UNICEF Cards Now On Sale At 'U' World Affairs Center

United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) greeting cards and 1969 engagement calendars are now on sale at the University of Minnesota World Affairs Centers, 122 Social Science building, West Bank.

Designs for the cards are donated by leading international artists. Among this year's contributors are Giske Gross, Denmark; Zoravia Bettiol, Brazil; Jean-Eve, France; Vincent Haddelsey, British Columbia; Hilde Greller, Germany; and Paw Oo Thet, Burma.

Proceeds from the cards are used to buy food and medicine for sick and hungry children throughout the world.

The cards can be ordered blank inside, or with "Season's Greetings" printed in English, French, Spanish, Russian and Chinese, the five official languages of the United Nations.

Fifty-four artists from 23 countries contributed to the 1969 calendar. Drawings of children in pencil, charcoal, ink, sanguine and wash are placed back-to-back, so that used weekly calendar pages can be removed, leaving a book of drawings.

The UNICEF products may be purchased weekdays from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the World Affairs Center office, and a catalogue is available to those who wish to order by phone or mail. The center's telephone number is 373-3799.

Young Artists Contest Here

Aspiring young artists enrolled in Saint Paul colleges and universities this fall will have a chance to "do their thing" and enter it in competition through an art contest sponsored by the Saint Paul Area Chamber of Commerce.

Set up to provide financial assistance for creative college art students and to encourage the use of Saint Paul, its people, places and things as subject matter, the College Art Annual is accepting entries in its two open categories of "Paintings" and "Graphics" until Friday, December 13.

Both under-graduate and graduate art students are eligible to compete for six cash prizes totaling $280, with a top of $100 in the first category and $55 in the second.

Winning pieces will become property of the Chamber for display in its permanent collection. Further information and entry forms are available from ment, 222-5561.

November Special Events at Wilder Senior Citizen Center

A number of special events of particular interest to persons 60 years of age and over are scheduled at the Wilder Senior Citizens Center, 349 Washington Street, St. Paul, in the month of November.

Two Defensive Driving Courses are scheduled, each from 9:30 a.m. to noon on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Dates of the first are Nov. 12 and 14. The second class will be held on the same days, Nov. 19, 21, 26, and (because of Thanksgiving) Dec. 3.

Each class is limited to 30 persons and can be offered only to people over 60. Instruction is free, thanks to the interest of the St. Paul Council, C. P. Wainman Chapter 18, Telephone Pioneers, and the N. W. Bell Telephone Company, which provides the expensive visual aids and other materials free of charge. L. J. Nuernberg, a qualified instructor and member of the pioneers, will instruct the class as a volunteer. No road tests are required.

Those interested must register for one or the other of the courses by calling 224-9451 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

A dancing party is offered, Wednesday November 20, at one o'clock. Music is provided by a grant from the Recording Industries Trust Funds obtained by the cooperation of local #30, American Federation of Musicians.

Two tours of KTCA-TV are planned, the first Thursday, November 7; the second Thursday, November 25. These are limited to members of the Center, and to 50 persons on each date. Only those who register at the Center by calling 224-9451, will be admitted, and must arrive promptly at 11:15 a.m. at the station, located at 1640 Como Avenue. Members who go on either tour may drive their own cars, or use public transportation. Bus schedules are available at the Center.

Those who go on either of the tours will watch one of the "Seminars for Seniors" programs being taped, be taken on a tour of the studio, and treated to free coffee and "treats" by the KTCA staff. Two more tours are planned for December.

The monthly birthday party is open to everyone, but those with birthdays in November are especially honored, and are asked to call the Center, 224-9451, so a place can be reserved for them at the "birthday" Thursday, November 7, 1968 day tables," before Friday, November 8. Alvin D. Chamblee, choir director at Olivet Congregational Church, will sing "best loved songs," accompanied by Marion Sellers.

There will also be displays of products of classes in crafts, knitting, painting, rug making and woodworking.

Two "Armchair Tours" are planned. The first will be color slides of "Colorado in the Fall," "California" and "Banff and Lake Louise," to be shown by Mrs. Esther L. Nelson, St. Paul Camera Club, at 1:00 p.m. Wednesday, November 13. The second will be a slide show of a recent tour of Sweden and Denmark by Axel Langseth, at 10:30 a.m. Thursday, Nov. 21.

