Area homeowners record more visits from unwelcome guest—the Super-rat

by Roger Fuller

When the St. Paul City Health Department initiated its annual rat control program this year, the first baiting was done in the storm sewers at the Hamline and Hartford intersection.

The department decided to start the baiting in Highland Park because of numerous complaints about rats received from local residents. According to one health department official, one of the major causes for the problem is the large number of area homes equipped with garbage disposals.

"When you put garbage down the disposal, it gets ground up and passes through the sewer system," he said. "It gives the rats a steady supply of food."

The rat control program was begun on April 2 this year—about two months later than usual because of the weather and personnel problems. A change in regulations for workers operating under the CETA program made it more difficult to hire staff members, and the unseasonably cold weather postponed the spring thaw and prevented workers from gaining access to the baiting area.

Gayle Summers, Southwest Area District Council organizer for Districts 14 and 15, said she's only received two calls this spring. "But the people out here are old hands when it comes to rats," she said. "When they see one they know where to call—down-town."

Summers also observed that the rats come out in Highland Park because of all the garbage disposals. "And when they come it's usually either through a basement toilet bowl or through a loose floor drain," she said.

Summers suggested that homeowners take the initiative in making their property rat resistant. "If you've got a basement toilet, pour some bleach down it," she said. "If you've got a loose floor drain, put something heavy over it so the rats can't push it away."

Talley Rhame, the District 16 organizer, said most of the complaints she's received this spring from the Summit Hill neighborhood came within a four-hour period. "They called on the first warm day we had in March," she said. "Most of the callers were hysterical. I don't think they'd ever seen one before."

"One lady said she found one in the toilet," she said. "Another had a repair man come out when her dryer wouldn't work; he pulled a rat out from the vent. A third one was looking out her kitchen at the bird feeder when all of a sudden one of those beady-eyed monsters popped up and stared back at her."

"The problem with rats," Rhame continued, "is that they aren't the least respectful of property values. When they get into the sewer system, they just run along the underground pipes. They don't know if they're coming up in a good neighborhood or not."

Mary Ann Hecht of the city's Information and Complaint Office, said she's received a good number of complaints this spring, "but I can't say the calls are all coming from one part of town." The complaints she records are turned over to the office of housing codes, where first priority is given to the rat found indoors.

This year's rat population was more than the city had anticipated dealing with. The city council recently allocated $30,000 from contingency funds to beef up the rat control program.

There are numerous fingers being pointed—and in numerous directions—to explain the increased rat sighting this year. One city health official claimed excessive reliance on plastic bags magnifies the problem. "Garbage should be placed in a container which is securely fastened," he said. "When it's put in plastic bags and left in the garage for several days, it's not surprising that rats are attracted."

The large number of construction sites currently in the area adds to the problem. "During construction, the runs of the rats under-

Quie and public stand to gain from Minneapolis dome death warrant

An editorial by Maurice Mischke, publisher

Only political good can come to Governor Al Quie for signing the stadium liquor tax repeal measure this past Monday.

We say this in spite of some seemingly crude pressure the governor was receiving to keep the Industry Square dome proposal short of death's door. An "analysis" story in the Minneapolis Tribune last Friday morning intimated a difficult decision for Quie because of the sizable financial contributions members of the Minneapolis stadium task force had made to his gubernatorial campaign.

The item even went so far as to spell out the exact amount of the various campaign gifts made by these "heavy-hitters," including people with family or business connections to members of the task force. Of some $37,500 included in the tally, $19,750 reportedly came from the Dayton family, $5,500 from John Cowles, Jr.

But the governor, as well as many members of the legislature, are fully aware that their liquor tax repeal vote has only opened the door to some very logical, less costly and, yes, far superior options.

As far as we're concerned, there are only two viable, reasonable alternatives. Both of them involve leaving Metropolitan Stadium intact for baseball, with necessary upgrading and remodeling of the facility.

In our minds, we have ruled out the possibility of a multi-purpose outdoor stadium in Bloomington. Either football or baseball sightlines invariably suffer when the two are combined. We have that problem now.

An outdoor football stadium near the present Met, such as was suggested by Dick Radman of the Sports Facilities Commission, could be constructed at a reasonable cost, it would seem.

But a proposal that "somehow" wasn't even considered by Dan Brutter's seven-person commission—a proposal that was never even presented to them—is now coming to the fore.

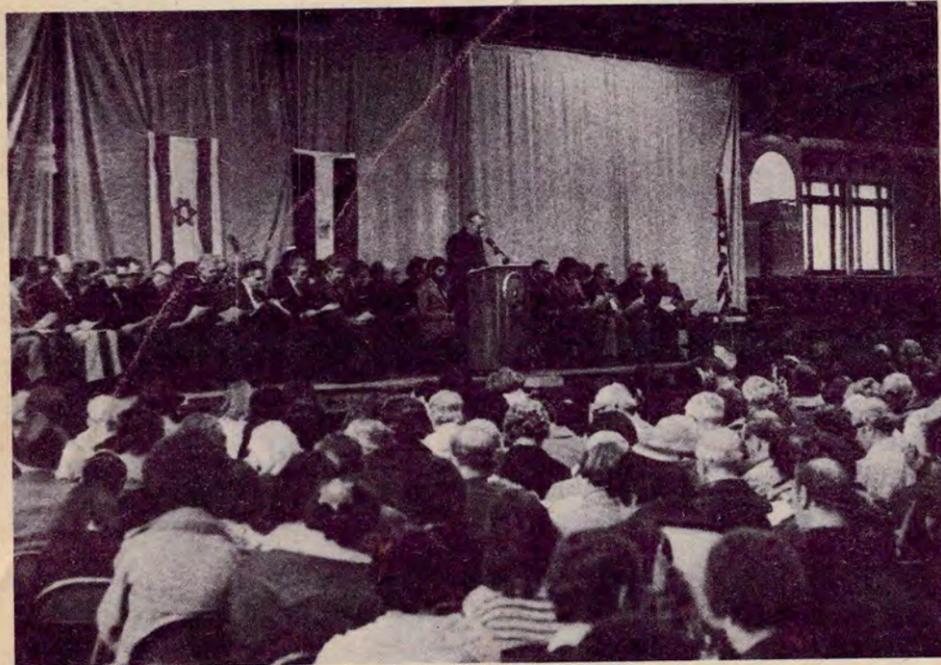

You may already have seen references to it in the St. Paul daily press. It was also referred to in a sports-writer's column on the Mill City side. It is a five-year-old proposal to remodel and dome Memorial Stadium. Why, you wonder, did it take until now for this plan to resurface?

Back in 1973, the University, in conjunction with The Amateur Sportsmen's Club of Minnesota, received a Ford Foundation grant of $35,000 to fund a design proposal. The plan that resulted was a beauty, but the University didn't feel it was in a good position at the time to advance such a proposal, or at least had other more pressing priorities to present.

This "Memorial Dome" consequently never got much publicity in the press. And when the Sports Facilities Commission went to work, the University people were hard put to fly in the ground are disturbed," said Summers. "That often forces them to the surface."

Containment of the rat population is considered the only practical solution. "Rats have been with us for more than 4,000 years," said a city pest control expert. "They've lived wherever humans have lived. They need food, water and shelter, and they've always found it in areas humans inhabit."

One of the causes of concern for health officials intent on containing the rat population is the fact that the grain poisons used to combat rats are proving less and less effective. "When the poisons were first developed, they were very effective," explained a health official. "Suppose they had a lethal dose factor of 50, which means 50 out of 100 would be killed. That leaves 50 survivors who will reproduce. That generation will have a small lethal dose factor because they'll have come from parents who already survived the first dose."

And the poison becomes less potent with each successive generation. "They get used to it," he said, "and before long this type of bait actually becomes a source of food for the rats."

The breeding of rats is further aided by something individuals and the city can do little about—the integration of the sanitary and storm sewer systems. Similar to most cities of its age, St. Paul built its sewers without considering the advantages of keeping sanitary sewage separate from the rain water.

The sanitary sewer system takes the waste from the city's homes by pipe to the waste treatment plant. Though some storm sewers drain directly into the river, others are connected at certain junctions with the sanitary sewers, thus providing a greater underground habitat in which the rats may flourish.

The dome with a difference (continued from p. 1)

face of the powerful pressures to put a dome in Industry Square, within range of downtown Minneapolis. Yet remodeling Memorial Stadium could conceivably cost some $50,000,000 less than the true, total cumulative figures you could eventually expect on the now hopefully defunct downtown dome.

