Christmas Seal Drive Closing

The Christmas Seal has been with us for more than sixty years, and in that time it has become a holiday tradition. It has also become one of our greatest allies in the battle against disease.

Christmas Seal contributions sponsor programs of free chest x-rays and breathing tests, public education, medical scholarships, medical research and legislation, and camps and clinics for asthmatic children. Many people today are healthier and happier individuals because of others, who with a spirit of giving, use Christmas Seals.

If you haven't received your Christmas Seal this year, or would like additional ones, call or stop in at the Christmas Seal headquarters, 614 Portland Avenue, St. Paul. Many postoffice lobbies have also been supplied with coin boxes containing Seals.

Remember — you may be doing more than adding a bright bit of color to your package or letter when you stick on a Christmas Seal. You may also be giving to someone you may never see, the greatest gift in the world: life and breath. What more fitting symbol could there be of the Christmas spirit?

Written by A. A. Milne, the play is adapted from the children's classic, "The Wind in the Willows," by Kenneth Grahame. Featuring such characters as Mole, Water Rat, Badger and Toad, the play takes the viewers into a country very English in character, where the animals act and live like people.

The play is the first production by Edyth Bush Theatre's junior company of actors which was formed by Joseph Sax, the Bush theatre's new managing director. Chris Kindy directs the children's theatre.

Cast in the lead roles are Rick Cohen as Toad, Rich Dworsky as Mole, Dick Rushton as Water Rat and Brant Schuessler as Badger.

SEASON'S GREETINGS

Christmas is the time to test our power to believe in miracles. There is a Christmas Gift that we know about but you can have it only if you are able to believe in it . . . blindly . . . without proof. It's there very certainly, but if you can't believe enough it disappears . . .

. . . a long time ago the baby Jesus set up an "Abundance Account" for you in heaven where all precious things are kept. You are allowed to draw upon it throughout your whole life to the fullest extent with which you are able to believe in it. It includes peace, love, the power to love, joy, creative fulfillment, and even money. (There are quite a number of other things that do not come to mind at the moment but what ever else you may want you can be sure it's there waiting for your faith.)

Our Christmas wish for you is that you will be able to believe in this miracle fund . . . so completely that for the rest of your life you will have everything good that you want — overflowing — in abundance — to give and to share.

The Chinese have a wonderful custom called "Naming." We're taking a leaf from their fortune tree and declaring 1968 as THE YEAR OF GREAT HAPPINESS, and we are dedicating it to you, our wonderful patrons. HAPPY NEW YEAR.

Survey Discloses Job Opportunities

Young people who want to be in demand in the labor market should consider becoming business programmers, draftsmen, nurses or nurses aides, machinists, electronics assemblers, auto mechanics or salesmen, Commissioner George J. Vavoulis of the Minnesota Department of Employment Security said.

These occupations are among those now experiencing severe manpower shortages according to a study made by the Department of Employment Security for the Vocational and Technical division of the Minnesota Department of Education.

The DES survey lists a total of 50 specific occupations in which there are a significant number of continuing job vacancies.

In addition, most of the occupations are in the "rapid" and "moderate" growth rate categories according to national employment expectations as projected to 1975.

Robert P. Van Tries, acting State Vocational Education Director, said the report is being used by the Department of Education to help evaluate the curricula in the 26 area vocational-technical schools throughout the state and to assist high school students who are exploring possible careers.

"We have distributed copies of the study to all eleven of our state vocational education supervisors and to the 26 area vocational school directors who, in turn, are making the information available to the high school counselors in their areas," Van Tries said.

He also noted that the Department of Education had expanded the original survey, which was based only on the metropolitan area, so that it would reflect the statewide employment situation in the occupations listed in the survey.

"The report was useful in another way, too," Van Tries said. "It indicated to us that, generally speaking, our state vocational training efforts are in the areas of shortage as indicated by the survey."

However, he also noted that the vocational schools still aren't able to supply enough trained people to meet the demands.

"We can't expand people we haven't got and right now we have more jobs than trainees," he said.

Commissioner Vavoulis said the occupational shortage survey is indicative of the Department of Employment Security's new approach to job research.

"We need to know what changes technological and industrial advancements are going to bring about in terms of new job opportunities," Vavoulis said. "I expect, too, that we must anticipate that some of the occupations for which we are training people today will become less important or even obsolete with the passage of time."

"Now that the State Employment Service has become so involved in various job-training programs, we need to know much more about present and future job markets than we did when the Service's primary function was trying to find jobs for persons receiving unemployment compensation checks."