First floor side aisle seats for "Guys and Dolls," offered to persons 60 and over at a cost of only $1.60, so generously offered by the St. Paul Civic Opera Company are on sale. The dates are for the Saturday, November 30 matinee at 2:30 p.m.; and two evening performances Monday November 25 and Thursday, November 28, at 8:30 p.m. The Center serves as ticket office for the entire state. Boy Scouts To Aid in Half Hour TV Drama Series

Alden G. Barber, Chief Scout Executive of the 6-million member Boy Scouts of America announced that Warner Brothers-Seven Arts and the Boy Scouts will join forces in the development and production of a new half-hour, prime time TV dramatic series for the 1969-70 network season.

The announcement was made jointly by Barber and Donald E. Klauber, executive vice-president in charge of Warner Brothers-Seven Arts television activities, who also released the news to the industry and trade press.

Upon signing the agreement with Scouts, Klauber said, "A series involving the young and growing generation of this country is essential and important." Barber pointed to Warner Brothers-Seven Arts successful FBI series and stated that "they are ideally suited to produce a series with the Boy Scouts of America of the same quality, importance, and acceptance."

In the agreement, the Boy Scouts of America retained the right to approve each script.

So far, a title for the series has not been decided on, but the format being developed by Joseph Kotler, Warner Brothers-Seven Arts vice-president for programming and sales will provide an opportunity to show the relevance of youth activities in all forms and localities of today's world. Commercial sponsorship, a vital necessity for any new series if it is to survive beyond the pilot stage, has not been announced.

Kotler said that the show's format would permit his organization to utilize the present emphasis on Scouting's BOY-POWER '7... long-range plan in urban and low income rural areas as well as in the traditional outdoors activities of Scouting.

"These stories, to be produced both on location and at our studio in Burbank, would involve family problems, humor, adventure, suspense, and conflict. There is an excellent source of strong material in the voluminous literature of Scouting which, as in the case of the FBI, would be available," Kotler said.

Roger Caras, a writer who specializes in natural history and outdoors subjects has been signed to write the pilot show.

Augsburg Choir To Do UN Concert

The Augsburg Choir of Minneapolis and its director Leland B. Sateran have accepted an invitation to take part in a special concert in the United Nations General Assembly in New York City on Human Rights Day, December 10, 1968. The choir will appear with the Minnesota Orchestra (Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra) in a concert directed by Stanislaw Skrowaczewski.

In a letter to Dr. Oscar A. Anderson, president of Augsburg College, Secretary-General U Thant indicated how pleased he was to learn of the choir's participation.

The concert will commemorate the 20th anniversary of the adoption and proclamation of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights. Previous Human Rights Day programs have included performances by the New York Philharmonic under Leonard Bernstein and the Boston Symphony under Charles Munch.

The concert will be performed before an audience composed of prime ministers, foreign ministers and leaders of their countries' delegations to the United Nations.

Mixer

United Synagogue Youth will host a mixer from 8 to 11:30 p.m., Saturday, November 9, at the Temple of Aaron, Hartford and Miss. River Blvd., St. Paul. The Grasshoppers will be featured.

School dress is required at this mixer and presentation of a Jewish youth card.

Open House

Instead of the regularly scheduled PTA meeting this month, the Homecroft PTA would like to invite all parents to attend school. We urge you to visit your child's classroom at any time during the school year.

HAIR MAGIC

IT COSTS MONEY TO SAVE IT, SOMETIMES!

Well, you know what I mean! You often save money if you can pay cash on the line. In the beauty salon it works a little different but it amounts to substantial savings just the same. For instance, patrons who spend a little extra to have our protein-based shampoo, for pomades, scalp treatments, hairconditioners... yes, and for permanent waves containing the most protective emollients in the formulation... they really save quite a lot.

It costs a little extra for all those things, of course, but so little you'd never feel it at your regular appointments but this is the way to avoid the big troubles that might creep in if the hair and scalp aren't properly cared for. The big problems are what really cost if they catch up to you. So you see, by asking for the best cosmetic aids we have, regularly, you spend a little extra but save a lot in the long run.