Your editorialist spent several hours last Friday with Don Herzog, Minneapolis advertising agency executive and long-time activist in the Amateur Sportsman's Club, who has been spearheading the campaign to get proper consideration of the U of M plan. The scale model had been gathering dust in a warehouse and still has to be refurbished for proper public presentation. Bound brochures explaining the whole proposal are out of stock and need to be reprinted. This is obviously not a high-powered con job to sell a bill of goods. It's just that here's an idea whose time, perhaps, may finally have come.

In fact, the plan looks so good it's hard to conceive of John Cowles, Jr., Harvey Mackay and Sid Hartman not being ecstatic about it. We may have saved them from themselves—at least those among them who happen to pay taxes in Minneapolis.

Space does not permit going into all the advantages this proposal offers. But it is doubtless true that much of the money expended on the project would be funds that would soon have to be spent in any event. The University's physical, intramural and varsity sports facilities are very much in need of updating and expansion. The advent of women's sports on such a large scale is just one important reason for that.

In the weeks to come, we invite you to join with us in giving the 'U' dome proposal a long and open-minded look. It may be the answer we've long been looking for.

In the meantime, does anybody have an idea on what ought to be done with Industry Square?

(For more comment and details on the Memorial Stadium remodeling proposal, see "Misch-Masch" on page 6.)

ON 'THAT VILE LETTER'

To the editor:

In rebuttal to the anonymous letter "On Landlords and Pro-Lifers" published in the March 28 issue of the Highland Villager, I want to point out that whoever wrote that vile letter is so enveloped in his ignorance and prejudice that he cannot reason clearly.

First, anyone with common sense knows that not all unwanted babies meet such misfortunes as being ignored or beaten by their parents. Many are fortunate enough to be adopted by one of a countless number of married people who are unable to have their own children. Some couples on adoption lists end up waiting two, even three years to be notified that there is a child available for them.

Second, who can say what side of the abortion issue Highland area landlords and landladies that rent exclusively to adults are on? The fool who wrote the letter could not possibly be qualified to make such an encompassing judgment.

Finally, the people who go out and bomb, burn or deface an abortion clinic are NOT true pro-lifers, but people unable to control their emotions and their sanity. TRUE pro-lifers deplore such reckless acts.

It's a good thing that this person didn't give his name in his letter, because responsible, sensible citizens would laugh him out of town!

Mark E. Minor
College of St. Thomas

To the editor:

I don't know if it was Cedric Adams or some other columnist who wrote that all anonymous letters go into the trash can before they are read. You printed one such letter in the March 28, 1979 issue. The letter ended name withheld on request, but it is still anonymous.

My wife has picketed the Planned Parenthood abortion mill, and I have attended meetings pertaining to this both in Highland and at City Hall. At City Hall, the only voice I heard raised in favor of this case came from a Minneapolis woman connected with Planned Parenthood. Also, this Weber of Planned Parenthood is from White Bear. Why wasn't the slaughterhouse put in either of these two communities?

The statement that pro-lifers have burned, defaced and damaged the Planned Parenthood abortion clinic angered me. This unknown fingerpointer has besmirched the names of anti-abortionists, and I am one. Does he or she have any proof to back up these accusations?

I am sorry that you printed this letter in your paper. I enjoy reading it, but if one wants to spew forth the crap that was in this letter, then it should bear the signature of the writer. If not, it should be thrown out with the rest of the trash.

CREDITS FOR EQUAL BILLING

To the editor:

On behalf of all the Highland Catholic cheerleaders, I would very much like to thank you for your coverage of our fantastic 1979 City and Twin City Champs. All of us at Hi-C are very proud of them and we're happy all of Highland could share with us in this great achievement.

I would especially like to thank you for your "equal billing" of the cheerleaders. This is the first year Highland Catholic has had uniformed cheerleaders. We were entered in two cheerleading competitions this year, and although we didn't win any titles, we've worked really hard.

Throughout the year the cheerleaders have been kind of over-shadowed by that fantastic team of ours, and rightfully so. But it really felt good to see our names in print this time, too! Thanks so much again.

UNBECOMING ATTITUDE

Dear Mr. Mischke:

Ordinarily, I enjoy your editorials and agree with much you say. In the last issue, however, I found your change in view and your "maybe it's all right" attitude unbecoming to you. This in regard to the St. Paul people mover.

In the first place the business community is not assuming a large share of the cost. The taxpayer at one level or another is providing all of the $90 million capital cost either from direct taxes or guaranteeing and paying off the bonds for a proposal which will never be self-supporting.

The true annual operating deficit according to Charles River Associates is $3,711,000. Of this deficit, the business community promises to bear $1,656,000 or 47%. The balance of the deficit, $2,055,000 or 53%, will be paid from taxes.

This is just another "white elephant" for the taxpayer regardless of which level of government collects the taxes. How can we ever expect lower federal, state and local taxes if we condone or permit this sort of thing? I might also add that if, when I was working, I had submitted such a proposal to my superiors, they would either have had me committed or fired me.

What further disturbs me is that after continuous bombardment by the proponents of these schemes, the people that started out questioning the wisdom of them finally become lethargic and say "maybe it's all right."

James D. Taylor

'UNCOMMON' ACTIONS

Dear editor:

As President of Common Cause/Minnesota and a constituent of Senator Ron Sieloff, I am appalled by his recent actions on the Senate Judiciary Committee.

On the first of February 1979, Senator Sieloff responded to a question on a Common Cause questionnaire which would establish an independent bipartisan commission to handle reapportionment in compliance with strict anti-gerrymandering standards?" Senator Sieloff responded "yes" to that question.

He has since personally assured me twice of that support — once, the day before he first proposed an amendment to gut the bill (SF 129).

The concept of amending the constitution to create a reapportionment commission has wide bipartisan support including that of Governor Al Quie. Senator Sieloff introduced a weakening amendment which would have given the legislature the option to create a commission by legislation, but would not have required it to do so. It also did not provide any guidelines for creating the commission. (What would insure a bipartisan commission?)

Even the old standby response of "I only supported the concept" doesn't seem to cover these actions.

Common Cause/Minnesota

Misch- Masch

by Maurice Mischke

All this talk I've been giving you about preferring to watch baseball in the great out-of-doors... will it all go down the drain in the absence of any hint of spring? It's bad enough that opening day (Tuesday, the 17th) comes immediately after Uncle Sam and his Minnesota counterpart have drained our pockets of any leftover resources... or worse, maybe we even had to borrow some money to pay those taxes on time. Retailers, too, are complaining bitterly about what this late spring is doing to business. Cheer up, fellows and girls, it'll all come to you at once... so count on putting on extra help!

*****

What is there about me that wants to see all the teams with high-priced players lose... like the Yanks, Phillies, and Angels especially? Must be that great old American desire to see the underpaid underdog make the grade—Horatio Alger fashion. I also wonder, at times, about the team spirit and reaction to playing next to somebody making maybe 10 times as much, with very little more responsibility in covering ground out on the field or in covering home plate with the hickory, for that matter.

*****

Before I leave the subject of taxes, I ought to mention a copy I have in front of me, the front page of Form 1040 for 1913, which is the very first year income taxes were extracted. After a deduction of $3,000 to $4,000, you were subject to a 1% tax. If you earned from $20,000 to $50,000, it cost you another 1% on that portion. On the part you may have earned over $100,000 up to $250,000, an extra 4%. On what you earned over $500,000, it cost you a 6% "super" tax. Maybe that's why they call them "the good old days." Of course, it must have been tough getting into those brackets without qualifying as some kind of "robber baron."

*****

From the mail I've been getting, it looks as though The People Mover is not much more popular than a plague. A lot of people are in the same corner as the D-PP's Bill Farmer who, more than anyone else we know, has been carrying the cudgel against the proposed project. Some of our recent correspondents didn't want their letters on the subject printed, obviously preferring to stay in the background. But if there is a lot of opposition, that's where most of it is... in the background. Those who feel they're being sold a bill of goods had better start to speak up. I guess I'd feel a lot safer if the business community's guarantee were a heckuva lot heftier than a bit less than half of any LARGE operating deficit. And wouldn't it be a big surprise if the deficit turned out to be anything less than large!

*****

One of my correspondents writes, "That 'People Mover' is the biggest boondoggle ever inflicted upon our city. We had mini-buses. They ran empty. We have Skywalks. The entire loop can be covered without stepping outside. Why in hell do you want to make the loop an unsightly mess by building 'elevated'? Every city that has 'elevated' has been made unsightly."