"This need for more extensive information results to a large degree from a shortage of skilled workers and our Department's involvement in an increasing number of manpower programs, including, among others, the Manpower Development and Training program, Job Corps, and — most recently — the training and job placement of people on the welfare rolls."

Cretin Honor Roll

Brother Jerome Steven, FSC, principal of Cretin High School announced the following area students as having attained the "A" honor roll for the second quarter of the school year.

This is an achievement which is merited by only those students who have achieved the mark of A in all scholastic subjects.

What's Going On Here

Oh, boy, did we make some boos in the past hectic weeks . . . like we got the wrong number for Divine's in our Villager Directory (should read 699-1315 instead of 698-1315) and we left Dols name off his ad in the last Villager . . . Dols is the fine drug store on Ford Parkway and Cleveland—santa was on it selling Christmas Cards. Also, in our Directory, we listed Nimble Finger at the old address on Snelling and it should have read 1459 Jefferson where they are now located (sorry, Mrs. Munson—we slipped a stitch!) That's the trouble with Christmas help—especially when it's just us trying to work fast enough to keep up with the rush.

Badly needed—a footbridge between Cleveland and Kenneth on Ford Parkway. There are problems involved but not insurmountable: any ideas?

Vandalism is at an all time high in the Hi-Grove area . . . foolish reckless window breaking and destruction of property. St. Paul police department wants to cut rather than extend limited service to the area. Somebody has suggested that if one vandal was caught and punished it might mean something to the others. (Old fashioned thinking, I guess?)

High School Students, Parents, Teachers Can Take 'U' Course

High School students, their parents and teachers can meet each other as academic equals this January.

The University of Minnesota will offer its West Bank as neutral territory for a course on classical culture which will be available to all three groups through the University General Extension Division's department of special courses.

The class will be held on five consecutive Saturdays, beginning Jan. 27, from 10 to 11 a.m. Professor R. J. Schork of the University's classics department will conduct the course.

The illustrated lectures will deal with archaeology, classical mythology, homeric epic, Greek art and Greek tragedy. No written assignments or examinations will be required from the students, but a book of supplementary readings will be offered for sale.

Tuition for the class is $3. For additional information, contact David Ordos, Department of Special Courses, 314 Nolte Center for Continuing Education, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minn., 55455; telephone 373-5166.

Registration will be limited and will close Jan. 15.

Hot Apple Cider is going over big as part of the Highland Civic Ass'n Highland Hospitality promotion for the Holidays. Originally, they were going to have a santa sky-dive onto Hillcrest playground from six-thousand feet, but FAA put the kibosh on a local Diving Club's effort to get permission as the drop zone is too close to the NE-SW runway approach.

Bud King — King's Pharmacy—told us that he and his father before him have been on the same (St. Clair & Cleveland) corner for over 43 years, making King's the dean of area pharmacies.

Rumor has it (again) that Blue Horse owners are purchasing Coleman's Supper Club in Highland.

Joe La Nasa has a new parking lot across the street from La Nasa's Lounge on Snelling and Randolph. Joe did the hard—and only way. He moved two houses and filled in the holes.

SOCIAL SECURITY NEWS

Mr. Ralph Gower, district manager of social security in St. Paul, reports, "Many older people are asking these days: 'Now that I've been given another chance to sign up for the doctor bill insurance part of medicare, will somebody tell me whether this is a good buy?'"

Gower explained that those persons who were 65 or older in 1965 could enroll for the voluntary medical insurance part of the program in any of the last three months of 1965 or the first five months of 1966. Those who reached 65 after 1965 have the three months before the month they were 65, that month, and the three months thereafter to get this protection for themselves.

Now, as provided by law, those who originally turned it down have an opportunity to reconsider their earlier decision. Then, if they decide to sign up, they may do so at any time in the last three months of 1967 and the first three months of 1968.

Medical insurance helps pay doctor bills and other medical services not covered under the hospital insurance part of medicare. Services of doctors are covered no matter where received — in their offices, the home, or in a hospital. Up to 100 home health visits a year by nurses and other health workers are also covered, as are laboratory tests and various other medical services and goods, he explained.

"As to whether it is a 'good buy,' I can only point out that the older person pays only half of the premium costs, with the Government paying the other half. This has been $3 monthly for each since the program started, and will continue in this amount, at least through March 1968. As provided by law, studies are going on as to whether the present rate will have to be increased, and by how much," he said. The premium rate for 1968 and 1969 will be announced before January, he noted.