THE QUEEN OF OUR SERVICES

Of all the wonderful advancements in beauty, none surpasses hair coloring! We couldn't salute the beauty profession without doffing our brighter heads to this vastly improved art. But products alone couldn't produce the beautiful results you see on our customers' heads! We must grow with every upward step in beauty... so we have studied the art of coloring. Our skilled hands, plus this century's most wonderful products, turn your tresses to glowing splendor.

Open Housing

The Southwest Citizens for Open Housing are initiating an active open housing campaign. The first objective of the group is to secure workers willing to visit residents to talk to them about open housing, and to distribute door stickers to residents who are willing to display them. The door stickers will be used as evidence of the resident's commitment to open housing. There will be a sensitivity evening January 5th for all volunteer workers to educate them on the housing problem, to prepare them for their door-to-door campaign, and to answer any questions they might have. The goal of the campaign will be to gather sufficient statistics with which to confront realtors. It is hoped that meaningful action will then result. If you are interested in taking part in this campaign, please call Sally Olson, 698-9309, or Margie Branca, 699-1115.

Metropolitan Area

Employment in the metropolitan area has increased by over 23,900 jobs or 3.2 per cent as compared to 12 months ago, according to Ross W. Sweum, Area Manager of the Minnesota State Employment Service.

Approximately two-fifths of the overall expansion was in manufacturing. Non-manufacturing jobs increased by almost 14,200. Six of the seven major vances.

Since August, non-agricultural wage and salaried employment in the metropolitan area rose by 5,000 jobs or seven-tenths of one per cent.

Transportation equipment was up by 976, mainly due to a single firm recalling in September the employees who had been laid off in August. In the non-manufacturing sector, employment was up 3,700 led by the service industry, which added 3,512 workers.

The only other sizeable gain during the month was experienced by trade, up 235. Government lost 1,884 employees and finance, insurance and real estate laid off 316.

In addition to providing educational assistance in colleges and universities, the VA has on-the-job training programs and high school completion training for veterans with service after January 31, 1955.

From time to time a customer brings in a roll of film to have processed, stating "I'd like these slides made." But the film is a color NEGATIVE film, which calls for prints, not slides. When this is pointed out, the customer becomes irate, understandably.

What happened was that instead of buying transparency film, he bought Kodacolor. While this may have been the fault of the clerk who waited on him selling the wrong type, the customer has a responsibility too. He should be quite specific about what he wants when he BUYS the film. And he certainly should notice something amiss if he sees a different color of lettering on the box from that which he habitually uses.

Or a person may habitually shoot Kodachrome II, and be sold Ektachrome X by an ignorant clerk. Both are slide films. But the former has red lettering on the yellow box while the latter has blue lettering. Certainly the customer has a responsibility to notice that the box is DIFFERENT from what he usually gets and to inquire about it at the time of the sale.

It would make quite a difference in the results, for the film speed is different, and it is up to the user to set his ASA dial on his automatic camera to handle the different film.

At Highland Drug Center we try to make sure you get what you really want by asking you questions. We want to give you what you want. To come in and say "I want some film for my Instamatic" is hardly enough. Instamatic WHAT? Still or movie camera? If it is movies, there is only ONE film, so no one can make a mistake — the customer OR the clerk.

If it is the snapshot camera, it could be any one of six loads. So we have to eliminate what you do NOT want. Black and white or color? If color, for prints, you have a choice. So, you see, it helps everyone to pick the right film if you will know what you want and SAY what you want, and then look at what is put before you.

ON BUYING EQUIPMENT

We in the camera department at Highland Drug Center are on salary, so when you come in to buy a camera, projector, or other equipment, you will be shown a choice of models from which to select what you want.

We try to ascertain what you want the equipment for, what type of picture you normally shoot, etc., and, based on your needs we suggest "the" one we feel fits your purpose best.

Not being on a commission, we do not twist your arm to buy the most expensive items. This is why we feel you will get the most help in selection at HDC. While we don't have every camera made, we have a good selection, and we probably have the item that will fit your needs and your pocket-book best.