*****

"Just because the U.S. is willing to dish out 90 million [sic] of tax money is a hell of a reason to ruin our city. The same people who ask for the U.S. to dish out 90 million are the ones who want the U.S. to balance the budget."

*****

You know, he may very well be right... except on one count—so far the government is only handing out the carrot-stick to the tune of $72,000,000! But does anyone want to place a bet on final figures?

*****

This same correspondent takes us to task for not getting onto a lot of other so-called scandals. Well sir, we never did claim to be able to cover the whole (city) waterfront. That would take a lot more staff than we could possibly afford. We couldn't cover the cost of the resultant libel suits either, in the event we didn't have the proper evidence to back up the kind of charges you would like us to make. And maybe somebody can fill us in on a final question the gentleman posed, to wit: "That City Hall-Lowry Tunnel is the most sickening of the overcharges. Why can't city employees and the Mayor use a skywalk, the same as other citizens?" We ought to be able to get an answer on that from the city planning staff. Any volunteers?

*****

Sorry to report that Elizabeth Haas, active partner in the Villager operation from its inception in 1953 to 1969 and still on our staff on a limited-time basis, had to be taken to St. Luke's Hospital this past Saturday. Our best wishes for her rapid recovery.

A certain local non-home-delivered tabloid, obviously designed for people younger than I, indulges annually in some kind of pizza taste test. This year they decided that frozen pizzas had come of age, to the point where a gastro-nomist connoisseur would not necessarily be offended in the process of testing. Interestingly enough, the "frozen" pizza that came out on top in terms of a taste pleasure/cost ratio turned out to be the lone non-frozen pizza the judges saw fit to include — Applebaum's combination pizza. Based on take-home experience, I'd have to add a resounding "amen" to that well-deserved accolade. And it's bound to keep the many good "eat-in" pizzerias on their collective toes!

*****

That hurry-up editorial on the stadium question which I wrote earlier today, did not include very much in the way of specifics which a remodeled and covered Memorial Stadium would include. Maybe I should elaborate a bit right here and now. The plans as presented call for encircling the open end of the stadium in front of Cooke Hall, lowering the main football playing field by 12 feet for better viewing angles from the lower seats, and installation of telescopic (retractable) seating to provide additional indoor playing space. With seats retracted, the available surface would increase from 100,000 square feet to 184,000.

*****

The dome cover envisioned (and this was five years ago) was a double membrane made of teflon-coated fiberglass, much like that of the plan B, the dome we've been trying to kiss off as a costly, nearly useless nightmare. Very important is the fact that "An inspection of the existing stadium indicates that the reinforced concrete structure faced with brick is sound, aesthetically well designed, and well worthy of preservation and increased utilization." This from the report of the designing architects and engineers runs quite counter to what some would have led us to believe, heretofore.

*****

As a football stadium, it would hold more than 67,500. With optimum visibility it could accommodate 47,000 for track, 26,000 for basketball and hockey, and 45,000 for baseball. There is no way, however, that it would make sense for the Twins' to use this stadium, which would be so well-utilized on a day-to-day basis. However, with a minimum of five hours' notice—given a "krooshial" series of some kind and an impossible weather situation—such a contingency could conceivably be met with "play ball!"

*****

The stadium would serve as a true physical education center—remaining open as late as possible at night and throughout weekends. Facilities would be available for swimming, diving, basketball, volleyball, tennis, badminton, gymnastics, squash, handball, boxing, wrestling, judo, karate, golf driving and weight lifting.

*****

Speaking of the advantages this all-purpose stadium would provide for the U's population of some 50,000, the report adds this pertinent note. "If the University were to provide facilities for these (phy ed, leisure recreation, intramural sports, physical fitness programs, and lifetime sports) activities in new locations, a considerable expense would be involved and the facilities would be spread out over or off the campus with considerably less accessibility to all those who should be served. The Stadium is already connected to Cooke Hall, Williams Arena, and the Field House by a tunnel system... (and) is... readily accessible to students, faculty and staff."

*****

Sometimes it's far better to remodel than to build from scratch. Sid Hartman, Sid Hartman, where are you? Oh yes, I should add that Max Winter's Vikings will also be able to play there. For the proper fee, of course!

*****

Parting pilfered punchline: "To be a successful politician, find out where the public is going, take a shortcut across the field, get out in front, and make them think you're leading the way." Governor Quie, the field is all yours, as of today... with, of course, a little help from your friends... in the legislature! Arrivederci, tutti.

*****

High water on area rivers is cause for aquatic caution

River users should stay off the Mississippi and Minnesota Rivers during this high water season, when the normally peaceful waters can cause tragedy for the unwary.

The U.S. Coast Guard Marine Safety Office of St. Paul and Minneapolis warns of the following dangers to boats:

- Debris and logs washed from shore and carried into the main stream of the river can inflict severe hull and property damage. These objects float both on and below the water's surface.

- Rivers overflowing their banks cover objects, such as tree stumps and fences, that boaters normally would see.

- The understructures of low bridges make some bridges impassable for river traffic and a danger for boats that lose power.

- Currents around the upstream end of moored barges can force a vessel to be pulled under them. In unusual circumstances even a towboat can be caused to sink in this way; a recreational boat wouldn't have a chance.

- The very cold water can render a person unconscious within minutes of a fall overboard.

- In most areas, rescue boats are scarce as ice water in hell.

The Mississippi River winds through St. Paul for more than 17 miles, offering beauty and recreation to residents and visitors. That's all it'll hold in store if you respect the power of the river and wait until the spring waters recede.

Preschoolers find separate peace

It seems that kids these days are becoming ever more aware of the potentially earth-shaking events that happen in the larger world around them. Who among us, for instance, can honestly say that we drafted and put our names to a peace treaty before setting foot in grade school?

Well, now it's been done. Taking a cue from the Israeli-Egyptian agreement signed by President Anwar Sadat and Prime Minister Menachem Begin, students at the Saunders Sandbox Pre-Kindergarten, 1718 Saunders Ave., thought up the provisions they felt belonged in their own peace treaty and asked teacher Jeannie Baer to draft the accord into proper form. Signatures of all participants follow, except for three absentees (see items 16-18) whose consent was apparently given by proxy.

"We, the children of Saunders Sandbox Pre-Kindergarten and extended 'Baer-Care,' on this 26th day of March, hereby promise that we will cooperate, follow the rules, be kind to our friends, share our toys, keep our hands to ourselves, use our toys properly, come into school with our best manners, and be polite to our teachers, too."

In a Christian Science service, the Bible, and Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, are what speak from the pulpit.

Read aloud by two Readers, these books "preach the gospel," illuminating great spiritual truths and showing the way to live and heal by them.

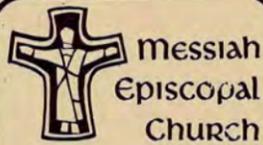

The books are the basis of a six-step Lesson-Sermon, fresh each week, which is studied each day by anyone who wants a deeper understanding of the Bible. Then it is read to all on Sunday.

We invite you to hear our pastor preach this week.

The drawing above illustrates the expansion planned for the Macalester-Groveland office of Minnesota Federal Savings and Loan at the corner of Grand and Fairview Ave. The project, which involves razing a 45-year-old apartment building to create 23 more parking spaces, is due to be complete by late summer.

Special registration slated for HGRA's baseball program

The Highland Groveland Recreation Association (HGRA) has announced a special late baseball registration for all those Thomases who doubt spring will ever arrive.

It seems winter's hesitancy to relinquish its hold on the season has put a damper on the baseball fever usually associated with April and has resulted in less than the expected number of registrations received to date by the HGRA. Those who'd still like to sign up may do so from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Thursday, April 12 at Hillcrest and Groveland recreation centers.

Also, anyone who'd like to umpire baseball games or serve as a referee for soccer games is invited to call the HGRA office at 699-4633.

Derham Hall sets entrance test day

Derham Hall High School will give an entrance examination to ninth, tenth and eleventh grade girls interested in attending Derham Hall next year, starting at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, April 21 at the school, 540 S. Warwick Ave. The fee is $2.00 and each student should bring her own No. 2 pencils.

Those interested in taking the test should call the school at 698-0871, though preregistration is not required.

Deaf-blind woman to speak at College of St. Catherine

Mrs. Helen Hayes, who has been both blind and deaf since age 7, will speak on "The Education and Rehabilitation of the Deaf-Blind Child" at 7:00 p.m. Wednesday, April 18 in Jeanne d'Arc Auditorium at the College of St. Catherine. The talk is free and open to the public.