Persons wishing to enroll for the doctor bill insurance part of medicare should contact their nearest Social Security office. The St. Paul Social Security office is located at 175 Aurora Avenue and the telephone number is 228-7811. The St. Paul office is open Monday thru Friday (excepting holidays) from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Service is also provided Thursday evenings until 7:30 p.m.

Made to order insurance? That's our policy

If people were all alike, Sentry Insurance would have to find a new way to do business. Because a Sentry man starts with the basic idea that people are different. You aren't a standard person. With a standard home and car and business and number of kids. You're you. So you need insurance that's made to order for you. Make sense? Then call this Sentry man today.

HIGHLAND DRUG CENTER

FOR BETTER XMAS PICTURES

Have FRESH batteries in your flash gun or camera, and in your battery-driven movie camera. If you have the slightest doubt as to the condition of your batteries, stop in at Highland Drug Center's Camera Department and we will be glad to test them for you. Bring the camera, and/or flashgun, too. And please, don't wait until Christmas Eve to have these checked — the line gets a mile long.

Get in CLOSE for those "action" pictures. Who is interested in half the room showing as background for a child opening a present or exploring his stocking? If you have a focusing camera, try some shots at the camera's minimum focusing distance, like three FEET, if that's it. With cameras of fixed focus, such as most Instamatics, get a close-up lens at Highland Drug Center, which will allow you to have the minimum distance of the plain lens alone. They cost only $2.50 and will make the subject fill the frame instead of looking half an inch big as most people now take their pictures.

For adjustable cameras, remember F-A-S-T for sharp, well exposed, interesting pictures. Focus, Aperture (extremely important in flash pictures), Shutter, and Think. No one knows so much that they could not benefit from studying any of several booklets available on subjects like Flash Pictures, Indoor Color Slides, Photography with Adjustable Cameras, etc., all reasonably priced at Highland Drug Center. Even we with over 15 years professional experience refresh our memory and even learn something new when we read these booklets. How about you? Want to take better pictures? You can.

Who enjoys pictures of people staring Duhh at the camera? Yet there they are, stiffly posed, looking right at the lens, as if they were saying: "Look at me, I'm havin' my pitchur took." Have your subject be DOING something, like pushing a toy, or coloring a book, or carving the turkey, or opening a gift.

Finally, don't take a flash picture of the decorated tree with the expectation of showing how nice the lights look. The flash will overpower the dim tree lights. Properly handled with the right type of camera this can be accomplished by "open flash", and the results are almost better than what one sees with the naked eye.

Stock up today with plenty of film and flashbulbs so you can capture the joys of Christmas without having to send one of the kids out for more, or, worse yet, having to go yourself.

To recap, have fresh batteries; Move in CLOSE; think FAST; have your subject DOING SOMETHING beside look at the camera; and, last but not least, have a happy Holiday Season with keen pictures to remember it by. Adv.

St. Paul Art Center Receives Sculpture

With its over-sized "Haniwa" stocking just hung in its Oriental gallery, the Saint Paul Art Center has already received its first Christmas present, it was announced by Malcolm E. Lein, Director. The gift is a large wood sculpture — "Three Essential Shapes" — by American sculptor Donald Schule, and the Santas who gave it are Harlan D. Boss and Gene Dawley of 475 Portland Avenue, Saint Paul.

The Art Center decided upon a "Haniwa" stocking in a bright Japanese printed fabric for Saint Nicholas' contributions because it wants to acquire permanently a large, handsome Haniwa horse which is currently on loan, and available for purchase. This horse, survivor from prehistoric Japan, stands hopefully tethered to a temporary hitching post in the Center's Oriental gallery, where he is a focal point in the Education Tour program and a delight to children and adults alike.

Haniwa are low-fired clay sculptures from Japan's Tomb period, which ended around the 6th century A.D. At first they were simple hollow clay cylinders which were pressed into the soft earth around imperial burial mounds; later they were fashioned with imaginative simplicity into a wide variety of human and animal forms, such as horses, dogs, monkeys and birds.

Other activities at the Saint Paul Art Center during December include a variety of holiday exhibitions. There is "The New York Eye", black and white photographs of the designs and patterns of New York by artist Don Werner; sharing the Corridor Gallery with these photographs is a colorful collection of children's art by Saint Paul Art Center students. In the main galleries are "Dolls for Pleasure and Treasure" from the Shapiro-Beck Collection; Contemporary American Crafts, from the Art Center's Permanent Collection; "Drawings and Their Doubles", which exhibits six drawings by Edgar Degas, Henri Matisse, Ben Shahn, John Nick Pappas, Dorian Zachal and Jerome Hill next to reproductions of the original drawings. The reproductions are on sale for Christmas gifts.