Having our 20 years in photography, we know the value of suggesting the right equipment to fill the buyer's needs. To sell a person a complicated camera that will "do everything" will alienate that customer if he, personally, is not able to master the camera's complexities.

We like to sell top of the line equipment, of course, but not at the expense of a person who will never appreciate, let alone use, a camera's potential versatility, flexibility, and creativity.

This is why you can buy at Highland Drug Center with confidence in not being oversold, or undersold, either.

Our selection is complete now, why not put those photographic items you are going to get anyway, sooner or later, for Xmas giving, on lay-by now, and shorten your gift list a bit. You'll be glad you did when the rush starts.

Cretin High School SPAF Program

Cretin High School, operated by the Christian Brothers, has a $40,000.00 operating indebtedness program known as SPAF in process, it was announced today by Robert Runyon, President of the school Parents Association.

Operating indebtedness includes $10,000.00 for 1967-68 school overhead, as well as $30,000.00 additional indebtedness projected for the 1968-69 school year, according to Runyon.

Tuition paid by Cretin High School students, now over $300.00 per year, is not sufficient to liquidate the lay faculty upgraded salary schedule, as well as normal increased costs of the junior ROTC military high school operation.

An all-out student-parent effort, the SPAF Festival (Student Council, Parents, Alumni, Faculty and Friends of Cretin) will be held Saturday evening, November 16th to liquidate the $40,000.00 deficit.

The cooperative venture involves a gala evening of entertainment, games, refreshments, prizes and funds for adults with a student mixer dance as well.

Co-Chairmen of the SPAF Festival are Mr. Kenneth Markwardt and Mrs. Beverly Quintvalle.

Bud Wilkinson To Receive 'U' Achievement Award

Charles B. (Bud) Wilkinson, renowned for his outstanding success as a college football coach and his nationwide leadership on behalf of physical fitness, will receive the University of Minnesota's Outstanding Achievement Award at the annual "M" Club Stag, to be held Friday, Nov. 8, at the Leamington Hotel, Minneapolis.

The next day (Saturday, November 9) he'll return to the scene of his greatest football-playing triumphs, Memorial Stadium, to do the commentary on the National ABC television broadcast of the Minnesota-Purdue game. Lending a note of rivalry to the program will be the fact that Chris Schenkel, Sports Director of ABC who will do the broadcast, is an alumnus of Purdue.

The Outstanding Achievement Award, given by the University Board of Regents to former students who have attained high eminence in their chosen field, will be presented to Wilkinson.

Wilkinson, a star quarterback on the 1936 Minnesota National president since 1965 of the Life-Championship team, has been time Sports Foundation headquartered in Washington D.C.

He has authored many books in the fields of football, recreation and physical fitness, and is a weekly commentator on the ABC-TV football broadcasts.

Following his graduation from the University in 1937, Wilkinson coached football at Syracuse University while earning a master's degree in English. He then served as an assistant to Gopher Coach Bernie Bierman until entering the U. S. Navy in World War II. After the war, he became assistant to Football Coach Jim Tatum at the University of Oklahoma.

He took over as head coach of the Sooners in 1947 and by the time of his retirement in 1963 had become the "winningest" coach in college football.

In 1960, President John Kennedy appointed Wilkinson to head up his national physical fitness program. In 1964, after 18 years at Oklahoma, Wilkinson resigned to run for United States senator, but lost.

U Family Center Receives Grant to Study Problems

Family problem solving will be studied under a $791,389 grant awarded recently to the University of Minnesota Family Study Center by the National Institute of Mental Health.

Four investigators will be responsible for carrying out the several projects in the five-year program which is designed to help families develop better ways of solving their problems in such situations as child-rearing, finances, marital relationships and the loss of family members.

The investigators are Joan Aldous, associate professor of family studies and sociology at Minnesota; Reuben Hill, University professor of sociology and former director of the Family Study Center; Murray A. Straus, former Minnesota faculty member and now professor of sociology at the University of New Hampshire; and Irving Tallman, former associate professor at Minnesota and now associate professor of sociology at the University of California.