She will also show a film entitled The Legacy of Anne Sullivan, which depicts the education of deaf-blind children at Perkins School for the Blind in Massachusetts, where she studied. While there, Hayes became a close friend of Helen Keller and Sullivan, her teacher.

Hayes, the only deaf and blind person in the country to graduate from the regular public school system, has since made public speaking her career. She received the Anne Sullivan gold medal and citation award in 1966, and in 1968 was invited to deliver the eulogy at a memorial service to Helen Keller.

Her appearance at St. Catherine's is sponsored by the college's Occupational Therapy Club and the College Association Governing Board.

Mac prof and grad discuss privacy at alumni luncheon

Two experts on the issue of privacy, G. Theodore Mitau and Don Gemberling, will discuss how that issue affects individuals, businesses and government at a Macalester College alumni luncheon at 11:30 a.m. Thursday, April 19 at the Northstar Inn, 618 2nd Ave. S. in Minneapolis.

Mitau, a professor at Macalester, is currently writing a book entitled Constitutional Frontiers in Personal Privacy: Implications for the Administrative Process.

Gemberling, a Macalester graduate, has been studying the privacy question since 1974. He is currently director of the Data Privacy Division, Department of Administration of the State of Minnesota.

The cost of the event, which is open to the public, is $5.50 including lunch. For reservations, call Candace Storm at 647-6491 by April 6.

Art fair fare

Artists interested in exhibiting their works at a spring arts and crafts fair are currently being sought by the Snelling-Selby Business Association.

SPEAKING OF ENERGY

I have three hopes in writing this column. The first is to speak as clearly as I can about energy and NSP. Secondly, I want to discuss various NSP policies, practices and programs which may affect you. Third, I hope to hear from you so that I might better understand and respond to your concerns. I would appreciate your comments and I will try to be responsive—with straight facts and plain talk. Whether or not you agree with what I say, I hope this column is of interest to you.

Disconnect Policy

A utility's disconnect policy must be fair to all its customers.

I know the issue of disconnecting utility service to customers who don't pay their bills is a highly sensitive one, especially in the winter.

Most people readily agree that a utility's disconnect policy must be fair to all its customers.

To those who can't pay, we must offer understanding and special assistance. But to those customers who are able but unwilling to pay, we feel an obligation to be firm. If not, those unpaid bills end up costing everyone else.

Last year NSP was unable to collect over $1,300,000 in residential bills. That's a large amount for the rest of our customers to pay.

There are many ways to help customers who can't pay.

NSP assistance is readily available to customers who aren't able to pay their bills. For those customers who acknowledge a problem and show that they're willing to work out a solution, reasonable arrangements can be made. We will not cut off service to someone making an honest effort to work out a problem.

Customers who have received a final notice should contact their Customer Business Office as soon as possible to make reasonable arrangements to avoid disconnection. We try to work out payments based on the size of a customer's bill and the ability to pay. We do not charge interest on unpaid balances in order not to aggravate late payment problems.

With hardship cases, we go even further to help the customer get assistance. Our customer representatives are familiar with governmental programs and local private organizations through which financial assistance is available.

Our Budget Helper, or equal monthly payment program, is a good way to even out seasonal energy bills. Our "ASK NSP" service also offers information on controlling energy expenses through insulation, weatherstripping and efficient use of appliances.

Disconnection is a last resort.

There are some customers who will make no attempt to resolve an unpaid bill and we must sometimes disconnect service to them.

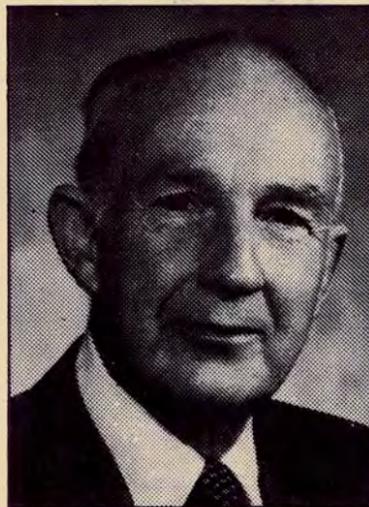

Disconnection is a difficult decision to make. But sometimes it must be done to maintain our overall policy of fairness to all customers. If not, other customers end up paying for those who won't pay their bills.

Disconnection happens only after all other attempts for a solution have been explored... because our responsibility as a public utility is to provide gas and electric service, not to disconnect it.

If you have any problem paying your NSP bill, please call your Customer Business Office and make arrangements. We want to be helpful.

Questions and Comments.

If you would like to respond to me about something I have said here, or if there is something you would like to hear from me about, please write. I'd like to hear what you have to say.

Buffy, who swims for the St. Paul Swim Club, is a sixth grader at St. Paul Academy and Summit School. She, along with teammates Traci Telander, Amy Reed and Jodi Schwartzmiller, also received recognition at the meet for placing seventh in the country with a 2:02.27 time in the 200-meter freestyle relay last summer in Mason City.

Leslie Johnson, 1474 Goodrich Ave., set another state record for SPSC at the Bloomington meet with a winning time of 1:57.19 in the 200-yard medley relay of the 13-14 girls' category.

Other area swimmers who qualified for the age group championships in individual events were: Bill Becker, Betty Byrne, Michael Block, Chrissy Gaertner, Margaret Hanton, Thad Ingersoll, Karla Klocow, Matthew and Joseph Smith and Gordy Westerberg.

Dear Bobbie:

On the eve of my six-month anniversary in my new home, I am once again reminded of the thorough and professional manner with which you coupled buyer and house.

You listened astutely to my vague concepts of the house of my dreams, and somehow brought into focus a concrete (and cedar and stucco) manifestation, mortgage included.

Always you exhibited great confidence and poise in dealing with the Bank, the Builder, and the Buyer... it's truly an honour and a pleasure to have worked with you.

In two or three years I hope to work with you again in procuring another dream home, and look forward to your support and sensitivity in putting together the intricate pieces of the home-buying puzzle.

I appreciate your expertise, especially in dealing with single home buyers.

Thanks and Mahalo,

Talking Out of School

by Bill Rosenbloom and Carl Nelson

Reprinted below is data compiled from a study entitled "Non-Medical Drug Use Among Entering University of Minnesota Students—1977" by doctors Edward J. Dvorak and Paul Rupprecht of the Boynton Health Service. We asked Dr. Dvorak if he could correlate the data by zip code in order to determine if the statistics represent the drug use pattern of students from high schools in this area. According to him, the correlations had been done by city and area of residence within the Twin Cities. There were no significant differences.

The table below, then, describes the drug use by secondary school students in the Highland area as of 1977.

Extent of drug use	Alcohol	PCP	Marijuana	Hashish
Never used	14.1%	86.0%	44.0%	72.5%
Used previously but not currently	12.8%	11.4%	26.1%	16.7%
Currently using	73.0%	1.3%	29.7%	10.5%

Drug use for the first time in:

6th grade or earlier	9.9%
7th or 8th grade	25.5%
9th or 10th grade	34.7%
11th or 12th grade	26.0%
After 12th grade	3.9%

Comparison of drug use by religion:

Catholic	58.9%
Jewish	70.2%
Protestant	53.2%
Other	60.6%
None	69.6%

Reason for drug use

	Males	Females
To show society it can't dictate	8.0%	6.2%
To go along with the group	48.1%	41.4%
To obtain insight into personality	17.4%	16.5%
To escape reality problems	22.6%	21.8%
To escape loneliness	15.6%	12.9%
Persuaded by others	39.0%	33.2%
For consciousness expansion	19.6%	15.8%
Out of curiosity	64.5%	66.1%
For pleasure, kicks, enjoyment	71.4%	66.7%

As is obvious from the study, alcohol is far and away the most used drug among area students. And alcohol use by adolescents is increasing. Dvorak and Rupprecht reported that 58.7% of entering freshmen in 1967 used alcohol, compared with 73% in 1977.

What can or should be done about drug use and abuse? Large percentages of users claimed their reason for using drugs initially was to go along with the group or because they were persuaded by others. The development of self-reliant, self-confident, self-secure individuals reduces the influence of the group on the individual—a process to be fostered by both home and school.

Nor can we avoid the influence from our cultural norms. Our drug oriented society manifests these norms in many ways, perhaps most noticeably through advertisements which encourage us to alter artificially the way we feel. Counter-influences from home and school may go a long way in helping students find other means of coming to terms with their feelings.