The public is invited to all the holiday events, and to see the first "Haniwa" stocking to be hung anywhere.

Literally, when you go into an eating place and order a meal, you are seeking a "repair job." The word "restaurant" is derived through restaurer, Old French for "repair," from Latin re, back or again, and Greek stauros, a stake or picket. It means "to fix a fence." Fence has been conveniently changed to body tissues, but the basic idea remains.

The Knack

Ann Jellicoe's comedy, "The Knack", will open at the Eastside Theater January 4. Director Scott McCoy calls the show "one of the funniest shows going."

Tickets are available at Dayton's or the Eastside ticket office, 225-0625. The show plays four weeks thru Jan. 28.

Carl Yastrzemski "Mr. Everything" Here for Twin Cities Baseball Banquet

Carl Yastrzemski baseball's "Mr. Everything" of 1967 will headline a star-studded case of baseball talent which will appear at the 1968 Twin Cities Baseball Banquet. The dinner, sponsored for the 7th year by the Twin Cities Chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America, will be held Monday night, Jan. 22, at the St. Paul Hilton Hotel.

Tickets are now available at Galivan's Restaurant and Ernie's Lounge in St. Paul and at Duff's and the Chamber of Commerce office in Minneapolis.

Choice locations are available for those reserving tables of 10 or more seats. Reservations may be made by calling 698-3746 in St. Paul.

Yastrzemski, the first baseball celebrity to be invited to return to the Twin Cities Baseball dinner, also appeared here in 1964.

The Boston Red Sox hero of the '67 season returns in new glory.

He was a near-unanimous choice for American League's Most Valuable Player after leading Boston to the pennant. He also won the League's triple crown: batting .326 with 44 home runs and 121 runs batted in. His 44 homers matched the total of the Twins Harmon Killebrew but other triple crown winners have tied in one category or another.

Yaz also led the A. L. in hits with 189, total bases with 360 and runs scored with 112.

He was the 11th triple crown winner in baseball history and the 7th winner in league history.

READERS!

— Ron Bacigalupo

I hope you like my Christmas card—that's the new drip-gothic type-face that's very "in" since the charter ads and, though it is expensive, I thought I'd hang the expense in order to greet you all in style. This is the time of year when columnists get softhearted and compile imaginary gift lists for people they prefer to write about. It is a time for giving, and even the worst of us have something to give, so here goes:

For my many friends at the Chamber of Commerce, a "fresh" contact with a tar and feather firm seeking a plant location in St. Paul. For Tom Byrne, a set of earplugs. For Mrs. Butler, a gross of white hats and a copy of my latest book, "How to get Republican Votes Without Even Trying." For the Jaycees — new goofy hats, striped vests and stuff . . . For the League Of Women Voters — a typewriter with a question mark key on it. For Harold Le Vander a pre-amp, amplifier, and four 36" woofers to go with his tweeter. For Gary Heibert, an expense account. For Bud Holland, a six week stint at the Green Beret survival training school in Georgia. For Charles McCarty, a looking glass. For the Ridders, a new color slide-projector . . . for their newspaper, an accurate public-opinion pollster. For "lonesome" Dean Meredith, an exer-genie to develop some political muscles. For Will Jones, an expense account. For Don Riley, a job on the Milwaukee Sentinel. For Bill Carlson, a get tough attitude on crime in St. Paul — at least as tough as he got in the recent "war on egg nog." For Doug Head, a lie detector test on one question: "Are you already lining up support for the governorship?" For George Vavoulis, a shot at Karth. For the 4th District GOP Office, a new adding machine. For legislator Bob Johnson, a bill that has something to do with his district. For Bill O'Neil and brother Pat, the boxing gloves they'll need for the one two punch rumors says they are planning. For Cliff Parks, a completed term. For the Council of Arts and Sciences, a "no endorsement" clause in their bi-laws. For Steve Cannon, a biographer. For C. J. Silver, a luxury (new concept) high rise on Ford Parkway and River Road. For Bob Chin at Ford Motor, a full production schedule year at the plant. For the Vikings, a new center (well, everybody knows by now they don't need a new quarterback!) For Jim Klobachar, San Francisco. For Zolito Versailles, a change in license plates instead of cars when he hits L.A. For the U. of Indiana—lotsa fun at Disneyland. For all 3M junior and upper-junior execs, who also dabble in local politics, a copy of my nearly latest book, "Let's put the Scotchlite in the middle of the road." For Nick Coleman, track shoes for the open road ahead in the DFL leadership circle. For the Ramsey County Board, a real estate consultant — one who is independently wealthy! For the Marble Indian, an eagle-eye on the lame-duck Byrne administration. For the so called "downtown group", which coffee klatches each biennium to prevail upon the fate of conservative and independent candidates for city offices, who would, but for funds, find solace in other advice; a meaningful system of determining in advance if their hunches are accurate. And, lastly, if you didn't get a stocking stuffer this year, chances are the stocking doesn't fit.