Three of the four investigators are using game situations to help families find new ways to solve their problems. The families are observed as they play games that are so designed that new ideas receive high credit and formerly successful moves are penalized. The games also give the investigators the opportunity to observe communication among the family members and determine the relationship of communication to problem-solving.

Real-life situations, such as engaged couples preparing for marriage, are also being studied by the investigators.

Each investigator is also studying an area of special interest to him. Miss Aldous is studying children's originality in solving problems in games and its relationship to their parents' behavior. Families in crises—in Minneapolis, San Juan, Puerto Rico, and Bombay, India—are being studied by Professor Straus. Parents' ability to adapt to problem situations is being studied by Professor Tallman. Professor Hill is investigating family decision-making about the optimum timing of marriage in the United States.

A gift of $256,604 to Midway Hospital in memory of Archibald G. Bush has been received by hospital board president, George Earl, M.D. The gift, made by Mrs. Edyth Bush, is to assist the hospital in its building program.

A million dollar addition is now under construction at Midway primarily for the expansion of the x-ray department. Construction began shortly after a previous memorial gift of over 1/2 million dollars was received from Mrs. Bush in December, 1967, honoring Mr. Archibald G. Bush who was a member of the Midway Hospital Foundation Board of Directors until his death in 1966.

The hospital received approval from the Board of Directors of the Metropolitan St. Paul Hospital Planning Council for a major expansion program costing approximately $5,000,000 to provide for an additional 150 beds and to expand ancillary and supporting services. An additional two floors will be enclosed for future expansion.

Constructoin is anticipated to begin at an early date.

chestra will play two Beethoven symphonies, Numbers 1 and 2, as opening and closing works.

The pianist, who will be making his first appearance with the St. Paul Chamber Orchestra, has been called "one of the finest interpreters of Beethoven since Artur Schnabel." He was born in Cuba into a musical Polish family, and gave his first public recital at the age of eight.

Home A Rama

The Builders Exchange of St. Paul will again sponsor Home-A-Rama, the city's annual home show, President Edward M. Hoffmann announced.

Dates for the show will be February 22 through March 3, 1969, and the site will again be the St. Paul Armory in the capitol approach area.

Mr. Hoffmann announced that Ray A. Thibodeau, executive secretary of the Builders Exchange, will again be show manager. Roger E. Miller, the assistant secretary, will be assistant show manager.

This will be the 12th annual home show sponsored by the Builders Exchange, and will feature over 150 booths of new products, equipment and materials for the home. As in previous years, the 1969 show will be a free admission event.

Mr. Hoffmann also said that first announcement invitations about the show went out this week to prospective exhibitors. Because of heavy advance interest in the show . . . coupled with predictions that 1969 will be a good year for the building industry . . . Mr. Hoffmann said the show committee anticipates that the bulk of the available exhibit space will be sold out by Thanksgiving.

His fusion of science and art can be seen in the works he will exhibit at St. Catherine's. Nine of the works are in black and white, the other three are in color.

Disabled Vets Insurance Opportunities Metropolitan Area Employment Grows

Thousands of disabled veterans—largely young veterans—are failing to take advantage of a valuable insurance opportunity, John R. Murphy, Manager, Veterans Administration Center, St. Paul, said today.

The VA gives disability ratings to about 7,000 veterans each month and each man is encouraged to apply for special low-cost RH insurance. However, Murphy said, currently only about 16 per cent submit applications despite premiums so low that a 25-year-old veteran, for example, can start a $10,000 insurance program for only $2.60 a month.

The Manager said RH National Service Life Insurance is available only to veterans separated from service after April 24, 1951, who have been rated by the VA as having a service-connected disability. After the rating is established, VA insurance offices in Philadelphia or St. Paul inform each veteran that he is entitled to apply for low-cost RH insurance. Applications must be submitted within one year from the date the disability is established.

Murphy emphasized that veterans who receive disability ratings may apply for RH insurance whether or not they converted their Servicemen's Group Life Insurance (SGLI) to a private policy after they got out of military service. Even if the veteran converted his SGLI policy, the VA encourages him—if he can afford to do so—to apply for the RH insurance.