What schools are doing—and what they should be doing—will be addressed in the next column of Talking Out of School.

District 63B officers elected

District 63-B Independent Republicans recently held their off-year convention at St. Luke's Lutheran Church. Bob Brown, Republican national committeeman, gave the keynote address to the assembly. Also speaking were Fourth District I-R Chairwoman Virginia Berg, State Senator Ron Sieloff and Representative John Drew.

A slate of officers presented by the Nominating Committee was unopposed and elected by acclamation. Bill Batcher continues as chairman, Jane Hughes was elected chairwoman, vice-chairmen are Frank Graves and Ken Jefferson.

Mary Marolt and Mary Drew will serve the two-year term as vice-chairwomen. Secretary Gene Bohmert and Treasurer Steve Bricher are holding district office for the first time.

The convention also elected delegates and alternates to represent 63-B on the I-R State Central Committee.

Ageless wisdom

Old age is fifteen years older than I am.

—Bernard M. Baruch

The Rev. Gordon M. Doffing, director of guidance at St. Thomas Academy since 1974, has been named director of STA's Middle School, effective July 1. His duties will include administration, religious instruction, and guidance and counseling services.

Parents-to-be can learn about babes from the experts

Expectant parents who are "due" in late May through August are invited to join a new Minnesota Early Learning Design (MELD) group led by experienced parents, which will begin Thursday, April 26 at the Family Tree Clinic, 1599 Selby Ave.

MELD's aim is to give one and two-parent families confidence about giving birth and raising children through discussion of such topics as nutrition, closeness, crying babies, equipment and space.

Session leaders will be Mike and Mary Remmers, 2096 Roblyn Ave., and Bill and Becky Monson, 1258 Berkeley Ave. Fees are nominal and parent scholarships are available. Call MELD at 870-4478 for more information.

Inside the House

by Rep. Ray Faricy
District 63A

The give and take on school aid proposals that was so predominant at the Capitol last week was enough to confuse many people. Governor Quie revealed his plan, the House DFL Caucus countered with a different plan, and then the Governor criticized that plan. Maybe confusing isn't a strong enough word.

I hope I can explain what it all means, because the state's financial assistance to our schools is necessary to ensure a quality education for many of Minnesota's school children.

Governor Quie's proposal asks that a district's school board be given the option of raising the local levy from the state-set level of 26 mills to 28 mills, yet still be considered for state aid as though it were taxing at the 26 mill level.

This proposal does not sit well with many legislators because it is certain to produce a large disparity in the spending abilities of school districts throughout the state. One report puts the range in earned revenue from the additional mills from 15 cents per pupil unit in one district, to $672 per pupil unit in another. What does this mean? It means we can say goodbye to equal educational opportunities in our state, which is not only a constitutional obligation, but a goal of DFL-authored legislation since 1971.

In response to the Governor's plan, the House DFL Caucus offered a proposal that would, if adopted, be the first major revision in the state school aid formula since 1971. What the DFL'ers are asking is that the mill levy be reduced to 24 by all districts across the state. Then only those districts which feel they need the money would be given the option of adding a small tax. This would be a 2-mill discretionary levy, but different than the Governor's because the DFL'ers are proposing that it be "equalized." This means the state would give additional aid to districts with low property values to ensure that their added local tax produces a specific amount of money.

In addition to cutting the basic school levy to 24 mills and allowing for the additional discretionary levy of up to two equalized mills, the DFL proposes to:

- Increase the foundation air formula allowance to $1,182 in 1979-80 and to $1,265 in 1980-81.
- Provide expanded funds for districts faced with declining enrollments.
- Establish a new aid for sparsely populated districts where consolidation is not feasible.
- Combine declining enrollment, fast growth and sparsity aid into an equalized replacement levy that guarantees the same amount of dollars per pupil in every school district, regardless of their property wealth.
- Permit school districts to pass through some or all of the 3-mill school levy reduction in property tax relief if they decide they do not need all of the equalized replacement levy.

Behind the DFL proposal is a commitment to local control of schools and financial assistance to combat declining enrollment and sparsity. But perhaps of greatest importance is the fact that the DFL plan would equalize the opportunity for students to receive a quality education, regardless of a district's property wealth.

The plan assures that school districts will take a hard look at the local need for additional school funds due to declining enrollments, fast growth or sparsity, because a local effort would be required to receive state funds.

The cost of the DFL proposal is $73.4 million, actually less than the plan presented by the Governor. In addition, estimated costs show that school districts across the state would levy $30 million less in property taxes under the DFL proposal than under the Governor's.

Overall, the DFL proposal seems to tackle the real problem in our state school system, that is, finding funds for those districts who need them. The Governor is seeking additional funds for kindergarten through third grade programs, but that money should be shared by all students because it is not just the K-3 students who are suffering in many districts right now. The DFL plan ensures that Minnesota's traditionally high standard of quality education will continue to be available to all its citizens.

Mike Windey of Hillcrest Playground, inspects a first aid kit presented to the facility last week by the St. Paul chapter of the American Red Cross in honor of the late Otto Hummer. Looking on, from left: Carleton Rust of the Red Cross, St. Paul city councilman Len Levine, Mrs. Alice Hummer, her daughter Sue Sinna, and Laura and Lisa Sin-na, two of Hummer's grandchildren. A longtime Red Cross volunteer, Hummer also served on the Highland Business Association, the Capitol Improvement Budget Committee and the St. Paul Planning Commission before his death last summer. One of his special community-service interests was neighborhood playgrounds.

SOUTHWEST AREA DISTRICT Council Capsule

Clean Capital City Week (April 21-28) is an appropriate time to get rid of the remnants of the winter from our yards, garages, or any public area near our homes for that matter. It could also make an excellent community project for area Scout or Campfire troops.

A free dump will be open from 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. on Saturday, April 28 just one block north of Jefferson Ave. on Victoria. All items brought to the dump must be bagged, boxed or tied. No garbage, concrete or chemicals will be accepted. Let's all pitch in for a cleaner community.

The City of St. Paul recently reinstated its rat control program after the mayor's office and the city health department began receiving an increase in the number of calls concerning rats. Individual homeowners can take several preventative measures to keep the rodents out. Pouring a gallon of bleach into basement toilets discourages entrance that way. Placing a brick or other heavy object over a floor drain cuts off another access. If your water meter is in a sand pit, covering it with something that can't be chewed through will do the trick.

Call the mayor's Complaint Office at 298-4747 if you spot a rat in your neighborhood or find one in your home.

The next SWAD Council Capsule will include a list of all the grid representatives and at-large members elected at the annual meeting on April 9. Our next meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday, May 14 in St. Joseph's Hall on the campus of the College of St. Catherine. All area residents are, as always, welcome to attend.

In the meantime, if there's anything the Southwest Area District Council can do for you, call our office at 698-7973.

JCC Happenings

PASSOVER NOTES

The board and staff of the Jewish Community Center wish the whole community a very happy Passover—joy, good health and nachas! The JCC will be closed Wednesday, April 18 and reopen at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, April 19 after the concluding days of Passover.

JEWISH YOUNG COUPLES

A Country Hoedown and Chowdown Nite for young couples is slated for 7:30 p.m. Saturday, April 21 at the JCC. Square dancing, games and fried chicken will fill the evening, all for $7.00 per couple. Reserve space before 5:00 p.m. Tuesday, April 17 by calling Joanne Gillman at 698-2772, Ellen Sloane at 488-6590, or the JCC at 698-0751.

MARATHON SWIM

An Israeli Independence Day marathon swim event will be held at the JCC from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Sunday, April 22. Swimmers will pledge laps (there's no limit) and collect money for each lap completed. Lanes will be available every 30 minutes for the undisturbed completion of laps, and swimmers can have two consecutive half-hour time slots without interruption. For pledge sheets and more information, call Sandy Unger at 698-0751.

BARRIER-FREE JCC

The JCC has nearly completed the remodeling job which will make the building more accessible to the handicapped and elderly persons. A temporary ramp will be constructed, to be replaced with a permanent one when the new annex is added. Plans also include installing an elevator.

HEBREW ULPAN CLASSES

Registration closes on Friday, April 20 for enrollment in seven-week Hebrew Ulpán classes. All sessions will be held from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. starting on the following dates: Monday, April 23, Beginners; Wednesday, April 25, Beginners II; Tuesday, April 24, Intermediates; and Thursday, April 26, Advanced. Tuition is $21 for adults, $10.50 for teens. Call Yefet Ozery at 698-0751 for more details.