1968 . . .

Will be a landmark year for all Americans — with international and domestic problems in these best of all possible times of affluence demanding our attention and decision. It would be proper and generous at the Holiday Season to examine our deepest feelings, about our country, our families, our future, and try to pledge a more interested and active role in solving the problems which beset us. The time has arrived on the watershed of current events in America when any man can ask himself, what does it profit me and my children to make "only" a fortune of the opportunity I have. An increasing crime rate, an increasing interest rate, a boiling international situation, an increasing poverty factor, an unsatisfied racial factor — how great can my fortune be if nothing good survives in America? This Holiday Season, give — give some part of your brain or your time or your resources to building a better America in 1968. You can do it.

CHRISTMAS UNCONSTITUTIONAL . . . ?

The soggy-heads are at it again, some demigods are trying to prove the unconstitutionality of Christmas Carols sung in public schools. I prefer the guy who took a hammer to a mechanical santa claus in a department store fuming because he hated "phoney Christmases." The point is, they'll surely lock up the guy who hacked up the paper-mache santa because he destroyed somebody's else's property. The guy who's trying to destroy somebody else's freedom will probably get a full dress hearing in the Supreme Court. It appears at times we are too liberal for our own good, and I get very disgusted with courts that are filled with liberal interpreters while big crimes go unpunished and small petty stuff is dealt with mercilessly. The double standard is nowhere more evident than in our court system today in America. Everybody's worried about lawlessness and anarchy in the streets and our courts are busy upholding crimes that are against a "way of life" that proved workable and just until the soggy headed liberals decided that laws were made to protect the guilty. Before we know it people will be saying "bah, humbug" to the whole constitution and start taking the law into their own hands again!

Art Exhibit At Mpls. Inst.

An exhibition of sculptures and drawings by Henry Moore will continue through January 21 at the Minneapolis Institute of Arts.

The Institute has planned several special programs in connection with the exhibition. On Tuesday, January 2 at 7:30 and again at 8:30 p.m., a film titled "Henry Moore: A Sculptor's Landscape" will be shown in the Institute Auditorium.

Sam Sachs II, Chief Curator of the Institute, will lecture on "The Sculpture of Henry Moore" on Tuesday, January 9, at 8 p.m. in the Auditorium. On Sunday, January 14 at 2:30 p.m., Barbara Dow, lecturer in the Institute's Education Department, will present a gallery lecture: "Sculpture and Drawings by Henry Moore." All three programs are free and open to the public.

Two special events for high school students are also being planned. On Wednesday, December 27, Student Council officers from Twin City high schools will be invited to a special showing of the exhibition. High school newspaper editors will be invited to attend a tour of the exhibition and a discussion of art criticism on Sunday, January 7. Mike Steele, reviewer for the Minneapolis Tribune, will moderate the program.

erty, a new course in the University of Minnesota social science program, will be offered winter quarter through the University General Extension Division's department of evening classes.

The course, open to anyone who has completed nine credits in the social sciences, will carry three degree credits. Classes will meet from 6:20 to 8:50 p.m. on Thursdays during the winter quarter of evening classes (Jan. 3 through March 16).

The course will examine characteristics of poverty from a social, legal and economic point of view.
Specific problems of poverty, such as unemployment, immobility, illiteracy and crime, will be discussed.
Private and public programs designed to alleviate poverty will be examined.

Registration for the winter quarter of evening classes begins Monday (Dec. 18) and continues until Thursday, Dec. 28. Registration may be conducted at the three following locations: 57 Nicholson hall on the Minneapolis campus; the downtown St. Paul Extension Center, Ninth and Exchange; or the MacPhail Center at 1128 LaSalle ave., downtown Minneapolis.

For additional information, telephone the campus office, 373-3195.

Think about this one for a minute: "Education is what you have left over when you subtract what you've forgotten from what you learned."

This will be the 11th annual home show sponsored by the Builders Exchange, and will feature over 150 booths of new products, equipment and materials for the home. As in previous years, the 1968 show will be a free admis-