RH and a converted SGLI policy offer disabled veterans an opportunity to carry $20,000 insurance at standard premiums. Many could not qualify for other insurance or could do so only at increased premiums, he said.

He urged disabled veterans to get additional information from the St. Paul VA office or their local County Service office as soon as possible after receiving a disability rating from the VA. A legally appointed guardian or other person acting in a veteran's behalf may apply if the veteran is incompetent, he said.

System Needs School Volunteers

CAN YOU HELP?

The volunteer program for the St. Paul public schools is looking for men and women who will work regularly in the classrooms under the direction of teachers or who will offer special skills to enrich the school program. The aim of this project is to supplement the teacher's work, provide individual help to children who need it, and to vary the experience of the child.

Volunteers are needed in both special and regular classes in St. Paul. Generally, volunteers work at least one-half day a week; however, some work much more. An orientation is provided.

Another classification of volunteers works just occasionally as called upon by the teacher. This person may demonstrate his hobby, show travel slides, artifacts, collections, or special trade skills, etc. A file of such people with talents they are willing to share is being prepared for the schools.

If you are interested, call Miss Katharine Brooks at the SPARC office (224-3301), or Mrs. Donald Hinze (227-4390).

At the opening of Pudge's on the Parkway last Friday . . . a really fine group of entertainers called "Monday's Men," who play a lot of Ray Charles and Tijuana Brass that's both danceable and listenable. The large first night crowd loved them, and it was interesting that 25-year-olds and 45-year-olds were being entertained in the same room. Pudge's opens with food this week . . . a complete menu American and Del Foods. (If you overshoot on the Parkway, there's plenty of parking in Snyder's lot!)

Ron Bacigalupo's COLUMN

HUMOR POLITICS
OPINIONS

I do not know the election results at this writing (Monday night) and hopefully it is known by today and not embroiled in the House of Representatives. I've got a lot of loose ends—scraps and pieces lying around that I'd like to comment on, so let's have a column today which starts somewhere in the middle and gets nowhere.

The new language—"Sock It To Me; Do Your Own Thing; Telling It Like It Is"—is one of the more intriguing phenomena of the past year. Not for its profound sounding frankness, but because it is a product, not of the so-called Madison Avenue communicators, but of a generation of Americans. Quite obviously, this generation of Americans have grown up in a wasteland of meaningless slogans, and have chosen to invent phrases which communicate their militant stance regarding the status quo. They have won over many of their elders, who, after all, were getting a little tired of saying "fancy talk; developing your talents; and the straight poop." And who was it who said, "the more things change, the more they stay the same?"

* * * *

Hippies, Yippies, et al had a big year in pot, politics and pad-dy wagons, and it appears they'll be replacing the jocks and other BMOC's as elite on-campus characters. One, with the aid of a little acid, can almost imagine future grads pressuring their alma mater's to recruit nationally famous H & Y's so as to maintain national ranking in protests and demonstrations. (Cal at Berkeley is No. 1; Columbia No. 2; and Wisc. at Madison is climbing fast, though it is impossible to determine accurate ratings by comparative scores as it was in football.) We imagine the recruiter sitting with a lad of 18 whose just smashed all the windows out of his High School, and bombarded the police as they entered the melee: "We want you at State U., son—we like your record, and think you can play big college protesting. After you win your flower, you're a cinch to go on to better things—selling pot, or something. Oh, yes, and we'll give you a nine year old Volkswagon, all your drugs free, and a pad. We haven't talked to your High School English teacher or your father about it, so your all set!"

* * * *

An epitaph: "Please water the grass, the power mower tickles the devil out of me!"

* * * *

The Bulletin Board: "Due to our bad first quarter sales record, the company picnic will be a bring your own booze affair this year. For the salesmen, that means come as you are!"

* * * *

Where are they now? (Wally Frieberger, Village policeman). We don't know frankly, and if we did, we wouldn't have gotten three parking tickets in the same place—the alley between Divine's and Robinson's Den. (It seems there's no immunity for the press anywhere). I always figure I'm doing the merchants some good by not taking a customer's parking area.