CAMP PREVIEW, REUNION

A Camp Preview and Reunion Day has been scheduled for noon to 1:30 p.m. Sunday, April 22 at the JCC, for kindergarten through sixth grade children who have already attended JCC camps and for those about to join the ranks. The 1979 camp staff will attend and free lunch, slides from previous summers, a camp treasure hunt and special camp and gym activities will be offered (bring your own gear). Sign up before 5:00 p.m. Tuesday, April 17 by calling the Center at 698-0751.

Jay A. Pfaender, 720 Roundhill Rd., Mendota Heights, has been named the new president of the St. Paul Winter Carnival Association. His appointment follows nearly a decade of Carnival participation, including service as Prime Minister to King Boreas, a two-year stint as treasurer of the board of directors, and membership vice president this past year. Pfaender is vice president of marketing and manager of the St. Paul office of Minnesota Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Breck tests set

Breck School will hold a group testing session for prospective first through eleventh graders at 8:45 a.m. Saturday, April 28 at the school, 4200 W. River Rd., Minneapolis. Interested students and parents should call the school's admissions office at 721-7501.

Kiddie Parade entrants sought

OK kids, here's your chance to strut your stuff and win a prize in the process.

The annual Snelling-Selby Spring Jubilee, now in its third year, will culminate with a "Kiddie Parade" on Sunday, May 6, the last day of the three-day affair. All kids age 10 or younger are invited to don their most outrageous duds, mount their most far-out floats (wagons, buggies, anything will do) and join in the fun.

Parade participants will step off at 2:00 p.m. from the Strippers' parking lot, 1698 Selby Ave., and proceed east up Selby to the Liberty State Bank parking lot. There, all costumes and floats will be judged for their creativity by city councilmen Vic Tedesco and Ron Maddox, and other local folks of note.

First prize is a Schwinn bicycle courtesy of Boehm's Cycle Center, second prize is $25, and third prize $15. Kids must register at Boehm's, 1592 Selby Ave., by April 30.

Members of the Twin Cities Opera Guild grin and bear some of the items which will be auctioned off at the fifth annual Dapper Divas and Divos Benefit Luncheon, set to begin at 11:00 a.m. Friday, April 27 at the Calhoun Beach Club in Minneapolis. Proceeds from the event, which will include operatic entertainment plus a fashion show, support the guild's educational projects. Dancing with the bears are, from left, Irma Wachtler, Arlene Goodman and Sally Lund. For tickets call 698-5386 or 699-4434.

Tailgate on the bus?

MTC announces new service to Kicks games from Highland

Anticipating an increase in demand for mass transit with the start of $2.00 parking fees at Minnesota Kicks soccer games, the Metropolitan Transit Commission is expanding its bus service to professional soccer games this season. (Until this year, parking was free at Kicks games.)

The new Kicks route will serve the Midway and Highland areas of St. Paul. Kicks bus service from downtown Minneapolis and St. Paul will continue, and all three routes will again operate for Twins games.

The new Kicks service, designated Route 42X, begins at Snelling and University Ave. and follows Snelling south to Edgumbe Road, to I-494, to the Met. Buses leave University and Snelling about one hour and 15 minutes before all games.

Area soccer fans can also take advantage of Route 42S bus service, which travels from downtown St. Paul along West Seventh to Montreal Ave., to Snelling Ave., to Edgumbe Road to I-494. Those buses also leave 75 minutes before game time.

Route 42 buses will stop for passengers at all bus stops along their routes. Transfers will be accepted.

Return trips leave the stadium no later than 15 minutes after the game ends, and follow the same routes.

The one-way adult fare on Route 42 is 55 cents. Youths under 18 pay 35 cents, limited mobility riders pay 15 cents, and senior citizens ride free.

Special Route 42 Twins and Kicks schedules may be obtained by calling the MTC Information Center at 827-7733.

Irish Fortnight concludes with two lectures on today's woman

The Irish Fortnight, now in progress at the College of St. Thomas, will conclude on Saturday, April 14 with two free lectures on the role and status of the Irish woman in modern life. The Fortnight, an annual event, is cosponsored by the Irish American Cultural Institute and CST.

Margaret MacCurtain, professor of history at University College in Dublin, will speak on women in contemporary Irish society at 8:00 p.m. in the auditorium of O'Shaughnessy Educational Center. She will explore how the Irish woman's absence from centers of political power and her presence in business both conceal and reveal her strength.

At 9:05 p.m. MacCurtain will be followed by Cliona McMahon whose lecture, "Irish Women Meet the Challenge," will take a close look at women in employment, in public life, and in the home. McMahon will also discuss recent political reforms in Ireland which have improved women's status in all spheres of life.

MacCurtain, editor of Women in Irish Society and author of Tudor and Stuart Ireland, sits on the board of the Rehabilitation Institute of Ireland and is president of the Association for the Study of Historic Settlement.

McMahon, a member of the Women's Political Association of Ireland, recently was appointed to the Irish National Broadcasting Service Authority to study the position of women within that agency.

An Easter Egg Hunt is on for 2:30 p.m. Thursday, April 12 at the park for those in sixth grade and younger.

We must hear from all adults who are interested in taking beginning or intermediate tennis classes so we can keep the teacher, Dennis Ferche. Children's lessons, for those age 15 and under, will run from 2:00 to 3:00 p.m. beginning the week of June 11 and will be held in groups of five to eight people. Three one-hour lessons will cost $1.50 total. Call Desnoyer now at 646-4414.

Registrations are now being taken for baseball, softball and T-ball. We could also use some volunteers to help coach and to be drivers.

We wish Steve McGovern much success and good luck in his new job. He'll leave on April 13, but says he'll come in to coach the cub boys' team (fifth grade and under). Steve will need an assistant and car pool for away games. Those who'd like to volunteer should call Desnoyer at 646-4414.

HILLCREST

Softball registration will be held at the center from April 19 through April 27. Stop in at Hillcrest and pick up your registration form. Each form must be signed by a parent or guardian and accompanied with a $5.00 registration fee, which will be used to buy the necessary equipment.

Parents, do you know what your children will be doing this summer? They can hang around Hillcrest, which will be offering day camp, a small fry program for kids age 4-5, a crafts program for kids age 6-7, special events, sports, Pepsi hot shot and programs with the Highland Park Branch Library. Plan on registration at Hillcrest during the week of April 23.

A reminder: Each Tuesday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:00 p.m. is set aside for kids in third grade and under. Stop in and enjoy a good time.

The Villager's Guide to Food, Fun & Entertainment

Mari Rovang and Jim Harris star as Gittel and Jerry in William Gibson's two-character comedy, Two for the Seesaw, being staged now through April 29 by Actors Theatre of St. Paul.

Actors Theatre of St. Paul mounts month-long 'Seesaw'

Two for the Seesaw, William Gibson's endearing and enduring depiction of a man, a woman, and their efforts to fashion a lasting relationship, will be presented by Actors Theatre of St. Paul through April 29 in Foley Theatre on the campus of the College of St. Thomas.

The bittersweet two-character comedy features Mari Rovang as Gittel, a disillusioned New York dancer, and Jim Harris as Jerry, a down-on-his-luck Midwestern lawyer struggling to make a new life for himself in the east.

According to director Michael Andrew Miner, this latest production of Actors Theatre "gives these two resident company members a chance to work on one of the greatest of American character studies. The show resonates with echos of almost every contemporary man-woman relationship."

While Harris and Rovang busy themselves with the ups and downs of Seesaw, the rest of the resident company and guest artists have embarked on Actors Theatre's first touring production. The mainstage actors who recently completed John Dos Passos' U.S.A. at Foley Theatre will take the show to cities in Wisconsin, North Dakota and outstate Minnesota through the end of the month.

Two for the Seesaw will be presented Thursdays and Fridays at 8:00 p.m., Saturdays at 5:15 and 9:15 p.m. and Sundays at 7:00 p.m. There will also be a matinee at 1:00 p.m. on Thursday, April 19.

Tickets for the show are available at Dayton's, Donaldson's, or by calling the Actors Theatre box office at 698-5559.

Flamenco family performs at Macalester on April 16

Luisa Maravilla and her talented family will present a special performance of flamenco dance, guitar music and song at 8:00 p.m. Monday, April 16 in the Concert Hall of the Janet Wallace Fine Arts Center at Macalester College. The event is free and open to the public.

Maravilla is one of Spain's finest flamenco dancers and one of the leading exponents of the pure, traditional style of flamenco dance. She also is a noted authority on this unique, ancient art form and has written a book on the subject. Her performances include English transcriptions of the Spanish songs as well as learned explanations of the background and characteristics of the flamenco style.

