens.

One final suggestion for summertime picture taking. Use a slow or medium speed film rather than High Speed Ektachrome or, in black and white, Tri-X, since there is plenty of light and these special films are out of place for optimum results. For color prints, of course, color negative films come in only one sensitivity.

If you have any questions about improving your pictures, or the operation of your camera, stop at the Photography department in the beautifully remodeled Highland Drug Center and talk to Van.