* * * *

Overheard: "When you consider the fact that the contents of this glass is forty percent alcohol and sixty percent taxes, you might say that in spite of my condition, I'm doing a good thing here building highways and schools."

* * * *

Bob Short and Jeno Palucci's recent purchase of the Washington Senators should put some life into that hapless group of athletes. The slogan will be: "First in freight, first in pizza and last in the American League!"

* * * *

Salesman: "I sold a hundred thousand dollar order on Monday, played golf on Tuesday, the order was cancelled on Wednesday causing me to drink Thursday and Friday, so in looking back on my week, I suppose you could say Tuesday was my most productive day."

Zippering across the Dakotas in a jet, a little granny sitting next to me said "I suppose they serve this orange juice in these plastic cups to reduce the weight on board."

On a Boston Freeway with a friend: "If you see a two year old car with Mass. liscence plates and no dents, force him off the road and ask him who he's betting on in the fifth race!"

John Lindsay, New York Mayor: "Ya, I know it . . . and I'd sell it back to them for the same price!"

On kids: We used to play stickball in the streets, now they play stick shift.

Best Cartoon: A hippie on his knees, hands clasped, looking heavenward, saying, "Testing . . . testing, one, two three!"

And isn't it nice of Ari and Jackie to look the world over before they buy it.

One advantage to the citizens of New York, had they chosen Buckley instead Lindsay as their mayor, would be that, now, during the teacher's strike, he could simply go on television and teach school—improving the educational benefits of the New York Public School System immensely. (Which he would not hesitate to point out at the beginning of each lecture.)

So, friends, next time we'll talk about our leaders—if it's Nixon, get used to the idea of hearing: ". . . and, I'd like to end by saying one final word." If it's Humphrey, take a course in speed listening, and if it's Wallace and Dr. Strangelove, get an asbestos suit!

Moos Lays Down

University of Minnesota President Malcolm Moos has urged students and staff to adhere voluntarily to the principles govern demonstrations on the University campus, principles that were passed last spring by the Faculty Senate.

In a statement sent to University deans and department heads, President Moos stated that in case of a possible violation, he wants to involve as many members of the University community as possible in the decision-making process.

The suggestions in the report on demonstrations state, in part, that though demonstrations as an expression of dissent should be permitted and encouraged on a university campus, demonstrations which disrupt the functioning of the institution endanger its existence and should not be allowed.

While the Senate Committee on Student Affairs has been charged with developing recommendations for implementing the report on demonstrations, President Moos' statement is an interim guideline that will take effect immediately.

The statement calls for staff and students, both groups and individuals, to become familiar with and adhere to the University Policy on Campus Demonstrations.

As far as possible, any decision on violations will be made only after the President or his representative consults with members of the Faculty Consultative Committee, Senate Committee on Student Affairs, Senate Administrative Committee, the president of the Minnesota Student Association (MSA), and the executive committee of the Student Senate.

If determination must be made prior to consultation, the president will notify the committees as quickly as possible and they will determine the subsequent actions.

In cases where there is prior knowledge of a possible violation, the president will alert the committees and ask their advice on how to manage it.

"We are trying to insure a careful and considered judgement rather than a hasty and precipitous one," said Paul Cashman, vice president for student affairs. "We want to make clear that we will take as much Thursday, November 7, 1968 time as is necessary to formulate a decision on a possible violation."

If it is decided that a violation has taken place, any disciplinary action will be in accordance with the recommendations of the Policy on Campus Demonstrations.

Recording star Nancy Wilson and comedian Richard Pryor will appear in concert at the Minneapolis Auditorium Tuesday, Nov. 26, beginning at 8.

Basically a jazz-oriented songstress, Miss Wilson peppers her presentation with Broadway show songs and special material. She adds personal nuances and a compelling jazz beat where her own talents dictate.

Proof of her universal appeal is evidenced in the fact that Nancy Wilson is the largest selling female recording artist in the world.

Pryor, hailed by show business pundits as "the most promising young new wave comedian to come along in years," is a multi-faceted talent who sings, dances, acts and plays instruments.

He has appeared on most of the leading television shows and is a regular on the Merv Griffin Show.

Tickets are available at all Dayton's Ticket offices and by mail from Dayton's.