Her husband, Donn Pohlen, a Minneapolis native, has lived in Spain for a number of years. He is considered the English-speaking authority on flamenco and is the only non-Spaniard elected to the prestigious Professorate of Flamenco Studies.

Performing with the couple will be their daughter Tina Maria, also an expert in the purist tradition of flamenco dance.

Mac symphony, Cambridge choir to perform free

The Macalester Symphony Orchestra and the Cambridge High School Chamber Choir will give a free concert at 8:00 p.m. Sunday, April 22 in the Concert Hall of the Janet Wallace Fine Arts Center at Macalester College.

ENDGAME by Samuel Beckett
The outside world ceases to exist for four characters concerned with survival. Their lives appear meaningless, and everyday events become exaggerated and often comic. Somehow life loses its meaning in the face of death.

Monsieur de Molière by Mikhail Bulgakov
An air of intrigue surrounds the playwright Molière and his troupe in the court of King Louis XIV. Molière is in danger of losing the King's favor because of protest against "TARTUFFE," his parody on religious con-men. He does his best to placate the King, but secretly, his protégé is captured and forced to betray him.

With a Guthrie Season Ticket you experience a season of seven fine plays, but pay for only five. You receive ticket purchase priority to this year's presentation of Charles Dickens' holiday classic, A Christmas Carol, which sold out last year two months before it opened. ### Guthrie to be site of sequel with Windom's 'Thurber II'

Emmy-award winning actor William Windom will return to the Guthrie stage in his current one-man show, Thurber II, for four performances, at 1:30 p.m. Thursday, April 26, and at 8:00 p.m. Thursday through Saturday, April 26-28.

Thurber II, which zeroes in on the lively world of the late writer-cartoonist James Thurber, uses different material from that of Windom's original Thurber evening performed at the Guthrie last April. It includes a collection of Thurber cartoons, a story about a Scottie, an essay on cocktail parties and a blend of Thurber's more famed fables, stories and skits.

Windom, who chose the material for the show himself, is probably best known for his Emmy-award winning role as the lead of NBC-TV's 1969-70 series, "My World and Welcome to It" based on Thurber's work. He also played the male lead in "The Farmer's Daughter" on ABC-TV.

Tickets are $7.50 and $6.50, with a special student matinee price of $3.45, and may be purchased at the Guthrie box office or any Dayton's ticket office.

Henry's stage: Just one small step to stardom

That important first rung on the ladder of success for many budding area entertainers has been the humble stage at Henry's Plaza Pizza Etc., 2469 W. 7th St., where some of the most notable unnotables prove why overlooked is not unappreciated.

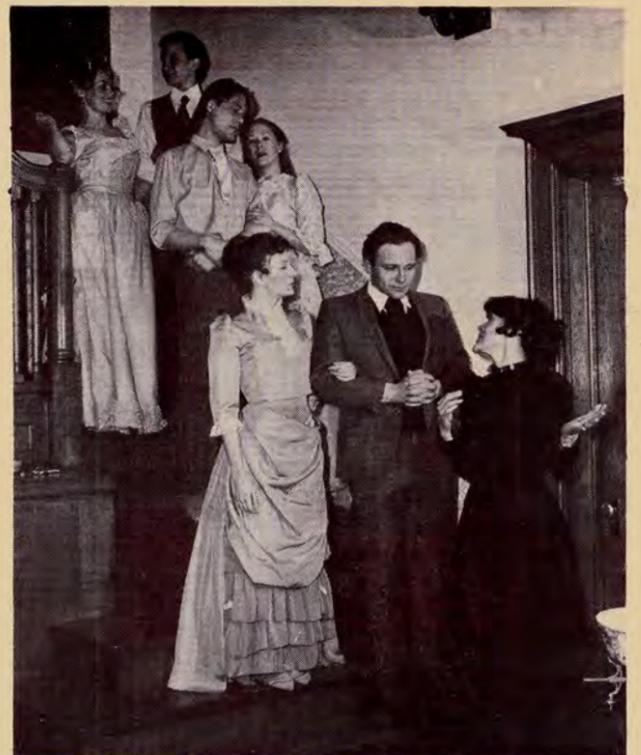

In the next two weeks the limelight will shine on the guitar and bongo drums duo Jackson and Morrie on April 14, and on Lou Bartholemu and a Friend Singing on April 21.

Amateur hour at Henry's can be counted on to be almost always from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. every Saturday.

Church organist gives free recital

Frank W. Brocato, organist at Gloria Dei Lutheran Church, will present a free organ recital at 8:00 p.m. Sunday, April 29 at the church, 700 S. Snelling Ave. Works by Buxtehude, Bach, Bohm and Vierne lead the program.

Brocato, a graduate of the College-Conservatory of Music in Cincinnati, received a Masters in fine arts last August from the University of Minnesota and is now working on his doctorate in musicology there.

Ruled by tangled layers of love and cruelty, domination and dependence, the Hubbard family tries to hide it all behind feigned southern graciousness in Another Part of the Forest, opening Friday, April 20 at Theatre in the Round.

Post-Civil War drama mounts the boards at Theatre in the Round

Lillian Hellman's drama Another Part of the Forest will be staged at 8:00 p.m. Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays, April 20 through May 13 at the Theatre in the Round, 245 Cedar Ave. in Minneapolis.

Set in the South sometime after the Civil War, Another Part of the Forest reveals the tangled layers of love and cruelty, domination and dependence that rule the actions of the Hubbard family.

The play's atmosphere drips with greed, guilt and decaying Southern graciousness at a time when fortunes are made—and destroyed.

Charles Nolte will direct the cast of nine, which includes area residents Laurence Berland, 42 So. St. Albans St., in the role of Ben Hubbard; and Charles Torrey, 2040 Saunders Ave., in the role of Marcus Hubbard.

Following the performances on April 27-28 and May 4-5, the audience will have an opportunity to discuss the play with a theatre scholar and a member of the cast.

Tickets at $4.00, $3.00 for students and senior citizens (except Saturdays), are available by calling the TRP box office (336-9123), Dayton's or Donaldson's ticket offices. Special rates are available for groups of 20 or more.

Havdalah Film Fest to screen one more

The Havdalah Film Festival at Mt. Zion Temple, 1300 Summit Ave., continues at 8:00 p.m. Saturday, April 21 with the screening of Laughter Through Tears, an adaptation of Sholom Aleichem's "Mottele Peyse, the Cantor's Son," a classic of Jewish folklore.

Spoken in Yiddish with English subtitles, Laughter Through Tears recreates the colorful life in Kozedayevka, a poor Jewish village in old Russia.

Admission to the screening, which is open to the public, is $1.50.

Irish ceili to shake through St. Mark's

An Irish concert and Ceili dance, featuring the guitar, fiddle and accordion trio Bowhand, will be held at 8:00 p.m. Friday, April 20 in the small auditorium of St. Mark's Church, 1983 Dayton Ave.

The program will start with an hour-long concert, followed by Ceili dancing, waltzes, polkas and steps to jigs, reels and hornpipes.

Admission to the concert-dance, which is sponsored by the Twin Cities' Comhaltas Ceoltoiri Eireann (Irish Musicians and Dancers Association), is $3.00.

Sure, they're funny-looking, but can they sing? The Apocalypse Trio (John Wehrman, Jane Greenwood and Jay Reilly) will perform one of the skits in a new satirical revue, Dow Jones Goes Down for Anybody opening April 11 at Dudley Riggs' ETC.

Dudley Riggs is bullish on 'Dow Jones Goes Down'

A new comic-satirical revue called Dow Jones Goes Down for Anybody will open at 8:00 p.m. Wednesday, April 11 at Dudley Riggs' ETC., 1430 Washington Ave. S., Minneapolis, for preview performances through Sunday, April 15. The show will officially open Friday, April 20 and continue through June.

Sketches will include a look at a wayward think tank which falls into the hands of a devious adolescent swindler, the Three Stooges' School of Martial Arts, and the Frontier Critic (also known as the Lone Reviewer, who rides from Dodge City to Deadwood purveying culture to the west, press pass tucked firmly into the band of his ten-gallon hat).

In a partial attempt to justify the title, the Riggs company will also present a sketch in which an unholy alliance of shady characters discuss their ill-gotten gains. One is the sole member of the government agency Krask. Another, a phony fundraiser, has reaped millions on behalf of nebulous causes, fictitious diseases and endangered species that never existed in the first place. The third, a professional scapegoat, takes the rap for anyone with a hefty bankroll.

Comedy brokers include Jay Reilly, Jane Greenwood, John Wehrman, Kim Waltman and Mark Keller, who also directs.

The show will run through April at ETC., move to the Brave New Workshop, 2605 Hennepin Ave. S., Minneapolis, from May 1-13, and return to ETC. on May 17. For ticket and performance information, call 377-2120.

Minnesota Opera stages Menotti's 'The Consul' at O'Shaughnessy

The Minnesota Opera Company will present Gian-Carlo Menotti's The Consul at 8:00 p.m. April 27, 28 and May 4 in O'Shaughnessy Auditorium at the College of St. Catherine.

Winner of the New York Drama Critics award when it was first performed in 1951, the opera centers around Magda who, in a desperate battle to save her husband from the secret police, seeks the aid of the Consul.

Rebuffed by bureaucratic indifference, Magda doesn't receive a hearing from the Consul until it is too late.

The cast includes Barbara Brandt as Magda, Michael Riley as her husband John, Judith Christin as the Mother, and Gwendolyn Jones as the Secretary to the Consul. Tickets are available at Dayton's or the Minnesota Opera ticket office (221-0256). Special rates are available for students, seniors and groups.

Rothko's paintings to hang at Walker

"Mark Rothko: A Retrospective," an exhibition of works by the late pioneer of abstract color painting, will be on view at the Walker Art Center from April 22 through June 10.

Critically acclaimed as a 20th century master, Rothko made artistic contributions that were crucial to the development of the New York School of Abstract Expressionism, the major painting movement that began in the mid-1940s.

Admission to the exhibition is $1.00; 50 cents for students, and free to children under 12, senior citizens and scheduled group tours. Admission is free for all on Fridays.

Mac Chorale to perform two free concerts April 21

The Macalester College Festival Chorale will perform the Mozart Requiem at 6:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. on Saturday, April 21 in the Concert Hall of the Janet Wallace Fine Arts Center on the campus. Admission is free but donations will be accepted at the door.

Soloists for the concert will be Emma Small, alto; Margaret Smith, soprano; Wayne Williams, tenor; and Jack Jaeger, bass.

Directed by Dale Warland, the Festival Chorale is a 120-voice group that has performed frequently with the Minnesota Orchestra. It is composed of Macalester College students, alumni, faculty, staff and area residents.

I bought a Guthrie Season Ticket & saved $3 per play!

If you're a theater-goer who buys on a single-ticket basis, consider this. With a Guthrie Season Ticket you'll save 28%! That's $3.00 per play. It's the same as paying for five plays and seeing two free! And our liberal ticket-exchange policy makes a season ticket very flexible.

In addition, you'll receive ticket purchase priority to this year's presentation of Charles Dickens' A Christmas Carol (which sold out last year two months before it opened) and many other special privileges.

ORDER TODAY
To order season tickets or to receive a free color brochure with complete information and order form: call, write or stop by any Dayton's ticket office (612) 375-2987, or the Guthrie box office, Vineland Place, Mpls. MN 55403. Call (612) 377-2224.

Legislative Report

by Rep. John Drew
District 63B

The recent Tax Court ruling which held limited market values to be unconstitutional has brought the subject of property taxes to the forefront.

At the time of last year's election, the main concern of most voters was Minnesota's high income tax rate (which still ranks among the highest in the country). Less concern was expressed for the property tax.

I supported Governor Quie's proposal for an across-the-board income tax cut as well as a method of "inflation proofing" the income tax through a system of indexing. While the income tax question is still a major concern to all of us, there is also concern on my part that property taxes do not rise astronomically.

What we are really saying when we talk about cutting taxes is cutting the income for the state. Obviously, if income is cut, there must be a corresponding cut in expenses. In this case, the expense is in the form of services the government provides to the people of Minnesota.

It is, therefore, time for all of us to reflect on what government should be providing for us. It's time to realize that we cannot ask people to shoulder a heavier tax burden. It's time to set priorities for government and allocate our resources accordingly.

It's time to balance the needs of the people of Minnesota with their ability to pay.

Breck schedules China symposium

A two-day symposium on China has been set for Thursday and Friday, April 26-27 at Breck School, 4200 W. River Rd., Minneapolis, in cooperation with the Minnesota China Council and the Midwest China Studies Resource Center. All seminars will be free but those interested in the Friday sessions must register.

Doak Barnett, Robert Oxnam and Ezra Vogel, three experts on China, will discuss "China's New Direction: The Role for the United States and Japan" at 8:00 p.m. Thursday, in the school's chapel. The talk is open to the general public.

The trio will conduct a series of six short seminars from 9:00 a.m. to noon on Friday for those with a scholarly or commercial interest in China. Call the school at 721-7501 for reservations.

Family Tree offers support group for middle-aged women

The Family Tree Clinic, 1599 Selby Ave., has announced the creation of yet another informational and support group for women in their middle years. Called "Womenpause for Reflection," it is designed to provide an opportunity for women to share with other women their ideas and feelings about menopause in a caring and confidential setting.

The group itself is based on the belief that middle age doesn't have to be a time of crisis, that a realistic understanding of that stage of life, combined with some positive attitudes, can help women look ahead to a period of new freedom and self-discovery.

Womenpause will focus on factual information about the physical and emotional changes that occur during menopause, society's views of women past the childbearing age, menopause myths, the reactions of family, friends and physicians, and ideas for positive approaches to the second half of life.

The group will be led by Helen Everett, who holds a nursing degree from Columbia-Presbyterian Hospital of Nursing in New York. She is married, has two sons and a daughter who are "out of the nest," and two grandsons.

The Womenpause group will meet from 10:00 a.m. to noon, once a week for four weeks beginning May 4. Fee for the series is $10 and pre-registration is required.

Paper drive planned

Jaycee Women set charity ball

The St. Paul Jaycee Women have scheduled their 27th annual charity ball, "It's a Small World," for Saturday, April 28 at Hillcrest Country Club, 2200 E. Larpenteur Ave. A cocktail hour begins at 6:30 p.m. with dinner following at 7:30.

Tickets are $30 per couple, with proceeds pledged to the Children's Cancer Research Fund at the University of Minnesota.

Hiking club holds April expeditions

The St. Paul Hiking Club invites new members to join the group for an evening jaunt at 8:00 p.m. Tuesday, April 17. The strollers will start out from the corner of Highland Parkway and S. Cleveland Ave.

Hikers are also invited to meet at 2:00 p.m. Sunday, April 22 at Fifth and Cedar St. for directions to a hike by Lake Nokomis in Minneapolis. Call Virgil at 451-8389 for more information.

Registration opens for TCITY

Applications are now being accepted for the Twin City Institute for Talented Youth (TCITY), a six-week summer program at Macalester College open to students currently enrolled in grades 7-11 who are residents of Minneapolis or St. Paul.

Courses in fine arts, social and behavioral sciences, mathematics, physical and animal sciences, foreign languages, travel and communication will meet from 8:15 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. Monday through Friday, June 13 through July 24.

There is no tuition, though certain courses do have fees for materials, field trips and the like. Transportation is furnished by Minneapolis and St. Paul public school buses.

For brochures and information, check with your school counselor or call the TCITY office at 647-6590.

Kids' art classes offered at library

A children's drawing and painting class, offered by Hillcrest Recreation Center and the Highland Park Branch Library, will be held from 3:30 to 5:00 p.m. on six Thursdays, starting April 19 at the library, 1974 Ford Parkway.

Pete Winecke, a student at the Minneapolis College of Art and Design, will teach. Children must be eight or older to register. Sign up at Hillcrest or at the library.

Hertz to speak on program for gifted

Lorraine Hertz, director of the Nova Program for first and second graders at Chelsea Heights Elementary School, will speak at 7:30 p.m. Monday, April 16 at a meeting of the St. Paul Chapter for the Gifted and Talented.

We've made a change in the name, but the service stays the same!

Now you can call it the Mid America Insurance Agency

It has been more than three years since we first began to offer a full line of insurance services through the Highland Insurance Agency. Under the management of Marty Hahn, this phase of our well-rounded range of financial services has grown considerably...and has become an indispensable convenience to a growing number of our bank customers.

Consequently, we felt that it would be more appropriate if this integral part of our over-all operation also carried the bank's name. So now it's the Mid America Insurance Agency...and along with the change comes our solid assurance that nothing else has changed in the kind of service you've come to expect from us.
